

Facts and Fancies Gleaned from Many Sources and Boiled Down to Brief Paragraphs for the Benefit of Busy Readers.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—The schooner F. L. Richardson, commanded by Capt. Belano, which sailed from Tuck's Island on Nov. 11, and the Ella A. Warner, Capt. Holbrook, which left Marquette, Porto Rico, on Nov. 23, both for Delaware Breakwater, are long overdue and have been given up for lost.

The Legislature. HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—The joint resolution to submit the prohibition amendment to the constitution to a vote of the people passed the house Tuesday by a vote of 132 to 55. Eight Republicans voted with the Democrats against the resolution and seven Democrats voted with the Republicans for it.

In the senate a bill was introduced by Mr. Hines regulating the liabilities of mine owners relative to their employees, giving the workmen the same right of compensation if the employers are directly or indirectly responsible as if the workmen had not been in their employ.

Mr. Brown's bill in the house Wednesday was passed to a third reading. It requires the American flag to be displayed from every public school building in the state. The bill called forth some spirited argument. Seven bills were introduced in the house, calling for an outlay of $53,500, of which $500,000 is wanted to continue in operation the institutions started as soldiers' orphans' schools. Several bills were introduced calling for the further protection of the game and fish in the state.

In the senate Wednesday a bill was introduced making legal holidays of Jan. 1, Feb. 21, and every Saturday after 1 p. m. The senate then proceeded to the calendar and passed finally the bill authorizing the election of assessors for three years, with amendments. Mr. Stewart's soldiers' bill (an amendment to the act giving preference of appointment to veterans, and providing penalties of $500 and six months' imprisonment for violation of its provisions) stirred up a lively debate in the house Thursday. The bill passed second reading. Many bills were introduced and a number of reports made.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25.—The joint resolution to submit the prohibition amendment to the vote of the people passed its second reading in the senate Thursday. It was made the special order of business for 12 o'clock on Wednesday for final passage. It is said that there is little doubt of its passage, and it is also alleged that Governor Beaver has signified his intention of signing it at once, in case it gets through the legislature successfully. The Philadelphia Press has been conducting a canvass of the western counties of the state. It predicts large majorities from those counties in favor of the amendment. Adjourned until Monday.

Mr. Dravo's bill for the display of the American flag over the school houses of the state was defeated in the house Thursday. In the house Saturday a resolution was introduced providing for a joint committee from the legislature, consisting of twenty persons, and the governor and staff shall represent the state on the occasion of the celebration in New York of the one hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as president of the United States. Considerable other business of little importance was transacted, and the house adjourned until Monday.

Terrible Ravages of Diptheria. READING, Pa., Jan. 24.—Diptheria is prevalent in the eastern part of Berks and western part of Lehigh counties. In some cases half a dozen children of a single family have died from the disease. Adults are also carried off with such remarkable suddenness that the doctors are astounded. The scourge extends for twenty miles and is worse along the low streams of water.

Death of Samuel Felton. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Samuel M. Felton, president of the Pennsylvania Steel company and ex-president of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad company, died at his residence in this city, aged 80 years.

High License Amendments. HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 26.—Senator Cooper's proposed amendments to the high license law are now in shape to be presented to the house. They limit the number of licenses to one for every 500 of the population; that the surety or sureties of an applicant for license must be the bona fide owners of unencumbered real estate which would sell for $2,000 at public auction; that the fees shall be $500 for cities, $300 for boroughs, and $150 for townships; that the license may be transferred in case of death; that minors must not be allowed to engage in the sale of liquors.

A Sad Story. CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Jan. 25.—Three weeks ago Lillie Belle Rebeck left her home in Clear Spring, Md., with William Trogler, a wealthy land owner in this vicinity, who is 50 years old and a widower. Miss Rebeck is a very handsome girl, and when Trogler asked her parents for her hand in marriage they consented at once, supposing that when she left home in his company the couple would be married at once. A week later the girl returned to her parents' home a raving lunatic, having walked in a terrible storm from Trogler's house, ten miles distant. The father says that in her lucid intervals she told an awful story of abuse at Trogler's hands; that instead of marrying her he had taken her to his home and kept her there all the week, so that she lost her mind over shame at her situation and disappointment at his failure to marry her. Her mother's mind also became unbalanced. Now Rebeck and his brother David are in jail here for having threatened Trogler with guns. They remained in custody, or at least a promise from Trogler that he would promise the girl in a private asylum. This promise they frightened him into making.

Body Sentenced to Death. LANGCASTER, Pa., Jan. 25.—John W. Rudy, who killed his father, has been sentenced to be hanged.

Murder in the Second Degree. PITTSBURG, Jan. 25.—Joseph Demmy, colored, was found guilty of murder in the second degree for the shooting of Policeman Miller, Sept. 3, 1898.

Suspected Counterfeiters Arrested. READING, Pa., Jan. 28.—This vicinity has been flooded with counterfeit money recently. Officers arrested three men named Frank Allen, John Harrison and James Clark, on suspicion of being the persons who are showing the money. They were given a hearing and committed to jail for trial. They have also, it is said, operated in other places to the extent of $5,000.

NEW YORK ROADS TIED UP

Nearly 10,000 Horse Car Men Quit Work.

RIOT AND MURDER IN BROOKLYN.

All but Two Surface Lines in New York Idle To-day—Police Prepared for Riots—Outbreaks—Some Lively Scenes in Brooklyn—Adams Was Murdered.

New York, Jan. 29.—Another general tie up of all the surface railroads in the city, except the Third Avenue and Bleecker Street lines, was ordered last night at a meeting of Division No. 1 of National District Assembly No. 220, which was held in their hall at West Forty-fourth street. As the night cars reached the barns on their final trips the men tied up their reins and joined the strike. This morning only the two surface lines mentioned are in operation, and between 9,000 and 10,000 men are idle.

General Assembly No. 220, which had the matter in hand, met in consultation for several hours last night. The order for the tie up was passed shortly before 1 o'clock this morning. It was generally expected that such action would be taken with reference to the lines of the Metropolitan Street Railway, and possibly on the Sixth and Fourth Avenue lines, but the announcement of a general tie up was a surprise.

All the police reserves at the various precincts in the city are on hand, ready to go out on a moment's notice. For the past two days the police have been holding the reserves for an expected emergency. The patrol wagons are all on hand in Mulberry street and special officers are stationed along the principal thoroughfares. Superintendent Murray was on hand early this morning to assume charge of the work.

The movement is in sympathy with the strike on Deacon Richardson's lines in Brooklyn. The deacon is interested in the Dry Dock line in this city. All the different local assemblies of District Assembly No. 220 held secret meetings under "red letter" call last night. President White, of the Dry Dock road, formally notified the mayor, yesterday that he would hold the city responsible for any damage done to the property in his charge by striking employees. The communication was forwarded to the police commissioners. In consequence of the communication Superintendent Murray had a conference with officers of the road in the afternoon.

Auditor E. T. Landon and Superintendent F. F. White, of the road, said yesterday that they believed a tie up would be ordered, but expected to run cars anyhow. For this reason the company had asked for protection. The following notice to the employees was posted last night at the different stables of the company: "The papers state that our employees are about to engage in another strike. I wish you to act cautiously and upon your own sober judgment. I do not know why you should do at the bidding of any person whatever that which you condemn heartily and have said you have no desire to do. As you have informed me you are satisfied, do not do that which will sever your relations with us. WILLIAM WHITE, President."

THE STRIKE IN BROOKLYN.

Lively Times All Day—Rioting and Bloodshed—A Deliberate Murder. BROOKLYN, Jan. 29.—Yesterday, the fourth day of the street car tie up, was an eventful one. There were riots, clubbings by policemen, conferences of military authorities, meetings of the strikers, sessions of the state board of arbitration and legislation by the Brooklyn board of aldermen. But the strike continued.

Early in the day Deacon Richardson led off by issuing a long manifesto, addressed to "The public who use the cars of the Atlantic Avenue Railroad company," and beginning thus: "You are entitled to the assurance that the operations of this company, brought so suddenly to a standstill, will at the earliest possible moment be resumed. There can be no impropriety in supplementing this assurance, here unequivocally given, with a brief statement of the conditions which culminated in the suspension of travel and caused the inconveniences to which you are all subjected. Anything but a colorless and candid presentation of the facts would obstruct rather than subserve the purpose; prompting this statement.

He continued by repeating his statement of last Saturday night that the executive board only held two conferences with him and that their demands were unreasonable. In simple arithmetic he computes the cost of yielding at $52,108.13 in excess of last year. As he can't afford this he refused to "stand and deliver" at the demand of his employees, and so asks the public to accept his assurance that he will operate his roads again at the earliest possible moment. The executive board of No. 75 were in continuous session all day at their hall, 142 Flatbush avenue, and were busy all the time sending and receiving telegrams, hearing reports of pickets and perfecting plans to thwart any attempt of the deacon to outwit them in the present struggle.

They sent the deacon a letter, stating that they were ready to meet him or any other representative of his company with a view to bringing about a settlement of the trouble on his lines of railroads.

The distance between the company's office at Third and Atlantic avenues and the headquarters of the men at 142 Flatbush avenue is about 200 yards, and that portion of the highway was thronged all day by people watching the excitement. Men and boys lined the sidewalks on both sides to the number of 1,000 or more, while hundreds of women leaned out of the windows and craned their necks to see the sights. Scores of policemen patrolled up and down, and ordered everybody to "get a move on him," which command was usually obeyed with alacrity. Despite the vigilance of the police, there were many bloody heads and broken noses. Any suspicious looking stranger who directed his course toward the company's office was set upon and hustled about in a lively way.

At 4:30 ten of the scabs who had been hired to work as stablemen in the Ninth Avenue stables were loaded into two wagons in the stable yard, guarded by twenty policemen with flat clubs, to keep off the missiles that might be thrown, while twenty-three mounted policemen, under Sergt. Johnson, drew up in line on the street. At a signal from Capt. Kenny the doors flew open, the two teams of horses galloped out, the scabs crunched down and the policemen batted right and left at the stones and bricks that were flying through the air. The mounted officers surrounded the wagons, and although the crowd howled and roared and ran after the vehicles, the ten "Americans" were driven safely to the Ninth Avenue stables. At the Fifth Avenue and Bergen Street stables there were a number of riots, but very few arrests.

Mayor Chapin sent for Brig. Gen. James McLeer, Col. John N. Partridge, of the Twenty-third regiment, and Col. David E. Austin, of the Thirtieth regiment, during the afternoon, and held a private conference with them regarding the strike. The meeting lasted nearly an hour, and although nothing was given out for publication it is generally understood that precautionary measures were taken to prevent any general riot. The Brooklyn board of aldermen yesterday adopted the following resolution bearing upon the strike: Resolved, That the Atlantic Avenue Railroad company be and it is hereby notified that unless the cars on the lines of horse cars under the control of said Atlantic Avenue Railroad company be put in operation forthwith and run on schedule time steps will be taken by the common council to have the charter under which said cars are operated declared forfeited and void.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

The Senate Through with the Tariff Bill.

PASSED BY 32 YEAS TO 30 NAYS.

Doings of a Week in the Senate and House. The Vote on the Tariff Bill in the Senate—It Reaches the House—Referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The senate debated for the last time the finance committee's substitute for the Mills tariff bill, and 8:05 last evening passed it. At 11:30 the senate took up the tariff bill, the pending question being on the amendment of Mr. Hoag to the wool section. After remarks by Mr. Turpin against, and Mr. Harris for the amendment, a vote was taken and it was rejected. Yeas 27, nays 31; Senators Brown and Payne voting in the negative. (The amendment proposed to change the duty on all grades and kinds of wool to 25 per cent. ad valorem.) A proviso, offered by Mr. Vance, that no article on the wool and woolen schedule should pay a rate exceeding 75 per cent. ad valorem was rejected. Yeas 27, nays 33; Senators voting in the negative.

Numerous amendments of minor importance from the finance committee and by Republican members were adopted, and others by Democrats rejected. There were lively debates over some of them from both sources. The stocking and hose paragraph was considerably changed. There being no further amendments offered the vote was taken first on agreeing to the substitute and then on the passage of the bill. Both votes were identical (yeas 32, nays 30), as follows: Yeas—Aldrich, Blair, Bowen, Cameron, Chauncey, Chandler, Cullum, Davis, Dawes, Dolph, Edmunds, Everts, Farwell, Fry, Hawley, Hicoek, Hoar, Ingalls, Jones (Nev.), Manderson, Mitchell, Merrill, Paddock, Palmer, Platt, Plumb, Quay, Sherman, Spooner, Stockbridge, Teller, Wilson (Ia.).

Nays—Bate, Berry, Blackburn, Brown, Butler, Call, Cockrell, Cole, Colquhoun, Daniel, Eastie, Faulkner, George, Gibson, Gorman, Gray, Harris, Jones (Ark.), Morgan, Pasco, Payne, Pugh, Ransom, Reardon, Turpin, Vance, Vest, Voorhees, Walhall, Wilson (Conn.). The house discussed the river and harbor bill without action. WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The house discussed at length, but without action, the sundry civil appropriation bill. The senate took up the District of Columbia appropriation bill after transacting considerable routine business of no particular public interest. The bill provides for the improvement of Washington streets and other improvements.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The senate passed three appropriation bills, pending with the academy and District of Columbia. It also has under consideration the Sherman trust bill. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The speaker laid before the house the senate substitute for the Mills tariff bill. Mr. Reed moved its immediate consideration. A lengthy debate ensued by the tariff leaders, each calling out approving applause from his party sympathizers, and finally, on motion of Mr. Mills, the bill was assigned to the usual course by being referred to the ways and means committee. The general impression is that nothing more will be seen or heard of it during this session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The senate discussed the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill without action. The sundry civil appropriation bill occupied most of the time of the house. The senate bill was passed increasing the pension of soldiers or sailors who have lost both hands to $100 per month. The senate concurrent resolution providing for the counting of the electoral vote on Wednesday, Feb. 13, was agreed to.

Chairman Mills says he believes that the committee on ways and means will find it necessary to refer the senate amendments to the house tariff bill to the experts of the treasury department to secure computations on the probable effect of the changes proposed, and this proceeding, together with the necessary, deliberate consideration that must be given to those amendments, which make such radical changes as are proposed by the sections providing for a tariff commission and those relating to undervaluation, will take some time. Still he is positively of the opinion that the committee will be able to report the bill and amendments back to the house in season for its action this Congress.

IMPECUNIOUS LITIGANTS.

A Brother-in-Law Seeks Revenge and Gets Himself in Jail with the Others. ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 29.—Richard Joralemon married Job Woodruff's daughter, but they did not live happily and were divorced. Joralemon was ordered to pay alimony. During the trial many personalities were used, and Mrs. Joralemon's two brothers, Charles and George Woodruff, threatened vengeance on Joralemon. Some time after they met him on a road outside the city and attacked him, but were put to flight by Job Woodruff, their father. Joralemon had the three Woodruffs arrested for assault and battery, and brought a suit for damages. Job Woodruff was exonerated, and Joralemon was ordered to pay costs. He got $2,000 damages in his suit against Woodruff's sons, but the boys were penniless and had to go to jail. Joralemon was also locked up because he could not pay costs in Job Woodruff's case.

Another complication has come upon Joralemon. It is said that he can not pay his alimony, and this will probably result in his taking another trip to the Union county jail. The Grand Army Encampment. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 28.—The twenty-third national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is to be held in this city the last week in August. The common council and citizens have already organized to receive and entertain in a manner equal, at least, to any other city in the past on a similar occasion. Heretofore some of the comrades who served heroically and effectively in the navy have had an impression that the "land forces" received undue attention, and carried off an unfair share of honors at the encampments. No such criticism will be made this year. The naval battle in the harbor and in full view from the surrounding bluffs will be made a special and most prominent additional feature, one that has not before been introduced. The committee in charge will spare neither effort nor expense to make it fully up to expectation.

Kenna's Chances. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 29.—In Democratic caucus last night Senator Kenna was nominated, all the Democrats being present. He received thirty-one votes, which is one more than required to nominate on the two-thirds rule, which was agreed to last week. A Voyage Delayed at the Start. BOSTON, Jan. 29.—The schooner yacht Gitana, while leaving Fluke's wharf for Gibraltar, was considerably damaged by fouling the steamer Italia, lying at the end of the pier. The Gitana will be docked for repairs.
