A Narrow Escape.

A party crossing the river near Drury's Run on Friday afternoon had a very narrow escape from death. The ice broke with them in seven feet of water and only by extra efforts and the preservation of their presence of mind were they eventually rescued. Two horses, a load of coal and two ladies, Mrs. Nicholas and Mrs. Brevard went in. The coal was entirely lost. The wreck crew from Cook's Run witnessed the accident and went to the help of the struggling people and horses .-Clinton Democrat.

He Wasn't from Centre Conty.

Supervisor, James Cullen of Spruce Creek, delights to nag Station Master Wilson, when he sees anyone dressed in ontlandish costume, with the bet that he is from Centre county, the ancient stamping ground of the station master. Yesterday a gentleman dropped from the day express dressed in a very broad-brimmed hat, with foot-gear resembling moccasins and stocking comie 3 up to the knee; in fact, he had the appearence of a western cowboy. Said the genial supervisor:

Look at that fellow; I'll bet he is from Centre county.

Fow it appeared that the station master had passed some words with the stranger, and he replied: I'll bet he is from Ireland.

Yees niver see a man from Ireland dressed in that way.

Then the stranger was interrogated, and he asserted that he was born in Ireland, but was now a resident of British America, and engaged in huuting and trapping. On further conversation, Mr. Cullen learned that the stranger was born within eight miles of where he cama from in Ireland and that he knew the Cullens well, and they were fond of horse-racing. After this the joking supervisor admitted that the stranger had answered cor-

The decessed leaves a most affection. Misses Sarah and Carrie. W. B. Rankin is at present in Passadena, California.

Joseph Alexander Rankin was the son of William Rankin, who was one of nie Gross. the very early residents of this county. Of his father, William Rankin, the Centre County History contains the following record :

"William Rankin was born in Franklin county, Nov. 5, 1770. He removed to Centre county and settled upon a farm two miles west of Potter's Mills. Shortly after he was elected and ordained an elder of the Sinking Spring church. He was the second sheriff of the county in 1803, and from 1806 to 1810 represented the county in the Legislature. In 1828 he removed to Ferguson township, near the Centre line and died in Nov. 29 1847." Of his eleven children the history mentions following:

William Rankin, M. D., of Shippensburg, deceased.

John M. Rankin, injured by a threshing machine from effects of which he

Since he was seventeen or eighteen years of age he has been connected with the Presbyterian church, and his life has been so singularly consistent and pure that not a person has ever spoken a word against him. Oftentimes we have imagined that the life of the Greensburg .. real Christian should be so upright that the world could at once read his profession, faith and character in his face and action. This had its realization in Mr. Rankin as certainly as in any other person whom we ever met. To be in his company was a benediction.

More than twenty years ago he came with his family to Bellefonte, that his children might have the advantage of Tyrone educational facilities afforded here. He w.th bis son, W. B. Rankin, conducted the somewhat extensive and always McVeytown.. prominent insurance agency of J. A. Rankin & Son, the senior member of the firm retiring a few years ago and his son continuing the business.

Mr. Rankin retained his faculties to the last. His eyesight was peculiarly good. His hand was steady and could guide the pen with ease, his penmanship being very legible. In every respect he was a remarkable man .- News. We give the facts as we understand them and the affidavit of Mrs. Gross and and Clara M. Kunes, the young lady in question, Mr. Cook is entitled to the benefit of the affidavit. The charges made by the mother of Miss Kunes when she employed a certain law firm of town to prosecute the sheriff, were that he had attempted to viofate the person of Miss Kunes, the assault should have taken place at the house of Mr. Gross in Marion twp. It was not we believe charged that sheriff Cook attempted violence on Mrs. Gross although that point is covered by the affidavit. The following is the affidavit:
