

SEEN BETTER DAYS.

A sad-eyed, coal-stained son of arrow tumbled into an editor's office the other day with a breath like the trail of pestilence, and said he had just arrived from Milwaukee in destitute circumstances.

"I don't take an opera-glass to see that," remarked the editor, lighting a fresh cigar.

"I have seen better days," said the man, sadly.

"I wouldn't have thought it, volunteered the editor.

"I have, indeed, continued the haggard medicant.

"At one time I was clerk in a first-class hotel.

"I don't believe it. Take off your hat," shouted the newspaper man, getting interested.

"The man removed the limp, gutter stained fragment that sheltered his head, and exposed a mass of tangled, matted hair.

"Do you mean to tell me that hair was ever parted?" demanded his inquisitor, sternly.

"Yes, I do. How long ago? 'Bout ten years.

"In the middle? As true as gospel.

"Was it ever clipped close to the head?"

"You're just right there," said the man with a hollow sound away down in his chest, that did duty for a sigh.

"Well, what was it for?" inquired the editor.

"Embezzlin' some diamonds from the hotel safe. They belonged to an actress who sent them to the post office for safe-keeping. They walked around my own business breast-pin, dazzled me and I fell.

"Here, old fellow, said the journalist, its my candid opinion that you've warped the facts shamefully; but I won't be hard on you. Here's a quarter.

Ten minutes later the tramp was making astronomical observations through the bottom of a beer-mug.

A Gentle Stimulus

Is imparted to the kidneys and bladder by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is most useful in overcoming torpidity of these organs. Besides increasing more so vitality in them, this excellent tonic enlivens them with additional vigor, and enables them the better to undergo the wear and tear of the discharging function imposed upon them by nature. Moreover, as they are the channel for the escape of certain impurities from the blood, increases their usefulness by strengthening and healthfully stimulating them. In certain morbid conditions of these important organs, they fall into a sluggish state, which is the usual precursor of disease. What then can be the greater service than a medicine which impels them to greater activity when sluggish? No maladies are more perilous than these which affect the kidneys, and a medicine which averts the peril should be highly esteemed.
