HILL FOR SENATOR.

His Nomination by the Democratic Caucus Yesterday.

DAVID B.'S PRESIDENTIAL CHANCES.

Will Weed Wage War—Hill's Treatment of Him Unfavorably Criticized—Possible Trouble in 1892—The Republicans Give Senator Everts a Unanimous Renomination.

ALBANY, Jan. 20.—In the Democratic caucus yesterday Governor Hill was nominated for United States senator to succeed Senator Everts. The nomination was by acclamation. It is understood the governor will accept.

Senator Jacobs presided at the caucus. There were no complimentary nominations, and only one name, that of Governor Hill, was presented. Senator Sheehan placed the governor in nomination, and Senator Cantor seconded it. Then the roll was called in order to put every member of the legislative majority on record.

The Republican caucus renominated Hon. William M. Everts for United States senator.

What Will Weed Do? Now that David B. Hill is to take the United States senatorship, speculation runs high as to the attitude which the worst Plattsburg statesman will assume.

There is no question that Weed was held in the balance for months, and never gave up hope that he would get the senatorship until Hill announced that he would take the office himself. The Weed people believe that Hill has been making a scapegoat of Weed to hold the Democratic phalanx solid for Hill. They see no reason why Hill intended to go to the senate he could not have announced the fact to Weed two months ago.

Weed Kept on the Fence. He has kept Weed on the tent hooks during all that time, holding out crumbs of hope to him at every occasion. Whether true or not, the Weed men claim that Hill was bound by solemn promise to give the office to Weed. It was generally accepted fact for years that if the Democrats carried the legislature Weed was to have the senatorship. Hill will now have the difficult task on his hands of reconciling his Plattsburg friend to accept the situation philosophically.

Weed controls many of the northern counties, and has hundreds of followers who will obey his behest blindly. Should Weed decide that Hill's actions warrant a full measure of revenge, the war will fly in the northern counties if Hill receives the grand nomination in 1892.

Hill's Presidential Chances. There are other Democratic leaders besides Weed who are disappointed by Hill's decision. It is well-known that Speaker Sheehan was earnestly opposed to the decision of Hill. Sheehan had a firm conviction that Hill would injure his chances of becoming president by going to the senate. This, of course, is a mooted question, there being many prominent Democrats who disagree on the expediency of such a step.

But Sheehan, who is solicitor for his captain, saw the most potent objections to such a course and advised strongly against it. There are many who fancy that Hill himself was hesitant about the advisability of the step and only came to his conclusion when he had discovered to his satisfaction that the situation imperatively demanded that harmony could alone be maintained by his acceptance of the office.

Dangerous Possibilities in View. The claim that eighty-one votes are required to elect a United States senator is vigorously contended by the Democratic leaders. The meaning of the State constitution on this point is vague. It is claimed that the correct interpretation of the ambiguous clause in the constitution regarding this question would permit a majority of the members present at the joint session to elect, provided a majority of each house were present.

So there are dangerous possibilities in view for the Democrats, whatever interpretation may be made of the provision in the state constitution for the election of a United States senator.

Missed His Footing. COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 20.—James Burkhardt, a bricklayer, fell from the sixth story of the New Chittenden hotel where he was employed. Having finished his day's work he started to descend by way of a short ladder from the roof to the floor of the sixth story. He missed his footing and dashed through the elevator shaft eighty-five feet to the ground. He was alive and conscious when reached by his companions, but it is thought that his injuries may be fatal.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 19.—Grand Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, sought a conference with General Manager Bradbury, of the Lake Erie and Western, in regard to the request of the engineers for an increase of pay. CONGRESSIONAL RESUME.

The Week's Work of the Fifty-first Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The house continued the consideration of the army appropriation bill without reaching a vote. The senate passed a few bills of minor importance. Senator Sherman spoke for four hours against the final bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The house passed the army appropriation bill. The District of Columbia appropriation bill was taken up and debate limited to five hours. The senate remained in session for fourteen hours and a quarter, and after passing the Stewart free coinage and several other amendments, agreed to a substitute offered by Mr. Vestron, a purely free coinage bill. Mr. Ingalls made a brilliant and sensational speech in favor of free coinage.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The house devoted most of its session to a discussion of conference reports on public building bills. The speaker appointed Messrs. Dingley, Payne, Rowell, Oates and Peel a committee to investigate the alleged silver pool. The free coinage silver bill was received by the house and sent to the committee on coinage, weights and measures. After routine business in the senate, the election bill was considered and Mr. Everts addressed the senate in its support. Mr. Hearst advised that at noon Friday he would ask the senate to remain in session until the disposal of the bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The house continued the consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill. In the evening bills were passed giving pensions of $9 a month to Gen. Franz Sigel and $100 a month to Gen. N. P. Banks. The election bill occupied the senate all day and nearly all night. Messrs. Pasco, Dixon, Reagan and others spoke. During the evening session business got into an interminable muddle on account of the multiplicity of amendments and points of order.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The session of the senate which commenced at noon Friday did not end until 6 p. m., Saturday, when adjournment was had. The election bill was under consideration all the time, but no perceptible progress was made, the senators simply talking against time. In the evening session of the house was taken up by political speeches and assaults upon the speaker by the Democrats for past rulings. Only one bill of minor importance was passed, and at 10 o'clock the house adjourned. In the afternoon a meeting of the House was taken up by political speeches and assaults upon the speaker by the Democrats for past rulings. Only one bill of minor importance was passed, and at 10 o'clock the house adjourned.

GEORGE BANCROFT DEAD.

The Long and Useful Career of the Great Historian.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The community was greatly shocked Saturday evening by the news that George Bancroft, the venerable historian, was dead. Death occurred at 3:40 o'clock. The end was quiet and peaceful and came after a period of unconsciousness lasting about twenty-four hours. It has been decided to hold funeral services at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning in St. John's Episcopal church. The interment will take place at Westchester, Mass., where Mr. Bancroft's wife is buried.

George Bancroft was born Oct. 3, 1801. He was a native of Worcester, Mass., but his life had long been passed in other towns and states than that the exact place of his New England birth was seldom kept in mind. He was five years a student at Harvard, then lived several years in Springfield, and several in Boston; he was in Europe for many years as an American minister; he lived in New York for several years, and he had had homes in Washington and Newport.

His education was in the best of the times afforded. After preliminary training in the famous old school at Exeter, he entered Harvard college and graduated at the early age of 17. He then went to Europe, and for some years was a close student under the best of the day. Mr. Bancroft was a Democrat. Andrew Jackson received his support, and so did Van Buren. In 1856 Van Buren made him collector of the port of Boston. Four years later he was elected secretary of the navy, and in several years in Springfield, and several in Boston; he was in Europe for many years as an American minister; he lived in New York for several years, and he had had homes in Washington and Newport.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 20.—This city is being filled with negroes from the west who have been promised happiness in Africa. The scheme of the emigrant agents is to promise passage from Savannah to Africa for $1.02 each; each single man ten acres of land; each married man twenty-five acres and $100 in money; this to come from the United States government. A few days ago Atlanta negroes sent $1,500 to the headquarters of the supposed company at Washington. Tickets reading from from Savannah to Africa were given in return, but now the agent announces that the ships are not ready and the passengers must wait. All efforts to show them they are being defrauded are unavailing.

A Universal Female Notary. NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Ella F. Brannan, of No. 1270 Broadway, has received from Attorney General Miller a commission as notary for the District of Columbia, to which office she has been appointed by the president. She is the first woman ever appointed to this position. Mrs. Brannan holds a like office for forty states and territories and provinces. The woman's suffrage party are in high glee over the president's appointment.

A Baby with Two Faces. DANVILLE, Ky., Jan. 19.—Mrs. William Freeman, of Jessamine county, gave birth to a female child which had two perfectly formed faces. They are located at right angles on either side of the front of the head. Both at the same time exhibit the same signs of the child's feelings, both crying or in respect as the child's humor changes. When last heard from the infant was doing well.

The Indiana Soldiers' Monument. INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 19.—The soldiers' monument commission has determined to ask for an appropriation of $97,000 from the present legislature, with which to complete the monument which was begun two years ago, and for which $200,000 has been appropriated.

PATTISON GOES IN.

Inauguration with Fitting Ceremonies at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—The ceremonies attending the induction into office of Governor Robert E. Pattison are proceeding under the most propitious circumstances. The city is in gala attire. The principal buildings are adorned with bunting, tastefully draped, and private dwellings are gay with the national colors. The streets are thronged with people and the sounds of martial music and the tread of marching men are heard on every side.

Shortly before noon the governor's party were escorted from the executive mansion to the capitol by the Eighth regiment, the governor's troop, and the Ringgold band, of Reading. The party included Governor Pattison and Governor Beaver, the governor's staff, the judges of the supreme court, the Joint inaugural committee, Adj. Gen. Hastings, Maj. Gen. Snowden, Brig. Gen. Gohin, Wiley and Dechert, together with their staff officers, and Messrs. William F. Hairy, William U. Hensel and William McClelland.

Administering the Oath. The party proceeded to a platform erected over the steps of the portico, where Rev. Dr. T. C. Swallow, of the Ridge Avenue Episcopal church, opened the ceremonies with prayer. Then Chief Clerk Smiley, of the senate, read the certificate of election, after which Judge Clark, the senior Democratic judge of the supreme court, administered the oath of office to Mr. Pattison. The new governor then delivered his inaugural address, the ceremonies closing with the benediction.

The party then adjourned to the senate chamber, where the oath of office was administered to Lieutenant Governor Louis A. Watres and Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas J. Stewart. At the conclusion of these ceremonies the governor and party took a position on the reviewing stand, facing State street at the foot of Capitol Hill.

The Parade. The new governor reviewed a procession of about 5,000 enthusiastic citizens of the Keystone state, under the generalship of Chief Marshal Asbury A. W. The line, while including a few military organizations, was principally composed of political clubs, most of them neatly uniformed. The following clubs were conspicuous for their fine appearance: Central Democratic club, Harrisburg, 135; Democratic Colored State League, 40; Young Men's Democratic club, Lancaster, 200; Young Men's Democratic association, Philadelphia, 150; Robert S. Pennsylvania Legislature. HARRISBURG, Jan. 16.—The state legislature, as required by law, met in joint convention at noon yesterday in the hall of the house for the purpose of counting the vote cast for state officers last November. Lieutenant Governor Davis, who presided, made the formal announcement of the election of Pattison, Watres and Stewart. Nominations for United States senator were made in both houses. The Republicans nominated Cameron, the Democrats Senator Ross and Chauncey F. Black, and Farmer Taggart, of Montgomery county, was named as an Independent candidate. The speaker said that the committees would not be announced until next week and the house adjourned till Tuesday. In the senate the Democrats prevented the confirmation of appointments made by Governor Beaver.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—Senator Robinson moved that the senate go into executive session for the purpose of taking up the nominations sent in by the governor. Senator Ross, of Bucks, said he hoped the senator from Delaware would not press the motion at this time. He said misapprehension existed as to the attitude of the Democratic minority. They had no intention of antagonizing either the Republicans or Governor Beaver. A precedent was established in 1877, by which no confirmations were made until after the inauguration of the governor. The Democrats simply desired to keep the precedent. The senate agreed to take up Governor Beaver's appointments on Tuesday, Jan. 20, at 8 p. m. Then bills were introduced by Mr. Neeb, making eight hours a day's work in the institutions of the state; by Mr. Hines, providing for the safety of employees.

The board of health placed a large placard bearing the word "smallpox" outside Mosier's house. Black Nominated for Senator. HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—The Democrats of this house and senate in joint caucus nominated Chauncey F. Black for United States senator.

If You Had a Friend.

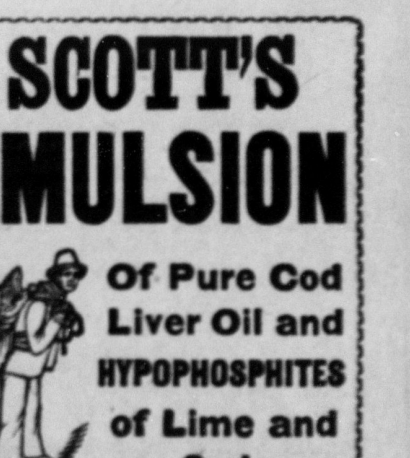

About to visit some section of country where malarial disease, either in the form of chill or fever or bilious remittent was particular rife, what would be about the best advice you could give him? We will tell you—do carry along, or procure on arriving, that potent medicinal safeguard, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, known throughout malaria-plagued regions, here and in other countries, as the surest means of disarming the miasmatic scourge, and robbing it of its fell destructive influence. Not only does it fortify the system by increasing its stamina, but overcomes irregularity of digestion, the liver and the bowel, and counteracts the unfavorable effects of rough weather, bodily and mental exposure in rough weather, or occupation too sedentary or laborious, loss of appetite and excessive nervousness. The functions of assimilation, bilious secretion and sleep have in it a most powerful and reliable auxiliary.

That Little Tickling. In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, and as catarrh is a constitutional disease the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some slight ailment as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.
