LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

G. A. R. encampment occurs at Williamsport next week.

A number of 15 inch trout have been caught in Spring Creek the past week.

Not a single house in Bellefonte should remain undecorated on the 4th of July.

Mr. Claud B. Barnes, foreman of the Tyrone Times office, paid us a visit on Monday.

Washington & Arlington's show was in Bellefonte on last Saturday but did not attract much of a crowd.

Miss Rose Sternberg returned from Seattle, Wash., last week, and has concluded to remain at Bellefonte.

On Saturday evening, July 18, the Zion Grange will hold a festival at their new grange hall at that place.

George Schrock, of Akron, Ohio, who left Bellefonte about four years ago, is visiting friends in this place.

Treasurer Gramley is busy collecting the Mercantile tax, most of which was paid before the first of July.

That race track scheme has not been booming much of late. Probably there is too much 4th of July on hand.

The roof of the river bridge at Lewisburg was blown off on Sunday by a heavy storm that passed over that valley.

We notice Robt. Hunter is advertising for 100 handsome and accomplished girls—one ought to be enough for an ordinary fellow.

Several boys were arrested last week for stealing liquor from Keplinger & Co's. drug store. They will be tried at next term of court.

Joseph D. Mitchell, son of Isaac Mitchell, the banker, who had been attending school at Providence, R. I., returned home last week.

Dr. E. W. Hale returned on Friday from his six months trip through the South for the benefit of his health, which has been much improved.

The Lutheran congregation observed children's day on last Sunday evening with a very pretty exercise, which was appropriate and well rendered.

On Friday evening next the Alert ball team will give a hop in Armory Hall. Admission will be free, but 10 cents will be charged for the privilege of each dance. Good music and a good time.

The next one of Bellefonte's citizens to go abroad will be our present street commissioner, Thomas Shaugency. He wants to pay his old home a visit and give the people over there a few points in regard to making good roads.

There is nothing so low about Revenue Collector Ed. Chambers; early on Monday morning he decorated the front of his office with flags and bunting. Being one of Uncle Sam's officials it is necessary to be patriotic an entire week.

During the past week a great deal of grass was cut and made into hay. The yield will be about two-thirds as large as last year's crop. As that was unusually large we have almost the average crop this year.

Rev. R. E. Speer delivered an exceedingly fine sermon in the Presbyterian church on last Sunday evening upon the text, "My Father's House." The sermon was far above the average and indicates that he possesses rare ability as a public speaker.

In pursuance of that custom among printers, so well known to most of our readers, no paper will be issued from this office next week. After six long months of weary toil a rest is appreciated by the poor printer, and the "devil" particularly. Don't look for your DEMOCRAT next week.

Ex-Governor Beaver, Judge Furst and Maj. W. F. Reynolds, of Bellefonte, came over to Phillipsburg and this morning, in company with Robert Loyd, drove down to the old Swartz property, near Kylertown, of which they are now owners, to look after the coal developments now being made there.—Phillipsburg Journal.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

EVERYTHING READY FOR A MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY.

The Town in Gala Attire—Order of Parade—Route of March—Program of Exercises and Events of the day.

Our space is too limited to give a full description of everything that will occur in Bellefonte on the 4th. Suffice to say that everybody is awake and at work and we can assure all that it will be a magnificent affair. The following program will be strictly followed:

ORDER OF PARADE.

CHIEF MARSHAL. Marshals. Chief Burgess and orator of the day in carriages, borough officers in carriages, county officers in carriages, band.

1ST DIVISION—Col. Amos Mullen, chief. (Form on High street, right resting on Water street.)

3RD DIVISION—W. C. Heinle, chief. (Form on south Water, right resting on High street.)

4TH DIVISION—John Hickey, chief. (Form on north Water, right resting on High street.)

FANTASTICS—John Dunlap, chief. (Form on Water street.)

ROUTE OF MARCH. The procession will move at 10:30 a. m. sharp, as follows: Along south Spring to Bishop, Bishop to Allegheny, Allegheny to east Linn, east Linn to Armors and return to Spring, Spring to Lamb, Lamb to Thomas, Thomas to High, up High street to Diamond, and mass by divisions for public meeting and addresses.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS. At 1 p. m. there will be an exhibition trial of fire engines along water street.

At 2 p. m. Sheridan troop, of Tyrone, will give an exhibition drill on the Glass works meadow near the fair ground.

At 3 p. m. a game of base ball will be played between the P. R. R. team of Philadelphia and Bellefonte on the glass works meadow.

During the day the Logan fire company will hold a festival in the court house yard. Meals and refreshments will be served.

The grand display of fire works will take place on the diamond at dusk.

At 6 a. m., all steam whistles of the town will be blown, court house and other bells rung upon the firing of cannon upon adjoining hills. This will be the signal for the opening of the days celebration.

SPECIAL TRAINS. Provision has been made with the railroad companies to have special trains leave Bellefonte in the evening after the fireworks, at 9:30, over all the roads.

One train will be run to Tyrone and Phillipsburg; the night train to Lock Haven will be held over here until after the fire works; a special will be run over the L. & T. down as far as Coburn, and a special will be run over the Buffalo Run road to Scotia. All trains will leave from the P. R. R. passenger station. This information is positive as it was given us by Col. Spangler, before going to press.

NO FIRE CRACKERS. During the time of the parade, from 9 to 12 a. m., Burgess Reeder has issued an order to the police to arrest all persons caught setting off fire works of any kind. This is done so that no accidents will occur from horses being frightened during the parade. This order will be strictly enforced.

STREETS CLEARED. All vehicles, on Allegheny and High streets and where the parade will pass, must be removed. Persons driving to town should remember this and avoid trouble.

DECORATIONS. Messrs. Gramley and Hunter make a special appeal to the young ladies and gentlemen of the town to turn out and assist in this work. One man can't do it nor can a dozen. The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium has been secured and a large quantity of spruce and evergreens has been hauled there for trimming, and all who can are requested to meet there to-day and Friday. Don't hesitate, but come. What is worth doing, should be well done.

AND. J. CRUSE, JR.

About a month ago extended articles appeared in our city dailies and magazines in regard to the reappointment of Andy J. Cruse, Jr., to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Our readers will remember that he was dismissed for refusing to inform upon his classmates, and for that action was strongly upheld by public sentiment and his reappointment last May was the object of much favorable comment.

The subject of this sketch, whose portrait appears on this page, is the son of A. J. Cruse, who operates an extensive cigar manufactory at this place. Being born Jan. 4th, 1872, he is now in his 18th year. His early education was obtained in the Bellefonte schools and was a member of the graduating class of '89 of the High school. He received the first appointment to Annapolis in the summer of '89 and successfully passed his examination for admission. During his year and a-half's work there he ranked high and was among the best men of that class. Every report sent home was a good endorsement, and of which his parents could feel proud.

The dismissal in Nov. '90 was a surprise to all and especially to his parents and friends of this place. By special effort his reinstatement was obtained as a new appointment, and now we again look to see him graduate from Annapolis Naval Academy, one of the foremost of his class.

By permission, of a friend, we publish in this connection a short letter received from him which gives some information in regard to Annapolis Naval Academy, Maryland:

U. S. S. "CONSTELLATION," CHESAPEAKE BAY, June 13, 1891.

DEAR FRIEND: As I have a few minutes at my disposal I will give you a short description of Annapolis Naval Academy.

The Academy, as I suppose you know, is to train young men for positions as officers in the Navy. There are two branches of study, one for the line and the other for the engineer corps. The course of study includes a complete course in mathematics, English, French, Spanish, German, physics and chemistry.

It is not what you might call difficult, but the cadets are marked so very close that it is a hard matter to get through the Academy. The drills consist of infantry, artillery, seamanship, gunnery, rowing and steam tactics, with launches.

During the first, second and fourth summers at the Academy the cadets take their practice cruise on the U. S. S. "Constellation." The "Constellation" is a wooden ship with a battery of twelve 22 pounders and four gattings.

She generally cruises in Long Island Sound where the cadets are instructed in the management of a vessel under all conditions. This vessel, however, will soon be discarded and a new steel cruiser put in her place. The other vessels stationed at the Academy are the U. S. S. "Santee," "Wyoming," and the single tarred monitor "Passaic" The "Santee" is moored in about four fathoms of water, where she has been for the past fifteen years and is used only as a prison ship. The "Wyoming" is a steamship and is used in the Chesapeake Bay for target practice and seamanship. The "Passaic" is the same that was at Fort Fisher and her turret still shows signs of that battle.

The first year at the Academy is considered the hardest, for the 4th classman, or "pleb," has many things to contend with. In the first place, he is a stranger in the place and is what you may call very green; secondly the manner of reciting is different from any other college, and last, but not least, comes "hazing." A "pleb" is hazed by everybody, but principally by the 3rd classmen. He is made to eat soap, drink ink, stand on his head, and many other things too numerous to mention.

The authorities think they have about broken up the practice, but the upper classmen continue to make it miserable for the "plebs." "Hazing," I can assure you, is a very dangerous pastime should the authorities catch one violating their rules.

We are about half way to Fort Monroe with very little prospects for getting there in time to start home again. Today we are lying in the mouth of the Potomac, off Point Lookout. Give my best to the boys at Bellefonte.

Yours, etc., A. J. CRUSE, JR.

THIEVES AT NITTANY.

How Chickens and other Articles Disappear A Warning.

A family in this vicinity has been in the habit of stealing chickens, and of late are running things to extremes. Some time ago Thomas Nearhood missed several chickens. These were subsequently taken to B. F. Shaffer & Son's store for sale. They afterwards recognized them as the missing ones of Nearhood. To further prove this they were taken to his place and when set at liberty they sought their old roosting place.

Broods of young chickens with their mothers have disappeared from different places and they do say that this family only had 25 on one Saturday evening and the following Monday they had 200 and didn't have any setting hens either.

Several stray articles have been taken from the counters in Shaffer's store, the last being a piece of tobacco. This latter is shoplifting, and the next time it occurs will be punished by the full penalty of the law.

The other day one of Frank Emerick's lambs disappeared out of the field and not a trace of it could be found. A pet bird was also stolen from one of his sons. Now this family has reached the lowest limit of degradation; while other people are working for an honest living, there are several large, strong, able-bodied men stealing theirs. Now, Messrs. Thieves, if your eye happens to spy this article and it doesn't suit you, call around at Junehawker's office and he will tell you personally about some more of your tricks and what the people think of them. This item will be continued so long as the deceptions are, and will no doubt end in a full expose of all parties concerned—names and all—as we are able to prove every thing we say.

OTHER ITEMS. It was in the wee hours, on Sunday morning, (or it may have been in the wee-er ones for all we know) when he got home, but that part would have been alright had he not been locked out and compelled to sleep in the stable.

Try again Will, the girl may be in a more complacent mood next Sunday evening.

One of our young men boasted of having drunk a crock of milk for supper on last Thursday evening. That's nothing, we have a calf that drank two.

JUNEHAWKER.

Found Dead in Bed. Mrs. Michael Hayden was found dead in bed last Friday morning at her home near Collins' furnace. Her next door neighbor, Mrs. Hickey, tried to gain entrance to the room several times but always falling became alarmed and told her husband. The door was broken open and the two were horrified to find Mrs. Hayden dead in bed. How long she had lain there could not be told. The cause of her death it is supposed was due to heart failure.

Mr. Hayden has been in the employ of the Collins' for the past two years and is now working for them up in York state. Word was telegraphed to him—Mr. and Mrs. Hayden have been married only a couple of years. They have one child about a year old.

A Double Wedding. A double wedding took place at Flemington, Clinton county, Pa., on June 23, 1891, at the home of the brides' parents, Elder G. W. Headley officiating. The contracting parties were: Mr. Charles E. Heltman, of Lock Haven and Miss Rose A. Ungard, and also Mr. Geo. W. Bennett, of Lock Haven, and Miss Carrie E. Ungard. Mrs. G. W. Fredericks presided at the organ. The brides and grooms stood under a beautiful floral arch prepared by Mrs. Headley and Miss Ella Rhone. The lucky horse-shoe was suspended over the head of the minister. About 60 guests were present and all fared sumptuously.

Pastor Resigns. Last Friday, at a meeting of the vestry of St. John's Episcopal parish a communication was read from Rev. J. O. Davis, the rector, in which he announced his resignation, to take place the latter part of July. Rev. Davis has accepted a call from a parish at Beatrice, Nebraska and this parish will be compelled to engage another rector.

Death of John B. Tate. On last Friday Mr. John B. Tate, one of Pleasant Gap's oldest citizens, died from a paralytic stroke. He was afflicted with this disease during the past nine years and was an invalid most of the time. He was stricken with another attack last Wednesday from the effects of which he died on Friday following. The deceased was 72 years of age. The interment occurred on Saturday afternoon.

P. O. S. of A. Picnic at Howard. Saturday, July 25, a large picnic will be held in Long's grove, at Howard, by the local order of P. O. S. of A. of that place. Prominent speakers will be present and a large turnout is expected.

Phillipsburg is rejoicing over the fact that their post master's salary has been increased $100, while Bellefonte's P. M. was reduced $100 over last year.

Ex-Gov. Beaver has accepted an invitation to deliver the Fourth of July oration at Montgomery, this year. Bellefonte orators are always in demand on such occasions.

THE DEADLY COAL OIL.

A FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR ASHCROFT MONDAY.

Mrs. Harriet E. Mills, desiring to tidy up a Fire in Order to Brew Some Tea, Poured Oil out of a Bottle on some Burning Chips When the Usual Explosion soon Followed.

At Ashcroft, a mining hamlet about two miles from Phillipsburg, a distressingly fatal accident occurred Monday evening, by which a mother and child lost their lives, and several other persons were more or less injured.

The women's name was Harriet Mills. Her husband was out in the garden and her father was in the house, in his stocking feet, resting after a walk to Phillipsburg. He was twitting her about her cakes. The babe was asleep in a cradle in the same room.

The fire had about gone out and Mrs. Mills, desiring to get a cup of tea quickly, had thrown some chips in the stove. Then she lifted a bottle containing coal oil and proceeded to pour it on the chips. Immediately there was a flash, an explosion and a woman's screams. Her father, who was resting in a hammock and saw the accident, sprang out of the hammock, caught his daughter in his arms and dragged her out of the oil, and threw a tablecloth over her. Hearing the screams of his wife, Mills ran into the house and, seeing his wife out of further danger, ran for the baby, the cradle being all ablaze. Neighbors rushed in and soon had the flames extinguished, but not until the intense heat had cracked the glass in several pictures, the clock and did considerable damage to the furniture. Mrs. Mills lingered until 11 o'clock that night, when she died. The baby is not expected to live, its head and face being badly burned. Mr. Smith was severely burned about the face and shoulders. Three children are left to mourn the loss of a mother.

Bellefonte's Teachers. Last Thursday evening the borough school board met for the purpose of electing teachers for the ensuing year. It was practically a re-election of the former instructors with one exception.

The complete list is as follows: Profs. D. M. Lieb, G. W. Johnstonbaugh, D. M. Wolf and J. F. Harrison, Jr., Misses Ella Levy, F. Kate Hewes, Annie McCafferty, Rose J. Fox, Jennie Strickland, Carry A. Weaver, Kate M. Powers, Anna McBride, Laura H. Wright, Bella K. Rankin and Millie Smith.

The exception is that Miss Bottorf's school, which will be taught this year by Miss Millie Smith, daughter of ex-Treasurer Charles Smith. Miss Bottorf, we are told, has a more happy association in view and was no applicant.

A Flood Relic. When Johnstown was devastated by that memorable June flood but one flag floated over the vast field of ruin and desolation, and that was the stars and stripes attached to the flag-staff of the armory of Co. H, 5th regiment. It was presented, recently, to Geo. B. Brandon by Capt. E. T. Carswell, and the present owner will hoist it over the Brockhoff House on the morning of the 4th. It is an interesting relic and Mr. Brandon prizes it highly.

4th of July Excursions on the P. R. R. In pursuance of the usual custom the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets for the Fourth of July holiday between all stations on its system east of Pittsburg and Erie, at a rate of two cents per mile.

The tickets will be sold on July 3rd and 4th, and will be valid for return until July 7th, 1891, inclusive.

An Improvement. Fresh paint has made quite an improvement in the appearance of Ed. K. Rhoads' coal and grain establishment, opposite the passenger station. Mr. Rhoads is an energetic business man and does everything in systematic order and in first class style. He further is one of the few business men of Bellefonte who know the real value of printers ink.

Wanted. $1200 or $2000 for three or five years, at 5 per cent. per annum, on first class collateral. Address, "C. H. W. C.," DEMOCRAT office, Bellefonte, Pa.

Last Saturday afternoon sparks from a passing freight engine set fire to the roof of W. W. Scott's house near the station. The fire companies were soon on the spot and a serious conflagration was prevented.

Nobby Spring suits made to order in the tailoring department of the Philad. Branch.

When you want a good shoe make a B line for Mingle's.

Mr. Zeller, the druggist, is recuperating at Bedford Springs at present. His health has not been the best the past few weeks and a rest will be what is needed.

SPECIAL NOTICE—I will make cabinet photos for $1.50 per doz. only until July 1st, 1891. After that former price will be charged. H. B. SHAEFFER, Bellefonte, Pa.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Issued During the Past Week—Taken From the Docket.

W. H. Holt and Miss M. R. Allen, both of Unionville. Edward M. Boone and Miss Bertha M. Mosser, both of Haines twp. Dorsey O. Jones and Miss Susie Young, both of Port Matilda.

Mr. T. Newton Bailey, of the Gazette Bellefonte, Pa., and Miss Aggie Ferry, of Eggtown. Married on Saturday; Francis Speer acting as groomsmen and Miss Reddy Hood as bridesmaid. The nuptials of these two latter will occur later. Miss Cadorie presided at the piano.

A PLEASANT RECEPTION. Rev. Noll and Bride Tendered a Reception by the Congregation.

As announced in our last issue Rev. Miles O. Noll, pastor of the Reformed church, Bellefonte, and Miss Katharine Folmer, were married at the home of the bride's parents, at Milton, Pa., on last Thursday, 25. On Friday evening the bride and groom arrived at Bellefonte and that evening members of the congregation and others assembled at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bower, Linn street, to greet their pastor and meet his bride and also extend to her a hearty welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Bower's home was well suited for such a gathering as the spacious apartments were filled with merry children, young people and those who had passed the meridian of life; but none seemed happier than the Rev. and his hansom bride as they received the many warm and earnest congratulations from the members of the congregation and friends. The elegant refreshments served during the evening made the occasion all the more enjoyable. Mrs. Samuel Lewin, who possesses rare musical talent, was called upon and entertained the guests by several renditions upon the piano.

Rev. Noll has been pastor of this congregation but a short time but has proven himself a minister of ability and the congregation appreciate his efforts. He now has the benefit of a noble helpmate and we will predict for him a brilliant and successful future.

A Happy Event. Thursday evening the 18th inst, at eight o'clock, at the home of the bride, in Moshannon. Mr. Cloyd L. Brennan, of Altoona, and Miss Anna B. Lucas were united in holy matrimony by the Rev. W. W. Cadle pastor M. E. church. Many friends were present from Altoona Bellefonte and the surrounding neighborhood. The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Brennan left the next day for a trip to Washington. Their future home will be in Altoona.

S. H. Diehl Back. On Monday Mr. S. H. Diehl, was seen on our streets. About one year ago he moved from Aaronsburg to Montrose, Colorado, where he worked at his trade of coach making but the climate did not agree with him and he concluded to return to Centre county. We hear he contemplates locating at this place with his family and will engage in coach making. Centre county climate we hope will agree with him.

The reason the Philad. Branch handles so much clothing is that they sell reliable goods at reasonable prices. If you deal with them once you will be come a regular customer.
