

CATARRH, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT. Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. Dixon & Son, 304 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should read the above carefully.

Universally Laughter At. The unthinking are prone to make game of nervousness. Yet this is a very real and serious affliction, the harassing symptoms of which are rendered all the more poignant by ridicule. The stomach is usually responsible for these symptoms—its weakness and disorder find a reflex in the brain, which is the headquarters of the nervous system. As a nerve tonic and tranquilizer we believe that no one can be pointed out so effective as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. In renewing vigorous digestion, it strikes the key note of recovery of strength and quietude by the nerves. Headaches, tremors in quiet sleep,—all these modify and ultimately disappear as the system gains strength from the great tonic. Dyspepsia biliousness rheumatism constipation and kidney complaints are subdued by the Bitters.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS

Celebrating the Centennial of Washington's Inauguration.

THE MAGNIFICENT CIVIC PAGEANT

George Washington Would Have Been Paralyzed with Astonishment if He Could Have Witnessed the Ceremonies in His Honor at New York.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The greatest civic parade that this republic has ever known is under way.

There are about 90,000 men in line, or will be when the vast body of men massed in the streets contiguous to Central park and Fifth avenue have formed in columns and followed the mighty army of civilians that is now filing past the reviewing stands at Madison and Union squares.

The men are marching very close and rapidly and fill the street from curb to curb, but even so it seems impossible that all should reach Waverly place before 9 or 10 o'clock. The parade must be curtailed somewhere and the order to disperse will probably be welcomed joyfully by the patriotic but weary citizens who have been waiting in Fifty-ninth street for hours.

A Million Spectators. This morning there was no diminution of the crowds that have filled the streets since Monday. Fifth avenue was lined with humanity. That was as far as one could see from one of the roofs at Madison square. The window sills and sidewalks held men, women and children. The slightest incident provoked a cheer, and waves of applause ran out along the entire line. A conservative estimate of the crowd on the streets, the windows, the roofs and other points of vantage, places the number of sightseers at 1,350,000.

Novel Features of the Parade. There are over one hundred floats, containing tableaux, historical and allegorical groupings, representations of the arts, trades and industries, and unique and striking effects such as have never before been seen in the United States. Everything that money, ingenuity and artistic skill can do in this direction has been done—notably by German-American societies and individual citizens. As an idea of the costliness of these floats it may be stated that the preparation of the fifteen historical floats alone entailed an expense of about $10,000.

The Line of March. The civic parade formed on the streets and avenues contiguous to Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, and the route is down Fifth avenue to Fifteenth street, thence to Union square, around the square and back to Fifth avenue by way of Fourteenth street, down Fifth avenue to Waverly place, through Waverly place to Broadway. From that point the parade thinned out, but portions continued down Broadway.

President Harrison returned to Washington to-night.

The Banquet. NEW YORK, May 1.—The centennial banquet at the Metropolitan Opera house last night was an affair of unparalleled magnificence and was a distinct success. Probably never so many distinguished guests gathered round the board on any similar occasion in this country. Among those present were the president and cabinet, with the exception of Secretary Blaine, who is indisposed, ex-Presidents Cleveland and Hayes, governors of the states and territories and all of the distinguished guests who have been in attendance at the centennial celebration.

Besides Mayor Grant, at the president's table were also seated Vice President Morton, ex-President Cleveland, Governor Hill, Senator Everts, Bishop Potter, Chief Justice Fuller, Admiral Porter, Maj.-Gen. Schofield, Judge Andrews, Gen. Sherman, James Russell Lowell, ex-President Hayes, Speaker Cole, Hon. S. S. Cox, Commodore Bowen and Elbridge T. Gerry.

At 9 o'clock the appearance of Mrs. Harrison and party in the president's box followed quickly by that of hundreds of other ladies in the auditorium gave the signal for the speaking to begin. The vast theatre was then crowded with a distinguished audience. Mayor Grant announced the following toasts and sentiments in their order:

1. Address of welcome—David B. Hill, governor of New York.

2. George Washington. (Drunk standing and in silence.)

3. The People of the United States—Grover Cleveland, ex-president of the United States.

4. The States—Fitz Hugh Lee, governor of the state of Virginia.

5. The Federal Constitution—Melville W. Fuller, chief justice of the United States.

6. The Senate—John W. Daniel, United States senator from Virginia.

7. The presidency—Rutherford B. Hayes, ex-president of the United States.

8. The judiciary—William M. Everts, United States senator from New York.

9. The Army and Navy—William Tecumseh Sherman, general.

10. Our Schools and Colleges—Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard university.

11. Our Literature—James Russell Lowell.

President Harrison was to have responded at the point when Mr. Blaine's toast was scheduled, but this part of the programme was changed, and the president remained on the list as the last speaker. He did not rise to respond to the toast "The United States" until a very late hour. It is understood that this delay was at his own suggestion in order to give him more time to rest after his fatiguing day's work. The president was pale and seemed very tired.

President Harrison was vociferously applauded when he finally rose.

Mrs. Cleveland's Outing in Jersey. LAKEWOOD, N. J., May 6.—Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Folsom, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Watson Gilder, of New York, and Miss Blaine, daughter of Secretary Blaine, arrived at the Laurel house Saturday and remained over Sunday. Immediately on arrival the president, Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Folsom and Mrs. Gilder drove through the pine forest, returning to tea at 6:30. The party attended the Presbyterian church yesterday. Mrs. Cleveland will be here all the week.

Chairman Barnum Buried. LIME ROCK, Conn., May 4.—The funeral over the remains of the Hon. William H. Barnum was held at Trinity church here. Interment was made in the family lot. There were special trains from Hartford and New York bringing mourners from all over the country.

CARNOT FIRED ON.

A Crank Attempts to Assassinate the French President.

EXCITEMENT, BUT NO BLOODSHED.

An Impecunious Parisian Takes a Desperate Method to Attract Attention to His Condition—Boulangists Pooh Pooh the Affair as a Scheme to Create Sympathy for the Administration.

PARIS, May 6.—As President Carnot was leaving the palace of the Elysee to attend the centennial celebration at Versailles yesterday a stranger drew a pistol and pointing directly at him fired. The man was immediately seized and a rush was made toward the president to discover the extent of his injury. M. Carnot quickly assured the crowd that he was not hurt and the excitement was over.

A Blank Cartridge. The man who did the shooting gave his name as Perrin and his occupation as a marina store keeper. He stated that he had no desire to kill the president and showed the truth of his assertion by proving that he had fired a blank cartridge. He declared that he had been punished unjustly by the governor of Martinique, and his object in firing was solely for the purpose of drawing attention to his wrongs and the fact that the prosecution he had undergone had reduced him to poverty. He had not been able to obtain redress from his persecutors and believed that his action in firing the blank cartridge would direct the president's attention to his case. Perrin is evidently insane on the subject of his grievance.

No Sympathy from Boulangists. The Boulangists sneer at the affair and assert that it was concocted by the president and his friends to win public sympathy with their clique as against the National party.

Opening the Exposition. PARIS, May 7.—The French exposition was opened last night by President Carnot. Large crowds were present and the scene was a very brilliant one. President Carnot was accompanied by the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies and by his cabinet. The arrival of the procession at the central dome of the exhibition building was announced by a salute from the artillery. President Carnot ascended a dais erected under the dome, and took his place, surrounded by his ministers, senators and members of the chamber of deputies.

Premier Tirard's Greeting. Premier Tirard delivered an address of welcome to all present. He declared that the magnitude of the exhibition exceeded the expectation of the government. In conclusion the premier extended a greeting to all strangers, and said republican France would show herself hospitable and generous, treating them not as rivals inspiring jealousy, but as fellow workers laboring for the happiness of humanity.

President Carnot followed Minister Tirard. In his remarks he referred to the "unfathomable" energy of France, which had arisen from the most severe trials to fresh industrial triumphs. After the exhibition was opened the president and his party inspected the various departments.

A Magnificent Marine Display. A magnificent naval display was given on the River Seine last night on the opening of the exhibition, embracing every conceivable kind of craft which the depth of water would permit to float. This display extended from St. Louis island to Grenelle. Each vessel carried lights of various colors, and the bridge and the entire stretch of dock front were ablaze with lights, colored fires, etc. The display of fireworks which took place at the different points at the Pont Neuf, Grenelle, and in the garden of Tuileries was fully equal to anything of the kind ever seen in Paris.

An immense torchlight parade mounted and on foot, proceeded to the exposition grounds, where upwards of 100,000 gas jets were blazing.

KNOW NOTHING OF TYNAN.

Parrell Denies Knowledge of "Number One"—Continued Cross Examination.

LONDON, May 4.—Mr. Parrell denied knowing "Number One," either under the name of Tynan or any other. He had never heard Egan associated with the "martyr fund" for the benefit of the families of those executed and incarcerated for participation in the Phoenix park murders. He saw nothing criminal in the fund, but rather thought it was right to assist the innocent victims of the "martyrs."

Mr. Parrell said he could not recollect having denounced outrages between 1873 and 1881. He believed the outrages were the work of small societies.

A Sensational Incident. A sensational incident—the most remarkable of the day's examination—occurred when Sir Richard Webster quoted a statement made by Mr. Parrell during the debate on Mr. Foster's bill in 1881, suspending the habeas corpus, to the effect that secret societies had then ceased to exist in Ireland. Sir Richard asked Mr. Parrell if he believed the statement when he made it.

Mr. Parrell—No; at any rate it was an exaggerated statement.

Sir Richard Webster—Did you or did you not mistake the fact when you made that statement?

Mr. Parrell admitted that he had made the statement knowing it to be untrue, or at least extravagant. He further admitted that he had never withdrawn the statement. His purpose in making it was to exaggerate the effect which the league had had in eradicating secret societies.

Mr. Parrell further testified that he was unable to say what had become of the books of the Land League. Some of them were brought to London and some were now before the commission. When the missing books and documents were he did not know, but he would endeavor to find out.

Democratic Victories in North Carolina. RALEIGH, N. C., May 7.—Municipal elections were held yesterday in all the cities and towns in this state and the Democrats carried the day easily. The vote in this city was light, as a great majority of the negroes declined to vote or to take any interest in the election. This was also the case at Asheville. In this city the Democrats carried three out of five wards, as usual, and also carried another ward which has always heretofore been solidly Republican. The proposition to issue $100,000 in bonds for sewerage and street improvements was carried in Raleigh by fifty-two majority.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Proposed to the citizens of this Commonwealth by the General Assembly or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for their approval or rejection at a special election to be held June 3, 1889. Published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

SECTION 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth that the following is proposed as an amendment to the constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

AMENDMENT.

Strike out from section one, of article eight, the four qualifications for voters which reads as follows: "If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid within two years, a state or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months, and paid at least one month before the election," so that the section which reads as follows:

"Every male citizen, twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections. First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month. Second. He shall have resided in the State one year (or, if having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the state, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election. Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election. Fourth. If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid, within two years, a state or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election," shall be amended, so as to read as follows:

"Every citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at the polling place of the election, and not elsewhere: First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least thirty days. Second. He shall have resided in the state one year (or, if having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the state, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election. Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least thirty days immediately preceding the election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws to properly enforce this provision. Fourth. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen one year next preceding an election, except at a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district in which he shall at the time be a resident and not elsewhere for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elected by the people: Provided, That in time of war no elector in the actual military service of the State or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election. He shall, and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their vote in the election district in which they respectively reside. Fifth. For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained, or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while employed in the service of the United States or of the State, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or university, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of any home for disabled and indigent soldiers and sailors, who, for the purpose of voting, shall be deemed to reside in the election district where said home is located. Laws shall be made for ascertaining, by proper proof, the citizens who shall be entitled to the right of suffrage hereby established. A true copy of the joint resolution.

CHARLES W. STONE, Secretary of the Commonwealth.
