Marlboro, Md., May 5.—A very exciting scene was presented to the Marlboro correspondent yesterday, after a drive of nine miles through the lower part of Prince George's county, which is thinly settled, to the farm owned by Mr. Robert Connick, a southern Maryland planter, near the village of Horsehead, to view the charred remain so five children of William Coale, a prominent colored citizen of southern Prince Coopers county who were hurned on George's county, who were burned on Sunday night. The fire broke out about

The children—four girls and one boy—who always slept in the attic and generally retired about 8 o'clock, were asleep when the fire broke out. It is thought the children built a fire in the stove, owing to the coolness of the night, and through carelessness left the stove door open and the sparks therefrom ignited an old hen's nest in the chimney corner, which caused the conflagration. The first persons to arrive at the fire were Messrs. T. M. Naylor and Richard Naylor, neighbors, who lived about a mile from the house. When they reached the house the lower portion of the building and the roof were afire, and half way out of one of the burning windows was protruding the body of the boy. The flames had burned him into a crisp. In a few minutes a portion of the room fell in, and his skull fell from the window and was picked up by one of the persons who had gathered around.

After the fire had been extinguished through lack of material to burn longer several of those present raked among the embers and found seventeen bones in a bunch, the remains of the four girls, who always slept together.

This is the second time Coale has been visited by fire. The first time he also lost a child. The children's names were: Susan, aged 14; Matilda, aged 12; Jane, aged 11; Charles, aged 9, and Martha, aged 7. William Coale, the father of the burned children, is about 60 years old.

Great Excitement Over the Killing at Fourmies.

DYNAMITE FOR THE SOLDIERS.

Labor Leaders Said to Be Laying In a Supply of the Deadly Explosive for Future Use-The Incident Leads to an Exciting Scene in the Chamber of Deputies.

Paris, May 5.—The situation at Fourmies, Department du Nord, the scene of the fatal riot of May day, during the course of which six women, eight men and several children were killed and twenty persons seriously wounded by the soldiery, is one of the greatest grav-ity. Cavalry pickets will be stationed all along the route of the funeral proces-sion of the victims of the May day massacre, for such is the term applied to the tragedy by the people of Fourmies. The cavalry along the route will receive instructions to act promptly and effectively in the event of any trouble arising.

Dynamite for the Troops. So intense is the excitement of the working people that it is possible that the government will still further post-pone the funeral of the persons killed. The state of opinion among the wage earners of the northern department can be imagined from the fact that many of the leaders of the workingmen have de-parted for Belgium with the avowed purpose of collecting arms and dynamite wherewith to attack the troops.

A report has reached Fourmies that 300 kilogrammes of dynamite destined for the use of the people of that place has been seized

To Investigate the Killing.

Two delegates have been sent from this city by the government to Four-mies to make a searching inquiry into the causes which led to the riot, and into the action of the prefect at whose command the troops fired upon the people. In his report to the war department the commander of the troops at Four-mies assumes full responsibility for the action of his men on May day. He de-clares that the soldiers were ordered to fire only when it became evident that they were in danger of being either killed or disarmed. He also states that the mob was thrice summoned to dis-perse before the fatal fire was delivered. A section of the Left and Socialist and Boulangist deputies join in demanding a vote of censure against M. Constans, minister of the interior, as responsible for the slaughter. Parliamentary cir-cles view the affair as shaking the position of the ministry. Labor centers throughout France are profoundly moved, and public meetings here and at Marseilles, Lyons and elsewhere are be-ing organized to protest against the action of the authorities.

Minister Constans Assailed.

The chamber of deputies was yester-day the scene of a most exciting episode. M. Constans, the minister of the interior having replied to a question with regard to the Fourmies massacre, was about resuming his seat when he was bitterly assailed by the Radical deputy, M. Ernest Roche, who, springing to his feet, shouted at the top of his voice the word "Murderer." In a moment the chamber was an uproar, the members of the Right hurling executions at the the Right hurling execrations at the head of M. Roche, while the Radical deputies of the Extreme Left cheered and applauded their colleague.

Removed from the Chamber. In the midst of great confusion the chamber voted an order of censure and exclusion against the recalcitrant deputy. No sooner had this been done than M. Roche, shaking his clenched fists at the heads of the Conservatives and making his voice clearly heard above the din, which had now become terrific, in stentorian tones denounced them as "varlets worthy of their master."

At this point the officers approached the furious deputy and forcibly removed him from the chamber, which was now comparable only to a den filled with in-furiated wild beasts.

Ohio's Blind Senator Presides. COLUMBUS, O., May 5. — The two houses met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and spent most of the time until 11 o'clock in receiving messages. The most remarkable incident in connection with the closing exercises was the seat-ing of Maj. Palmer, the blind senator from Cleveland, in the chair, and he instantly recognized the members who addressed him by their voices. At 12 o'clock the senate adjourned. Ten min-utes later the house followed suit, and the sixty-ninth general assembly passed into history.

A British India Sensation.

BOMBAY, May 5.—A sensation has been occasioned in this city by the inquest upon the bodies of two Parsee ladies who were found lying dead in a pool of blood at the foot of the University clock tower. It is surmised that they had fallen 100 feet, and that they had either committed suicide or been thrown down by Mohammedans, or had jumped off to escape their importunities. The alleged culprits have not been traced, and the evidence thus far obtained does not explain the mystery.

Imprisoned by His Sailors. LONDON, May 5.—Capt. Weiss, of the German steamer Nestor, jumped into the sea off Dover and swam to a passing smack, and offered £250 to be taken ashore. He was landed at Dover, and informed the German consul that he had suffered from brain fever; that the crew of the steamer had kept him in irons until the vessel arrived in the chan-nel, when they released him, but did not allow him on deck, and that he bribed a cabin boy to facilitate his es-

Man and Wife Suffocated to Death. ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 5.—Early in the morning flames were discovered in a two story building on Nassau street. When the firemen had subdued the flames enough to enter the upper part of the building with ladders they found the bodies of a man and woman. Neighbors identified the man as being Herman Stephanski and the woman as his wife. They had died from suffocation.

Rev. Dr. Bothwell Dead. New York, May 4.—After two weeks of unparalelled suffering the Rev. Dr. George Bothwell, pastor of the Congregational church on Classen avenue, Brooklyn, died at the Brooklyn hospital last night. His death was caused by inhaling of a cork into the bronchial tubes. Several surgical operations and all that skill and science could devise failed to remove the obstruction.
