

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

"You will find dear boy, that the dearly prized kiss, Which with rapture you snatched from the half willing miss. Is sweeter by far than the legalized kisses You give the same girl when you have made her a Mrs."

This is stangy, but it's the sad, sad truth. Ez

—Have you visited Simon Loeb's new clothing store?

—Simon Loeb's new red, white and blue awning is a daisy.

—The trees are leaving, but will stay until fall, strange ain't it.

—L. A. Shaffer and J. C. Meyer took in the New York centennial this week.

—Loeb's clothing store in Brockerhoff row, has an immense rush.

—Two Italian orchestras picked up money on our streets Tuesday.

—You can save fully 25 per cent. by visiting the Rochester Clothing House.

—The band rendered some fine music in the Court House yard on Tuesday evening.

—Have you seen the nobby styles of summer shoes and gaiters at Mingle's shoe store.

—Company B. arrived home from the New York centennial on Wednesday morning.

—Mr. Ed. Garman is in the eastern markets selecting a line of spring and summer goods.

—The Nationals, ball team of Bellefonte, beat the Milesburg boys by a score of 12 to 7, on Tuesday last.

—The finest looking and best dressed set of young men can be seen in front of Fauble's store, but they are dummies all the same.

—Tuesday morning Thos. Moore and bride, Mrs. Corman and daughter Alpha, Mrs. A. Weber and four children of Howard, composing a fair sized party, took train for Massula, Montana.

—Squire Daniel Rhodes, of Aaronsburg was in town this week and in better health than for some time. He must be popular as Justice of the Peace as he lifted his credentials on Tuesday for a second term.

—Persons wishing to improve their memories or strengthen their power of attention should send to Prof. Loiset, 227 Fifth Avenue, N. Y., for his prospectus post free, as advertised in another column.

—Manager Tibbins, of the Fleming ball team offers to pay for our account of the recent game at the college. Tibby we are sorry for you; but like G. W. we "can't tell a lie,"—no use in balling about it.

—On Wednesday evening the Ancient Order of United Workmen organized a new lodge at this place with some twenty charter members. This is one of the strongest organizations in the country,—they select their members.

—G. S. Flegal, of Philipsburg, is attending court this week and found time to pay the DEMOCRAT a short visit. Mr. Flegal has the agency for some of the best accident and life insurance companies and can give good terms and a first-class policy.

—The proceedings in court last week were enlivened considerably by the manner in which our legal friend Major J. L. Spangler handled several of the cases in which he was retained. His addresses to the jury were filled with a flow of wit and humor which at times turned the whole scene into an uproar of laughter and which his opponents could not help but enjoy even when at their own expense. Mr. Spangler is one of those kind of attorneys who can always find a silver lining on every dark cloud and see the bright side, even if it is a bad case. From the number of cases in which he is retained at this term, we are led to believe that the coal fields of Cambria county have not been able to divert his attention finally from the legal profession and that he is getting down to work again with his old time vigor and energy.

—There was a "monkey and a parrot of a time" in Pete Keichline's store on Monday afternoon between two desperadoes. The boys interested in the affair had an old grudge between them for some time and decided to settle their grievances in true pugilistic style there, so at it they went with a slug and a thump, and the store was soon cleared of all customers. Billy Marshall tried to crawl out over the transom, Frank Waltz sneaked under the counter and got tangled up among the temperance drinks while "Pick" Sourbeck yelled for them to stop and "let me out." The fight went on gloriously, one of the participants got punched on a large boil on the side of his head which opened with a "sizz" then they clinched and Keichline says, "Yes sir; I carried both of them out, yes sir, I did. I don't keep a sporting house." The result of the fight was that one fellow got his finger savagely chewed and Tossed up the sponge for enough.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

DOINGS IN THE TRIBUNAL OF JUSTICE.

List of Cases Tried—Heavy Sentence For Carrying Concealed Weapons—General Hastings Billed for an Address.

As we went to press last week the case of commonwealth vs. Max Ezersky and Sam Lutzky, two Russian Jews, charged with stealing clothing and other goods from a store in Philipsburg was on trial. This was the most important case of the week and brought many peddlers and Jews from that section to court who were interested in the case. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Commonwealth vs. J. N. Spangler, Irwin DeLong, Wm. H. Gardner, Harry Rupert, E. W. Gardner, Edward Rupert, Ellsworth Gardner and James I. DeLong, cutting timber on another's land. Prosecutor, J. P. Findley. Verdict not guilty and county to pay costs.

Commonwealth vs. F. M. Snyder, embezzlement. Defendant pleads guilty and upon motion of Commonwealth's attorney sentence suspended until August term, defendant to enter into recognizance in sum of $300 for his appearance.

Mr. Wm. H. Mock, whose crime was larceny, was sentenced by the Court to pay $1 fine, costs of prosecution and spend three months in the county jail.

John Ammerman, who pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons, $1 fine, costs of prosecution and languish in jail a period of seven months.

Charles McElroy was found guilty of committing assault and battery on Samuel Shaffer. In consequence of which Charles will pay $25 fine, costs and have two months in jail for profitable meditation.

The civil case of E. A. Glenn & Co., against John Neff came up as an appeal from a Justice of the Peace on suit to recover the value of an organ. Plaintiff non-suited because the Justice had no jurisdiction in the case and consequently the court had none.

SECOND WEEK.

The second week of court opened with a fair attendance, the following cases were disposed of:

George Peters vs. George Ulrich, settlement of partnership accounts; verdict for plaintiff, $545.31.

Michael M. Fishburn vs. J. M. Fishburn, attachment of execution; verdict for plaintiff, $1200.99.

Boak Bros. vs. Wm. Snedden for bill of lumber; verdict for plaintiff $295.90.

Geo. W. Jackson vs. William Pownall, ejectment, for a tract of land situated in Boggs twp.; verdict for defendant.

Jacob A. Crider vs. Dwelling House Insurance Co., Boston, to recover on a policy of insurance; verdict for plaintiff $200.

A Warning to Others.

At the last session of court John Ammerman was found guilty of carrying concealed weapons and received the following sentence from Judge Furst: Pay a fine of $1, costs of prosecution and confinement in the county jail for a period of seven months.

There is a disposition among a certain class of young men in every community, who are what might be termed the "toughs" or "rowdies" to have in their possession a "British bull-dog" or some sort of a deadly shooting iron which he considers necessary to the make up of every well equipped young man, so that in case of an emergency he can distinguish himself in true Buffalo-Bill style by pouring a load of lead into some one in order to preserve his dignity and reputation among the boys. Hundreds of young men in every community are thus prepared with their death dealing weapons and are liable upon the slightest aggravation to bring them into use. Another astonishing fact is that the young street waifs, not dry behind their ears and unable to spit over their chin, manage to have revolvers in their possession and experiment with them. We heartily endorse the course of Judge Furst in giving every offender of the law in this respect a heavy sentence. There is no use in men carrying concealed weapons and every guilty one should receive the full penalty.

There is danger also from another quarter of our population. It is said that many young colored men in Bellefonte are in the habit of carrying razors for carving purposes only, and consider it necessary to the make up of every colored gentleman to have a first-class slicer, with a keen edge in his inside pocket. Revolvers and razors are bad instruments and of little or no use to any man. The practice of carrying these weapons should be severely punished in every case.

General Hastings Will Speak.

Adjutant General Hastings has accepted an invitation from the Girard College Alumni Executive Committee to deliver an oration on Founders' day, May 20th next.

—The largest and most complete line of suitings is now on exhibition on our counters that have ever been shown by us. Suits made to order at the lowest prices. MOETCOMERY & Co., Tailors.

A Vicious Animal.

Mr. David Witherow, a young man living near New Millport, Clearfield Co., while returning from Houtzdale, on the 4th inst., where he had gone on horseback, became tired riding and got off to walk, leading his horse behind him. The vicious brute caught him by the right shoulder with his teeth, gave him a hard shake threw him to the ground. He then began chewing him, completely crushing and mangling his right arm and hand, injuring him severely on the back and other parts of the body. It appeared to be the intention of the brute to kill his victim. When he left him after the first attack the young man made an attempt to get up and the horse again attacked him. He evidently used him very roughly, as the horse's sides were stained with blood, showing that he had thrown him from side to side with great force. He also dragged him through the woods for some distance, tearing a greater part of his clothing from his body bruising his face, head and body terribly. It appears he then returned to the edge of the road, where the reins caught on something and held him fast. When Mr. Witherow gained consciousness he crept to a bank by the roadside for fear the horse would attack him again. The horse watched him move away and no doubt would have resumed the attack had he been loose. Mr. Witherow, seeing the horse was fast and having somewhat recovered from the shock started to walk towards home when he was met by a Mr. Templeton, to whom he related his story and by his assistance managed to reach a house. The doctor's say that if the arm is left on death will certainly result, and unless they can strengthen him by some means he can not possibly undergo the operation. That his case is a critical one is evident and his recovery is almost impossible.

Cigarettes and Their Consequences.

There can be no doubt that the excessive use of alcoholic stimulants is the curse of the land, as the smoking of nasty cigarettes is the vice of the day. Joe Howard has well put it when he says that the former is destroying our men and women, while the latter is degrading our boys and girls. Effeminate-looking boys stutting about with viler smelling cigarettes in their mouths, a nuisance to everybody, would be bad enough, but well-informed physicians say that cigarette smoking has largely increased pharyngeal, bronchial and catarrhal troubles, which are fast laying the seeds of phthisis, filling our hospitals and cemeteries with consumptives faster than an epidemic. Another evil effect of the cigarette habit was recently brought to our attention by a prominent tobaccoist. He says that it has enormously increased the numbers of smoking and the amount of tobacco consumed, not only by this addition to the ranks of smokers, but out of all proportion the amount smoked by those who were only moderate cigar-smokers before, have now become cigarette fiends. The subject certainly furnishes food for serious thoughts.

Prohibition Meetings.

Col. D. S. Keller, Chairman of the County Prohibitionists, has arranged for two meetings one at Millheim, Thursday, May the 9th, in the afternoon and Bellefonte, Friday, May 10th, in the evening. Both of these meetings will be addressed by U. S. Senator A. H. Colquitt, of Georgia and Hon. J. W. Nicholas, of Illinois.

We know very little in regard to the ability or career of the Hon. J. W. Nicholas, but can say that Senator Colquitt is one of the ablest men in the U. S. Senate to-day, and his public utterances bear the evidence of an intellect far above the average. He is a Democrat and a prominent leader in tariff reform movements. Go and hear him whether in favor of Prohibition or not.

A Cute School Teacher.

Caleb Weidner, teacher of a school near Allentown, having lost ten days by sickness, "made it up" at the end of the term, after all the children had left school, by daily going through all the forms as if they were present, thus drawing the full salary.

Connecticut Will Vote on Prohibition.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 25.—The House to-day voted to recede from its former vote and concur with the Senate in submitting to the people the Prohibitory Amendment. The vote stood 133 yeas to 63 nays—more than the necessary two-thirds.

For Rheumatism.

Junata county has a man who cures his rheumatism by catching wasps and make them sting him in the parts where the pain is located. We have had experience with the red-hot ends of wasps and if the disease is worse than such a remedy may the good Lord deliver us from rheumatism.

Nothing New.

At Williamsport day before yesterday Mrs. Cook was called on to testify concerning a Bible record that her son was born in September, 1867—he having voted on age in November last. She testified that she made the entry herself in 1867. Then Lawyer Parsons showed that the Bible was printed in 1875.

MATRIMONIAL DOINGS.

LIST OF MARRIAGE LICENSES GRANTED.

A Butter Thief Caught at Millheim—Death of Henry Dunkle—Reunion of the 184th Regiment.

The following is a list of marriage licenses issued during the past week as entered on the Marriage Docket:

George Rossman, Roland, and Miss Amanda, daughter of Fred Dukeman, Roland, Pa.

H. E. Boyer, Centre Hill, and Miss Mary E., daughter of Jacob Long, Madisonburg, Pa.

Edwin F. Wagner, Philipsburg and Miss Annie C., daughter of G. G. Pottsgrove, Philipsburg.

Jerome Mecher, Carbon, Pa., and Miss Mary, daughter of Adam Rine Miles township.

Elwood Fisher, Unionville, and Miss Ella daughter of Geo. Smith, Boalsburg.

A Butter Thief Caught.

For some months past Mr. Daniel Hoy, who operates a creamery at Millheim, has been regularly missing butter from his creamery. By keeping a careful account of his stock he found that about every two weeks he would be short from ten to fifteen pounds but could not account as to how it disappeared. The doors of the building were always carefully closed and the windows well secured but the butter continued to disappear regularly and in about the same quantity. Mr. Hoy came to the conclusion that some one had a key to get in and help himself at night. To catch the intruder he decided to watch in the building and find out who it was. He followed this plan for some time with the hope of finally solving the mystery.

On last Saturday evening he stationed himself in the building with his shotgun by his side and had a small fire in the stove which reflected a little light towards the door. Late in the evening he heard some one at the front door who by the use of a key unlocked it and stepped inside.

Mr. Hoy brought his gun to his shoulder with the intention of giving the intruder the full load in the breast; he hesitated and demanded of the man what he was after, and ordered him to surrender. The fellow was startled at first and the next instant he turned to go when Mr. Hoy sent a load of shot after him which he thinks took effect in his legs, but the thief managed to escape.

On Monday morning Mr. Hoy made information before a Justice of the Peace and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Wm. Kerstetter, and says he was the intruder, and that he recognized him by the light from the stove. Mr. Kerstetter denies the charge and claims that he was not near the building and never took any butter from Mr. Hoy's creamery. The matter will be tried at our next term of court where Mr. Kerstetter, if not guilty, will have the opportunity to prove his allegations.

Death of Henry Dunkle.

On Monday afternoon Mr. Henry Dunkle quietly passed from the scenes of this life, at his residence at this place. Had he lived until the 11th of November he would have reached the 81st year of his life, but was permitted to live beyond the average time of three score and ten years and reach a ripe old age. Mr. Dunkle was raised in Walker township where he spent the greater portion of his life following farming and gunsmithing. He was the father of a large family of which a wife and eight children still survive; the children are: Mrs. Mary E. Hughes, Lewis, Benner twp.; Mrs. Kate Cox, Tyrone; Thomas J., Bellefonte; John, Tyrone; Elizabeth J. David S. and Alice M., living at Woonsocket, Dakota. Funeral, to-day, Thursday, interment in the Dunkle cemetery, near Hubersburg.

Reunion of the 184th Regiment.

The third annual reunion of the 184th Regiment will be held at Sunbury Thursday, May 16th. All the survivors of this regiment are urgently requested to be present as matters of interest to all will be discussed and other interesting proceedings will take place which none should miss.

This regiment was recruited from different portions of the State and the surviving members are scattered. The last reunion was held at Altoona last May and was fairly represented. It is desired to form a permanent organization and that every member be on hand at the coming reunion.

Took Strychnine.

On last Saturday morning a Mrs. Noble, living at State College, committed suicide by taking a dose of strychnine which terminated her life. She had been in ill health for some time and her mind showed signs of weakening and in this demented condition put an end to her existence. She was married recently and was well advanced in years. Her former name was Mrs. Harman and her mother resides in Bellefonte. We have not been able to obtain any further particulars of the sad affair.
