

IT HAS ALL BEEN FIXED.

So They Say, But No One Knows How.

HARRISON AND ALLISON DID IT.

A Conference Which Lasted Twenty-four Hours, of Which No Man Save the Two Participants Has Any Inkling—Allison Knows How to Keep Silence, Too.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 29.—Senator Allison has gone back to Washington, after twenty-four hours spent in Gen. Harrison's house, from which he did not stir except to take a short walk around the block.

There is not a soul in Indianapolis who knows what has been the outcome of the long convale. There is not a soul, either, who is not thoroughly at sea in speculation upon the subject. If Senator Allison has not consented to take up the reins of the treasury department it has not been for lack of urging.

Before his departure Gen. Harrison laid upon him a double injunction, to utter no word regarding the matter, one way or the other, and to be guarded against saying anything that could be construed in any way or another concerning it.

Senator Allison went to the depot only a few minutes previous to the departure of his train. He was panoplied in silence and to all efforts to extract information from him touching the outcome of his visit was mute. His journey here, he said, was at Gen. Harrison's request, and he did not feel at liberty to say anything about what had taken place during his stay.

The rumor was mentioned to him that he had, during his incarceration at the Harrison home, been slated in some quarters for secretary of state. He broke into a hearty laugh and said: "Well, that is good, very good."

When asked if it might be stated upon his authority that he was to be secretary of the treasury the senator answered quickly: "No, sir; all I have to say about my visit to Gen. Harrison is that it has been a very pleasant one."

When he had gone through the gate and boarded his car a gentleman followed him and secured, upon the strength of introductory recommendations, some more specific statements in relation to the cabinet matters. In answer to the question how soon the composition of the cabinet would be made known Senator Allison said he did not know, or, at least, in his belief, some very moderate responses would come to Indianapolis within a week's time.

The very plain intimation that the cabinet profers have been made tends to confirm all statements regarding the vast confidence Gen. Harrison puts in Senator Allison and the belief that the latter's long visit here was for the purpose of counsel, not merely to give him an opportunity to say yes or no to another offer of the treasury portfolio. Taken altogether, his speedy denial of the question regarding the treasury, his amusement at the suggestion that he was to be secretary of state, his admission that state questions like that of the Samoan trouble had been discussed, furnished material for the gossips out of which to frame a prophecy that Allison is to be secretary of state and not of the treasury.

Ex-Governor Albert G. Porter says that he has received information from a source in which he places implicit faith that Warner Miller is to be in the cabinet. He refuses to give his authority, but says that it is unimpeachable. He believes that Mr. Miller will be secretary of the treasury.

MIXED POLITICS IN JERSEY.

Complications Growing Out of the Repeal of the High License Law.
TRENTON, Jan. 29.—The complications that have arisen in connection with the repeal of the high license and local option law has given rise to considerable talk in reference to the coming gubernatorial contest.

Col. William Heppenheimer, of Jersey City, the leader of the floor of the house, and ex-Governor Abbott's first lieutenant, said in a conversation, that "Abbott was still the leading Democrat of the state, and would again go before the people as a candidate for governor. He must be a candidate, and he will show that he is the leader of the party, for he will be elected by an overwhelming majority." This information has caused any amount of political speculation about the state capital.

The Democratic party is by no means a unit on the liquor question. Senators Pfeiffer, Edwards, Baker and United States Senator McPherson are, it is alleged, already counting on the effect that radical liquor legislation will have on the next contest.

The situation grows additionally complex, owing to the fact that the liquor men in the house threaten a strong move if they are outvoted in the contest to secure a complete repeal.

The conservative element is steadily growing, and it is thought there will be a lively time within the next fortnight on this question.

Senator Baker is said to be a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. President Werts is also looking toward the executive chamber. Among other who, in the discussion of this point, are receiving some attention, are Prosecutor Winfield, of Hudson, and Mayor Green, of Jersey City.

Charles Hendrickson, of Burlington, will, it is said, bob up for the complimentary vote, as will Judge Westcott, of Camden, and George G. Green, of Woodbury.

The repealing of the local option law seems to point toward Senator Nevin as the leader of the Republican force as a candidate for governor. The impression is abroad, however, that Gen. E. Durd Grubb is the leading candidate.

Boulanger's Triumph.
PARIS, Jan. 29.—The questions which some of the Radical members proposed to ask the government in the chamber of deputies, regarding Sunday's election and its results, have been postponed until Thursday next.

Gen. Boulanger did not appear in the chamber and thousands of his admirers were disappointed. Large and excited crowds gathered outside the chamber of deputies, and it was with difficulty that their enthusiasm could be restrained by the police, who were present in great force. When Premier Floquet appeared it was noticed that he looked careworn and anxious. The fact that 90,000 Conservatives and 150,000 Republicans voted for Boulanger is considered in government circles to menace the republic.

Boulanger Impersonates Order.
LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Telegraph's Paris correspondent informs his paper that in an interview Gen. Boulanger said: "Instead of the government's treating the election as an ordinary accident affecting the life of parliament, they have made out of it the future of the republic depends upon it. If they do not now know what to do I will help them. I do not wish to give color to their accusation that I am a disturber. I did not go to the chamber because I did not desire any demonstration. The government represents disorder. I impersonate order."

Are We to Have Another War?
Some political prophets aver that we shall. Be that as it may, the battle waged by medical science against disease will never cease until we arrive at that utopian epoch when the human family shall cease to be afflicted with bodily ailments. One of the most potent weapons which the armory of medicine furnishes, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is of special utility as a family remedy, as it is adapted to the immediate relief and ultimate cure of those disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which are of commonest occurrence.

Indigestion, biliousness and constipation are inseparable companions and these ailments are completely eradicated by the Bitters. But the remedial scope of this superlatively wholesome and general medicine takes in also nervous ailments rheumatism and kidney troubles; its actions in these, as in the other complaints, being characterized by unequalled thoroughness.

CATARRH,
Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT.
Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (which) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. DIXON & SON, 304 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should read the above carefully.
