

CATARRH, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT.
Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. DIXON & SON, 304 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should read the above carefully.

Universally Laughed At.
The unthinking are prone to make game of nervousness. Yet this is a very real and serious affliction, the harassing symptoms of which are rendered all the more poignant by ridicule. The stomach is usually responsible for these symptoms—its weakness and disorder find a reflex in the brain, which is the headquarters of the nervous system. As a nerve tonic and tranquillizer we believe that no one can be pointed out so effective as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. In renewing vigorous digestion, it strikes the key note of recovery of strength and quietude by the nerves. Headaches, tremors in quiet sleep,—all these modify and ultimately disappear as the system gains strength from the great tonic. Dyspepsia, biliousness, rheumatism, constipation and kidney complaints are subdued by the Bitters.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

Amendments to the General Revenue Bill—Mr. Finley Sailed.
HARRISBURG, April 23.—When the house met the sergeant-at-arms made returns of the writs issued against absentees Friday. The members so cited were called upon for excuses, and the usual fiscal proceedings followed. All were excused, and then the bill appropriating $12,000 for the expenses of the National guard in New York was taken up, and after discussion, passed third reading. A recess was then taken, apparently for the purpose of cutting off special orders. At the evening session William B. Feltus was elected a trustee of the Pennsylvania museum of art. In the senate a number of bills were read a first time.

HARRISBURG, April 20.—In the house of representatives at Harrisburg, yesterday, John Finley took his seat as representative from the First Philadelphia district. The bills appropriating $27,000 for the purchase of the Penn farm, in Bucks county, and $20,000 for the nautical school ship, at Philadelphia, passed third reading. The committee on appropriations reported a bill to pay to the expenses of the National Guard's trip to New York. It was made a special order for first reading in the evening session, second reading on Monday and third reading on Tuesday. A recess was then taken until afternoon.

On reassembling the Delaware boundary commission bill was passed finally. The bill making an appropriation for the national guards' trip to New York was taken up and read for the first time. A motion being made to adjourn until Monday afternoon the yeas and nays were called and it was found that quorum was present. The speaker ordered the doors closed and ordered the arrest of sixty-eight absentees. Several of them were brought to the bar of the house and on motion excused. During the afternoon several bills passed second reading. In night session the judicial salaries bill from the senate came up on second reading and was attacked by Mr. Hall, of Mercer, and postponed for the present. The house took a recess until Monday afternoon.

HARRISBURG, April 19.—The general revenue bill is in danger of being amended to death. The house made material changes in the measure, which, in the opinion of the financial officers of the state, greatly weakened it by permitting taxpayers to deduct their debts in the return of mortgages and judgments. The senate finance committee, after hearing the auditor general and others opposed to this provision, struck it out, but at the session of the senate its friends rallied to its support and had it restored. Further action on the bill was then postponed. The house defeated the minority report in the Finley-Nichols contested election case and adopted the majority report, which seated Finley, Rep., the contestant.

In the senate Fow's liquor license transfer bill was reported with amendments. The text of the bill is unchanged. The governor notified both houses that he had signed the bill providing for a nautical school at Philadelphia. In the house the bill to provide for a naval battalion of the National Guard was passed.

The first instalment of constitutional amendment tickets were sent out by direction of Secretary Stone. They were forwarded to Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong and Beaver counties. Those for Allegheny county filed a large store box. The counties will receive their tickets in alphabetical order.

Governor Beaver signed the bill providing for a nautical school at Philadelphia; authorizing shipbuilding corporations to increase their capital stock to $5,000,000; repealing the act limiting the amount of damages to be paid by any county for the purchase of bridges, and authorizing the passenger carrying companies of other states to hold real estate in Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, April 18.—In the house Dr. Walker, on the committee on appropriations, made a report of the bill committed bill making the appropriation for the improvement of the Delaware harbor. The bill was reported with an amendment striking out the belt line proviso. The house passed Mr. Fow's bill providing for the transfer of liquor licenses, and it will now go to the senate.

In the senate a large number of petitions from Knights of Labor assemblies were presented by unanimous consent for the passage of the anti-discrimination bill. The amendments of the house to the bill increasing the number of building inspectors in Philadelphia to seven was concurred in.

Bills were passed finally as follows: House bill authorizing appeals from assessments of taxes to the courts; house bill providing that as the average attendance at night schools increases additional teachers may be employed by boards of school directors; appropriating $50,000 to aid in the establishment of a free war library and museum of the loyal legion. On motion of Mr. Cooper, who said that the appropriation to common schools should be provided for in the general appropriation bill, the act making provision for the expenditure of $2,000,000 for each year was laid over.

There was a lively time in the house at the close of the session, consequent upon the introduction of a bill by Representative Nathan Jones, of Philadelphia, for the payment of the subsistence of the national guard at the New York cantennial. Mr. Jones said the preparation of the bill had been hampered by the indignities heaped upon Pennsylvania by the press of New York. The bill appropriates $12,000. It was referred to the appropriation committee and will receive prompt action.

HARRISBURG, April 17.—In the house the act authorizing and directing the board of revenue commissioners of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania to settle with, and refund to the several counties of the commonwealth, all taxes paid on horses and cattle for the years 1878 and 1879, was passed to third reading. The bill granting an annuity of $200 to Peter Nickel, of Cumberland county, of Company B, Thirty-sixth regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers, was passed finally; also, the bill enabling the banks of the commonwealth to become associations, for the purpose of banking under the United States laws. The senate bill, which is a further supplement to an act entitled "An act relating to boroughs," approved the 2d of April, 1851, authorizing the corporate authorities to levy and collect a license tax on hacks, carriages and other vehicles carrying persons or property for pay, was taken up on second reading as a special order.

The house proceeded to the regular calendar, and passed the following bills finally: "An act entitled 'an act to provide for the care and preservation of the monuments marking the boundary lines of this commonwealth,' approved May 19, 1867, providing for the payment of the expenses incurred by the proper counties of the commonwealth in carrying out the requirements of said act; to provide for and regulate the renewal and extension of the charters of state banks; supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations,' approved April 29, 1874, providing for the further regulation of such corporations, and authorizing corporations incorporated for the purpose of mining for petroleum to purchase, hold and dispose of the stock and bonds of certain other corporations.

The bill permitting the sale of pools at exhibitions or fairs of agricultural or horticultural societies or driving park associations caused a long discussion, and failed on final passage—84 to 58. An effort will be made to have the vote reconsidered later on in the session.

On second reading the house amended the Fow bill for the transfer of liquor licenses in case of death. The amendment provides that the legal representatives of the deceased may have the license transferred or the fee refunded.

The following bills were passed finally: To enforce orders for the payment of costs in the several courts of the state by execution process; relating to recognizances in the orphans' court; allowing exceptions to be filed to referees' reports and authorizing the courts to hear such exceptions, and to alter, amend or reverse such reports, or to refer the same back to the referees, or to enter final judgment thereon; providing for the increase in the number of building inspectors in the city of Philadelphia. It provides for seven building inspectors to be appointed by the mayor.

Did He Poison Himself?
EASTON, Pa., April 23.—George J. Cleaver, a prominent Easton Democrat, once deputy sheriff, deputy recorder, county auditor and councilman, was found sitting in his parlor at midnight by his wife, and by her invited to retire. Half an hour later she and her son found him unconscious and he died at 9 o'clock in the morning. A bottle, which had been half filled with laudanum last week, was found out of its usual place and empty. As two doctors who attended Cleaver decline to state the cause of his death, a post mortem will be held. Cleaver was aged 53, and was healthy.

President Campbell Resigns.
PITTSBURG, April 20.—It is reported that President Campbell, of the Window Glassworkers' association, who is charged with bringing the foreign glassworkers to this city, has tendered his resignation. Some of the members of the association expressed themselves most emphatically against the importation of foreigners, and boldly charged that the men now at Jeannette were strictly under contract, and that Campbell had made the arrangements for their employment. Campbell denied having official knowledge, but his explanation was not satisfactory, and he offered his resignation.

Easter in Bethlehem.
BETHLEHEM, April 22.—According to a time honored custom a large choir of trombonists awoke the residents of this old Moravian town at an early hour and long before break of day the large Moravian church was crowded with an immense congregation. From the church the assemblage proceeded to the old Moravian burying ground, where, just at sunrise, the sublime Easter morning litany was recited by Bishop Levering, the assemblage of 3,000 people standing. The services attracted hundreds of prominent people from a distance to Bethlehem.

A Million Ton Coal Yard.
POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 22.—The Pottsville and Reading Ice and Coal company is erecting an immense coal yard between Mahanoy City and St. Nicholas that will have a capacity of about 1,000,000 tons. It is being built on the side of a mountain which gives a natural incline, so that only little manual labor will be necessary to reload the coal when ordered. It will be finished next autumn, and will be very valuable as a coal reservoir in case of strikes.

The "King of Germany" at Large.
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., April 20.—A demented German, residing on Lycoming creek, who imagined himself the King of Germany, went into Judge Metzger's private office in the court house and threatened to make mince meat of the judge for some fancied grievance. The fellow was locked up and the court house officials recovered from the fright they received from the incident.

New Route for Lehigh Coal.
EASTON, Pa., April 20.—The Jersey Central Railroad company sent a locomotive to Belvidere to draw a Lehigh coal train over the Lehigh and Hudson River railroad from that place to Newburg, N. Y. More engines will follow in a few days, and the running of coal over that route will be continued in that way until direct connection is made here with the Belvidere Delaware railroad.

A Ministerial Convention.
SHOEMAKERSVILLE, Pa., April 23.—A ministerial meeting and Sunday school convention assembled here under the auspices of the east German conference of the United Brethren denomination. Between fifteen and twenty ministers and a number of lay delegates are in attendance. The convention will continue in session until Thursday.

Day of Prayer for Prohibitionists.
PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—The committee of arrangements of the recent ministers' mass meeting, has recommended that all pastors and churches in the state arrange for observing May 8, as a day of prayer for the success of the Prohibition amendment, and that a general meeting be held in the city on that day, with Bishop Foss presiding.

Forest Fires Near Altoona.
ALTOONA, Pa., April 22.—Parties out on Brush Mountain, east of the city, started forest fires, and the flames cover a long range. Much young timber is in danger of destruction.
