THE BROOKLYN DIVINE'S SUN DAY SERMON.

Subject: "Come, See the Place Where the Lord Lay."

TEXT: "Come see the place where the Lord lay."—Matthew xxviii, 6.

Visiting any great city, we are not satisfied until we have also looked at its cemetery. We examine all the styles of con-

It has for surroundings the manor in the suburbs of Jerusalem, a manor owned by a wealthy gentleman by the name Joseph.

I walk a little further on in the parterre and I come across a cluster of rocks, and I see on the floor of a sculptor's chisel.

Mark well the mausoleum in the rock. It is to be the most celebrated tomb in all the ages, catacombs of Egypt, the pyramids, Mahal Taj of India, nothing compared with it.

I think embalmment was omitted. When in olden times they wished to embalm a dead body, the priest with some pretension of medical skill would show the point between the ribs where the incision was to be made.

Then the operator would come and make the incision, and then run his hand up his side he would be slain for violating the sacredness of the body.

A regiment of soldiers from the tower of Antonia is detailed to guard that mausoleum. At the door of that tomb a light rock place which decided the question for the soldiers and cemeteries.

There and then was shattered the tomb so that it can never be rebuilt. All the trowels of earthly masonry cannot mend it.

While standing around the place where the Lord lay I am impressed with the fact that mortuary honors cannot atone for wrongs to the living.

Standing in this place where the Lord lay I am impressed with the fact that floral and sculptural ornamentation are appropriate for the places of the dead.

Standing in this place where the Lord lay I am impressed with the indignity of unpretending obsequies. Joseph that day was mourner, sexton, liverman—had the entire charge of all the obsequies.

Christ looks out from heaven at a burial where there are six in attendance, and remembers there are six in the market of costly wood, pearl beads, scarlet and gloves are not necessary.

the funeral rites, and widowhood or orphanage go out to the cold charity of the world. The departed left enough property to have kept the family together until they could take care of themselves, but it is all absorbed in the funeral rites.

Again, standing in this place where the Lord lay, I am impressed with the fact that you cannot keep the dead down. The seal of the Sanhedrin, a regiment of soldiers from the tower of Antonia to stand guard, floor of rock, roof of rock, wall of rock, niche of rock cannot keep Christ in the crypt.

Various scriptural accounts say that the work of grave breaking will begin with the blast of trumpets and shoutings; whence I take it that the first intimation of the day will be a sound from heaven such as has never been heard.

From New York to Liverpool, at every few miles on the sea route, a group of hundreds of spirits coming down to the water to meet their bodies. See that multitude. That is where the Central America sank.

Wake up, my friends, this day, this glorious Easter morning, with all these congratulations. If I understand this day, it means peace toward heaven and peace toward earth.

Resurrection from death and sin to the life of the gospel. Resurrection of apostolic faith. Resurrection of commercial integrity. Resurrection of national honor.

Christ, the Lord, is risen to-day. Sons of men and angels say, Raise your songs and triumph high, Sing, ye heavens, and earth reply, Love's redeeming work is done, Fought the fight, the battle won, Lo! the man's eclipse is o'er, Lo! he sets in blood no more.

The Oldest White Man. The oldest white man, probably, in the United States whose age can be clearly authenticated, is Eli Gray, who resides at Roxbury, Delaware County, N. Y.

Mr. Gray says he remembers the date of the occurrence, October 3, 1792, and he was intimate with the family until past middle age. Mr. Gray's mother, as is also shown by the town records of Weston, lived to be 120 years old.

Mr. Gray lives in a little hut near Roxbury and, though failing mentally and physically, can still give many reminiscences of olden times. The town of Roxbury appropriates $354 yearly for his care and maintenance.

INTERNATIONAL LESSON FOR APRIL 5.

Lesson Text: "Saved From Famine," 2 Kings vii, 1-16—Golden Text: Psalm cvii, 8—Commentary.

To-day's lesson brings before us Samaria so besieged by the Syrians that there is a terrible famine, and mothers are so crazed by hunger that they eat their own children.

1. "Then Elisha said, Hear ye the word of the Lord." The king of Israel professed to the people that he had horror at the doings of the king who had put his throne in execution.

2. "Behold, in the Lord would make windows in heaven might this thing be." Thus spake a companion of the king of Israel, in reply to the word of the Lord by Elisha, that to-morrow there would be food in abundance.

3. "And they rose up in the twilight to go into the city because of their leprosy, who are in a most pitiable condition. They are dying slowly of disease; hunger is now hastening their death—there is no relief from the city; shorten their misery, but possible may take pity on them and save them. It is their only hope, and their minds are made up. The condition of these men was sad indeed, but what about those in all Christendom who are on the verge of the second death and are indifferent to it?"

NEWS AND NOTES FOR WOMEN.

Every shade of gray is popular. Gingham comes in great variety. String your neck with silver beads. Stripes are exhibited on every side. Daintiest of all are the India mulls. Metal ribbons are a marked feature. Laces are coming into fashion again. Street dresses will run largely to cloth.

White broche is now in demand for neglige robes. The Empress of Austria employs a female doctor. There are fifty or more female physicians in Chicago.

Hairdressing just now is very elegant and remarkably simple. The manicures say that a pretty woman rarely has a pretty hand. A point d'Alencon shawl has been known to sell for $10,000.

Mrs. Campbell Praed is probably the prettiest of English literary women. There are fifty-nine women in New York City who keep provision stores. The only woman in America who is an operatic conductor is Miss Emma Steiner.

In the last five years twenty-seven American girls have married Chinamen. Individual asparagus tongs are novelties that may serve a purpose as wedding gifts. The late Lady Roseberry, of England, bequeathed to her secretary, Miss Moick, $1500 a year.

Mrs. R. L. Stuart's collection of laces would easily sell for several hundred thousand dollars. Stripes, checks, plaids and mixtures are about equally divided between fabrics for both sexes.

Mme. Henri Greville says that the American woman makes too many acquaintances and too few friends. Vice-President Morton's wife and Mrs. W. C. Whitney have laces worth from fifty to seventy thousand dollars.

Many years ago George W. Childs instructed his assistant editor never to let a witticism reflecting upon gentle woman creep into the columns of the Philadelphia Ledger. A new mull of sealskin has gauntlet-like pieces added about the openings for the hands, which give the wearer the appearance of having on deep gauntlet gloves. It is exceedingly comfortable.

A bright young girl who has fine taste earns her living in New York by superintending the arrangements for any kind of entertainment. She decorates the table and makes some delicious dishes with her own hands. Cora Bacon Foster, of Houston, one of the most successful real estate agents in Texas, has immortalized herself by voting at the election held recently in that city. She is the first woman who ever voted in Texas.

Tailor-made gowns can be worn only by women who can walk gracefully. It is a notorious fact that few women walk well. I might also add that tailor-made gowns can be worn only by women who can afford them.

"Carmen Sylvia" has a great literary admirer in the Sultan of Turkey. The Queen of Roumania recently sent a superb edition of her works to the Ottoman potentate, who has expressed great pleasure in reading the Queen's poems.

The craze for elegant embroideries has spread from gowns to wraps, until the models employed are legion. Exquisite visages and jaunty jackets are richly decorated with gold and blue silks and finished with chenille fringes that are in tone with the embroideries.

A very pretty idea—that of the Young Ladies' Amateur Pigeon Club in a London suburb. A quartet of pigeons makes them independent of telephone and postoffice for arranging teas and lawn tennis. Was not this carrier-pigeon habit perhaps at the bottom of the myth that made pigeons the winged steeds of Venus?

Spring Is Here. When nearly everybody needs medicine to purify the blood and tone up the system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla grows more and more popular every year for it is the best.

Spring Medicine EVERY MOTHER Should Have It in The House.

Those who believe that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure them are more liable to get well than those who don't. If you happen to be one of those who don't believe, there's a matter of $500 to help your faith. It's for you if the makers of Dr. Sage's remedy can't cure you, no matter how bad or of how long standing your catarrh in the head may be.

The makers are the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N.Y. They're known to every newspaper publisher and every druggist in the land, and you can easily ascertain that their word's as good as their bond.

Begin right. The first stage is to purify the system. You don't want to build on a wrong foundation, when you're building for health. And don't shock the stomach with harsh treatment. Use the milder means.

You wind your watch once a day. Your liver and bowels should act as regularly. If they do not, use a key. The key is—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a dose.

"German Syrup"

We have selected two or three lines from letters freshly received from parents who have given German Syrup to their children in the emergencies of Croup. You will credit these, because they come from good, substantial people, happy in finding what so many families lack—a medicine containing no evil drug, which mother can administer with confidence to the little ones in their most critical hours, safe and sure that it will carry them through.

Ed. L. Williams, of Mrs. Jas. W. Kirk, Alma, Neb. I give it Daughters' College, to my children when Harrodsburg, Ky. I troubled with Croup have depended upon and never saw any ill effects of Croup preparation act like with my little daughter. It is simply invaluable remedy.

Fully one-half of our customers are mothers who use Boschee's German Syrup among their children. A medicine to be successful with the little folks must be a treatment for the sudden and terrible foes of childhood, whooping cough, croup, diphtheria and the dangerous inflammations of delicate throats and lungs.
