LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

SPECIAL NOTICE—I will make cabinet photos for $1.50 per doz. only until July 1st, 1891.

—York county pretzels at John Bauer's store.

—Bellefonte's public schools closed on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

—This Thursday evening the Lutheran congregation will hold a sociable at the residence of Rev. Hoshour.

—Ripe cherries are in market and the reports from all sections are that the crop will be unusually large.

—Ripe peaches are among the dainties offered on sale at our fruit stands. They are most too expensive for an editor.

—Misses Emma and Mary Moore, of Missoula, Montana, are visiting at the home of their brother Thomas Moore, the jeweler.

—It gives a man a great deal of satisfaction to see the hum of life and industry about the Valentine Iron Company's works.

—Bellefonte will have a time on the 4th and everybody will be here. The industrial parade promises to be the event of the day.

—Invitations for the annual commencement exercises at Pennsylvania State College were issued this week. The design is very neat.

—Dr. Atherton, of Penna. State College delivered the oration of the day before the graduating class at Annapolis Naval Academy last week.

—Mrs. James Taylor, of Union county, visited her aged mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gephart, of Zion, and other relatives throughout Centre county this week.

—The next event of the season will be the commencement exercises at State College this month. We understand an assembly will be given by the graduating class in the Armory.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Garman, of Philadelphia, are visiting at the home of Mr. Daniel Garman. "Dick," as he is familiarly known here, underwent a severe attack of typhoid fever during the past winter but is enjoying good health again.

—The entertainment to be given by pupils of St. John's Catholic school on June 24, in the opera house, promises to be a fine treat. The school is rehearsing and practicing daily, and great pains are being taken to make the affair a success.

—Our horsemen, and there are plenty of them, are bound to have a track near town for the purpose of training their steppers and having an occasional trot. A good race course will be appreciated; what is more, we are going to have one.

—Robbins' show was through this part of the state during last week and there were plenty of fellows who paid $5 and $10 for the privilege of lifting a small shell and as usual found nothing under it. Such experience comes high, but there are always a lot of fellows who must have it.

—J. H. DeLong, the postmaster at the new office "Livonia," lately established at the east end of Brushvalley, received his supplies and everything is in first-class working order in the new office; they mailed 63 letters and 4 postal cards the other day. Geo. W. Adams is employed as mail carrier. The mail carrier will leave Livonia regularly every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday noon.

—The reception given this evening by the Bellefonte Club promises to be one of the most brilliant social events of the season. It is said that over 400 invitations were issued and that no one will be admitted unless he presents his signed invitation at the door. The music will be furnished by Stopper & Fisk's orchestra of Williamsport. The club has a membership of 56 resident members.

LOOKS LIKE WILSON.

THINK THEY HAVE THE RIGHT MAN.

A Cabinet Photo Received on Tuesday—Strong Resemblance of the man who Murdered Waterhouse and escaped from Our Jail.

For the past few weeks District Attorney J. C. Meyer has been in correspondence with the authorities at Madison, Wisconsin, where a man is serving three months and answers the description in detail of John Wilson, who murdered Harry Waterhouse last summer at this place and broke jail last December. A reward was offered of over $400 for his capture and a number of arrests were made but each time the wrong man was suspected.

When the reward was sent out a detective by the name of J. M. Chambers, of Osceola Mills, Pa., mapped out a plan of his own. He placed an advertisement, giving a description of Wilson, in the Detective News, and kept it there ever since. This paper has a wide circulation among detectives and prison keepers who keep a sharp lookout for all escaped criminals. E. F. Burmeister, jail keeper at Madison, Wisconsin, read the reward and description of John Wilson and at once was struck with the likeness of a man in his keeping. His prisoner had a tattooed bracelet on his one arm and the figure of a woman tattooed also on the other arm; was of about the same build, size and weight; color of hair and eyes corresponded, and also had teeth missing from his upper jaw and one of his fingers was partly amputated. These facts were sent to the district attorney and he asked for a photo of the man. To this the prisoner objected and swore he would die before having his photo taken. By means of a detective camera several indistinct photos were obtained, but were not satisfactory. Since then the prisoner became very uneasy and his appetite failed him. He came to the conclusion that he would sit for a photo, and told a fellow prisoner that he could swell his face and change his features so that they could not recognize him. He would rather do that than have some one come to identify him. In the last photo it can be seen that his face is puffed out and the features are strained but a great many who saw the original John Wilson, here in court and in jail, pronounce them the same. And the general opinion from the photo is that he is the man wanted.

He explained the tattoo marks in a peculiar way. He admitted, to a prisoner who is acting the part of a spy, that he knows all about the crime. He met the escaped murderer, who tattooed him in the same way and then told him of the crime committed at Bellefonte. He said this was done so that the guilty man might more easily escape. He at another time said he was a sailor and got the tattoo marks at sea, and at another time pretended to be a house painter. He made another admission to this spy, saying he was the duck they were looking for but he was not going to give in.

Another apparently shrewd trick was that he had the end of his disfigured finger taken off but a short time ago and instead of having one tooth out of his upper jaw there are several missing now.

Taking all this information together it very strongly indicates that they have the right John Wilson in prison at Madison, Wis.

The last information received from Madison was a telegram that was received Tuesday morning which said "Wilson confessed" and asked for further information by wire. It is indefinite as to what he confessed. Mr. Meyer telegraphed back immediately for particulars of his confession which will probably settle the matter.

Death of Edward Graham. On Tuesday morning the venerable Edward Graham died at his home at this place from heart failure. He was ill for some time with the grip which finally affected his heart. Mr. Graham came from England when quite young and lived most of the time at this place. By trade he was a shoemaker.

He leaves his wife, five daughters and two sons. His daughters are Mrs. Gordon, Mrs. Harper, Misses Mary, Sallie and Emma. The sons are Messrs. Benner and Edward—the latter living in Clearfield county.

Another Insult. Bellefonte has a Young Ladies Mutual Aid Society, the object being to aid the members matrimonially. A young lady joining the society is guaranteed a husband inside a year.—From the Reporter.

Attention Gregg Post. The attendance of every member of Gregg Post No. 95 is requested at regular meeting, Monday 18th of June. Special and important business to be attended to. By order of J. H. RANKIN, W. H. TAYLOR, Adj'l. Comd'r.

—Nobby Spring suits made to order in the tailoring department of the Philad. Branch.

A RACE COURSE

To be Built at Bellefonte this Summer, also a Fair Ground.

During the past week a number of meetings were held at the Brocherhoff House for the purpose of organizing an association to build a race course and fix up a fair ground. The meetings were largely attended by prominent horsemen and especially merchants and business men who are ready and even anxious to make such an investment. It is their purpose to build a race track, and if possible revive the old Centre county fair which flourished here some years ago. Last week a piece of ground near Roopsburg was selected, but the Brocherhoff estate refused to sell it as they thought it would be needed by them for a new mill dam. Another suitable tract was found on the top of Halfmoon hill near the old fair ground which would answer the purpose and the same can be bought or leased. A meeting to consider the matter will be held this week.

From the disposition of those who attended the meeting we believe they are in earnest and that the old fair will be revived and an elegant race track will be finished this summer.

A Monster Swing.

A Meadville, Pa., resident is the only man who has yet come forward with an original suggestion worthy of note for the World's Fair in Chicago. His device, if practicable, will be both pleasure giving and money-making. He wants a mammoth swing, 500 feet high erected, to be operated by electricity. It will support a handson car, which will carry fifty persons. According to the designer's calculations, the car will swing a distance of 1,250 feet. At the extremity of each sweep it will lift the passengers a height of 460 feet, affording them a flash view of the exposition the city, surrounding country and lake. Midway in its flight the car will travel swifter than a bird and faster than a mile a minute. It is to be so stupendous and startling that it will be dubbed the eighth wonder of the world.

Mrs. Yearick Dead.

Mrs. Samuel Yearick died at her home near Madisonburg on Saturday from paralysis of the heart. The death of Mrs. Yearick is a severe stroke to Rev. Yearick who is also lying very ill with dropsy.

The funeral occurred on Tuesday morning; services being held in Yearick's Evangelical church, west of Madisonburg. The following ministers were present: Revs. S. Aurand, C. W. Finkbender, P. W. Weidenmeyer, P. F. Jarrett, C. V. B. Aurand, H. B. Barshinger, and they acted as pall bearers. The funeral was very largely attended as she was well and favorably known throughout the valley.

Died in Philadelphia.

Hon. John Walls, of Lewisburg, Pa., died last Friday in the University hospital, Philadelphia, in his 93rd year. About three weeks ago he had an operation performed for a cancer located on his face. When he was 78 years old he was afflicted with a cancer in the right arm and the arm was amputated. He then learned to write with his left hand. The deceased was the father-in-law of Judge Bucher, of Lewisburg; he was an associate judge, for a while, of Union county, and served a term in the State Senate.

Barn Burned by White Caps.

Richard Ashman, Esq., of Three Springs, Huntingdon county, has just suffered a heavy loss by fire. Warning had been given him by "White Caps" that his property would be burned Thursday night, but he paid no attention to the notice. At half past eight o'clock that evening his barn was discovered in flames, and in a short time that and all his farming implements and three hundred bushels of grain were destroyed. No reason can be assigned for the incendiary fire. The loss will reach $4,000, on which there is no insurance.

Sentenced for Carrying a Revolver.

At Williamsport Judge Mayer, who is holding court for Judge Metzger, sentenced a fellow to the penitentiary for carrying a revolver on his person. The individual was considerably surprised, but the law forbids the carrying of concealed weapons. He will know better when he comes out of prison.

Bucknell University.

The forty-first annual commencement of Bucknell University, at Lewisburg, will be held the week commencing June 22nd. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by President Harris on Sunday June 21st, in the Baptist Church.

—In connection with our groceries and dry goods—as the lowest cash prices in town—we see now prepared to pay the highest cash prices for the following goods: hides, wool, bees-wax, glassing, sheep skins, tallow and greases. Give us a call and we will assure you the utmost satisfaction.

—Miaige's shoe store carries a larger stock than ever. Solid goods and fair prices are the inducements.

—Unclaimed letters: Mr. Drape, Yano Sranownego, Nora Swanson, Eugene Snyder and Mrs. Annie Thompson. When called for say advertised.

STORM AT TYRONE.

The wall of the Opera House Collapses Injuring One Man.

A terrific wind and rain storm struck Tyrone at 4 o'clock on last Wednesday afternoon. During the progress of the storm the lately burned Conrad opera house building collapsed with a frightful crash, and, unfortunately, Harry Sutton, who was seeking shelter from the storm, was caught by the falling bricks and completely covered. He was rescued as soon as possible and taken into the drug store of Garner & Boecking where his injuries were given proper attention, after which he was removed to his home. Some others who were in the vicinity of the building made very narrow escapes. Great piles of brick and mortar were thrown into Herald street and the windows in the Herald office were badly damaged. These walls were condemned by council and ordered to be taken down the morning of the fire, but, owing to a disagreement between the insurance adjusters, and Mr. Conrad, they were left standing. The insurance company is undoubtedly at fault and it may cost them dear yet before matters are settled.

How a Brakeman Scared a Horse.

Eugene McCann, a Bald Eagle Valley freight brakeman, was severely injured Monday, by the explosion of one of the fuminating caps used by trainmen as signals. Brakeman McCann was a flagman, and his train was at a standstill waiting for another train to pass, when he saw an old horse grazing near the caboose, and thought he would have some fun. He placed the cap on the rail in the rear of the caboose and then struck it with the end of a pole which was kept in the car. The cap exploded and pieces struck him on the eye, one of them cutting a gash which required several stitches to close. Another piece flew past his head and knocked his hat off, but fortunately did not strike him in the face. The young man was taken to Dr. Watson's office, where his wounds were dressed, and he was afterwards sent to his home at Tyrone.

Sharer—Young.

Last Thursday afternoon a wedding occurred at the residence of Senator P. Gray Meek, this place. Mr. Samuel Sharer, of Albany, Illinois, and Miss Sophia Young, of Half Moon, were the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hoshour, of the Lutheran church. Elegant refreshments followed the ceremony.

The bride and groom were, later, driven to the home of Mr. David Sharer, Zion, a brother of the groom, where they were serenaded by the Zion band in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Sharer leave this week for their future home in Illinois, where Mr. Sharer has lived for over twenty years and is the owner of several valuable farms.

Bees—Stop a Train.

A swarm of bees, near Huntingdon, caused a temporary cessation of traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad, last Wednesday. While a freight train was passing the farm of M. K. Myton, above that city, a swarm of bees settled in the crib of the engine, driving the engineer and fireman from their posts. After the train had been stopped a long line of freight was kept waiting until the owner affected their removal. More than a bushel of bees were in the swarm.

Methodist Festival.

The members of the M. E. church of Rock Forge, Pa., will hold an ice cream festival on Saturday evening, June 20. Ice cream, cake and all the delicacies of the season will be served. Let everybody go and have a good time. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

Married in Illinois.

Miss Della M. Brisbin, sister of post master Brisbin, Centre Hall, was married on Tuesday, May 26th, at Winnebago, Illinois, to Mr. I. S. Lladley, of that place.

—A recent census of Johnstown, which now includes the various boroughs which were swept by the flood, shows that there has been an actual increase of 1,258 souls, notwithstanding the loss of 1880. Moreover, the town has been substantially rebuilt, seven new churches indicating the growth of the place in buildings of all kinds. One of the conspicuous new features of the city, is the hospital built as a memorial out of the surplus funds contributed for the relief of the inhabitants. Already the flood of two years ago is little more than a memory—a very sad memory for those who lost relatives and friends in the great rush of waters.—E.E.

A BIG TIME

AT BELLEFONTE ON THE 4TH OF JULY.

What is Being Done by the Committees—A Fine Display in the Street Parade—Large Display of Fireworks—A Large Turnout.

The committees in charge of the 4th of July celebration, to take place in Bellefonte this year, are making large preparations and everything indicates that it will be one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever held in this place. To begin with a handsome sum of money was subscribed and it will be judiciously expended.

The large 5-sheet colored posters were sent out this week. Answers have come from fire companies from different places signifying their intention to come. Sheridan troop from Tyrone is also expected. Enough companies have replied already to make an immense parade and many more are expected.

The industrial parade will contain large floats representing almost every business house in Bellefonte. Then the fanatics will have several hundred characters of the most ridiculous and comical description. The game of base ball between P. R. R. team of Philadelphia and Bellefonte boys, will be a fine treat. The fireworks will be a special feature and should not be missed.

In short, come to Bellefonte on the 4th for there is going to be a time—something worth seeing. Don't miss it.

A High Estimate.

Our townsman, Gen. D. H. Hastings, delivered the Decoration Day oration at the Mount Lebanon cemetery, Lebanon, Pa., this year. The Courier, of that city, places a high estimate upon the Gen. and among other things it says: "It seems to us that our State banded almost unparadically when she failed to acknowledge his brilliant talents and lofty character by elevating him to the office of her highest honor and dignity. He is destined to rise, his superiority being marked so signally—physically, mentally, socially and politically. His wide grasp, his versatility, his varied experience, his mature judgment and his tact make him strong intellectually as he is gigantic physically. He is decidedly a powerful representative of the common people, the class which makes up the muscle and brain and character of our great Commonwealth and Nation."

Distinguished Visitor.

On last Thursday ex-senator, William A. Wallace, of Clearfield registered at the Bush House and spent the day in town. Many prominent democrats of our town called upon the venerable statesman and were pleased to find him looking hale and hearty, and as brilliant as ever. In former campaigns, in the 70 ties, he made a great many democratic speeches throughout our county and his many admirers in old Centre will be glad to hear that he is enjoying his usual good health, and that his democratic enthusiasm has not in the least abated.

The Senator's financial matters are in good shape and none of his creditors lost a dollar by his recent embarrassment. His coal lands are exceedingly valuable and furnish him with a large income.

Tandem Turnout.

We think the first tandem turnout seen in Bellefonte was driven through our streets on Friday evening, by W. Fred Reynolds. In "Tandem" style two horses are usually driven, and instead of hitching the team abreast, they are harnessed single-file. It is a popular turnout in the cities and especially at the summer resorts. Tandem turnouts are quite a novelty in this section and naturally attract attention.

Pretty Graduates.

On Wednesday morning the commencement exercises of the class of '91, of Birmingham Seminary, occurred. The class comprises five young ladies—Misses Agnes Cooper, of Asbury Park, N. J.; Sue B. Jaus, of Harrisburg; Lydia Lewis, of Catawqua; Ora Taylor, of Altoona, and Helen Thompson, of Lemont.

A Salary.

With expenses paid will come handy to anyone who is now out of employment, especially where no previous experience is required to get the position. If you want a position, see advertisement elsewhere, headed, "A Chance to Make Money." x July 3

—If you intend to buy a new suit of clothes don't fail to call at the Philad. Branch.

About Spring Fever.

Who hasn't suffered from this disease? We say disease advisedly, for such it is. It is a general relaxation of the system that makes the victim averse to exertion. Unless the constitution is keyed up when these symptoms appear, some acute malady attacks the most vulnerable point and life is endangered. A good stimulant promptly and properly used, tones up the weak spots. Leading physicians of the land invariably recommend the use of Pure Rye Whiskey in such cases. Max Klein's "Silver Age" and "Bismarck" Rye Whiskies are sold under a sworn guarantee of purity so that the consumer takes no risk—"Silver Age" at $1.50 and "Bismarck" at $1.25 per full quart bottle. Mr. Klein also keeps the largest and choicest stock of Brandies, Wines, etc., in Pennsylvania. Goods sent by express everywhere. Write for Catalogue and price list (mentioning this paper) to Max Klein, 32 Federal street, Allegheny City.

—The reason the Philad. Branch handles so much clothing is that they sell reliable goods at reasonable prices. If you deal with them once you will be come a regular customer.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Issued During the Past Week—Taken From the Docket.

Samuel Shiner, Whiteside county, Ill. and Miss Sophia E. Young, Ferguson township.

Wilson M. Weaver and Miss Emma J. Peters, both of Philipsburg.

Heads Squibs.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Irvin Neff took his departure for the West. As this is the second trip for Mr. Neff he knows where he goes.

A fishing party left here on Friday for Bald Eagle creek, returning Saturday afternoon. They report having a splendid time and returned with 50 suckers and eels, for each, catching about 200, in all.

Mr. Joel Barber is laid up with the La Grippe.

Mrs. E. E. McMillen was confined to her bed the past few days, but we are glad to note she is convalescing.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

On Wednesday morning of last week, as J. J. Johnstonbaugh was turning his wagon at the slate quarry, on the hill opposite Graham & Co's mill, where the road-way comes to the mill dam, his wagon went over the bank. Mr. Johnstonbaugh jumped off, but held to the lines, after pulling the horses down the hill backwards about 150 feet. The wagon upset, which threw the horses down, and the bed came off. The only damage done was a few broken belts and a coupling pole, the horses receiving a few slight scratches, and Mr. Johnstonbaugh was somewhat scared.

Spring Mills.

The masons have commenced work on the Reformed church. The members of that congregation have reduced the size of their building and will now only erect one capable of holding about 150 people. It is a great pity they cannot put up a fair sized church instead of a small chapel, which on an occasion of special services will not hold all the people that will attend.

The Misses Krise who were visiting friends at Johnstown, have returned and report having had a good time.

The examination of teachers, which came off last week, was quite an improvement on last year's examination, as every applicant received a certificate. Prof. D. M. Wolf is expected to teach our township high school, next winter.

Township Supervisor Rossman is picking the road from Farmer's Mills to this place. X
