

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

We are having plenty of temperance lectures of late. Dont forget John Sourbecks new store if you want a good smoke. This week is being observed by the Y. M. C. A. as a week of prayer. Dear seem to be scarce this year as very few have been shot this season. Did you hear the latest joke on Doc. Pettigill; Warren Burnside beat the Doctor in great style. A number of ladies assembled in the Court House on Tuesday evening to hear the temperance lecture. Will the commissioners resign? Oh no; Governor Beaver has raised the salary to 4.50 per day. Lawrence Brown is in Philadelphia since the election-wonder if he saw the official returns for Centre county. Israel Steinberg leaves this week for Lowell, Mass., where he expects to accept a position as scribe on a daily paper. Mr. and Mrs. John G. Love, are home from their wedding trip and will hereafter be located at their residence on Linn street. A new barber shop has been opened up in the basement under Lyon's store by Jos. Mayhew formerly employed in C. Greens shop. Rev. T. B. Cross will hold Baptist services regularly every Sunday morning at 10:30, in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. Every body invited. Allen G. Thurman sent the following telegram to ex-President Cleveland: "Gov. Foraker has surrendered all the Republican flags in Ohio." The Undine boys expect to have a hop in the Bush Arcade on Thanksgiving evening. A large number of tickets have been sold already. The Bellefonte Fuel and Supply Company have several fine teams in use for delivering goods. The new firm is making things boom quite lively. Baney's grocery store, on the south east corner of the Diamond has been purchased by Mrs. J. M. Dorworth, and will be continued under her direction. Will Hendrixson, who has been in Flemings tailor establishment, has accepted a position as traveling salesman for a large stationery house in Chicago. The next political surprise will be the appointment of a post master for Bellefonte. Will it be an old soldier, a Prohibitionist or a low grade politician? The "Fossil Ore Co., of Bellefonte, have taken leases on several larger tracts of land about Fowler Station and expect to begin operations in a short time. Hon. B. K. Bruce, ex-senator from Mississippi, will lecture at Penna State College, Thursday evening, November 20th. His subject will be the "Race problem." The first theatrical performance in Bellefonte for the past year was given on last Friday and Saturday, by the Pryor Raymond company, in the Bush Arcade. The Irish National concert Co., will be in Bellefonte, Tuesday evening, November 23. This entertainment will be first class and comes highly recommended. John Sourbeck is bound to get on top. He has opened up a new store on High Street and deals in fish, oysters, fruits, and confectionery. Give him a share of your patronage. Thomas Hutchinson came home to vote and for a short vacation. He held a position on the P. & E. as an express agent on the road but has been promoted to express agent for Kane, Pa. A Lock Haven paper says: "There is to be a wedding in the Catholic church in Bellefonte in about two weeks, the parties to which are a Mr. Murray, of Mill Hall, this county, and Mrs. Morrison, of Bellefonte." Prof. Loissette's Memory System is creating greater interest than ever in all parts of the country, and persons wishing to improve their memory should send for his prospectus free as advertised in another column. Dec 6. The Lock Haven Democrat irrelevantly says: The Bellefonte Lutheran congregation is building a new church on the corner of Allegheny and Linn street. To offset this an Opera House has been fitted up in the Bush Arcade. Prof P. H. Meyer, of Linden Hall, has been engaged to conduct a musical entertainment at the St. Paul Lutheran church, Nittany Valley, commencing December 30th, and closing in a grand concert, January 4th, 1890. An exchange says that "a woman will face a frowning world and cling to the man she loves through the most bitter season of trial and adversity; but she wouldn't wear a hat three weeks behind the style to save the government."

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

Whiskey May Be Sold in a License County and sent into a Prohibition District. An important decision was rendered by the supreme court on Monday in Pittsburg in a liquor case affecting the Brooks law. Joseph Fleming, a druggist of that city, was convicted of selling liquor in Mercer county, a prohibitory district, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and undergo an imprisonment for five months. A supercedas was obtained and an appeal was taken. The goods were shipped from Pittsburg by an express company C. O. D., and Mr. Fleming's counsel claimed that the sale was made in Pittsburg and not in Mercer county. Here the whole point of the case was involved. Justice Green, in delivering the opinion, held that when the goods left Mr. Fleming's hands he had no more to do with them, and the sale was completed here. He discharged the prisoner. Judge Mitchell, Williams and McCollum filed a dissenting opinion claiming that the sale was a clear violation of the law; that the sale was paid for in the prohibitory district.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.

A Young Girl in Attempting To Cross Before a Moving Train is Instantly Hurlled into Eternity.

One more instance to the always long list of fatalities daily occurring was added when, Wed. of last week, a young girl was struck by a moving train and instantly killed. The particulars of this sad occurrence are about as follows:

Ledia Sanders, a domestic who was in the employ of Dr. VanTries, on Spring street, on Wednesday evening in company with some friends, had gone to Milesburg. They started for home at about half past eight o'clock in the evening, walking up the railroad. When in the vicinity of McCoy and Linn's iron works the 8.49 evening express came thundering along. All the young people crossed the track to the north side and then, we are informed, Miss Sanders attempted, for some unknown reason, to recross the track in front of the fast-moving train. She missed her count of time and the cow catcher struck her limbs and threw her with such force that the side of her head struck the bumpers on the engine and caused instant death. The train was stopped and the lifeless body of the unfortunate girl was put aboard and brought to the depot in this place and from there removed to the poor house on Willow Bank. No blame can be attached to anyone as the accident was purely the result of carelessness.—News.

Of Interest to Mortgage Holders.

Among the acts passed at the last session of the Legislature and approved by Governor Beaver, is one providing "that it shall be the duty of the holder or holders of mortgages recorded in the proper office at least once in every three years to cause to be entered on the margin of the record there all payments of either principal, debts or interest or both." The mortgage must tender the legal fee for such entry or entries, or it may be done in his behalf by any one interested in the property covered by the mortgage, and in case of failure by the mortgagor to comply with the act on such condition a penalty of $100 may be recovered.

UNIONVILLE.

Thomas J. Dale, the jolly young clerk in J. W. Hoover's store, is sorely wounded by a dart from cupid's bow, but he cannot tell from whence it came.

That gallant young man, Mr. Ed. M. Greist, left our town on Monday for Harrisburg—here he will join Samuel Brugger's engineer corps. Mr. Brugger has the contract of locating thirty-five miles of rail road some where down east and his right bower, Geo. W. Torry will manipulate the compass and Jacob staff.

Perry Moran takes the lead in big pork yards, he says his pig dressed 504 pounds. George Morrison says: "Just wait till I butcher, why I could drown a hog as big as Perry's was in the lard I expect to get from one of mine."

Jack Greist, the famous Centre county financier, killed all his hogs before the election, expecting to send most of his pork to the half famished crew up salt river after the election, but when the returns were all in and the largest figures on Jack's side of the house, he rushed out of the store into the street, threw his hat into the air and turned nineteen consecutive somersaults down street and when his number eleven brogans struck the street the last imo pposite his own house, backed by two hundred and fifty pounds avoirdupois, they made the earth tremble. His wife rushed out and exclaimed, "Why Jack! what on earth ails you?" but he being somewhat out of breath, replied in an aspirated voice, "Cyclone! Sarah, cyclone." He started back to the store singing, "and we'll all drink stone blind, etc." Chas. McGarvey was so much elated over the result of the election that he bought his wife a brand new calico dress. Pat McDonald said we can now have roast beef, chicken and waffles every day. Jack St. Clair, the post master, said, "oh well, I guess it's all right. I'll get a bigger price for my capons now." Joe Barton, the Republican chairman, said he didn't care a saw mill, "we carried the State for Boyer, any way." "Rens" Bing, the Democratic chairman, placing himself in the attitude of Ajax, defying the lightning, exclaimed, "Ah! but 'twas a famous victory." John Comley said it was superstitious for the Democrats. Indeed Charley we are all happy over the result.

OWLI.

Death of Philip Shook.

On last Saturday morning the citizens of Spring Mills were shocked to hear of the death of Philip Shook, of that place. On that morning he was out in the yard adjoining his house; not feeling well, he went into the house and sat down on a chair, remarking that he did not feel very well. His son John, one of the partners in the Spring Mills Creamery, was sent for and on his arriving he asked his father if he should go for the doctor. He replied "No," that he felt better, and leaning back in his chair, expired. Failure of the heart was his trouble, and as he had several bad spells this last summer, he was looking forward to the call of the Death Angel. His son Andrew, who has been living in the west, at his father's request, returned home a few days before the old gentleman's death.

Mr. Shook was the owner of two farms besides other property, was a kind neighbor, a consistent member of the Lutheran church, and will be greatly missed by all his neighbors and acquaintances. May he rest in peace. X

Must Have Pants.

A Millinburg editor who takes an unusual view of the approaching wintry weather bewails the hazardous condition of his wearing apparel in the following delicate manner: "Lives of great men oft remind us honest toil don't stand a chance, more we work we leave behind us bigger patches in our pants. Oh, those pants, once new and glossy, now are patched with many a hue, all because subscribers linger, will not pay us what is due. Then let them be up and doing, send your mite, tho' be it small, for when snow of winter strikes us we shall have no pants all."

Bought a Husband Cheap.

A Hungarian woman in South Bethlehem recently offered a man of her own nationality $30 if he would marry her daughter. The offer was accepted and the ceremony performed. This morning the man called on the woman for the money and she at once gave him a sound thrashing. The groom then had his mother-in-law arrested for assault and battery, and she, the groom, and the bride were marched to Justice Krauskopf's office by Constable Doran, followed by a big crowd. The groom has marks to show that he was roughly handled.

Clearfield County's Vote.

The official returns of Clearfield county are as follows on the State election: Bigler 4138, Boyer 2566, Johnson 498. The Democratic majorities on the county offices will average over 1500.

CRUSHED BY A LOG.

SUDDEN DEATH OF FRANK BARTHOLOMEW.

He Expires Two Hours After the Accident.—Leaves a Wife and Three Children.—How it Occurred.

On last Monday a serious accident occurred in Greens Valley at the lumber camp of Josiah Dale. In his employ was Mr. Frank Bartholomew a man of about 42 years of age, with a family now living at Centre Hall. On Monday forenoon the men were engaged in loading saw logs on a truck. Mr. Bartholomew got on the truck to turn the end of the top log on the truck when they commenced to roll off. He fell foremost with his breast on a log and another came down on top of him. The men soon released him and he stood up, but soon fainted. He was taken to the house at once but his injuries were fatal and he lived but two hours thereafter. He was conscious most of the time and realized that death was drawing nigh. His body was taken to his home in Centre Hall that evening. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. Mr. Bartholomew was a member of the Presbyterian church. The interment took place at Hubbersburg on Thursday.

Dr. McGlynn Coming.

The Rev. Dr. McGlynn, the suspended catholic priest, will be in Bellefonte, Tuesday, November, the 19th. He will lecture in the Court House on the subject of "Anti Poverty" and "Land Tenure" The Rev. Dr. is a man of great ability and his lecture is one worth hearing. The following from the New York Sun is a sufficient guarantee. "The Rev. Dr. McGlynn of St. Stephen's Church is one of the most effective platform speakers to whom the people of New York get a chance to listen. He is witty and wise, eloquent, engaging and what he says comes with the force of sincere conviction, and is uttered with the ease and grace of a natural and a finished orator and a cultivated and tasteful man."
