EVERY MAN KILLED. THE HISTORY OF A WEEK

Terrible Explosion at H. B. Frick's, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

OVER 100 BODIES RECOVERED.

A Number More Remain in the Mine-Heartrending Scenes About the Shaft-Fifty Killed by the Explosion, the Others Overcome by Afterdamp-The Cause Still a Mystery-Sensations of Black Death.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 28.-A terrible mine explosion occurred at the Mammoth works of the H. C. Frick company, near Mt. Pleasant, yesterday. Between sixty and eighty miners, Americans and Eng-lish, were at work at the time. It is believed that at least fifty have been killed.

Mr. PLEASANT, Pa., Jan. 29 .- The sad task of recovering the dead from the Mammoth shaft of the H. C. Frick Coke works is not yet over. It is not known exactly how many perished. One hundred and seven bodies have been taken out and there are still others, some of which cannot be reached on account of the fire which followed the frightful explosion. It is believed that at least seventeen bodies are still in the mine. The scenes about the mouth of the shaft during the night were heartrending. Dead bodies were brought up every few minutes, and the crowd simply fell back to allow the men carrying stretchers room to pass. Every corpse was covered, and no one even ventured to inquire which body it was, for they knew every one in that part of the mine at the time of the explosion was

Not a Life Spared. The Mammoth mines are located on a branch of the Southwest railroad, eight miles from Youngwood station and five miles from Mt. Pleasant. The works formerly owned by J. W. Moore, of Greensburg, but are at present owned and operated by the H. C. Frick Coke

One hundred and ten men were employed on that part of the mine in ployed on that part of the mine in which the explosion occurred, and not one was left to tell the story of disaster. Not more than fifty men were killed by the explosion, the others were overcome by the afterdamp, and while some of the bodies were borribly burned, torn and mutilated, others were found with their teeth clenched on the iron rail of the pit road, or with their faces plunged into the water, and not a few kneeling, as if they had been in prayer when their untimely end

There is little information regarding the horror. Everybody in the pit was killed. The force of the explosion was felt for miles around. In the township school house, nearly a mile away, the shock caused a panic, and the pupils rushed from the frame building arm in the belief that an earthquake had over-taken them. The men employed in Mammoth No. 2, separated by 190 acres of coal, felt the shock. They were the first to sound the alarm.

The Cause Unknown.

Superintendent Keighley said: "No man living knows the cause of the accident, and it will never be known for a certainty. About 300 feet from the bottom of the shaft we encountered a fell of rock in the gangage. This was reduced to beggary. He tramped to Marseilles and the United States consultables. fall of rock in the gangway, which was caused by the explosion.

'It comes to you like some whirlwind, with blue tints of a rainbow; and when it bursts into flame it passes over your body like a great log. God does not often let a man live to tell what has happened to him. If it catches you and it rends the ribs of slate openings like the ribs of a straw rick."

That is what a miner who has been in the coal mines thirty-five years says of the "afterdamp," the "black death" of the darkness and the silent, echoing passageways of the coal mines.

Burying the Victims.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 30.-The exact number of dead removed from Mammoth mine is 107. Twenty victims of the disaster were buried yesterday. The body of another miner was recovered and identified as George Mofford. It is the general impression that a number of bodies are yet in the mine, covered with debris. A large number of men are at work cleaning out the mine.

Superintendent Keighley Assailed. PITTSBURG, Feb. 3.—A German wo-man named Heinleich, whose husband was one of the victims of the explosion at Mammoth mine last Tuesday, was the leader in an assault upon Supt. Keighley, at the mouth of the Mammoth mine. Accompanying her was a Hungarian woman and two Hungarian men. Mrs. Heinleich accused the superintendent of having killed her husband and set upon him, choking him severely. They then assailed Keighley with stones, and would doubtless have seriously injured Mr. Keighley had not assistance arrived and drove the assailants away. Mr. Keighley received a number of painful bruises.

Was Death Due to the Lymph? NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 3.-George M. Bradley, who was the first in this country to be inoculated with Dr. Koch's lymph, died yesterday, and the son of Professor Blake, another lymph patient, is at the point of death. He has been under treatment for the last two months. Bradley was a man but a little over 30 years of age, and was not in an advanced state of consumption when he began receiving treatment. Previously he was not confined to the Previously he was not confined to the house, but during the treatment he had been. During the past few weeks he suffered intensely, as the treatment had a distressing effect on his throat, making it difficult and exceedingly painful to take any nourishment. His physicians say that his death was undoubtedly hastened by the condition of his throat, as his strength disappeared very fast because of his inability to take food. He had been receiving injections since very early in December.

MR. WALLACE'S PROPERTY

The Clearfield County Real Estate at Sheriff's Sale.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Jan. 31.—The Clear-field county real estate of ex-Senator Wallace was sold yesterday at sheriff's

The whole amount realized by the sale was $20,000. This is subject to mortgage and liens amounting to about $130,000. The proceeds of the sale go to the judgments confessed prior to the susagnment, a total of $73,000. The property can be sold at private sale with interest and applied to the payment of other debts for much more than this. It was all bought by Thomas L. Wallace, of Harrisburg.

Senator Wallace is the agent, and will manage the property to pay prior liens and other debts. He is sanguine he can pay all. No part of the large coal property of 5,200 acres was sold. Senator Wallace's closest friends think that by his getting control of his property he can manage it better than any one else, and although his enemies have tried to injure him by false rumors, he has already made many satisfactory arrangements with many unsecured creditors who needed their money. None of his friends doubt his ability to come out with a good balance after all debts have been paid.

DEMANDS OF MINERS.

They Want the Gallagher Law Applied to Bituminous Districts.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 31.—Miners of the Fifth district, in convention in this city, dopted resolutions memorializing the legislature to apply to the bituminous districts of the state the Gallagher law, which requires that diggers must undergo examination and receive certificates of competency before they can hold positions as miners. The object is to prevent the employment of certain foreigners and to remove any impracticable element. Another resolution is to the effect that the state mine officials be held responsible for mine explosions. inasmuch as such officials are selected by the state executive. The resolution, for all that it was adopted, is believed to be somewhat radical and the question of its revision is now under discussion.

The delegates are determined to demand of operators the weighment of all coal mined, for which they want 70 or 72 cents per ton. This, with the eight hour rule, which they will undoubtedly undertake to enforce, is a practical advance of 40 or 50 per cent. in wages. It has been determined by the miners that they will demand of every operator in the district that he pay cash to each

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—In considera-tion of the house calendar, bills on second reading were agreed to as follows: An act directing the appointment of of-ficial stenographers in several courts. The act to validate private sales of real estate of decedents heretofore made under authority of orphans' courts upon petition of executors or administrators for payments of debts. Among the bills introduced was one by Mr. Flickinger, of Erie, providing for the teaching of physical culture in public schools; by Mr. Fow, of Philadelphia, to pre-vent the sale or manufacture of cigarettes in this state; also, a bill to prevent the smoking or burning of the same,

The senate in executive session confirmed a number of notaries sent in by the governor. Bills were favorably reported from committee amending the liquor licenses act so that licenses shall revert to the treasury of the county in which the license is issued; providing for the publication of the mercantile tax list in at least one German paper in each county; providing the manner of ing school taxes.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—The legislature yesterday appointed a committee of two senators and three representatives to proceed to the scene of the Mammoth mine explosion and thoroughly investigate the same. Mr. Patterson, of Washington, introduced in the house a bill prohibiting the custom of persons treating one another to intoxicating liquors in saloons. A bill was favorably reported in the senate authorizing the publication of sheriffs' law in one German paper in each country. HARRISBURG, Jan. 30. — After considerable discussion a resolution passed both houses calling on the United States senators from Pennsylvania to use all honorable means for the passage of the federal elections bill. Senator Cameron was severely criticised by the Republicans and the resolution passed by a strict party vote.

The senate passed the bill providing that the money for liquor licenses shall go into the treasuries of the cities.

Four Firemen Injured.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3 .- A fire that broke out in the building of the Philadelphia Brass works, 223 and 225 South Fifth street, owned by William Wiler, caused the injury of four firemeu and considerable property damaged: The loss is about $30,000, and is covered by insurance. The injured firemen are: Assistant Engineer Samuel Dunlap, of the First district, ribs crushed into left lung and head bruised; will probably Assistant Engineer James F. Garity, of the Second district; right leg bruised but no bone broken. Michael Keevan, foreman of No. 22 engine company; back of neck and shoulders bruised; no bones broken. James She han, hoseman of No. 22; bruised. Will-iam Wiler, manufacturer of fancy brass bedsteads, stair rods, etc., loses about $25,000. The Selheimer Printing company lose about $10,000, and C. J. hen, manufacturer of paper boxes, loses about the same amount. Wiler's loss is nearly covered by insurance. The others were partly insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

To Break the Standard's Grip. PITTSBURG, Feb. 2.—The meeting of the independent oil producers which closed at Warren, Pa., will probably be fraught with grave results. The producers absolutely refuse to talk as to what they will do, but enough is known of the general purposes to conjecture that refineries and pipe lines will be built this summer and another attempt made to break the iron grip of the Stan-dard Oil company. No break has yet been observed in the ranks of the independent producers, and it is the opinion that if they stick together the prospects for the accomplishment of their objects are fair. Hitherto their great failing has been their inability to hold to one another.

A Strike Ended.

PHILADELISHIA, Feb. 2.—The striking employes of Bement, Miles & Co., have published a card stating that the firm had arranged matters in a manner entirely satisfactory to them. The usual force is now running the works.

That Little Tickling

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, and as catarrh is a constitutional disease the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.
