

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Sleighting could not be any better than at present. -Ex-Gov. Beaver will soon become a plain citizen of Bellefonte. -The "Indian Mail Carrier" will be playing in the opera house Friday evening, Jan 23. -The Union Clothing House closed up last week and shipped the remainder of their stock. -Don't forget the convention to be held at Zion next week. All lovers of music should attend. -The farmers institutes held at Pine Grove Mills and Howard during the past week were largely attended and the discussions were listened to with great interest. -There are plenty of people in Bellefonte who neglect to shovel snow from their pavements. Let the street commissioner attend to such parties as the borough ordinance directs. -About ten inches of light snow fell on Saturday night. It drifted considerably but did not delay traffic on the railroads. Engines were at work Sunday clearing the roadbeds. -Ex-Commissioner Decker, of Pottery Mills, was in town on Tuesday shaking hands with friends. Everybody looks upon him as a little hero who won in the last engagement. -Judge Simonton, of the Dauphin county court, on Wednesday, sent a man to jail for laughing loud in court while a witness was giving her testimony in an assault and battery case. -District Attorney J. C. Meyer will soon be up in Bellefonte. He rented one of Joseph Bros. new houses on Curtin street. There he will be highly elevated and can look down on most people. -It is reported that Mr. Frank Huey, formerly of this place, who enlisted in the U. S. Army on the frontier and was wounded in an engagement with the Indians, died from the effects of his injuries. -Col. Jas. P. Coburn, of Aaronsburg, is in town this week shaking hands and talking politics with his friends. He is as hard a republican as ever and expects to get in the swim some day for a nice appointment. -As John Wilson has not turned up, since his unceremonious departure, the first week of January court will not be as interesting as was expected. The trial list is small and will be disposed of in short order. -We hear complaint that rents are being advanced for next year. Landlords who do that, under the present financial depression, deserve no tenants at all. Rents and taxes in Bellefonte are its greatest injury. -During the present week religious meetings have been in progress in the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. A religious wave appears to have come over our community and no doubt will result in much good. -If that much talked of libel suit of the Valentines versus Milliken takes place and Dan Dougherty, of New York, appears as counsel for Mr. Milliken, the court house will not be large enough to hold all the spectators. It will be a rare treat to hear a great orator at another fellows expense. We are anxious to hear Dougherty. -"Yes, I have plenty of cold victuals," said the lady, "but I will give you a nice hot breakfast if you will fill this coal-box and sweep off the side walks." "I can't accept it on those terms mum," replied the tourist as he turned away a hot flush of insulted pride mounting to his dirty cheek. "I have Indian blood in my veins." -A large sleighing party from Howard, consisting of Mr. Philip Loder, Miss Sallie Wister, Mr. Wm. Woodward, Miss Elsie Long, Mr. Charles McClintic, Miss Corilla Thomas, Wm. Weber, Miss Estella Hensly, Messrs. Jac. DeHass, John Weber, W. L. Cook, W. N. Neff and others, were in town on Tuesday evening and attended the opera house to hear Gorman's minstrels. -The meanest man on earth lives at Buffalo, if we may believe a local newspaper of that city. Two years ago he bought for a Christmas present for his two-year-old daughter a little chair, painted red. The next year he had it painted blue and gave it to her again as her Christmas gift. This year he had it gilted and presented it again. The poor little deluded child is indeed a legitimate object of sympathy. -The store of Mr. W. E. Hendrixson, near the Centre Iron Company's works, has been closed by the sheriff and will be sold on the 23rd. This failure is caused by the suspension of the iron works, as many of the employees dealt there and were unable to settle their bills. Mr. Hendrixson had a good trade established but lost too much in that way. As the works are likely to resume in a short time, we hope he will be able to start anew again.

THE CO. TREASURY BUSTED.

NO MONEY ON HAND TO PAY ORDERS.

State, Road, School and Poor Funds Misappropriated—Must Borrow Money for January Court—The County in Debt—Millage Must be Raised—Mr. Garmley Obeys the Law.

When James Gramley stepped into office, last week, to assume the duties of County Treasurer he determined to conduct that department in full compliance with the laws of the Commonwealth and to the best interests of the people. When the accounts were turned over to him he had on deposit in different banks of the town the following amounts: $5,000 of unseated land money to be devoted to road, school and poor funds of the different townships and boros in the county; a similar deposit of $2,200, and a third of $2,100 of the same nature. The total being about $9,300 in the treasury, that was collected for a special purpose—road school and poor funds, and not a cent of money on deposit to the credit of Centre county. The county had no surplus, no available funds, and an immense amount of liabilities.

From some of the figures from the auditors report, just about completed, we find there has been collected and paid into the county treasury and still due the boros and twps. for road, school and poor purposes the following:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Total: $25,225.25

This sum was collected for a special purpose and the county treasurer is only the custodian of it, and it should not be used for paying county liabilities. By so doing he violates the law and is liable to a severe fine and imprisonment. The law is clear and distinct on that point.

Purdon's Digest, Page 291, Section 33, Act of Assembly, May 16, 1857.

"Whenever any moneys shall have been or may hereafter be collected by law, in any city, county or township, for any special purpose, and paid into the hands of the treasurer of such city, county or township, it shall be unlawful for such treasurer to apply such moneys, or any part thereof, to any other purpose than that for which such moneys shall have been or may be collected; and every such misapplication shall be held and deemed a misdemeanor, for which such treasurer may be indicted and tried in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the proper city or county; and upon conviction thereof, such treasurer shall be punished by a fine of not less than the amount so misapplied, and by imprisonment in the jail of the proper city or county for not less than three months, nor more than one year; provided that prosecutions, for all offenses under this act, shall be commenced within within six years from the time when such offence was committed."

In accordance with this act Treasurer Gramley refuses to use such special moneys for county purposes and he is right. If his predecessor violated the law it is no excuse why Mr. Gramley should. In addition to the $9,000 on deposit we are told that ex-Treasurer Goss has still about $5,000 which will be turned over later, making in all about $14,000 to pay $25,000 of indebtedness—a shortage of at least $11,000. The treasurer's statement for 1890 is:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Total: $7,694.10

Taking this amount along with the shortage on road, school, poor and state funds and other liabilities it is safely estimated that the indebtedness of Centre county is anywhere between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars.

MUST BORROW MONEY.

As money will be needed to conduct January term of court, and to meet the call for these special funds made at the same time, the commissioners consider that it will be necessary to borrow $10,000.00 for the present.

This clearly shows the condition of the finances of the county as the new officials find them. We have had enough of Henderson to last us for the next generation. He and the Gazette made great promises which failed. The county was badly managed, and indebtedness again mars its financial standing.

We do not glory in such a state of affairs to gain a political advantage, but give it so that the taxpayers of the county may be acquainted with the truth.

The Logan boys had their steamer out on last Friday afternoon for practice so that they would be able to handle it when called upon. They took it back to the hose house and cleaned it before going to their supper. About an hour later the alarm of fire was sounded and they were without fuel. This clearly proves that there is no foundation for the rumors that there would soon be a suspicious fire to test the engine. While the boys were caught napping it clearly shows that they were not in it. Firemen are not anxious to be called out on a cold January night and get soaked with water for the fun of it, but are always ready to perform their duty when necessary and even take great risks.

The town clock stopped again. There seems to be considerable negligence there. Let some one be appointed who will keep it going.

WELCOME HOME.

Gov. Beaver and Gen. Hastings to be tendered a Public Reception.

On Tuesday evening a good number of our leading citizens assembled in the Arbitration room at the court house for the preparation for an ovation to Gov. Beaver and Gen. Hastings on Thursday evening upon their arrival home. The meeting was organized with Col. Jas. P. Coburn as chairman and J. C. Meyer, Esq., and Chas. L. Gates as secretaries. On motion Col. J. L. Spangler was appointed chairman of the committee on organization for the reception to be held on Thursday evening. A general committee of arrangements was appointed: Isaac Mitchell, chairman, E. M. Blanchard, Jno. P. Harris, D. F. Fortney, W. C. Malin, Geo. W. Jackson, and J. C. Meyer.

This reception it is understood is to be a public affair with no political or partisan bearing about it. When two of our citizens are called upon to serve the people as high officials of the Keystone State it is not more than proper to tender them a public ovation upon their return to their homes.

The meeting will be held in the court house at 7:30 p. m.

Gov. Beaver and Gen. Hastings will arrive on the 4:30 p. m. train from Harrisburg, and in the evening will be escorted to the meeting by Messrs. Ellis L. Orvis, Esq., J. A. Aikens, Dr. J. L. Seibert and L. T. Munson. The address of welcome will be delivered by Col. J. L. Spangler, the presiding officer of the evening.

Fine Coasting.

Before the last snow fell better coasting was never seen in Bellefonte. Every evening of last week hundreds of people gathered on Howard street to enjoy the exhilarating exercise. That street from the cemetery to the Methodist church was an icy plane with enough of a grade to give the long sleds an immense velocity. Young and old, boys and girls, and even the little toddlers scarcely old enough to be out were there to enjoy the sport. Most of the sleds carried ten and twelve persons and as they came down they shot across Allegheny street at a startling rate of speed. The sleds came along at intervals of a quarter of a minute and in this way accidents were avoided. During all this sport only one or two persons received slight injuries. Bellefonte can beat any town in the state for coasting—every hill is equal to a toboggan slide.

A Slight Blaze.

On Friday night a house owned by Mr. Isaac Thomas, and occupied by Mr. McPherson, Thomas street, was discovered on fire. The different fire departments were soon on the scene and in about a half hour later it was extinguished. The fire started from the shanty roof and got into the attic of the main dwelling where it was hard to reach. The roof was ruined and the building completely drenched with water. The building and furniture was partly covered by insurance. The Logan boys were on hand with their new steamer but it was not used. The pressure from the mains being sufficient to manage the fire.

The First of the Kind.

Rev. Fischer, last Thursday afternoon officiated at a marriage ceremony between two colored parties, which was his first of the kind since in the ministry. Mr. Albert Kline, of Chicago, Ill., a Pullman car porter, and Miss Mamie Vanbuskirk, of Richmond, Va., arrived at Centre Hall on the 3:25 train and were immediately driven to the Lutheran parsonage, where Rev. Fischer made them one. The dusky hued bride and groom departed on the 4:30 train for their western home.—Centre Reporter.

Robbed a Blind Man.

Harry Ramsey, aged 16, who was in the employ of T. J. Hartwell, a blind book canvasser, has proven very ungrateful to his employer, as he decamped Monday night after robbing the blind man. The party were stopping at the Otto House, Williamsport, and during the night Ramsey stole about $30 from the pockets of Hartwell. He is supposed to have gone in the direction of Harrisburg. The young thief is from Geneva, New York.

Conductor Haup.

Conductor Haupt is the oldest conductor on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, and yet he looks almost as young as he did 25 years ago, when he first started in as a railroad man. The conductor's even temper and general amiability of disposition has kept him even from the appearance of growing old. Mr. Haupt is just now in the prime of life and a gentleman the name of whose friends is legion.

Mr. Gillam, the shoe dealer, expects to leave Bellefonte soon and will remove his store also.

Spring election is approaching and the politicians are stirring about. It is time for the citizens and especially the taxpayers of Bellefonte to lay partisan feelings aside in these elections and act upon these matters in a business like manner. Our boro debt is growing larger and taxes almost unbearable. There have been too many suckers and leeches at work, in the past, bleeding the boro treasury. Let it be a citizens election instead of a political contest.

CLINTON COUNTY BRIDGES.

Report of the Lawyers Employed by Taxpayers of That County.

Gen. Jesse Merrill and H. T. Harvey, employed by a number of taxpayers of the county to examine into and make a report upon the subject of the erection of the abutments of the Great Island bridges have made a report to their employers. In these contracts E. T. Gallagher was the prominent man and got the boodle. The report concludes:

"We have had a careful measurement of the stone work on these bridges made by a competent and careful engineer, E. E. Willard, Esq., of Ridgway, Pa., who returns as the true measurement nineteen hundred and twenty-nine (1929) cubic yards less than the estimate furnished by Mr. Ronian to the Commissioners upon which the contractors were paid. We find, therefore,

1st. That the Commissioners have paid an extravagant price to the contractors.

2nd. That the contract was altered after it was originally prepared so as to allow the payment of a much larger amount than it otherwise would have been.

3d. That they have paid for part of the work done twice, or double the price contracted for, and

3th. That they have paid for nearly two thousand cubic-yards more work than was actually done by the contractors.

We conclude, therefore, that the county has been defrauded out of a large amount of money; that there was a conspiracy between these parties to accomplish this, or that the County Commissioners were grossly and criminally negligent in the performance of their duty.

We believe that the law provides an ample and adequate remedy against the wrong-doers. Respectfully submitted, JESSE MERRILL, H. T. HARVEY.

The Way to Handle Tramps.

The Phillipsburg Ledger tells the following: "A tramp who was imposing on the sympathies of the public by working the one-armed racket (by buttoning his vest and coat over his right arm) was hauled up short by officer Funk on Tuesday evening and locked up. Next day he behaved impudently at his hearing before Burgess Warfel, who directed that a ball and chain be fastened to his leg, and he be put to work on the streets. He was an ill tempered rascal and tried to break a plate-glass window in George's drug store, by throwing his shovel at it, but luckily the shovel fell short of the mark. A couple of days with a ball and chain on him took the fight all out of him, and he begged pitiously to be allowed to go, promising vehemently that he would never inflict himself on the town again. On Friday morning Burgess Warfel gave him a fierce 'talking to' and directed officer Funk to escort him to the southern boundary of the town and head him toward Tyrone which the officer did, and accelerated his departure by a well administered kick in the rear, and the chevalier of industry shuffled off up the railroad at a dog trot gait, if sustained, would land him in Tyrone by noon.

Marion Twp. Items.

A sled load of young folks assembled at the home of James Beck, a half mile this side of Jacksonville, last Wednesday evening and danced the wee small hours away. They were Miss May Weaver, Miss Sarah Grove, Miss Mabie Bridge, Miss Leach, Miss Bartley, Miss Sadie Ishler and the two Miss Garbricks. Harry and Albert Harter, Cal Lose, George Moyer, E. Henderson, Charles Johnstonbaugh, Charles and James Bartley, Will Ishler, Will Gilbert and John Spade. They all report a good time and many thanks are extended to Harry Harter and Will Ishler for their skillful management in getting up the party.

Grange Meetings.

According to notice published in the different county papers, a number of members of Progress Grange, at Centre Hall paid a visit to Spring Mills grange last Saturday. Speeches were made by James A. Keller, on grange insurance; by J. J. Arney on the work of the committee appointed by Pomona Grange to collect funds from the different granges to make the first payment on the picnic grounds, and by Hon. Leonard Rhone on the work of the order in general. Miss May Rhone and Robert Foreman each declaimed a piece.

A Band Association.

On Thursday evening last at Renovo committees from the several cornet bands of that place met for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the organization of an association known as the Central Pennsylvania Band Association, the object of which is to "Conjoin all the musical organizations in this part of the State and have an annual festival for the advancement and welfare of the band boys." The proposed district is to be composed of Lycoming, Clinton, Centre, Cameron, Elk and Clearfield counties.

School Book Legislation.

It is said that there will be a flood of school legislation in the early days of this session. Some of it will deal with text books, and the school book men in anticipation of it have already been in Harrisburg to feel the legislative pulse. There will be a bill to secure uniformity of text books, and one to make it compulsory on school districts to furnish text books free.

The fellow who predicted a mild open winter for this year is keeping shady. He must have consulted the wrong almanac.

SAFE CRACKERS.

On Saturday morning when the employees of Sechler & Co's store, this town, opened their place of business they were surprised to find a lot of burglar tools lying by the safe. The knob of the door was broken off and a hole drilled into it, where it could be seen that powder had been placed, set off but failed to open it. The back door of the room had a hole cut in it about fourteen inches square by which an entrance was gained. At about 1 a. m. during the night the watchman of the Bush House heard a noise and tried the front door of the store, but finding it closed walked away. This it is supposed frightened the robbers and they left without making any further attempt to open it.

The tools in the store were identified by Mr. McQuiston, and were taken from his shop that night. Mr. Sechler found nothing else about the store disturbed.

SAD DEATH.

Of Mrs. C. M. Garmann, on Last Saturday Evening.

This week it becomes our duty to record the sad death of Mrs. C. M. Garmann, at her home in this place, on last Saturday evening, Jan. 17. On Thursday, the 8th, the family circle was made to rejoice upon the birth of a little daughter, and the mother and child were daily improving. No fears or apprehensions were entertained of any serious illness and all expected to see the mother about in a few days. Last Thursday a change for the worse took place and by Friday she was dangerously ill. The medical attendants became alarmed and that evening her recovery became a matter of doubt. A heavy fever, accompanied by internal inflammation, could not be checked and she soon realized that death would finally relieve her other sufferings. For this she was resigned; as the husband and children, sisters and brothers, and friends watched by her bedside she continually spoke to them of the Kingdom beyond, to which she was going and admonished all to live such lives that they might meet her there. While on her death bed, the same as in life, she asked all to forgive her of any wrong she might have done and, likewise, she forgave. As life ebbed away her voice grew faint, and her last words were, "All pray for me, and I will pray with you as long as I can." Her lips moved only, and a short time thereafter the features grew pallid and still—death gained its victory, and the soul departed to its eternal home.

The announcement of her death was the cause of expressions of sorrow and deep regret throughout the community, where she had lived during her life. She was admired by everybody who knew her, for her noble character and many womanly graces. Always pleasant and agreeable; her happy disposition shed a warmth of good cheer and sunshine in her home. Even the stranger, who tarried but a day, could not fail to be impressed with her kindly nature and solicitude for all. And while the body rests neat the sod, in the cold embrace of death, we will ever retain in memory and always recall with admiration the picture of that life so replete with generous deeds, kindly acts and many goodnesses.

In her death she leaves a loving husband to mourn, and three children, Louise, Annie and an infant, who will never know the value of a tender mother's care. Yet in their bright faces the husband can see the image of that noble one whom he so fondly cherished and loved.

Mrs. Garmann was about 31 years of age. Her maiden name was Maggie Crotty. There survive her three sisters—Mrs. Joseph Cedars, Mrs. Martin Cooney and Mrs. Robert Gilmore, and Mrs. Joseph Steinkirchner, Newton, Ks, two brothers—Michael Crotty, of Axe Mann, and James Crotty, now in New York. David, another brother, died in the Altoona hospital last October.

The funeral occurred on Tuesday morning; services in the Catholic church, of which she was a member.

Go-Won-Go Mohawk.

The next attraction in the opera house will be "The Indian Mail Carrier," on Friday evening, Jan. 23, a great sensational drama of the western type. The star of the company is Go-won-go Mohawk, an Indian girl and the only actress of her race on the stage to-day. Two trained horses are among the attractive features of the show. This entertainment will not be an Indian show, but Indians will take characters in it. The Philadelphia Press says of it: "The play is the best of its kind seen at the Third Avenue Theatre."

Public Sales.

All sale bills printed at this office will receive a free notice of the same under this heading. Parties having bills printed at other offices can have a notice inserted in this registry for fifty cents.

THURSDAY, MARCH 13.—Wm. A. Ishler, Sheriff, at his former residence in Benner Twp., on the Robert Valentine farm, a large lot of farm implements of every description, and a fine lot of horses, cattle, etc.
