

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

"The bustle's got to go—that's flat!" Or so dame Fashion has decreed; Alas! she's right; for if it goes, Things will be very flat indeed.—Ez.

—Harry Keller, of Harrisburg makes frequent visits to Bellefonte, his home.

—Joseph Bros., have had a new veranda erected on the front of their building.

—The scholars of the Bellefonte schools are enjoying their vacation immensely.

—Memorial services will be held in the Methodist Church next Sunday morning.

—Senator A. H. Colquitt, Georgia, will speak at Philipsburg on Friday evening of this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bower, who had been visiting at New Berlin, Pa., last week, arrived home on Monday.

—It is estimated that the census of Williamsport now being taken will give that city a population of 35,000.

—Three trips a day can now be made from Bellefonte to Tyrone. The new railroad facilities certainly are appreciated by our people.

—Israel Sternberg, a typo in the Government Printing Office Washington, D. C., arrived in Bellefonte on Tuesday morning for a short vacation.

—Mr. Frank VanOrner, of California, formerly a resident of this place and also a "typo" on this paper, was visiting his many friends and relatives here this week.

—All the Hungarians charged with murder in Clearfield county were acquitted and discharged, the evidence not being sufficient to convict or hold for trial. The real murderers had escaped.

—Ed. Chambers, Esq., and James McKee with their compasses and luggage strapped on their backs started on Tuesday morning for a stay of several days in the Bear Meadows to survey timber land.

—Mr. A. Boyd Hutchinson, of Kansas, died on the 11th at his home, aged 53 years. Mr. Hutchinson, formerly was a resident of Bellefonte and editor of the Bellefonte Republican; was Captain of the 49th Volunteer Regiment of Pa.

—Two families living in the same house in St. Louis buy a keg of beer at a time, and the keg is tapped at both ends and each family draws from a separate spigot. In this way, as they figure neither can get more than his fair share.

—One of Barnum's elephants got mad while the show was in Brooklyn and killed a horse with a blow of his trunk. They starved him for a week and he got down on his knees and shed tears and roared out his promises never to do so again.

—The Pennsylvania railroad improved the appearance about the station at this place, by filling up and leveling the plot of ground about the building with crushed limestone and placing several flower beds on the same, which will soon be blooming with rare and beautiful flowers.

—General Bates, a retired English army officer of means, is traveling through the west. He was rather surprised the other day when he sat down to dinner in a hotel at Seattle. The waiter who took his order was his own son, who had run away from home seven years before.

—At Granville, Missin county, just before last Friday's storm, a thoughtful lady told her little boys to go out and bring in the tomato plants, meaning a box of plants she had for transplanting, and to her great surprise when they had come in they had pulled up all her plants she had set out in the garden.

—"Young man," said the good deacon at a revival meeting to a young man on a back seat who was looking anxiously about with a troubled face, "young man," he repeated solemnly but kindly, "are you looking for salvation?" "No, sir," said the youth blushing deeply. "I was lookin' for Sal Johnson, but I guess she ain't here."

—Geographical socials are something new. The method of conducting them is for a lady upon entering the room in which the social is held to draw from a receptacle a card containing the name of some county seat in the State and for each gentleman to draw the name of a county. The counties are then required to hunt up the county seat and take them to supper.

—If any farmers in this section are anxious to engage harvest help in time they can find it in front of this office, on the steps of the Conrad building, where no less than a dozen weary time-servers can be found any time of the day; but the mention of work would likely paralyze them on the spot, from the effects of which they would not recover until the wind whistles through the oats-stubbles.

NEWS PARAGRAPHED.

A YOUNG ATTORNEY WILL JOIN THE BENEDICTS.

A New Railroad Through Centre County—A Warning to Pugnists.—The Printers Play Ball—Temperance Lecture.

Always ready for a surprise, we were nevertheless taken by surprise this week upon opening one of those white, square suspicious looking envelopes, which turned out to be an invitation to attend the marriage ceremony of Miss Mary B., daughter of Mrs. Harriet Kilpatrick, Wesleyville, Pa., to C. P. Hewes, Esq., of this place, Wednesday morning May 29th. Miss Kilpatrick, the bride elect, visited this section last summer and is a handsome young lady, possessing those admirable traits of character and many lady-like accomplishments which won the friendship and esteem of all with whom she became acquainted.

We are not surprised that our young legal friend has decided to cut the "Gordian-knot" which held him in the brotherhood of bachelors to adopt a more congenial life. Charley, you know it is not good to go-it-alone and hope that this case in court-ing will be the most successful, and the happiest event of your career. We have a small bit of advice and a few suggestions which we prefer to give in a private interview that may be of great value to you when about to pass through the trying ordeal.

The DEMOCRAT extends its congratulations; and if we can find time to dismount the editorial tripod and forsake the haunts of our sanctum, for a few days, will don our little white robe to accept the invitation to the same.

A Line to be Built by Philadelphia Capitalists.

A charter was granted at the State department yesterday to the Pittsburgh Beech Creek and Eastern railway company which proposes to build a line 160 miles long, through portions of Clarion, Centre, Clearfield, Jefferson, Indiana, Clinton, Armstrong and Butler counties. The line is to begin at Mill Hill, Centre county, and terminate in Butler. The capital is $1,500,000. The president is Samuel Nevins, of Philadelphia, who has subscribed 14,920 shares of the entire number. The other shareholders are Philadelphians.

A Warning.

A well known Clearfield county man named Foster, was tried at last week's court in that county on a case of assault and battery against one named Walker, who during the fracas bit one of Walker's fingers. Since that time the last named has suffered with a swollen and inflamed hand, a portion of which it is said he will lose, amputation being considered necessary. The sentence of the court was that Foster pay costs of prosecution, also a fine of $250, and undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for a period of six months.

Printers vs. Doctors.

A game of base-ball was played on Saturday afternoon between a picked nine from town and the printers. The game resulted in a score of 10 to 1 in favor of the printers we believe. The playing on both sides was very fine at times and especially the flycatching by Andy Young. A son-of-a-gun with a heart as black as the ace of spades stole a new ball from the printers and if he does not want to have his name published in the next issue he would better return it at once. He is known.

Wednesday Evening.

May the 29th, Hon. Volney B. Cushing, of Maine, will speak in the Court House, Bellefonte, on the Amendment. Mr. Cushing comes highly recommended and will be worth hearing. The following from Francis E. Willard, is a guarantee of his ability: "With a splendid voice, ready utterance, and invincible array of fact and argument, this young man is an ally for which we can hardly be too grateful."

Prohibition at Spring Mills.

Rev. Hicks, of the M. E. church, and Rev. Beaumont, of the Evangelical Association have been holding temperance meetings in and around Spring Mills. Rev. Hicks lectured on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sabbath evenings, and poured red-hot shot into the liquor traffic.

Several converts to the Prohibition Amendment have been made during these lectures.

To Call a Meeting of Soldiers.

Governor Curtin declares that in consequence of the veto of the bill for the erection of a memorial hall at Gettysburg, the committee will make an address to the soldiers suggesting a meeting to decide whether the enterprise will be abandoned or an attempt be made to erect a hall.

Attention Farmers.

The Triumph Harvesting Machine, binder, is on exhibition at the State College with Mr. W. A. Neff, local agent. It is a steel frame, strong, durable and the only perfect harvester on the market—go and see it.

DEATH OF HENRY KRUMRINE.

One of Spring Mills' Most Respected Citizens Passes Away.

Spring Mills and vicinity has been called upon to mourn the loss of one of its most prominent citizens. For the past six months Mr. Krumrine has been confined to bed with gangrene which ultimately produced dropsy. For a number of weeks he suffered intensely, but on last Sabbath evening at 9 o'clock death released him, and his spirit winged its flight to Him who gave it.

Mr. Krumrine had been identified with the business interests of Spring Mills for a number of years.

When Mr. Peter Wilson quit the tanning business, he sold his establishment to Mr. Krumrine who carried on the business with the aid of his sons three of whom learned the trade, until a few years ago.

He was a kind husband and an affectionate father, and during his last illness was faithfully waited upon by his children, who although all married, but one, and living away from this place, spent a great deal of their time with him.

He was a faithful member of Salem Reformed church. He leaves three daughters and four sons to mourn their loss. His age was seventy-one.

Changes in Examinations.

Applicants will please note the following changes in examination dates: Hubbersburg, May 31st instead of May 30th, and Bellefonte June 1st instead of May 31st.

—Dunkle and Fortney's new grocery store on Allegheny street, is rapidly picking up trade. They keep nothing but the best and freshest goods in the market.

—The largest and most complete line of suitings is now on exhibition on our counters that have ever been shown by us. Suits made to order at the lowest prices. MONTGOMERY & Co., Tailors.

—Your attention is called to an advertisement in this paper of A. T. Evans & Co., Chicago, Ill., who are offering a complete set of family scales for 98cts. this extremely low price is made to get new customers, for to every one to whom a set of scales is sold they mail their catalogue, giving full descriptions and wholesale prices of watches, jewelry, sewing machines, books, and a large variety of useful household articles. They give such unquestioned bank references as should insure every one that the firm is entirely reliable.

—On Tuesday morning Andrew J. Cruise, Jr., who received the appointment to Annapolis Naval Academy, arrived home for a short stay after which he will leave to go on board a training vessel for a summer cruise along the coast. The young gentleman passed all the preliminary examinations in a very satisfactory manner. Of the sixty-one appointments but twelve passed the examinations and six of them were from Pennsylvania. This is certainly a good showing for the Keystone state and a credit to the young man of this district.

—Lawyers are generally considered a bit hot; but such is not the case with the fraternity of this county when taken on the prohibition question. We are told that all the members of the Bellefonte bar, with two exceptions, have announced themselves as in favor of the Prohibition Amendment. Another fact to be noticed is that the Democratic party is unanimously in favor of the Amendment and will support it at the polls. The cry that the Democratic party is the whisky party does not hold good in this case and the weakness is all on the other side, brace up gentlemen, your reputation and practice is at stake,—you can patronize but one "bar" successfully.

A Good Record.

The Oldest Harness House in Town.—Over 18 years on the same spot—no change of firm—no fires—no going back, but continued and steady progress. This is an advanced age. People demand more for their money than ever before. We are up to the times with the largest and best assortment of everything that is to be found in a first-class harness store, and we defy competition, either in quality quantity or prices. No selling out for the want of trade. No company, no partners—no one to divide profits with but my customers. I am better prepared this year to give you more for your money than ever before. Last year and this year have found me at times not able to fill my orders. The above facts are worth considering, for they are evidence of merit and fair dealing. There is nothing so successful as success and this is what hurts some. See my large stock of Single and Double Harness, Whips, Dusters, Horse Sheets, Collars and Sweat Pads, Riding Saddles, Ladies' Side Saddles, very low. Fly-Nets from $3 a pair and upwards. Axle, Coach and Harness Oils, Saddlery Hardware and Harness Leather sold at the lowest prices to the trade. Harness makers in the country will find it to their advantage to get my prices before purchasing hardware elsewhere. I am better prepared this year than ever to fill orders promptly.

Whisky Men Swindled.

Western liquor men have recently been mulcted to the tune of $300,000, and a bright young chemist named Camp is now living in luxury far away. Mr. John Archibald Camp came to Chicago fifteen months ago, and among his effects were two large trunks and a small refrigerator. He seemed to have plenty of money, and it was noticed that the wholesale liquor dealers were among his visitors. Mr. Camp claimed to have discovered a compound which, when mixed with new whisky, would give it the odor, taste and appearance of from 4 to 6-year-old high wine. Under his manipulation the poorest quality of "wet goods" became "smooth," and the entire process was exemplified. It now turns out that in the refrigerators he simply exchanged bottles of good whisky for bad—a sort of second electric sugar refining process.

Score One for Woodward.

The little village at the east end of Pennsylvania ought to reform by all means. Just think of it, to rob a poor Evangelical minister of nearly all he has, and send him home empty-handed. But such is the treatment Rev. Stover received when he was down there on last Sunday evening to preach his people a temperance sermon. His gum-coat, blanket, hitching strap and buggy cushions were gone, and the whip broken when he started for home, and no trace of any of the stolen articles could be found. Now God's prohibitory law is very plain on this point, "thou shalt not steal," and especially not from a poor country preacher or editor, because both these classes have a hard time to get what they have. The tricksters there should return the stolen goods and repent.—Millheim Journal.

The Sullivan-Kilrain Fight.

Professor John Lawrence Sullivan is training under the care of wrestler William Muldoon at the latter's farm in the northern part of New York state for his coming battle with Jake Kilrain for a large sum of money and the championship of the world.

The eminent law breaker, his trainer says, is in good condition, and will be in first-class fighting trim when he enters the ring in July.

His opponent Kilrain, is known for his abstemiousness, and although he is not the equal of Sullivan so far as the art of sparring is concerned, his friends claim that his physical condition is better than that of the Boston boy.

The lovers of prize fighting in this country are many, and in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight they anticipate the fiercest contest in the history of pugilism.

A Reflection on the Profession.

A reporter of the Boston daily Globe recently called upon ten regular physicians on the same day, and described his symptoms in exactly the same language to each. He received ten prescriptions, of which he took seven, and died, and the other three were never used.
