

THE WILD SEA WAVES

Make Life Miserable for the Sad Sea Dogs.

TALES OF PERIL ON THE DEEP.

The Dangerous Plight of the Schooner Morrisette Off Delaware Bay—Two Men Washed Overboard—The Captain and Two Sick Sailors Remain—Robert Grant Survives Four Days in the Rigging of the George T. Simmons.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Old Dominion steamship Wynoke reached port from Norfolk, Va. She had a very stormy trip. When off the Delaware cape, she fell in with the schooner Morrisette, of Bath, Me., with lumber. She was in a sad plight. Her captain reported that two seamen had been washed overboard and lost during a terrific gale and that the mate had died from exposure.

The captain and two sick sailors were all that remained to work the ship. The captain, too, was in a bad way physically. He, however, declined to be taken in tow, being afraid of the salvage claim, but asked for two men and some provisions to help him into harbor.

The Wynoke had no men to spare—at least her commander says so. A lifeboat was lowered from the Wynoke and filled with provisions. It was manned by seven sturdy mariners, and they started for the schooner, which was a half mile to leeward. The sea was running fearfully high at the time, and the lifeboat crew put forth their best effort to reach the Morrisette, but failed, and were forced to return to the steamer without furnishing the food that was so badly needed.

The Wynoke, when she found that she could not render necessary assistance, proceeded on her voyage. There were two Italian larks in the neighborhood of the Morrisette at the time, and they signaled the Wynoke for bearings and were answered.

ONE SAVED OUT OF FIVE.

Four Days and Three Nights He Clung to the Rigging of His Vessel.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 29.—The picked life saving crew from stations Nos. 4, 5 and 6 succeeded in rescuing the only surviving member of the crew of the schooner George T. Simmons, of Camden, N. J., wrecked last Wednesday night near False Cape.

Of the five members of the crew who lashed themselves in the rigging when the vessel went into the breakers, Robert Lee Grant was the only one who had endurance to hold out during four nights and three days and most of the time under a terrific storm and tremendous breakers.

One by one his four comrades became exhausted and dropped into the sea. When relief came Grant was almost ready to follow his fellow seamen, for he was worn out from his long and terrible struggle for life. After he was taken ashore Grant recovered rapidly and is well.

He Stuck to the Ship.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The steamer Benefactor, of the Clyde line, which arrived here, reports passing the schooner William H. Bailey, of New York, in a disabled condition off Body Island. She was full of water and her anchor was down. Her skipper declined to be taken off, but wanted to be towed in. It was too rough for this, so the skipper concluded to remain where he was and take his chances.

Ships Report Severe Gales at Sea.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The British steamship Lisbonese, from Ceara and Para; the Italian bark Gaeta, from Batavia; with licorice; the Norwegian bark Carle Blanche, from Pedang, in a brig Daisy, from Montevideo, met a continuation of gales during the passage, and the sailing vessels were damaged.

For Talmage's New Tabernacle.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 29.—Rev. Dr. Talmage turned the first shovel of earth for the foundation of the new tabernacle at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A large crowd of people were present. The reverend doctor pronounced benediction over the upturned soil and then delivered an address. He was followed by Rev. Lyman Abbott, of Plymouth church, and other clergymen and there was singing by the tabernacle choir.

The Reichstag's Tame Opening.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The opening of the reichstag was an unusually tame affair, little interest being manifested in the proceedings by those present. The emperor's speech received but faint applause and the references to the fair prospects for peace were allowed to pass in grim silence. At the conclusion of the speech, no quorum being present, the body adjourned.

In Memory of Mrs. Hayes.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 29.—Memorial service were held last night in the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church in honor of the late Mrs. R. B. Hayes, who was prominent in the work of establishing women's missions among the colored people in the south. The congregations of all the other colored Methodist Episcopal churches joined in the service.

A Rum Jug at the Masthead.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Oct. 29.—Capt Oliver, of the Maine Central steamer Selenia, has been suspended from service. The cause assigned is that while the steamer was carrying home the deluge of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, the captain hoisted to the masthead a rum jug, tied with a bow of white ribbon.

Stabbed His Wife Fourteen Times.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Frank Cava, boss of a gang of Italian laborers at New Hamburg, stabbed his wife fourteen times. The woman, who was about to become a mother, is dying she is being cared for by her mother if the box car occupied by the family Cava is in jail.

A Gypsy Killed in a Bear Trap.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 29.—While prowling in a corn field near Deep creek, Norfolk county, a gypsy woman from a camp near by got caught in a bear trap. The gun exploded and wounded the woman so badly that she died where she was shot and her body was found beside the trap.

Secretary Halford Feels Better.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—It is expected that Private Secretary Halford will leave Old Point Comfort for Washington tonight. He is much improved in health.

Seven Days' Racing at Birmingham.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 29.—The Birmingham racing association announce a seven days' running meeting beginning Nov. 16.

Dug Through a Stone Wall.
PORTLAND, Oreg., Oct. 29.—Five prisoners escaped from the county jail by digging through a stone wall.

This ruling would bar out every witness the state had on its list, with one or two exceptions, as they can all read. Judge Longenecker got black in the face and Lawyer Mills grew white with apprehension. Lawyer Hynes was the only one with self possession enough to grasp the situation, for he at once jumped to his feet, and, with his voice hoarse with passion, roared:

"If such a ruling is to obtain, your honor, we might as well stop the case now."

Lawyer Forest eyed the speaker quizzically and seemed comfortable. The case was virtually won. Then Lawyer Mills found his tongue and fairly astonished the court with his eloquence.

Judge McConnell, evidently appreciating the fact that he had made a mistake, seemed rather uneasy while the attorney was talking, but waited patiently until he got through. Then he said, in slow and measured tones:

"My order was in accordance with the precedence of times when newspapers were not so enterprising and not so widely circulated as now. I see the precedent must not be followed, and I will permit the evidence to go in."

It was not a graceful backward, but it was the best that could be done under the circumstances. The state's representative breathed easier, and Mr. Forest's smile disappeared. The prisoners settled back in their chairs with the old resigned and hard look upon their faces, and the spectators gave vent to an audible sigh.

Patrick Dinan testified to the story which has so often been told and published about the hiring of the horse and carriage which conveyed Dr. Cronin to the Carlson cottage.

MRS. CONKLIN TESTIFIES.

She Relates the Particulars of the Last Call for the Doctor.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The first witness called at the opening of Judge McConnell's court was the brother of Dr. Cronin, but that gentleman being absent Napier Moreland, an employe of Dinan's livery stable, was called. He testified as to the facts of the hiring of the white horse on the evening of the 4th of May, when Dr. Cronin was killed.

Mrs. Conklin, at whose house Dr. Cronin last lived, was the next witness. She said that at 7:30 p. m. on May 4 a stranger, who seemed nervous and excited, rang the door bell and when she opened the door inquired for Dr. Cronin. He seemed very reluctant to enter, but finally did so when told the doctor was engaged with other patients. The stranger then took a seat in the waiting room. When Dr. Cronin came out of his office the man advanced and said: "Dr. Cronin, you are wanted to attend a man who has been hurt at O'Sullivan's ice office."

The doctor made a remark which I did not hear. At that moment the man drew a card from his pocket and presented to the doctor. Dr. Cronin took the card and said: "Oh, yes; that is the nature of the accident?"

He said: "A man has been run over by a wagon."

Mr. Blaine's Secret.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The World publishes what purports to be an interview with the physicians in Florence and Milan who attended Mr. Blaine during his illness there two years ago. They say that he was suffering from partial paralysis contracted in the St. Gotthard tunnel and hypochondria induced by his condition. He wrote his famous Florence letter declining to be a candidate for president by the advice of Dr. Baldwin, an Anglo-American physician in that city. Dr. Baldwin says it was a case of life or death at that time, but that he believes that Mr. Blaine has now fully recovered.

A Battle with Outlaws.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 29.—Sheriff Morris, of Blount county, with a posse of forty men, surrounded Rube Burrows, the train robber and outlaw and one member of his gang. A pitched battle followed in which several hundred shots were fired. Deputy Sheriffs Henry Anderson and Penwood Ward were killed and Deputy James Heron was badly wounded. Five other deputies received slight flesh wounds. The outlaws, having shot a gap in the line, rushed through and escaped, the posse being too completely demoralized to attempt pursuit.

New York Has a Million.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Among the subscriptions to the world's fair fund were the following: William Steinway, $50,000; Broadway and Seventh Avenue Railroad company, $50,000; Eugene Kelly, $25,000; J. J. Astor, $25,000; Long Island Railroad company, $25,000; J. C. Johnston & Co., $10,000; Fifth Avenue hotel, $10,000. The total subscription, $1,163,762.

Another Big Railroad Deal.

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—The Boston news item says: The Union Pacific-Northern Traffic alliance may hasten the consummation of a yet greater railroad alliance between the Chicago, Burlington and Northern and the Manitoba, west of Chicago, with the Pennsylvania east of Chicago.

Still Held as Tascott.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—The police still have possession of the man A. Sutherland, supposed to be William B. Tascott, the murderer of Amos J. Snell, the Chicago millionaire, and although he has not yet been identified by the Chicago authorities are confident that he is the man.

A Victim of the Cigarette.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—John Barry, the 26-year-old son of Policeman Barry, of the Leonard Street station, is the latest victim of cigarette smoking. He is now confined in the insane ward of the Bellevue hospital, and his family say that cigarettes are the cause of his trouble.

The voter should know that the Beaver administration, of which Henry K. Boyer, the Republican candidate for State Treasurer, is a "silent partner," sold a lot of State securities at a loss of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) to the Commonwealth. Where is that money? Governor Beaver and his cronies want Boyer elected State Treasurer to cover up that transaction. It's a large sum of money, it is six hundred thousand dollars! Those who like such unbecomingly financial transactions, and think $600,000 of public money should be thrown away to the enrichment of politicians will, of course, vote for Henry K. Boyer. Why not? But those tax-payers who have any respect for the ten commandments, and clean official transaction, will vote for the Democratic nominee, Edmund A. Bigler, who is not a member of the State syndicate of swindlers, who rob the tax-payers as gleefully as the James boys would a passenger train.

New Colors for Postage Stamps.

Under the new contract awarded by the Post-office Department the one cent stamp will continue to be printed in blue; the two cent stamp now printed in green, will be printed in bright carmine, and changes will be made in some of the other denominations.

Ballot Reform.

Do the people (asks the Philadelphia Record) of Pennsylvania really want ballot reform? Would they like to have the footing of the election returns express the unbought, unmitigated will of the voters? There will be an excellent opportunity to make a record on November 5th. Edmund A. Bigler and the Democratic party are for ballot reform; Mr. Boyer and his party are against it.

The Chamber of Torture.

Is the apartment to which the unhappy sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism is confined. If, ere the crisis of pain is reached, that fine preventive, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is used by persons of a rheumatic tendency, much unnecessary suffering is avoided. Nerves, anodynes and sedatives, while having none but a specific effect, are yet very desirable at times. Yet can they produce no lasting effect upon rheumatism, because they have no power to eliminate from the blood the rheumatic virus. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does this, and checks at the outset a disease which, if allowed to gain headway, is next to impossible to dislodge or to do more than relieve. Rheumatism, it should be remembered, is a disease with a fatal tendency from its proneness to attack the heart. A reap it to the Bitters should, therefore, be prompt.
