

PLUMED KNIGHTS.

Parading by Thousands in the Capital City.

REVIEWED BY THE PRESIDENT.

About 20,000 Forming in Line—The City Crowded with Visitors—Cincinnati and Denver Want the Cause of 1892—Cincinnati the Favorite—The Iowa Controversy to Be Amicably Settled.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Up to a late hour last night there was no cessation in the influx of sir knights and their friends. Each arriving train brought hundreds of plumed knights. All is in readiness this morning and everybody is waiting to view the magnificent spectacle promised by today's programme—the parade—when 20,000 sir knights are expected to march in line through the broad streets and avenues and past in review before President Harrison at the executive mansion. The departments and public schools will all close at noon and business will be entirely suspended during the afternoon.

The Parade Moves.
The streets about the capital have all the morning been filled with sir knights in glistening uniforms, and at this hour (11 a. m.) the parade is formed and about to start. It will pass over the usual inaugural parade route, up Pennsylvania avenue, past the treasury department and White House, where the line will be reviewed by President Harrison and several members of his cabinet.

Grand Master Gen. Charles Roome, who came here Saturday, has owing to his feeble condition, kept indoors since his arrival. The exercises in which he will take part personally today will be made very brief.

The Next Place of Meeting.
There is considerable speculation here about the next place of meeting of the grand encampment. Cincinnati and Denver are mentioned. One or the other is likely to secure the honor. Cincinnati and Hanselman commanderies from the Queen City, are both well represented at the gathering here, and feel confident that Cincinnati will be selected as the place of meeting in 1892. They will go before the grand encampment with satisfactory assurances that all the money needed to entertain the 1892 triennial will be forthcoming. In fact, more than $30,000 of the $50,000 needed is already pledged by business men of that city.

The Iowa Controversy.
The parade, it is thought, will postpone the opening of the convocation at Masonic temple until late this afternoon. Grand Master Roome's annual address, being the first thing in order, will then probably consume the remainder of the day.

Discussion of the breach of discipline on the part of the Iowa grand commandery will undoubtedly take up considerable space in his address and lead to the most important controversy in the convocation meetings.

One of the officers of the grand encampment, in speaking of the Iowa case, said that it would not create a ripple at the present session.

EVERY FAMILY *

wastes or gives away during the year more or less kitchen grease, each pound of which can in a few minutes be converted into two pounds of the PUREST SOAP, far better than can be found on sale. The only expense for making ten pounds of this soap, with five and one-half pounds of grease or oil, is the trifling cost of one can of BANNER LYE, to be found at nearly every grocery store.

Dissolve the contents of one can of Banner Lye in three and one-half pints of cold water, and pour slowly into five and one-half pounds of lukewarm grease, stirring from the start, until it thickens into a mushy condition; then pour into any kind of mould to harden—a child can make it, and full directions are to be found back of each label.

A can of Banner Lye will do the work of twenty-one pounds of washing soda, and besides its value for scrubbing purposes, the cleaning and disinfecting of Sinks, Closets and Waste Pipes, destroying the Filth and Disease arising therefrom, makes its systematic use one of the greatest boons the housekeeper has fallen heir to.
