A GYPSY THIEF.

STOLE A BUGGY AND HAR-NESS AT HOWARD

On Sunday Night and is Caught Near Coburn the Next day-Lodged in Jail-Prop erty Recovered.

On Tuesday morning Constable Neff and Hayes Shenck landed a whelp in the county jail for stealing a buggy and harness from Jonathan Shenk of Howard, last Sunday night. For several days previous a band of Gypsies camped in that vicinity and annoyed the people by begging everything imaginable and stealing anything they could lay their hands upon. The men had a lot of old plugs that they used for trading stock and in that way they put in the time. On Sunday night the camp broke up and the party left for a new loafing place. On Monday morning Mr. Jonathan Shenk missed his top buggy and soon after discovered that he was also minus a good buggy harness. No one knew what had become of the property until Ause Shenk informed his brother that he had seen the missing property in the possession of a fellow who had been driving on the pike near Jacksonville. He was coming through Jacksonville narrows when he met thestranger driving a horse and top buggy on Sunday night, who wanted to know whether he could get through the toll gate that night yet.

Mr. Shenk swore out a warrant at once and placed it in the hands of Constable Neff and Hayes Shenk, who imediately -A number of Knights Templars, of started in pursuit of the man. As the stolen buggy had new tires put on it, they were able to trace the sharp track -Mr. Will Brew, now located at in the sand until they got near to Pittsburg, is taking a week's vacation | Madisonburg. Here they learned that the fellow stopped at a blacksmith shop and, not being able to trade his buggy, tore the top off and changed his rig to an open buggy. He then went across to Millheim and stopped a short time at Musser's hotel. That evening he went on towards Coburn.

Neff and Shenk continued in close pursuit of their man and when they came to Wm. Ruddy's blacksmith shop near Coburn, they found that he had traded his buggy to Mr. Ruddy and a drawing to a close we are anxious to little further on they caught their man. He had put up for the night, alongside the road and had gone to sleep in an old -Walter Crosthwait returned last wagon. Constable Neff took the fellow Saturday from Harrisburg where he on to Coburn where they remained that held a position the past two months as night and Tuesday morning he was brought to the Bellefonte jail. The bug_ gy and harness were recovered and taken back to their owner, Johnathan Shenk, Howard. The person is a shabby looking fellow, who is illeterate and can neither read or write. He is twenty-three years of age and says his home is at York, Pa. As might be expected, he strongly denied having stolen the property, but claims to have purchased it for a gold watch and fifteen dollars.

It is not likely that he will be seen tion in view across the mountain.

GRADUATING EXERCISES

The programme published was followed out at the graduating exercises of the class of '91 in the opera house on last Thursnay afternoon and evening. An immense audience was present and the majority were always of the fair sex. The graduating class, grouped in a circle upon the stage, presented a very pretty picture, while the decorations and stage settings added to the scene.

The orations and essays were all delivered in faultless style and were masterly productions.
