

LOCAL DEPARTMENT

SPECIAL NOTICE

We would kindly request all patrons, who are indebted to this paper for subscriptions...

—Subscribe for the DEMOCRAT. —Don't forget the "Racket" when in town.

—The best assortment of holiday goods at the Cash Bazaar.

—Start in the 1890 by subscribing for the CENTRE DEMOCRAT.

—Next week the county Institute will be in session at Bellefonte.

—Logan Hose expects to hold a hop on New Year's eve. It will be a calico hop.

—Be sure and see the beautiful assortment of Christmas presents at the Cash Bazaar.

—Don't fail to hear Leland Powers, the impersonator, in the Court House, Dec. 13th.

—The Aeolian orchestra will play on next Friday evening for "The Heroic Dutchman of '61."

—Dolls! Dolls! of every description at Meyer's Bazaar, from sets, up. That is the place for Christmas presents.

—It will pay you to go to the Cash Bazaar for your Christmas present. Dolls, plush cases, jewelry, silk tidies, &c.

—Next week will be a busy time for the Bellefonte duds as they will try their hand at mashing all the school-marmas.

—S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, has opened a branch law office in Philipsburg, in connection with Messrs. Feilding and Bigler.

—A young boy named John Gingham of Roland, while playing "hunting deer" with some boys, fell over dead from over-exertion.

—The new M. E. church, at Lemont, will be dedicated Sunday, Dec. 15. B. B. Hamill, D. D., of Tyrone, will preach the dedicatory sermon.

—According to an exchange Mr. Geo. VanTries, of Bellefonte, was married to Miss Etta Mattern, of Tyrone, on Wednesday of this week.

—W. C. Heinle, Esq., expects to occupy the room on first floor of the Conrad building. It is being repaired and when finished will be a most desirable location.

—The test made at the Nail Works last week of the gas plant was a very satisfactory one. They will next build a large tank for storing the gas and then all will be complete.

—Clearfield county offers a reward of $150 for the arrest of a jail breaker. Centre county offers a like amount for the conviction of a murderer. Centre county, evidently, has a small set of commissioners.

—The big trout in the aquarium, at Green's Pharmacy is a great attraction to the people; but just at this time the attractions at his well known establishment are two fold, by reason of the fine line of holiday goods he has opened up. Purchasers will make a mistake if they do not examine them.

—Prof. Walter S. Bonbright, a graduate of the National school of Oratory, of Philadelphia, is in Bellefonte and expects to remain some time. He is making an effort to organize a class in elocution. Mr. Bonbright comes with the best recommendations and his method of instruction is considered the best.

—Last Thursday night the depot at Centre Hall was broken into. The combination was smashed off the safe with a sledge but they did not get it open. Nothing was taken from the building. Benner's grocery, a few doors above, was entered and several dollars worth of goods, along with a dollar in cash, were taken.

—Keplinger, the druggist, is quite a nimrod. Last week while hunting down along the Bald Eagle he stopped under a large tree to rest and watch for game. He and his dog kept an "eagle eye" on everything within quarter of a mile. Finally they found things rather monotonous and got up and started, when to his surprise a flock of wild turkeys flew out of the tree where he rested. He never swore a bit.

—Brockaway, the candy man, has a novel invention which he expects to put on the market in a short time in the shape of an envelope opener. A thread is stitched in the edge of an envelope and when one wants to open it, can be done simply by pulling the thread which neatly breaks open the paper edge and the contents can be removed without the use of a knife and there is no danger of tearing or cutting them.

TRIAL

ANDREWS MUST GO TO COURT

The Murder of Clara Price—The Scene of the Murder—Tried at January Court.

The murder of Clara Price, near Karthaus on Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, is still a profound mystery and the guilty party may yet be at large.

A large number of witnesses came to Bellefonte on Saturday morning to attend this hearing. At 10 a. m. the Court House was filled from end to end by an anxious throng.

The prisoner, when brought in by the Sheriff, caused considerable commotion as everybody wanted to get a glimpse at him. He is the direct opposite of Hopkins, in every trait and disposition.

The prisoner has retained as counsel Edward Chambers, Esq., and Col. J. L. Spangler. The Commonwealth is represented by Dist. Attorney Meyer and Hon. John H. Orvis.

A great many witnesses were examined and nothing new was produced, in addition to our account of the affray in last week's paper. The witnesses first described the finding of the body that Wednesday morning, lying in the road about a half mile from Karthaus.

A number of witnesses testified that they saw Miss Clara that morning walking on her way to Karthaus and some of them saw a short, heavy set looking man pass that way soon after, and one of the ladies pointed out Ed. Chambers, the prisoners' counsel as looking very much like the man she saw. Other witnesses and the one who last saw her alive, identified the prisoner as the man she saw walking along the same road and was close up with Clara Price.

The tracks found about the body were about 10 1/2 inches in length and were rather imperfect, they lead off the road into the woods and then came out and up to the tracks of the girl. There were a number of tracks as though a scuffle followed and the girl broke loose and ran up the road when she was shot down. The man's tracks then came up to the body and beyond a short distance and led off into the woods.

The prisoner was seen at Meyer's lumbering camp about a mile from the scene of the murder an hour later and wanted to know the road to Snow Shoe. The evidence produced is entirely circumstantial and nothing positive was shown as to who killed Clara Price. Alfred Andrews was seen in that vicinity that morning and that is the only evidence produced thus far.

Prof. G. P. Bible. We notice among our exchanges that Prof. G. P. Bible is attending institutes throughout the state and meets with much success in his entertainments.

"Prof. Bible is a whole circus by himself and a 'bar' of pink lemonade in the bargain. As a fascial delineator he is wonderful, an elocutionist, captivating; a humorist, perfectly irresistible. Our people have never seen so young a man with as many accomplishments, and they nearly went wild over his entertainment on Tuesday evening, which they consider the best we have had since he last appeared here—some eight years ago."

Caught in the Machinery. A young man named Newton Grenoble, employed at Knecht's flouring mill in Nittany Valley, was caught in the machinery Monday afternoon of last week, and narrowly escaped a horrible death. He was engaged in oiling the machinery when the accident happened and in some manner, which is difficult to account for, his clothing came in contact with a revolving shaft by which he was drawn into such a position that his body stopped the whole machinery. When released he was more dead than alive but as no bones were broken he soon recovered.

Foster-Leyden Wedding. To-day, Thursday, at 4 p. m., Miss Hattie Foster, of State College, and Lieut. James A. Leyden, Washington, were married in the Presbyterian church at Lemont, by Dr. Hamill. They expect to take the evening train for a trip to some of the eastern cities.

CENTRE COUNTY SCHOOL DIRECTORS' ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the School Directors Association will be held in the High School room, in Bellefonte on Thursday, Dec. 10th, 1890.

Addresses have been promised on the following subjects from the gentlemen named:

"Better supply of Apparatus and help," Prof. D. M. Leib, Bellefonte. "Regular Course of Study for Under-graded Schools," Prof. Ritchie, Philipsburg.

"District Supervision," Rev. W. E. Fischer, Centre Hall. The Executive Committee have also set down for discussion, "Improvement in School Architecture," "Free Text books," "Arbor Day and Tree Planting." An effort will be made to have the train over the Lewisburg Railroad leave Bellefonte at 3:30 p. m. on the day of the convention instead of 2:30, so as to give the directors from Pennsylvania more time to spend at the convention.

E. A. RENSEL, Pres; W. B. RANKIN, Secty.

IT MAY BE SO, BUT WE DOUBT IT

An exchange gives the following as a sure sign for the weather for 1890: Watch the first twelve days in January closely, and as the weather in these twelve days is, so will the weather in the twelve months of the year be. Do not only take a general observation of the day, but jot down carefully the condition of the weather in the afternoon and it will correspond with the weather in the latter part of the month. To illustrate, if the morning of January 6th, for instance, is clear and the afternoon rainy, the first part of June will be pleasant weather and the latter part wet. According to the prediction of this year, December will be very pleasant and mild, as the twelfth of January, this year, was almost like a spring day. Keep your eye on December and see if the calculations are not correct.

A Big Reward

The Republican Commissioners of Centre county offered only one hundred and fifty dollars reward for the apprehension of the murderer of the lamented and beautiful Miss Clara Price. The names of the said commissioners are J. C. Henderson and John D. Decker and they certainly each ought to be presented with a leather medal. Of course the voters of that county will re-elect them—in a horn. The vast amount offered for the arrest of this human devil shows the liberality (?) of those officials and their regard for the preservation of human life and female virtue. Call a meeting, somebody, and let the leather medals suggested be appropriately engraved.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Bear with us a while, as we will be rid of these officials next year. Our people have had their eyes opened.

Tram Wrecked at Hastings

Last Wednesday afternoon the regular train left Hastings, Pa., consisting of twenty-one cars of coal and a passenger coach. In coming down the mountain it could not be held by the brake-men and it plunged down the steep grade at a great speed until it came to a sharp curve, where several cars left the track and the train was badly wrecked. Some fifteen passengers were on the train and many of them sustained injuries. Scott Harris, of this place, was on the train and got a good shaking up. No one was killed.

A Picture Dealers Clever Trick

O. H. Clark, a dealer in pictures, opened a store in Lancaster, Pa. a few weeks ago. He tried to get a license to sell his goods by auction, but a local law prevented him. He was determined to have an auction and he got around the law by having his clerk to issue an execution against him for $1000, and now the Sheriff will sell his goods at auction. The local picture dealers are greatly exercised about this matter, but can do nothing to prevent the Sheriff from selling the goods in that way. Clark will realize more from his goods in this way than if he had an auction of his own, because a Sheriff's sale will draw a big crowd.

A Fair Description of a Woman

An exchange speaking of women, says: She's a fraud but a darling. She's a goose but a duck. She's snappy and sweet. She's lithe and graceful and dear and changeable as the wind. In fact she's chameleon in the very latest style of sports and dots and feathers and fixings. She's a most desirable article of household furnishings, and there are mighty few men who want to get along without her.

A Big Porker

One of the biggest porkers killed this season has been slaughtered by Mr. Michael Burkholder, of near Centre Hill, last week, which weighed when dressed 625 pounds. The length of this hog from root of tail to tip of nose was 6 feet 10 inches; and circumference of 5 feet 10 inches. Michael certainly understands how to raise big ones and make long sau sages.—Reporter.

HUNG LAW IN KENTUCKY

A Murderer Hanged, Because His Trial Was Postponed

Jack Turner, the negro who last Wednesday killed Motley Williams, of Greensburg, Kentucky, was lynched on Monday of this week. Threats of mob vengeance were circulated all last week. The trial was set for last Friday, but was continued till the June term, on account of an absent witness.

The excitement culminated on Monday at 1 o'clock, when a mob visited the jail and took Turner out and hanged him. Quiet prevailed and very few of the citizens knew a mob was in town. About thirty-five or forty men attacked the jail and demanded admittance, which was promptly refused by Jailer Hamilton; then with a heavy piece of timber they forced the door and dragged out the jailer.

Securing the keys they ordered the jailer to open the cell, but he refused to do so. The mob unlocked the dungeon. The negro was then taken to Pittman creek bridge, four miles from town, and hanged. A coroner's jury cut him down and held an inquest, giving a verdict in accordance with the facts.

A Colored Congressman

North Carolina has the only negro Congressman in the House. He is H. P. Cheatman, a golden skinned mulatto 30 years old. He is a quick, shrewd, capable young lawyer. One of the first things Mr. Cheatman did Monday morning was to seek out Mr. Adams, the new door-keeper, and ask him to retain one member of the folding-room staff. "I know he is a Democrat," said Mr. Cheatman, "but he is a steady, industrious young man and for a particular reason I want him retained. I was given to his mother when I was a little boy, as a wedding present. I told his widowed mother I would try my level best to keep her boy in work."

The young man is still at his job in the folding room. Cheatman was educated at Shaw University and taught school for a while. He is tall, strong and good-looking.

Killed at Tyrone

A very sudden and fatal accident occurred at Tyrone on Saturday to Samuel Elder, conductor on the Curwensville local, running between that place and Curwensville. He was standing in the yard taking the numbers of his cars which were to make up his train, and while thus engaged engine No. 66, which brought the passenger train over, leaving Philipsburg at 5:40, on its way to the round house, struck him and knocked him down, cutting him literally to pieces and severing his head from his body. The unfortunate man resided at Curwensville. He has been in the employ of the company for several years and was most trustworthy and highly respected. He was aged 28 years and leaves a wife and three children.

Institute Entertainments

The program arranged by Supt. D. M. Wolf for the evening entertainments during institute contains first class talent and will be highly appreciated. They are:

Monday evening, C. T. Underhill, the elocutionist and impersonator. Tuesday evening, Frank Beard, the Artist, will give chalk talks and crayon sketches.

Thursday evening Bob Burdette, the famous lecturer and humorist, known more familiarly as the "Hawkeye man," will deliver his famous lecture entitled, "The Rise and Fall of the Moustache." The general admission to these lectures will be 25 cents.

Died

On the 20th of November, Lydia B., wife of Adam Decker, of Walker township, died at her home; aged 49 years, 3 months and 21 days. She was a faithful wife, an affectionate mother, and a consistent member of the Reformed church at Hublersburg. The funeral took place at Hublersburg on the 23rd of November. The services were conducted by the pastor, assisted by Rev. Diehl, of the Lutheran church.

The Heroic Dutchman

Next Friday evening, Dec. 20, "The Heroic Dutchman of '61," a play gotten up by local talent, will be rendered in Bush's new Opera House. It contains wit, humor and pathos and will be worth hearing. It will be given for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium. Get your tickets early.

A Surprise

On last Friday evening the home of Mr. Frank Stover, on High street, was filled by his many friends and relatives who assembled to remind him that it was his fifty-third birthday. It was a surprise to Mr. Stover as he was away on business that day and came back to find his home in the possession of his friends.

No Excursions

It is officially announced that no excursion tickets at reduced rates will be issued during the coming holiday season. This we believe is the result arrived at by a meeting of the Trunk Line Association. So, folks, you will have to pay full price this year.

—Rev. Miles O. Noll, of Lancaster, Pa., the pastor elect of the Reformed congregation of this place, will officiate next Sabbath and expects to remain here during the holiday vacation.

ANOTHER ENTERPRISE

POTTERY WORKS TO BE STARTED HERE

The Car Works will likely be used for that purpose.—Needs only a little Encouragement From our Capitalists.

Mr. William Quigley, of Cleveland, Ohio, who represents the firm of Quigley Bros., of the same place, has been trying to establish a new enterprise here. This firm manufactures pottery and stone wear at Cleveland and are looking about to establish another plant in this part of Pennsylvania. They have taken out a fifteen year's lease upon the Mattern Bros. farm, along the Buffalo Run railroad to mine and ship a superior quality of clay which is found at that place and is adapted for the manufacture of earthen ware. They have a silicea lease upon a tract of land in York county which they want to mine for the manufacture of brick and other articles. They have been trying to organize and establish this enterprise at Bellefonte providing our people take a portion of the stock. The old car works plant would be the most desirable place for this enterprise and if started would employ many hands.

Lock Haven's board of trade is making a strong effort to have them start there and are offering them good inducements. What will Bellefonte do to secure these works? Will they let them go to Lock Haven?

The Glass Works

It is very likely that these works will be started soon. Workmen are engaged at present cleaning up and repairing the buildings and putting the ovens in shape to start. Should the gas plant at the nail works prove a success it would insure its adoption at the glass works. An effort is being made to organize a new company with plenty of capital. Everybody is anxious to see the works started.
