-Some of Bellefonte's horsemen are agitating the idea of organizing an association at Bellefonte to establish a driving park and athletic ground at this place. Bellefonte is sorely in need of such an institution which many smaller towns sustain without any difficulty. A large ground with a good track for speeding horses, for base ball and foot ball and tennis courts would soon be a favorite resort for young and old and if properly managed would be a good investment. Let us have it; who will make the first move.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

A LARGE AND HARMONIOUS GATHERING.

The best of feeling pervades the entire proceedings—Nominations made—and Other Proceedings—A Strong Ticket.

On Tuesday morning, the presence of representative Democrats, from every section of the county, indicated that the Democracy, of this county, by appointment, would assemble in convention to make nominations and transact other important business.

The morning trains were well filled while many came by private conveyances and by noon the crowds about the hotels and on the streets were quite large. As many delegates wanted to return on the afternoon train the convention was called at 1 o'clock sharp.

At about 1.30 p. m. all the delegates were present and were ready to effect an organization. Hon. W. C. Heinle, chairman of the county committee, came forward and called the meeting to order.

Col. J. L. Spangler was then nominated as chairman of the convention and elected by acclamation. Upon accepting the position tendered him made a few remarks thanking the convention for the honor extended and then turned his attention to the discussion of National and State issues.

He said he was proud of the career and record of the man who had occupied the Presidential chair as the representative of the Democracy of this great people; he was proud of him because he redeemed every pledge and promise, and was especially proud of him that he was courageous enough to give to the people an issue, upon the success of which, the prosperity of the laboring man and mechanic depended.

Above all, he was proud of Grover Cleveland, who, as a citizen, still retained the greatest respect, the highest confidence, and love of the American people.

Col. Spangler then turned to State issues and criticised the idea of a Republican legislature appropriating thousands of dollars to go on a spree to the New York centennial. His closing remarks were loudly applauded.

The convention was further organized by the election of Messrs Gordon Wyche, of Rush and Jas. Swab, of Harris as secretaries and James C. Noll, of Spring as reading clerk.

On motion a committee of five, on resolutions, was appointed and were: Messrs. W. F. Reber, Bellefonte; S. J. Herring, Gregg; J. W. Parker, Philipsburg; Col. J. F. Weaver, Milesburg and J. H. Reifsnnyder, of Millheim.

The next and most interesting proceeding was the nomination of Associate Judge. As there was little or no contest for other nominations, Associate Judge was the one which would practically require a ballot to decide.

Mr. Michael Hess, of Harris twp. then nominated Thomas F. Riley, of that township, and the name of John H. Heckman, of Gregg, was announced by Mr. Wm. Pealer, of Spring Mills. The list of delegates was read and showed that the vote was as follows:

ASSOCIATE JUDGE.
Thomas F. Riley 17
John H. Heckman 38
Mr. Riley having received the majority of votes, his nomination was made unanimous.

PROTHONOTARY.
For Prothonotary, Bartram Galbraith, of N. W. Bellefonte, announced the name of L. A. Shaeffer; Abe Weber, of Howard, nominated M. I. Gardner, from the same boro. After the list of delegates was read it was evident that Shaeffer received the majority, but before the result was announced Mr. Gardner stepped forward and asked the convention for the privilege of making a few remarks. He then thanked the party for the support given him as a candidate and said though he did not receive the nomination he was still a Democrat, and would do all in his power to secure the election of his opponent, and the entire ticket and suggested that Mr. Shaeffer's nomination be made by acclamation and be unanimous.

Mr. Gardner's gallant remarks and manly course struck the key note and was greeted by loud applause. Mr. Shaeffer, by motion was then declared the unanimous nominee of the convention.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.
J. C. Meyer, Esq., being the only candidate placed before the convention for District Attorney, his nomination was made by acclamation.

COUNTY SURVEYOR.
For county surveyor two candidates came forward: George D. Johnson, of Howard and W. M. Grove, of N. P. Potter. The ballot resulted in the following vote:
Johnson 55
Grove 36
CORONER.
On account of an error in the blanks, sent to the Department at Harrisburg, a coroner had to be elected this year. Dr. J. W. Neff, of Snow Shoe, formerly elected, was nominated by acclamation.

W. B. Mingle and M. I. Gardner, for convention in 1890.
For chairman of the county committee for 1890, the convention recognized the faithful and efficient services rendered by Hon. W. C. Heinle and his re-appointment was made unanimous.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.
The Democracy of Centre county, in Convention Assembled.
Resolved, That we heartily congratulate the party upon the splendid record of ex-President Grover Cleveland, who in his retirement enjoys, not only the proud satisfaction of knowing that every promise made by the Democratic National platform of 1884 was faithfully kept and carried out, but that he has the respect and confidence of the American people, who are day after day realizing to a greater and fuller extent the effects of his pure, upright and efficient administration of public affairs.

2nd. That we heartily reaffirm the principles set forth in the platform enunciated by the last Democratic National Convention as being the principles most conducive to the prosperity of the country and especially tending to promote our agricultural, manufacturing and commercial interests.

3rd. That we condemn the administration of President Harrison for his hypocritical claims to the enforcement of the principles of Civil Service Reform, while honest and capable officials by thousands are dismissed from the public service for no other reason than that they are Democrats; for his open prostitution of the public patronage to promote partizan purposes in the various states to reward henchmen and bosses; for his glaring and shameful distribution of offices among the members of his family, turning the Presidency, the highest earthly honors, into private property, to be bartered and used for his personal convenience and family gain, thereby introducing nepotism contrary to the fundamental principles of our government.

We are unalterably opposed to the fostering of monopolies, trusts and combines, tending to enrich the few and oppress the many, and hold up the Republican party to the condemnation of the people for its open alliance with the promoters of these trusts and monopolies both in the state and nation.

4th. We denounce the Republican legislature of the last session for its notorious corruption as shown in the use of public moneys for general debauch at the New York Centennial; for their betrayal of the interests of the workingmen; for their double dealing with prohibition; for their subservience to bossism, jobbery and boodles, making the legislature of 1889, the monumental disgrace of the Commonwealth.

5th. We proudly invite a comparison between the fair returns of capital and just earnings of labor under the administration of Grover Cleveland, and the embarrassment of our industries and the reduction of the wages of the workingman under the administration of President Harrison and submit whether the promises and the pledges made by the Republican party in the last campaign were not a snare and cheat to secure the votes of the working class.

How It Happened.
Jacob Kepler, editor of the Tionesta Democrat makes the following explanation of the recent unpleasantness at Pine Grove Mills this county. He says:
Some of our exchanges are so badly mixed on the little occurrence in Ferguson township, Centre county that a brief statement of the facts will not be out of place.

On the day in question two men drove up to the proprietor of this paper in Ferguson township and inquired if these were the "Kepler farms." The answer was in the affirmative. One jumped out of the buggy, drew a paper out of his pocket and asked where David P. Weaver was? We told him he was down at the lower barn unloading hay. They then went down to the barn, and after a while came back and called us to the yard fence. One of the men (Potter) said "Mr. Weaver ordered two reaper knives some time ago and I would like if you would take them." As Mr. Weaver was not manager of our farms we knew nothing about the matter. Mr. Otto was manager of the farms and his monthly statement had been sent in and contained no account of reaper knives ordered. They then started back to the barn and in a little while returned. We were sitting on the porch talking business with a gentleman when Potter returned, and stated that he (Otto) had said we could use the knives. Mr. Otto just then came up on the porch and we asked him whether the gentleman's story was correct. Mr. Otto said "no" I would have nothing to do with the matter. We then told Potter that he had annoyed us enough—I wanted to transact business with the gentleman on the porch and that he should leave. He then argued the point, and wound up by calling us a coward and a— We then told him that we would not tolerate such language on our premises and that if he did not leave we would assist him out. He repeated the language, we "assisted" him as we had promised, and used the necessary amount of force to eject a blackguard out of the yard. That is all there is in the case.

Death of Judge Cummin.
Judge Cummin, of Williamsport who had been in a critical condition at Cresson died at 8.27 o'clock Sunday morning of Bright's disease. The Judge was connected with the Relief Commission at Johnstown, and by his hard work there probably brought on the attack which finally resulted in his death.

Death of Judge Irvin.
On Tuesday afternoon John Irvin died at his residence on High street. He had been suffering for over a week from a paralytic attack which prostrated him and terminated in his death. The deceased was one of Bellefonte's oldest and most respected citizens. He was years ago interested in large iron operations at Howard. From that place he came to Bellefonte, and for several years was engaged in the hardware trade. He was also elected Associate Judge in this county. He had held other prominent positions in this community. His age is about 82 years.

Incorrect.
The statement made by the Bellefonte paper that Hon. S. B. Peale had rented three rooms in the Cryder building in that borough for law offices turns out to be incorrect. We have it on the authority of the ex-Senator himself that he has not done so. He says in the note to THE DEMOCRAT: "I have been kindly urged to open an office in Bellefonte, were I have had some business for a number of years, but thus far I have not seen my way clear to do so, owing to the pressure of work elsewhere."—So says the Lock Haven Democrat.

6,111 People Drowned at Johnstown.
It has been ascertained by careful estimates, compiled from facts in the possession of the board of inquiry at Johnstown, that 6,111 people were drowned by the flood. The finding of bodies is yet a daily occurrence. At a meeting of business men it was decided to heartily support Messrs. John Thomas & Sons in their suit against the South Fork fishing club. The suit will be entered in a few days.

Not Entitled.
In the opinion of the Attorney General only soldiers who participated in the battle of Gettysburg are entitled to transportation to the field on the occasion of the dedication of the Pennsylvania soldiers' monuments. Even soldiers who were honorably discharged before the battle they are not entitled to transportation. And this opinion has been adopted by the Adjutant General.

WANTED—A new board of commissioners.

WHEN PEOPLE MARRY.

STATISTICS FROM PENNSYLVANIA'S RECORDS

The Number of Marriages—The Average for Men and Women—Difference in age and Other Facts.

Thirteen per cent. of all the men married in Pennsylvania last year married women older than themselves. Seven per cent. took wives their own age, and the remaining 80 per cent. married women younger than themselves. The average age of the men was 27 years and of the women 23 years. These interesting facts are found in the annual report of 1888 of Secretary of Internal Affairs Thos. J. Stewart, which contains much other curious information about the matrimonial propensities of Pennsylvanians. Thus it appears that more men are married at the age of 23 than at any other age and that among women 21 is the favorite age. The youngest wife of 1888 was only 13 years old, and the oldest was aged 71. Two boys of 16 were married and two old gray beards of 86 ventured into matrimony, probably not for the first time. Of 14,725 women married, and whose ages were given, 4,065, or 27.5 per cent. were less than 20 years old. Among the men there were only 393 who were so young. There were 23 girls of 14 years married, 105 of 15, 353 of 16, 816 of 17, 1,333 of 18, 1,434 of 19, 1,822 of 20, 2,041 of 21, 1,517 of 22, and 1,440 of 23. After the latter age the numbers of those who found husbands rapidly decline. These figures show that if a Pennsylvania girl is not married by the time she is 23 years old the chances are that she will become an old maid.

Men proceed more leisurely about matrimony. Besides the two 16 year old husbands in 1888, there were 38 aged 17, 128 of 18, 326 of 19. The figures then take a jump to 637 at 20 and reach the maximum in 1,765 at 23. They decrease slowly after that. There were 437 men married after they were 50 years old, but only 171 women.

There was a remarkable disparity in the ages of some of the couples. A woman of 59 years married a man of 31, and an old man of 74 wedded a maiden of 24. The youngest couple were a seventeen-year-old husband and a 15-year-old wife. The girl of 13 wedded a man 19 years older than herself. A man of 45 married a girl of 15, his age being just three times hers, and a man of 48 did nearly as well, taking a seventeen-year-old wife.

In the marriages where the women were older than the men the difference in ages rarely exceeded five years. There were eighty-three marriages where one of the parties had previously been divorced.

It is estimated that there were 6,000 marriages of couples from this state in Camden, N. J., alone, and, of course, there must have been very many more in other cities and towns in other states bordering on Pennsylvania.

IGNORANT HUNS.

They Didn't Know when they had Gained a Victory in the Cook Regions.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., August 9.—The Hungarians at Morewood refused to go to work this morning because they did not understand that the strike was settled. Hearing that the Alice and Bessemer works were running they formed a howling mob of about 500 and started for these plants. The men at the Alice mines were warned in time and fled. Upon reaching the tipple the mob tore the boards off and started the coal wagons down the slope to wreck them and block the entrance so that no coal could be hoisted. They then went to Bessemer and on the way met John M. Dagton who was riding in a buggy. He tried to persuade them to stop and return to work but the infuriated mob overturned his buggy and beat and cut him so badly that his life is despaired of.

The Huns reached Bessemer and went to the home of an old man named Gilhooly to look for the mine boss. Failing to find him there, the old man was beaten and the windows of his house broken. A man named Love was caught at the pit and treated in the same manner. They next made a descent upon the store and, after breaking the windows and doors in, carried off all the bread and bologna they could find on the premises. By this time the secretary arrived, in company with James Keagan, another of the leaders. They addressed them and finally succeeded in making them understand that the strike was over and in their favor. The Huns returned to their homes.
