"March like a roaring lion
 Right rampant came in
 With snow balls upon his whiskers,
 And ice upon his chin.
 But let him roar and bluster!
 Who cares a kilogram?
 For every body knows he's got
 To sneeze out like a lamb.

Does Experience Count?

It does, in every line of business, and especially in compounding and preparing medicines. This is illustrated in the great superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla over other preparations, as shown by the remarkable cures it has accomplished.

The head of the firm of C. I. Hood & Co. is a thoroughly competent and experienced pharmacist, having devoted his whole life to the study and actual preparation of medicines. He is also a member of the Massachusetts and American Pharmaceutical Associations, and continues actively devoted to supervising the preparation of and managing the business connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hence the superiority and peculiar merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is built upon the most substantial foundation. In its preparation there is represented all the knowledge which modern research in medical science has developed, combined with long experience, brain work, and experiment. It is only necessary to give this medicine a fair trial to realize its great curative value.

—The first robbers for the season were seen about last Sunday. That does not say that there will be no more blizzards.

A Family Duty.

The home circle is sacred and life has few charms indeed if family ties are burst asunder. The promotion of happiness and the prevention of sickness are of prime importance in every household. It is in the spring that old and young alike are most susceptible to the humors of disease that fill the atmosphere we breathe as we drink in the water we drink. The timely use of a reliable stimulant is the only sure way to guard against sickness in the home. Max Klein's "Silver Age" and "Diquesne" brands of pure rye whiskey are recommended by physicians as the best invigorant in the world. Both are sold under a sworn guarantee of purity. "Silver Age" at $1.50 per full quart bottle, and "Diquesne" at $1.25. These whiskeys are used exclusively in the leading hospitals which is sufficient evidence that they are the best obtainable.

Mr. Guckelmeier, Finch Gibson and Overholt are sold by Mr. Klein at 61 per quart, or six quarts for $5. His stock of wines, brandies, etc., is the largest in Pennsylvania. Goods promptly shipped to all parts of the United States. Send for catalogue and price list, mentioning this paper. Max Klein, 82 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa.

The Law prohibiting the sale of liquor on Decoration Day has passed the Legislature at Harrisburg.

The season of malaria and bad colds is here. A little stimulant has often saved doctor bills. Yes, even life has been saved by it. Physicians of national reputation will endorse Klein's Silver Age Rye Whiskey, and it is within the reach of the poorest. It is sold for $1.50 everywhere. If your druggist, your hotel or liquor stores do not keep it send direct to Max Klein for it, or anything in the liquor line. He keeps a full and complete stock of it. He sells all Pennsylvania Ryes, six years old at $1.00 each or six quarts for $5.00. In fact, his price list and complete catalogue will be sent to you free, if you write to him for it and mention this paper. He charges nothing for packing and ships to your home by express. He is reliable and trustworthy. His address is Max Klein, 82 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE

How the Wheels of Government Revolve at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, March 19.—In the senate house bill authorizing the governor to acquire ground for a mint building was reported favorably, and, on motion of Senator Osbourne, the rules were suspended and the bill passed first reading. Bills were reported favorably from committee as follows:

To prevent fraud in the sale of land; to prevent the spread of the growth of garlic; limiting the duration of liens on taxes; house bill authorizing boroughs to redeem outstanding bonds.

Bills were passed finally as follows: Directing the treasurer of Schuylkill county to refund the live stock yard dealers' taxes, heretofore illegally demanded and paid by them; authorizing the board of school directors in all independent school districts composed of parts of two or more adjoining counties to revise and equalize the adjusted valuations furnished by county commissioners of the respective counties, so as to establish a uniform basis for levying school and building taxes throughout the respective districts.

In the house the committee on education reported negatively the bill requiring the equipment of the common schools with dictionaries and scientific apparatus. The bill regulating the employment of janitors in Philadelphia school buildings was reported favorably.

The committee on agriculture reported favorably the bill to prevent the catching of speckled trout, except between April 1 and July 1; also the bill making thirty pounds the standard weight of a bushel of oats. The same committee reported favorably the bill to prevent the adulteration of vinegar; also the bill punishing the giving of a false pedigree of an animal.

HARRISBURG, March 20.—Mr. Parker, of Delaware county, introduced a resolution in the house yesterday, which was unanimously adopted, authorizing the appointment of a committee, to consist of three members of the house of representatives and two senators, to investigate the amounts expended by each of the soldiers' orphans' schools each year from 1875 to 1889.

This is a result of the charges published in the Philadelphia Record to the effect that recent revelations at Mercer, Pa., disclose the fact that the state had been robbed of over a million dollars in the management of the soldiers' orphan schools. The committee is directed to report the result of its investigations at an early date as practicable. The senate subsequently concurred in the resolution.

Starting Disclosures Looked For.

HARRISBURG, March 18.—Representative Wherry said to a correspondent of the legislature, commission to investigate the charities of this state is "in possession of information concerning the Eastern Penitentiary that if made public will shock the entire state. The appropriation committee of the house has practically been in possession of the same information for the past two years, but could not use it," said Mr. Wherry, "and the committee to investigate the charities was created for the special purpose of getting at those things. If the stories are true these Western penitentiaries is no better. This remark from Mr. Wherry was brought out by the publication of the fact that ex-Chaplain Ashton, of the Eastern Penitentiary, had been telling some remarkable stories of outrage at that institution. The matter is being rigidly investigated.

The Keystone Bank Closed.

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—The doors of the Keystone National bank were closed yesterday by order of the comptroller of the currency. Admission was then denied to all persons. During the financial stringency in the latter part of last year there were rumors affecting the bank's solvency, and a heavy run was made upon it, but the institution held out the run and was thought to be in a good financial condition. The largest depositor in the bank is the city of Philadelphia, which has a deposit of about $500,000. The authorized capital of the bank is $500,000, and the surplus of $100,000 was claimed.

Dairymen to Combine.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., March 21.—About 200 enthusiastic farmers and dairymen assembled in Doylestown to perfect an organization to be known as the Dairy-men's protective association. This organization designs to control the entire milk shipment now entering Philadelphia. Prices will be fixed by the association and strictly maintained. The meeting organized by electing Mr. S. B. Lazerer president. Other meetings will be held at various points along the North Penn, Newtown, Northeast Penn and Bound Brook railroads, with the same object in view.

Boiled to Death.

PITTSBURG, March 24.—Last Thursday Henry Reddy, whose home was on Beaver avenue, Allegheny, entered the salt works of Haller, Beck & Co., on Rebecca street, in an intoxicated condition. After a struggle, the watchman succeeded in putting Reddy out of the building. He sat down in an open window and has not been seen since. Yesterday his body was found at the bottom of one of the boiling salt vats. It is supposed that he went to sleep on the window sill and fell backward into the vat, where he was literally boiled to death.

Daily Gets There.

HARRISBURG, March 20.—The fight between Joe McAniff, of New York, and Jim Daly, of Philadelphia, took place near this city last night, and was a hard fought battle. Daly was to stay six rounds before the New Yorker, in the event of success he to receive the sum of $1,000. Over four thousand spectators were present, and they had their money's worth. The big New Yorker did his best to knock out the wiry Philadelphian in the time limit, but he failed to do so, and Daly is now $1,000 richer than he was.

Grip Spreading at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, March 24.—The grip is spreading. There is scarcely a business establishment here that does not report from two to twenty hands laid up. Several churches were closed Sunday because ministers were ill and unable to procure substitutes. At the Shady Side Presbyterian church prayer was offered for the grip sufferers Sunday night. The Italian congregation offered masses at the cathedral for the souls of the Sicilians lynched at New Orleans.

Killed by a Mine Elevator.

NANTUCKET, Pa., March 21.—William Del was killed by the sudden starting of a mine elevator yesterday.

GEN. JOHNSTON DEAD.

The Venerable Confederate General Yields to the Destroyer.

HE WAS CONSCIOUS TO THE LAST

His Demise Was Not Unexpected. He Suffered No Pain in His Final Illness—A Cold Contracted at Gen. Sherman's Funeral the Direct Cause.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Gen. Joseph E. Johnston died suddenly shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night, at his residence, on Connecticut avenue. The general has been suffering for the past three weeks from an affection of the heart, aggravated by a cold he caught soon after Gen. Sherman's funeral in New York. His physician has been trying to keep his strength up for several days, but his advanced age gave little hope for his recovery from the beginning of his illness.

The general did not seem to suffer in the least, and was conscious to the last. At his bedside were ex-Governor McLane, of Maryland, the general's brother-in-law, and the nurse. The immediate cause was heart failure, due in a measure to the cold contracted, but more particularly due to extreme old age.

Signs of Breaking Down.

At times for about two years Gen. Johnston has shown unmistakable signs of a general breaking down. His mind often became bewildered so that he could not tell where he was or how he came there. Some days after the Sherman funeral the general one night got up out of his bed while in a state of profuse perspiration, which greatly agitated him.

His physician, Dr. Lincoln, succeeded, however, with much difficulty in arresting the disease for a time, and for a day or two he seemed to be really improving. On the 14th inst. he went down stairs without assistance, as he had before, but it proved too much for his strength, and only with the aid of Governor McLane could he again reach his bed or even rise from the sofa where he was sitting.

The Last Sigh.

From that time he continued to grow weaker until about 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when Dr. Lincoln found him perfectly comfortable and apparently a little better.

While his friends and attendants knew that he might pass away at any time, they had no warning that the end was so near.

Governor McLane entered the room at a little after 11 o'clock, and as he approached the general's bedside he heard an almost inaudible sigh, and the general was dead.

Gen. Johnston's nearest living relative is a sister, Mrs. Mitchell, who lives in this city.

The funeral will take place from St. John's Episcopal church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, after which his remains will be taken to Baltimore and be interred alongside of his wife. There will be no display, military or otherwise, either here or in Baltimore. The honorary pallbearers are Senators Daniel and Mahone, the Hon. J. L. Curry, formerly minister to Spain; Gen. J. G. Parke, Gen. Chas. W. C. Field, Henry Heth, Rear Adm. Rogers and Temple, Gen. Wright, Benjamin W. Brice, Col. Archer Anderson, Col. E. G. Harris, J. C. Bancroft Davis and Gen. Ames Walmough.

Gen. Johnston's Career.

Gen. Johnston was the last, save Gen. Beauregard, of the six full generals of the Confederacy. He was born at Cherry Grove, Va., in 1807, and was graduated from West Point in 1829, in the same class with Gen. Robert E. Lee. He was appointed second lieutenant of the Fourth Artillery, and first saw active service in the field in 1832 in the Black Hawk Indian expedition. He was promoted to major in 1838, and was aid-de-camp on Gen. Winfield Scott's staff in the Seminole war. He participated in all the important battles connected with Gen. Scott's campaign in Mexico, from the taking of Vera Cruz to the capture of the City of Mexico. He was thrice promoted for gallantry during this war, and in 1848 was mustered out of the service as a lieutenant colonel of volunteers, only to be reinstated by congress with his original rank of captain of the Topographical Engineers. In 1858 he was acting inspector general in the Utah expedition. He was commissioned quartermaster general of the United States army in June, 1860, but resigned the following April to enter the Confederate service, in which as a major general of volunteers he assisted Gen. Lee in the work of organizing the men who were pouring into Richmond.

Subsequently he was commissioned a brigadier general in the regular Confederate service, and was placed in command of Harper's Ferry. He joined forces with Beauregard, and remained in command of the consolidated troops until 1862. At the battle of Seven Pines he was wounded, and incapacitated for duty for about six months.

His next service was as commander of the Army of the Tennessee, and he employed the winter of 1862 to reorganize his command, which had become demoralized by the defeat at Missionary Ridge. He was relieved of his command in July, 1864, by order of the authorities at Richmond. Gen. Hood succeeded him. Early in 1865 Gen. Lee again assigned him to the command from which he had been relieved, and ordered him to drive back Sherman.

Gen. Johnston urged Lee to abandon Richmond, join forces with him, and fight Sherman before Grant could come up; but Lee replied that it was impossible for him to leave Virginia, as his force was small. Gen. Johnston, declining a decisive engagement, hung on Sherman's flanks, annoying the latter and impeding his march from Atlanta towards Richmond as much as possible. Lee surrendered at Appomattox, and Johnston, obtaining the consent of President Jefferson Davis that the war should not be further protracted, entered into negotiation with Sherman. The first agreement framed was disapproved by the Federal government, and on April 26 a second agreement was concluded.

Gen. Johnston after the war became successively president of a railroad company in Arkansas, of an express company in Virginia, and an insurance agent in Georgia. He was elected to congress from the Richmond district in 1871, and next saw public life as commissioner of railroads, which office he held under President Cleveland's administration. He has lived in this city since he lost his office under the present administration.
