

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

"Only a Farmer's Daughter" in the opera house Monday, March 23. -The Zion band was in town Monday evening and serenaded Sheriff Ishler. -There was an abundance of green ribbon afloat on Tuesday-it was St. Patrick's day. -Mr. L. L. Brown arrived in town on Monday and is spending a few days in this section. -The second trial of Charles Cleary will take place at Lock Haven, April 27th where a special term of court will be held. -Mr. A. J. Cruse, the cigar manufacturer, has been confined to his house the past week and is not enjoying the best of health. -An attempt was made to break in to Joseph Fox's residence last Thursday night but the thieves were frightened away. -Hon. Chas. S. Wolf, of Lewisburg, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday on a business trip. He is as vigorous and energetic as ever. -Subscribers who will change their postoffice address this Spring, should see that we are properly notified and in time so as to cause no delay. -The Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. is in an embarrassed condition and the sheriff has levied upon the same. The continuance of that organization seems doubtful. -Mr. Frank Morrow, of Tyrone, has organized a class at this place, and is giving instructions upon the banjo. He is a fine musician and an expert upon that instrument. -There are several fine paintings on exhibition in Joseph Bros. window that attract attention. They were executed by Miss Lou Hensly, of Howard. -Geo. W. Jackson & Co., millers, will make some extensive changes in their plant at this place this spring. The capacity will be increased and improved machinery added. -The horse sale on last Saturday brought a large number of people to town. They sold quite a number. The $20 license levied upon them by the borough was refunded by council on Monday. -The vernal equinox this year will occur on next Friday, March 20th, the paschall full moon will be along on the 25th, and Easter Sunday on the 29th. A cold spell is predicted for that time. -Tuesday evening the streets of Bellefonte were as dark as hades. The electric light company are supposed to furnish light when it is needed. Why there was no light on Tuesday we cannot say. -Prof. Geo. P. Bible is making quite a success of his school of elocution and oratory, organized recently at Williamsport. Persons interested in that study should send him for a descriptive circular of the same. -"Under the Palms, or Feast of Flowers," a grand oratorio cantata, will be rendered in the Centre Hall Lutheran church, Saturday evening before Easter, March 28. It will be a fine affair, the best yet given there. -Thomas Harbridge, Jr., a young man who recently went to West Virginia from this county, died of typhoid pneumonia one day last week. His body was brought to his father's home at Julian Furnace, for interment. -The borough authorities have given notice to the effect that fast driving across the bridges must be stopped. The first offender was a down-town merchant who was "pulled in" by the police and fined a V by the burgess. -Ex-Commissioner John Wolf, of Miles township, was in town on Saturday last and attended the horse sale, and purchased two fine animals. This was Mr. Wolf's third visit to Bellefonte since his official term as commissioner has expired. -The largest county in this State is Centre, with 1,227 miles of territory; Lycoming comes next with 1,213; Bradford, 1,162; Clearfield, 1,130; Tioga, 1,124; Somerset, 1,102; Potter, 1,071; Westmoreland, 1,046; McKean, 1,007; Crawford, 1,005; Bedford, 1,003. All the other counties are below 1,000 miles in territory. -If you want to insure a boy's ruination give him unwatched liberty at night. But who is to watch him at night? the teacher? No: the father and mother. But watch him where? on the street? No: by the fireside. If it were not for the ruinous influence of the "night school on the street," the day school would help many a boy in the formation of good habits. -A puzzle for the school scholars is thus given by an exchange. A clerk counted a basket of eggs. He took out two at a time and one remained; he took out three at a time and one remained; he took out four at a time and one remained; he took out five at a time and one remained, but when he took out seven at a time none remained. How many eggs were there in the basket?

HELD FOR TRIAL.

RESULT OF THE HABEAS CORPUS HEARING.

In the Court House on Monday morning—A Large Crowd Present—Crossmire and Frank Charles held for trial—The Proceedings.

Monday forenoon, when the bell in the tower of the court house struck ten, a large and anxious audience had assembled in the court room. That was the hour set for the hearing of the three young men arrested upon the charge of wrecking the passenger train at Milesburg on the 23rd of February. Most of the audience was from Milesburg and vicinity and they were extremely anxious in regard to the fate of the three young men of that town, who were arraigned upon such a serious crime, which resulted in the death of Edward Casset, the fireman of the train. His Honor, A. O. Eurst, and Associates Rhoads and Riley, were in their places. District Attorney J. C. Meyer appeared for the commonwealth and Messrs. W. F. Reeder, Col. Spangler and John Keichline for the young men, Messrs. Craig Crossmire, Frank and Harry Charles, all of Milesburg. The first witness called was: A. A. Witter, Tyrone, sworn: Am asst. train master of the Tyrone division. The three prisoners were employed on this division on a work train, of which James Henshey was the locomotive engineer. Henshey ran on different trains. Henshey run the locomotive on the passenger train wrecked at Milesburg, Monday morning, February 23, 1891; Edward Casset was the fireman. Made information against the young men. The last train that run over the road before the wreck was a freight and passed Milesburg at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning. James Henshey, of Tyrone sworn: Am a locomotive engineer; had charge of a construction train last summer, Craig Crossmire was flagman. Crossmire neglected his duty and I was ordered to remove him; Frank and Harry Charles were employed on same train and were discharged. I was engineer of the train wrecked at Milesburg. The engine struck the switch at 5:27 a. m.; was running at rate of 25 miles an hour. Casset the fireman, was thrown or jumped from the engine. I remained on the engine until it stopped. Went back and found Casset under the trucks. The engine was derailed by a stone wedged in the guard rail of the switch. About a week before this wreck occurred Fireman Blair notified me that he had heard threats made against me at Milesburg. Frank and Harry Charles were discharged for breaking a car. Miss Clara Clark, Snow Shoe sworn: Heard Crossmire say he would get even with Henshey if it would take fifty years. She informed Henshey of the threat. On Saturday evening February 21st, arrived at Milesburg. Saw Crossmire at the depot; he said "that" of a b—Henshey went down the railroad this afternoon." Boyd Stonerode, operator at Milesburg: saw the train wrecked; saw the stone in the switch, looks much like the stone on the table there. Several days after the wreck found a note on the platform at the station; (note identified) Milesburg, Pa feb 25 1891. S S Blair: We see that you have Jim Henshey on the early train. If he is not taken off you can expect to hear of another wreck we are getting tired of this and as long as you have such men in your employ you must abide by the result, he is a mean—of a—& we will get him some time don't think this is an idle threat for the result will be worse than the last one here. Put your detectives out we don't fear them. We three. A note from Frank Charles to his mother for clothes was next offered. Isaac Mitchell testified that there was some similarity in the crossing of the "ts" and the space between the words. Jas. Hughes testified that Frank Charles said he did not like Henshey. The court decided to hold Craig Crossmire and Frank Charles as defendants and Harry Charles as a witness. Will make Another Search. Last December Mr. Newton Graham, of Clearfield, went deer hunting with a party from that place. The first day Mr. Graham failed to return to camp and was never heard of or seen since. It was supposed that he suddenly took ill and perished in the woods and the heavy snows covered up the body. A number of searches were made but no trace was ever found. We are informed that Mr. Alfred Graham, of Zion, a brother of the missing man, will go to Clearfield this week and organize a searching party of several hundred men to go over every foot of ground in the mountains where he was missed. A Painful Accident. On Saturday morning while James Noll, plasterer, was holding a piece of timber for another man to nail fast, the hatchet glanced and the nail, which had not yet become firmly fast, flew away and struck Noll fair in the eye. It was first thought he would lose his eye but late it was reported that the eye, as well as the sight, can be saved.

DESERVEDLY PUNISHED.

A Boy Causes Some Excitement in a Church in Huntingdon County. The Brush Ridge school house in Miller township, Huntingdon county, has been the scene of one of the most successful religious revivals that have ever taken place in that county. The meetings, which have been in progress for nearly a month, are conducted by Rev. J. R. Eberly, a United Brethren preacher, of Lewistown, who has acquired considerable fame throughout the section as a stirring exhorter and evangelist. An unusual event occurred at last Saturday night's meeting, which threw the congregation into ungovernable excitement, and gave a temporary check to the religious services. Rev. Eberly has shown in all his prayers a decided preference for the phrase, "O, Lord, shower down the blessings upon us." Last night after nearly a score of penitents had assembled at the improvised altar railing, and when the venerable minister had arrived at that period of his opening prayer where he invoked a downpour of divine blessings, a climax was given to his words by a copious shower of water from the trap door in the attic just above the kneeling preacher and penitents. The prayer was interrupted, the audience was thrown into a condition of extreme excitement and the services came to a sudden stop. Only one of the women in the congregation appeared undisturbed by the unusual proceedings. She was Mrs. John L. Smith, sitting in the rear of the room. Her suspicions were at once aroused as to the cause of the singular fulfillment of the preacher's invocation, and she at once set about to seek their confirmation. Rising from her seat and going forward, she directed the janitor to search the attic overhead. After considerable trouble the portly custodian of the school house succeeded in pushing his body through the little trap door, when he found Master John L. Smith, Jr., a 15 year-old lad, hiding in a further corner of its dusty confines. The young practical joker was lowered to the meeting room, surrendered to the custody of his mother and subjected to severe corporal punishment in the presence of the still trembling victims of his little jokes. Hanged Himself. Micheal Fenstermacher, of Georgetown, Northumberland county, tired of this world's vexations, deliberately hanged himself in one of the rooms up stairs in his house. The way he did it was thus: He took a rope and threw it over the rafters, tying the end around his neck. He then laid down on the floor, the rope only drawing his head about half a foot from the floor, and in that position he slowly strangled to death. An hour afterwards his wife came to the house and the doors were broken and his body found. The suicide caused great excitement in Georgetown. Shared them to Early. We don't know any too much about sheep, but a Meadowville dispatch of March 8th said: "Gustavus Bentley, of Randolph township, was arraigned Saturday on a charge of cruelty to animals in having sheared 175 sheep in February. Bentley claims that he is fattening them for the market, and that they are easier to keep and increase in weight faster when short of their wool. The accused waived a hearing and was bound over to answer at the next term of court. Bentley was a candidate for sheriff in 1875." Seriously Hurt. Early Saturday morning Engineer Lebecker, of the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, brought his freight train up from the lower yard to the station, at Lock Haven, where he waited for orders, while the fireman ran on a little distance up the track with the engine. When he was ready the engineer started to regain the engine on foot, but fell in the culvert at the nail mill and was badly injured, among his other hurts being a broken nose. He was taken to his home at Milesburg where his injuries were attended to. Conscience Money. On Monday morning Treasurer Gramley received $12 from a party living in Pennsylvania which under the circumstances should be termed conscience money. The parties paying over this money had been out hunting and killed game out of season. So strong were the pangs of conscience that they only found relief by voluntarily paying the full amount of the fine to the county Treasurer. Death of Mrs. Downing. On Sunday night Mrs. Geo. Downing died at her home, on East Bishop st. The deceased was about 63 years of age and leaves a husband and five grown children to mourn her death. The interment occurred on Wednesday. New Front. Parish, the druggist, is happy as his room will be remodelled and a new front with large plate glass windows will be put in. Mr. Parish keeps a first class store and when the improvements are completed will be up with the rest. Last Thursday evening Mr. Calvin Weaver and Miss Dora, daughter of Mr. Mrs. Thomas Edmunds, were married at the residence of the bride's parents, at Aaronsburg. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Geo. E. Adams.

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Andrew Tims Arrested and Placed in Jail for Next Court. Last Friday Andrew Tims was arrested at Rainey, by officer Harry Simler, of Phillipsburg, and brought to the Bellefonte jail to await trial at next court. The warrant for his arrest was: "Andrew Tims, laborer, of Ferguson township, Centre county, did on the 23rd of February, in a willful manner, assault Nancy Potter, between ten and eleven years of age child of George W. Potter, by catching her and throwing her down on the ground, with intent to commit a rape." The fellow almost made his escape at Oscoda by breaking from the officer and afterwards drew a revolver which was taken from him. He was safely landed in jail and will get his just dues later. Reformed Church News. Married:—At the residence of the brides parents in Zion, on Thursday evening March 12th, by Rev. M. O. Noll, Mr. Lincoln H. Musser, of Fillmore, to Miss Gertrude Solt, of Zion. SONG SERVICE. The song service, which was to have taken place in the Reformed church, Bellefonte, on March 8th, and was postponed because of the illness of some of the members of the choir, will take place next Sunday evening, March 22. A treat may be expected, inasmuch as Prof. W. T. Meyer, whose ability as a musical director is well known, has thoroughly drilled the choir and orchestra for this occasion. F. & M. ALUMNI MEETING. On April 2nd, the Alumni of Franklin and Marshall College of Central Penna., will meet in Bellefonte. In the evening of the same day, the glee club of the above named college will give an entertainment for the benefit of the Reformed church, in the opera house, to which the public are cordially invited to attend. Tickets 50 and 35 cents. The following notice was taken from the Harrisburg Telegraph, gives some idea of the merits of the Glee Club: "The Franklin and Marshall College Glee and Mandolin clubs captured a large and appreciative audience at Association Hall last night. Their combined efforts in a fine program delighted everybody. No glee club that has ever appeared in Harrisburg was so well balanced and were concerted work was so effective. It was a great treat from beginning to end, and the encores were so frequent as to more than double the set programme." Farewell Surprise. Tuesday evening the residence of Mr. A. Sternberg, on High street, was the scene of quite a happy gathering. As all are aware, the above gentleman and family will leave soon for Seattle, Wash. and their many friends assembled on this occasion to give them a farewell. The party assembled consisted of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bower, John Bower, Miss Molly Snyder, Miss Ella Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lewins, L. Fabian, Col. Spangler, Wm. Singer, James Noll, Mrs. Page, Miss Julia Dorman, Miss Maggie Meyer, Ollie Meek and others. It was a jolly party and they made "Sterny" feel as young as he used to be. The surprise of the evening was when the guests served elegant refreshments and the host and hostess became guests in their own home. The party broke up at 12 o'clock when in parting they all bid adieu by wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sternberg and family a safe journey and a happy and prosperous future in their western home. Mr. Sternberg has been a resident of Bellefonte for some thirty years and he no doubt feels sad upon leaving his many warm friends and acquaintances, of that period. Saw logs Six Feet Through. Phillipsburg Ledger. George Blanchard, of Tacoma, Washington, was the guest of Mahlon Fryberger, on Wednesday. Mr. Blanchard is the son of Dudley Blanchard, who was formerly a citizen of Phillipsburg and Lock Haven, and was a prominent lumberman on the Susquehanna river and its tributaries. But his lumber operations in Pennsylvania were insignificant compared to his vast operations in Washington. Think of saw logs six feet in diameter, and trees that cut from five to seven twenty-four feet logs without a knot. George Blanchard told the writer that he had seen a saw log that was fifty-one feet in circumference. The logs are skidded by means of a steel wire rope and a portable steam engine. "As By Fire." An exchangesays: William R. Bierly, formerly of Williamsport, where he was connected with the press and afterwards a member of the State Legislature, and who is well known here, has met with a misfortune in the burning down of his newspaper office at Grand Forks, South Dakota, called the Northwest News. Mr. Bierly's loss is said to be about $8,000, on which there is an insurance of $3,000. Mr. Bierly formerly was of Miles twp., this county, where some members of the family reside. —The re-appointment of Rev. Houck, as pastor of the M. E. church of this place was well received. During the past conference year the membership of the congregation was increased 33, and 76 probationers were admitted.

The problem that is now occupying the attention of all persons who are good at figures is the following: A man who is about to give a banquet, has a piece of cheese 2 1/2 inches square and makes up his mind that he will send out as many invitations as he can get 1/4-inch square pieces of cheese out of the piece of 2 1/2 inches square. How many invitations does he send out? Who can guess it? Lucky Girl. The daughter of the editor of the Clearfield Raftman's Journal, Miss Alice McQuinn, was one of the lucky prize winners in the Canadian word contest, and she was delighted to receive a beautiful $35 silver tea service. This shows that good rewards attend those who are not afraid of mental work. Death of Mrs. Thompson. On Monday evening, Mrs. William Thompson, died at her home in Houserville. She was in her sixty-ninth year, and leaves a husband and two sons, C. A. Everett and Henry Thompson, both residing at Lemont. Mrs. Thompson was a member of the Presbyterian church of Lemont, and was an active worker of the Woman's Missionary Society of the church. Next Thursday evening the second contest will be held at the Franklin school house. This spelling rivalry was started by Mr. H. G. DeSylvia, teacher of the Zion schools. Swartz—Cassell. On Tuesday evening, Miss Annie Swartz, formerly of Bellefonte, and Mr. Cassell, of Scranton, were married at the residence of Mr. J. R. VanOrmer, Coatsville, Pa. The bride and groom expect to spend a few days of this week at Bellefonte, as the guests of Miss Ida Gerbrich. Dastardly Trick. One evening last week, while some young people were returning to their homes below Milesburg, they found a plank placed on the railroad track in such a way as to derail a train. It was placed near what is known as Weaver's crossing. The above rumor reached us in an indirect way and were unable to find any further particulars.
