THE FINEST LINE OF CUTLERY.

THE SINGER'S ALMS.

In Lyons, in the mart of that French town, Years since, a woman leading a fair child, Craved a small alms of one who, walking down The thoroughfare, caught the child's glance and smiled. To see behind its eyes a noble soul. He paused, but found he had no coin to dole. His guardian angel warned him not to lose This chance of pearl to do another good; So, as he waited, sorry to refuse The asked-for penny, there aside he stood, And with his hat held as by limb the nest, He covered his kind face and sang his best. The sky was blue above, and all the lane Of commerce, where the singer stood, was filled, And many paused, and listening, paused again To hear the voice that through and through them thrilled. I think the guardian angel helped along That cry for pity woven in a song. The singer stood between the beggars there, Before a church, and overhead the spire A slim, perpetual finger in the air Held toward Heaven, land of the heart's desire-- As if an angel, pointing up, had said: "Yonder a crown awaits this singer's head." The hat of its stamped brood was emptied soon 'Into the woman's lap, who drenched with tears Her kiss upon the hand of help: 'twas noon, And noon in her glad heart drove forth her fears. The singer, pleased, passed on and softly thought: "Men will not know by whom this deed was wrought." But when at night he came upon the stage Cheer after cheer went up from that wide throng, And flowers rained on him; nought could assuage The tumult of the welcome save the song That he had sweetly sung, with covered face. For the two beggars in the market place.

Drunkards as Lunatics.

The Maryland legislature at its recent session passed a law that whenever by partition under oath any person shall be a drunkard incapable of taking care of himself or herself or his or her property any circuit court shall have power in its discretion on such preliminary examination or inquiry as it may think proper to make ex-parte, to issue a warrant to the sheriff of the county or city respectively to arrest and bring the person so charged before such court which shall cause a jury of good and lawful men to be summoned by the sheriff to inquire in the presence of such person whether he she is an habitual drunkard intangible of taking care of himself or herself. The proceeding shall be like those now authorized by law in cases of person alleged to be insane and the rules of law and proceedings applicable to the property of lunatics shall apply to cases of persons declared to be habitual drunkards. The person alleged to be an habitual drunkard may dispense with legal proceedings and appoint his own committee and voluntarily enter any institution selected by the court for a limited time. If the person shall be found by a jury to be an habitual drunkard the court shall appoint a committee who shall have power to confine the person in any suitable institution for such length of time as the court may approve and to release the person or extend the period of confinement with the approbation of the court. A measure like this carried into effect will have more influence in restraining the drink evil than all manner of prohibitory legislation. It is cordially commended to the temperance people as an advice, alike to their crusading school.

A Shocking Accident.

From the Jersey Shore Herald it is learned that John B. Gamble, of Jersey Shore, was killed by the cars at Slate Run yesterday morning at 6:30 a. m. Mr. Gamble had gone up Pine Creek on a trout expedition and was standing on the trestle work of the narrow gauge railroad at Slate Run when he was struck by an engine and instantly killed. When the sad news was brought to Jersey Shore Undertaker Calvert proceeded to the scene of the accident by the first train and took charge of the remains and returned with them to Jersey Shore yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Gamble and her daughter Rora are visiting relatives at Browling Green Ohio, and had not reached their destination when the melancholy news followed them.

A WATCH-EATING OWL.

James McFadden, of Ben Springs, Cal., recently captured a large snow owl. The bird was a beautiful specimen and measured, from tip to tip of wing, four and a-half feet. McFadden sold the owl to a jeweler named LaRue, who exhibited him in his show window. Everything went well with the pet until last Monday, when Mr. LaRue missed a tray of gold and silver watches. A thorough search failed to reveal where the missing watches were. While Mr. LaRue was excitedly hunting for the timepieces, he heard a muffled ticking. Putting his ear to the breast of the owl the ticking was distinctly heard. With anger Mr. LaRue decapitated the bird, and on opening its esophagus and stomach proper, he discovered thirteen gold and silver watches. Six of the watches were in an excellent state of preservation, while seven of the number were in various stages of assimilation. On opening the gizzard Mr. LaRue made a remarkable discovery. Here was a Waterbury watch. The sides of the watch had been digested, but the hands and face were still intact. The hands indicated a quarter to 12. This was the identical time when Mr. McFadden captured the owl. Phila. Times.

TWO WOMEN MURDERED.

A shocking tragedy occurred Saturday afternoon at 'Bushey Tract,' near middleport, eight miles east of Pottsville. Here lived a Polish miner named Anthony Putlavish with his wife and a young country-woman named Mary Kelt, Hutlavish together with several Poles who boarded with him are miners employed at the Big Vein colliery, about half a mile distant. When they returned from work on Saturday evening they found the house a heap of smoking ruins, and among the embers the charred remains of the two women. There is no doubt that the fire was an incendiary act, designed to cover an atrocious double murder. An axe which Putlavish left at some distance from the house in the morning was found beside one of the bodies, and a neighbor living half a mile distant, who was attracted by the smoke and was first to reach the scene, says that when he arrived he plainly saw the body of one of the women lying just inside the door with blood flowing from a gash in the head. There was between eight hundred and a thousand dollars in money in the house, and it is supposed that robbery was the incentive to the murder and arson. The excitement is intense, but as yet no clue has been obtained to the author of the horrible crime, though suspicion attaches to one of the boarders, who has disappeared.

Jacob H. Vanderbilt, a nephew of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, has been severely rebuked by Judge Barrett, of New York, for abandonment of his wife at the command of his father who threatened disinheritance for no other reason than that she was poor and had been a clerk in a store. The son attempted to plead poverty, but it was shown that he had never done much work, was living in affluence with his father, and had an income of $2,000 in his own right while his wife suffered for want of a fire. The millions of the old commodore do not seem to be doing much good in this branch of the family.

they were able to discern between its spiritual and political domains.

Mr. O'Brien said that the present ordeal was worse than twenty of Balfourian coercion. The Irish had enemies enough without taking blows from hands from which they at least deserved them. It was heartbreaking to think that such a receipt in the name of Rome should be thrown into the teeth of the Irish people. A courageous, respectful, firm protest was necessary. The crowd dispersed in an orderly manner.

The Population of Bellefonte.

Is about 7,000, and we would say at least one half are troubled with some affection of the Throat and Lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. WHY WORK FOR ANOTHER, or on small salary? Why try to secure a living from such high-priced, or lowly-salaried, farmer? Why work on a rented land? Why not start for yourself? Why not secure at once some of the improved but very little and well known lands offered to settlers in the western part of the State? Why not go to Northern Dakota and Minnesota where you can make a larger net profit per acre than on the high-priced or overvalued land you now occupy? Why not go and look these lands over, and see for yourself, or at least obtain the information which will tell you just what you can do? Write to Wm. Fox, Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

NEW BUSINESS CENTERS.

The building of railroads in a new and fertile country creates many new towns, offering excellent business opportunities. Particulars regarding such opportunities in Missouri, Minnesota and Dakota will be sent upon application to C. H. WARREN, Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul.
