DOINGS IN COURT.

THE ATTENDANCE NOT VERY LARGE.

Judge Rhoads Absent—Gottlieb Haag's License Refused on General Principles—Some of the Com. Cases tried—New Stenographer.

The April term of court convened on Monday morning with a fair attendance. As the farmers are busy in their fields only such came as were summoned or had urgent business.

Judge Furst and Associate Judge Riley were upon the bench, Asso. Judge Rhoads being absent, in Philadelphia attending the funeral of his sister.

At the Court Reporter's desk sat Mr. J. Frank Coudon, of Johnstown, who was appointed to fill the position formerly held by W. F. Reber, Esq.

The Grand Jury was called and organized for work with the appointment of W. B. Mingle, of Centre Hall, as foreman and after receiving the usual instructions retired to pass upon the list of commonwealth cases on the docket.

HAAG'S LICENSE.

After weeks of hesitation, dilly-dallying and an unusual amount of unnecessary delay the Court announced its decision against the application of Gottlieb Haag, of Bellefonte, for a retail liquor license. The Court made a mistake by not rendering the decision one way or the other last March. It should not take a month to decide such a matter. It is our impression that under existing statutes Haag was as much entitled to license as any others, and more particularly, as the farmers and people from the country feel at home in his hotel. He further presented a petition signed by over twelve hundred citizens of the county praying that license be granted him. Yet with all this the Court refused. In this decision we doubt if public sentiment will support the Court.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The first case called was a civil suit of Charles Witmer vs. Buffalo Run railroad to recover $60 from the company for killing a cow last March.

Owing to a misconception of the Act of Assembly under which the case was brought the plaintiff suffered a non-suit.

The next case was the Commonwealth vs. Daniel Keene and Annie Keene. The prosecutrix was Miss Lizzie Keene his daughter, and the parties were from Penn township. Some time in last December, Lizzie Keene in company with Deputy Sheriff Wilson went to her father's home with a writ of replevin by the court to recover some personal property. While at the house it appeared that a little family quarrel turned up in which Henry Keene choked his daughter and pushed her over some furniture. Mr. Keene denied that he had roughly handled the daughter. The jury retired at 4 p. m. and returned a verdict of assault and battery against Henry Keene, in manner and form as indicted.

The next case was Commonwealth vs. Foster Fannon; prosecutor Harry Barnes. One Sunday a dispute arose between these two parties at the barn of George Lutz in Benner township, about a bridle in which Fannon struck young Barnes with the butt end of a whip inflicting a painful scalp wound.

TUESDAY MORNING.

The court called Henry Keene forward and imposed a fine of $10 and costs of prosecution.

Mr. Meyer then arose and asked for the discharge of Frank Charles and Craig Crossmire, charged with train wrecking, as there was not sufficient evidence in his possession to go to trial. The Court discharged the two prisoners and all witnesses summoned on the case.

Joseph Page plead guilty to f. and b. against Laura N. Smith and the usual sentence was imposed.

The case of assault and battery against Fannon was given to the jury and he was found guilty.

Fianna Kolpeter appeared before court and plead guilty to the charge of adultery. She is a married woman, but for some years had been co-habiting with an Italian, unaturalized, and to them two children were born. She was sentenced to six months imprisonment. James Ross, the defendant, was fined $100 and the usual sentence. Henry Quigley was counsel for the woman and stated the case to the court. That was his maiden effort.

Com. vs. Gertrude Quick charged with open lewdness. Harry Keller was appointed counsel for the girl. She is a young girl of about 17 years of age whose mother was dead and her father had neglected her and naturally became a bad young Miss whose bold actions needed restraint. The case was soon disposed of and Gertrude was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

Tuesday afternoon was devoted to the hearing of the Commonwealth vs. P. B. Schwartz forger case. Robert Confer accused the defendant of forging his name to an article of agreement. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The two Frenchmen from near Osceola, charged with placing an obstruction upon the railroad track, were discharged upon paying the costs. Their names were Charles and Cesar Lafort.

Dr. Hibler, Dr. Robert Hayes and J. P. Gephart, Esq., were appointed a commission to inquire into the mental condition of Alex Grimes, who was caught setting fire to the mountains near Woodward.

Wm. Shortlidge plead guilty to the charge of assaulting Frank Graw an employee. He claimed he was greatly aggravated by Graw and that caused him to do it. Sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs of prosecution.

Calvin Fannel, the boy arrested with Grimes for setting fire to the mountains near Woodward plead guilty and will likely be sent to the Huntingdon Reformatory.

In the case of Margaret Motter vs. Harry Simler, to recover value of horse and buggy sold as the property of her husband by Simler, jury retired at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon.

The last case called Wednesday afternoon was Dale, Hart & Co. vs. H. W. Hoover, Agt. Dispute of account; case adjourned to this morning.

The Court appointed the following committee: Abraham Y. Wagner, Samuel Decker, Andrew Harter, Hezekiah Hoy and Wm. Wolf as viewers, with John B. Linn, Esq., as Master to view the Boalsburg and Bellefonte turnpike, condemn and assess the damages for same.

BILL IGNORED.

The grand jury completely ignored the suit brought against several boys, for malicious mischief, while attending a wedding serenading at the residence of David Solt, at Zion. The costs were placed upon Mr. Solt and the boys about Zion have reason to rejoice over their fortunate escape from Sheriff Ishler's home on the hill.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

They find that a number of repairs are still needed about the jail and especially new locks on the cells.

They recommend the removal of the water closet, back of the court house and better accommodations for female witnesses while attending court.

HOUSE BURNED.

On Monday evening the alarm of fire was sounded for the north ward and a dwelling house on east Lamb street was found ablaze. The steamer was soon stationed at the nearest fire plug and by hard work the fire was put out. The building burned for some time and is a complete ruin. It was the property of Gen. Beaver. The building was worth about $2000 and was fully insured.

The fire is thought to have been the work of tramps who were seen prowling about the premises that evening. No one occupied the building.

John Knicely, a member of the Logan Hose company, while handling the nozzle, received a severe cut across the eye and it is feared that his sight may be injured therefrom.

TWO CLOSE DEATHS.

Lucy Leinbach died at her late home, near Nittany, April 17, 1891. Aged 70 years 2 months 2 days.

Elias Leinbach, the husband of the above, died at the same place, April 22, 1891. Aged 74 years, 6 months, 8 days.

Mother and father Leinbach were married May 2nd 1839, having lived together nearly fifty-two years—they died in the same house.

Having joined hand in hand through a long life, death did not long part them. They were highly respected by all and will be greatly missed.

Yes, "Eli" will be missed by those who received kindnesses from him, and they were many. It is said he was too good for his own good.

"They rest from their labors and their works do follow them." X

GLASS WORKS CLOSE.

Last Friday the Bellefonte Glass Works closed for the summer season. This was caused by a dispute between the firm and the workmen and the works will likely remain idle for the balance of the summer. This will throw quite a number of men out of employment and at a time when they will find it difficult to get work in this section.

MORNING MAIL.

Hereafter a mail pouch will be made up every morning for the 6 o'clock train over the Lemont road, and will be transferred at Paddy Mountain to the mail train coming from Lewisburg. In this way the mail will be distributed for all points between Coburn and Bellefonte. A special pouch will also be sent each day from State College by the 5:15 evening train. This is quite an improvement and will be appreciated by the community.

CHANGED HIS NAME.

On Monday upon a petition being made to court, Marcuis Podolsky, employed for a number of years in Lyons & Co's store was granted the privilege of changing his name to Jacob Marks, as it was never easily pronounced or written. The change was a good one and others should follow the same plan instead of having jaw breakers for names.

LEFT SEATTLE.

We hear that Mr. A. Sternburg did not find the far West as inviting as was pictured. It is said that he and his wife and two sons returned last week from Seattle, and are now at Allentown, staying at the home of their daughter.

Gen. Hastings will deliver his popular lecture, entitled "Reminiscences of Johnstown" in Garman's opera house next Monday evening.

INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE.

Craig Crossmire and Frank Charles Discharged—No case Against them.

On Tuesday morning the indictment against Craig Crossmire and Frank Charles, two young men of Milesburg, for train wrecking was withdrawn by Mr. Meyer, the District Attorney. This course was a surprise to many but it was the only fair and reasonable ground to be taken by Meyer. The reason for this was very simple. When the arrests were made the evidence submitted at the hearing was of a circumstantial nature and by no means of direct character. Mr. Meyer did all in his power to search for information but nothing whatever could be obtained that would warrant him in going to trial in the case. There was nothing that would convince a jury that these young men were guilty of such a crime and it was only just and proper that they be discharged. The citizens of Milesburg were unanimous in this belief and we are glad to see that these two young men have undergone the most searching scrutiny and are now free without the least imputation against their characters. If there ever should be any opportunity to discover who the guilty party was in this fiendish crime no one should give more assistance to the court in prosecuting the criminal than the two young men discharged.

HAD BOTH HIS LEGS BROKEN.

On Monday of this week James, an adopted son of J. B. Gentzel, of Spring township, met with a most painful accident. The boy was leading a horse to the well, a short distance from the barn, to water him and on the way back the animal began to jump and play. This the boy thought was great sport, but the horse soon got advantage of the lad and began to run, dragging him through a gate and threw him against a post, striking it with his legs, and they were both broken just below the knee. Mr. Gentzel, who was in the barn at the time, heard the boy's cries and at once came to his assistance. A physician was summoned and his painful injuries were attended to. Boys should be more careful when handling horses.

A HANDSOME NEW CHURCH.

The new Reformed church at Zion, for which the foundation was laid about two years ago, is now almost completed. Mr. Hook, of Boalsburg, the plasterer, recently finished his contract and one can see at a glance that he thoroughly understands the business, as it is a first class job. Beautiful stained glass windows have been put in the building, most of them bearing the names of deceased members of that congregation. The church will be supplied with the finest kind of furniture and when all is done the Reformed congregation of Zion will, without an exception, have the handsomest church in Centre county.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

On Thursday, April 23, the new Presbyterian church at Milesburg, was the scene of a beautiful marriage ceremony. The contracting parties were Mr. Chas. B. French and Miss Laura Loveland, of Snow Shoe, and Mr. Geo. F. Williams, of Philipsburg, and Miss Josie A. French, of Milesburg. Although the new edifice was not completed yet everything was handsomely decorated and arranged for the occasion and a large company of friends and invited guests assembled to witness the occasion.

A STRIKE FEARED.

There are strong indications of trouble in the Centre and Clearfield mining district and it is feared that a long and vicious strike of all the miners in that scope of country may take place. It seems that the coal miners are continually in a turmoil and squabble with their operators and are not satisfied unless engaged in some such move. There is no class of workmen in the country that causes as much trouble as the miners and there may by provocation for much of it.

STATE COLLEGE ASSEMBLY.

The reception at State College, given by class of '91 on last Friday evening, was a success and was largely attended by young folks from this place and adjoining towns. Stopper & Fisk's orchestra, consisting of eleven pieces, furnished elegant music for the dancing. The class will give another reception next June during commencement week, and it will attract many to that place.

FIRE AT WARRIORSMARK.

On Sunday morning a frame dwelling house one mile north of Warriorsmark was destroyed by fire, caused by a defective flue. The house was owned by Joseph Mingle, of Tyrone, and occupied by J. H. Gates. Nearly all the contents were destroyed, loss about $1,500 on which there was no insurance.

WILL BE CONTAGIOUS.

Some reckless, thoughtless, theorist, little understanding the significance of what he has done, comes out with the statement that ice cream is a grip cure, and it is seriously feared that the grip will hold on all summer and all the girls will be afflicted.

PECULIAR FIND.

While engaged in spreading manure which had been taken from a car in which horses had been shipped, L. H. Davidson, of Milroy, Mifflin county, found a gold watch and chain, said to be worth $75.

4TH OF JULY.

BELLEFONTE WILL CELEBRATE THE DAY.

The National Holiday will be Properly Observed—Big Time—Big Crowd—Good Amusements.

It has been a long, long time since Bellefonte has stirred itself enough to get up a big time at home and have the people come to Bellefonte from neighboring towns in place of us going away each year.

For that reason it is highly appropriate that in the year 1891, 4th of July be properly observed at Bellefonte and the proclamation to that effect is hereby issued.

The Logan Hose company we understand have the matter under consideration and will likely carry it through. A big fireman's parade, accompanied by local orders and societies, would make a fine display. Also have able addresses delivered in the Court House.

Arrangements have been made for a game of base ball between the Penna. R. R. team, of Philadelphia, and a Bellefonte team for the afternoon, and in the evening a grand pyrotechnic display from jail hill would complete the program.

It will take a bit of money to pay the expenses of such a day but every business house would be well paid for the investment.

Let us celebrate the 4th of July in great shape.

NITTANY AND VICINITY.

Reuben Emerick is lying seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia.

Horace Winkelman says "there's nothing like it," and its a girl too. A young child of Charles Beck is afflicted with pneumonia.

Our enterprising merchant, W. E. Shaffer, betook himself to Cherry Run the other day in quest of those speckled little birds called trout to try and hire them to take a nibble at the tempting bait he offered them (a rasin with a bug in it) and we think he succeeded. He returned home with the proceeds of his day's fishing in his vest pocket, namely, two minnows, a small chub and a tadpole. The tad-pole was blind, the small chub couldn't see very well and the minnows were young and inexperienced and therefore easily victimized by such an alluring fisherman as Will.

Now some people do say that chickens are more than ordinarily wild the day the minister is expected for dinner. We had a striking illustration of that last month right here in our own neighborhood. The Lord of the household was called in from his work about 10 o'clock in the forenoon and was informed that the preacher had come for dinner and that he (the husband) should catch a chicken and kill it for the occasion. Well, of course he considered this an easy job and picking up a stick proceeded straight away to the barn to carry out his wife's request, but lo, when he arrived there, all the fowls in sight were an old clucking hen and a scape-grace young rooster. He made for that rooster with a vim and the rooster had quite as much vim as he, making his escape into an acre lot adjoining the barn-yard with serene contentment stamped upon his brow as he commenced scratching out oats with a will. The farmer cast one look of wrath upon that wayward fowl and started for the old hen. Things went all right until the hen took it into her head that exercise was what she needed most and the fun commenced, around and around the little remnant of a straw stalk they rushed, the farmer getting madder and forgetting more of his grammar every moment, when at last imagine his consternation upon looking up and beholding the minister looking him full in the face. Now came a scene of embarrassment. The farmer denying "curs" words and blaming the swearing on the hen, but just at this juncture the wife arrived upon the scene and a council of war was held.

Their plans matured, they called their dog, crawled the fence and vowed to have that rooster for dinner or die in the attempt, and the way they raced that belated shanghai around that acre lot was awful and exciting to behold. At last they got him headed toward a corner, the husband keeping vigil on one side the wife on the other and the dog bringing up the center, when the rooster would try to escape on one side the man would give it a whack with a club, if, on the other hand he would turn to the woman's side she would scare him out of a years growth by wildly brandishing her apron. But all matters must come to a climax and so did this one—they killed that poor rooster and ate him; but, alas, the minister could not preach for a week.

CHURCH TO BE COMPLETED.

The Lutheran congregation have made a contract with Thomas R. Zeigler, of Rebersburg, to have him build the brick work for their new church by next October. The roof will be put on immediately and it will be finished the next spring. Their location on the corner of Allegheny and Linn streets is a very desirable one and if the design of the structure is followed out, will make it an ornament to that part of the town.

It is just awful—cabinet photos $1.50 per doz. at Shaeffer's gallery.
