THE republicans are greatly worried over the election of Gov. Hill, of New York, to succeed Evarts in the U. S. Senate.

—The Centre Democrat and the Philadelphia Weekly Times one year for $1.75.

Does Experience Count?

It does, in every line of business, and especially in compounding and preparing medicines. This is illustrated in the great superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla over other preparations, as shown by the remarkable cures it has accomplished.

The head of the firm of C. I. Hood & Co. is a thoroughly competent and experienced pharmacist, having devoted his whole life to the study and actual preparation of medicines. He is also a member of the Massachusetts and American Pharmaceutical Associations, and continues actively devoted to supervising the preparation of and managing the business connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

How to Play "Tiddly Wink."

It is easy when you know how. An esteemed contemporary is dazed over that new fad—the game of "Tiddly Winks," and undertakes to explain the mystery by saying that "any number of players may engage in the game. Each player takes a dings, the winks are divided equally, likewise the difficulties. Take a wink, put it on the dings, then by pressing a tiddly on the wink, make it jump into the wink-pot—if you can. If you succeed you are entitled to a difficulty, and for every wink you jump into the dingspot from the dings you count a tiddly, and continue so to operate the tonk-winkle upon the pollywog until the points so carried shall equal the sum total of the hogwhip multiplied by the puterinkum and added to the contents of the aforesaid wink-pot, or words to that effect, you may be said to have won the game."

The season of malaria and bad colds is here.

A little stimulant has often saved doctor bills. Yes, even life has been saved by it. Physicians of national reputation will endorse Klein's Silver Age Eye Whiskey, and it is within the reach of the poorest. It is sold for $1.50 everywhere. If you druggist, your hotel or liquor stores do not keep it send direct to Max Klein for it, or anything in the liquor line. He keeps a full and complete stock of it. He sells all Pennsylvania Wines, six years old at $1.00 each or six quarts for $5.00. In fact, his price list and complete catalogue will be sent to you free, if you write to him for it and mention this paper. He charges nothing for packing and ships to your home by express. His address is reliable and trustworthy. His address is Max Klein, 52 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa.

Mrs. Edward Carr, of Freedom, attempted suicide on account of her husband's desertion. She is a Catholic and he a Protestant. They had disagreed over the question of having the marriage ceremony re-performed by a Catholic priest.

The ruling of Judge Bucher, at Williamsport, in the Dunbar paving contract case, by which that city escapes the payment of over $20,000, is regretted by nine-tenths of the people, who claim that the decision puts Williamsport in bad repute.

Farmer Mumma, who lives near White Bridge, Dauphin county, found a stranger in his stable who refused to answer any questions, whereupon Mr. Mumma discharged a shotgun, tearing away part of an ear of the silent intruder, Amos Dinsler, a mason who lived at Hummelstown.

A BOGUS GOLD BRICK.

An Allegheny Man Mortgages His Property to Buy It.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—Charles Arkes, with several aliases, working his residence as Chicago, worked the "gold brick" swindle on Charles Bauer, a lumber merchant of Allegheny City to the tune of $2,800. The "gold brick" sharp was arrested and gave up the money and was allowed to go free.

On the train from Altoona to Pittsburgh Arkes, who represented himself as a miner to Bauer, produced his solid gold brick with the usual story and offered to sell it for $10,000, but as the train reached Pittsburgh he came down to $2,800. He bored a hole in the brick and Bauer had the shavings examined in a jewelry store in this city on his arrival. He was told the shavings were gold.

Bauer mortgaged his property for $2,800 and gave the money to Arkes. Bauer concluded to have the brick examined to find out its real value. He then found out he was swindled. He went to Alderman King, a friend of his, at once, to whom he told the story and described the swindler. The alderman himself immediately set out to hunt the thief. Luckily he found his man, who was on his way to the depot with a ticket for New York. He arrested him and brought him to Detective Perkins' office, where he turned Bauer's money over. As Bauer did not want to prosecute Arkes was allowed to go.

Thirteen Months for Manslaughter. LANCASTER, Pa., William M. James was convicted of involuntary manslaughter in killing Barton Kline, last November, and sentenced to thirteen months in the penitentiary.

WIND WRECKS WIRES.

Hundreds of Poles Prostrated by Saturday Night's Storm.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—The full fury of Saturday night's violent wind and rain storm was poured forth upon Philadelphia. All night long the tempest raged and toward morning the rain turned to snow. The played havoc with the telegraph lines and every wire running into town was prostrated.

In consequence the city was yesterday completely cut off from all telegraphic communication. Not a single wire in any direction escaped the general wreck.

The snow soon melted under the sun's rays and there was no permanent impediment to street traffic. But the railroads labored under great difficulties.

In many cases poles and wires were prostrated across the tracks, and the few trains ran slowly and cautiously.

Advices received by rail indicate that the storm prevailed with great severity throughout eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York and as far south as Baltimore.

The Storm at Wilmington. WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 26.—Saturday night's storm of rain, wind, snow and sleet has almost cut this city off from telegraphic communication with the world. There are no Western Union wires working to any point out of the city and messages are sent to Philadelphia by messenger. Poles are down everywhere. The postal wires are working by way of Baltimore.

The Baltimore and Ohio and the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroads are running their trains by feeling their way, and there are 150 poles down on the line of the Baltimore and Ohio between Singery, Md., and Philadelphia.

The telephone system has sustained the worst damage since it was established, and it will be ten days before it is in running order again.

The Situation in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—New York and the region thereabout have had a novel experience. Never in the history of the city—not even during the great blizzard of 1888—has anything like such general prostration of telegraph and other wires occurred. All throughout the city and its neighborhood telegraph poles were thrown prostrate by the thousand. Not a single telegraph wire could be operated from the Western Union headquarters in this city. New York was practically isolated from the rest of the country, although communication by cable underneath the Atlantic could be carried on with as great facility as ever. Owing to the interruption of the telegraph service, it is impossible to tell how far this same condition of things extends in any direction from this city, but advices by railway indicate that the Central railroad is in trouble with its wires as far north as Albany.

FORCE AND CLOSURE.

Both Bills Laid Aside for the Present.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Mr. Wolcott moved to take up the apportionment bill in the senate, laying aside the closure resolution. Mr. Dolph moved to lay this motion on the table. Mr. Dolph's motion was lost by a vote of 34 to 35.

By a vote of 35 to 34 the senate adopted Mr. Wolcott's motion to take up the apportionment bill. The closure rule and the force bill are therefore laid aside.

By a sudden move on the part of the opponents of the force bill the closure resolution was laid aside by the senate. The Democrats have been contemplating the move for some time, and it was delayed until now only by the lack of one more vote than they could surely rely on.

Ingalls at Topeka.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 26.—When Senator Ingalls arrived here from Washington he was met by an enthusiastic delegation of Grand Army men. Grand Army men have been pouring into the city day and night, and even the Sons of Veterans are having an inning. For some reasons, which the Ingalls managers carefully conceal, more confidence is felt by them in his return to the senate than at any other time since the caucus for state printer. With significant nods and knowing winks the party managers announce under the rose that "Ingalls is all right." Just how it is all going to happen no one tries to explain, but for twenty-four hours before the senator's arrival the men who had admitted that the Alliance had everything its own way changed front and boldly claimed Ingalls' certain return.

Prince Baudouin's Funeral.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 24.—Solemn services will be celebrated in the Brussels cathedral on Thursday morning next for the repose of the soul of Prince Baudouin. The body will be interred in the royal vault at Laeken.

It is now claimed that the death of Prince Baudouin was caused by a complication of small pox, bronchitis and urinary hemorrhage. The populace of Brussels are much enraged at the prince's doctors, who, they say, blundered in the case. The prince was about to be betrothed to his niece, the Princess Clementine, daughter of King Leopold.

Bob Ford Wounded.

WALKERBURG, Col., Jan. 24.—Bob Ford, the slayer of Jesse James, and J. D. Hardin, a saloon keeper, engaged in a shooting scrape here. They were so close together that each man was trying to knock the other's gun out of his hand. Hardin was shot in the shoulder and in the hand and Ford was hit in the foot, besides being badly burned about the face with powder. The men quarreled over a game of craps. The men are dangerously hurt. Both are under arrest.

Fishes Fall from Heaven.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 26.—A singular phenomenon was observed in connection with a heavy fall of snow which occurred in this city. Large quantities of small fishes came down with the snow, and in many localities the ground was literally covered with them. The largest were nearly two inches in length. As such a downpour from the heavens has heretofore been unheard of, it has created much comment.

Against McKinley and Dressed Beef.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—The joint resolution adopted in the senate some days ago, asking congress to suppress the dressed beef trust and to repeal the McKinley bill, was called in the house. The Republicans moved to strike out that part relating to the McKinley bill, but the motion was tabled and the resolution was adopted as it came from the senate.
