WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

A GRAND INVESTMENT
For the Family, the School or the Library.

The work of revision occupied over ten years, more than a hundred editorial laborers having been employed, and over $300,000 expended before the first copy was printed.

SOLD BY ALL BOOKSELLERS.

A Pamphlet of specimen pages, illustrations, testimonials, etc., sent free by the publishers.

Caution is needed in purchasing a dictionary, as photographic reprints of a comparatively worthless edition of Webster are being marketed under various names, often by misrepresentation.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Who Will Preside Over the Next Session of the House.

CRISP, MILLS AND M'MILLAN.

Each of These Are Mentioned as in the Race to Stick—Mills, However, Is Making No Personal Canvass, and This Operates to His Disadvantage.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—There is a quiet undercurrent of speakership gossip going on in this city, although few of the candidates for that office are here. McMillin seems to be the only one who is seriously in the race to remain on duty.

The most interesting gossip is the position of Roger Q. Mills. It was about July 4 that it was reported Mills would withdraw from the contest, but since that time things have changed and Mills is in the race for all it is worth.

The trouble arose because of Cleveland's flirting with Crisp's boom. There is no doubt that there came near being a serious and open rupture between Mr. Cleveland and Mills. It was brought to Mr. Cleveland's attention that such a rupture would alienate from him the support of several friends of Mr. Mills and the south, including Carlisle, McMillan and the entire Texas delegation.

Since then overtures have been made to Mills by friends of Cleveland, and it is understood that negotiations are now going on between some of those interests which favor the election of Mills to the speakership and manager of Cleveland's campaign. Coupled with this statement comes the report, seemingly well founded, that Mr. Mills has been promised the vote of the Democratic representatives from the northwest after the first ballot.

All these elements in Mills' favor have, within the last week, given new strength to his candidacy for the speakership. Mr. Mills, it is said, is personally making no canvass among fellow Democrats of the next house, but that he is leaving this practical part of the work entirely to his friends. This operates to his disadvantage, inasmuch as the other candidates do not hesitate to work hard in their own behalf. It is perhaps largely due to this fact that the impression is growing in Washington that Mr. Crisp has now the best chances of being the next speaker.

More Chinese Outrages.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28. — Advices just received from China give particulars of fresh depredations by the Chinese against the missionaries. The latest attack was made at Yankao on June 29, when the Catholic mission was methodically looted, the crowd passing things from hand to hand in a chain. The buildings were afterwards set on fire. A few days previous four chapels were destroyed in Kiangsi, near the city of Fuchom. The chapel, school and residence of the priest were plundered and burned on June 26. On the same day some predatory bands completely destroyed a French orphanage at a place called Haimen. In addition to the destruction of the orphanage, eight or nine of the wretched little children cared for in the building were carried off.

A Venerable Ex-Governor Dead.

WATERBURY, Vt., July 28.—Ex-Governor Paul Dillingham died yesterday. He would have been 91 years old in August. From 1835 to 1838 Mr. Dillingham was state's attorney for Washington county; he sat in the constitutional convention of 1836-37; was a member of the lower branch of the state legislature for six years, and of the state senate for two years. In 1843 he was elected a member of congress, in which body he served two terms. Mr. Dillingham became a Republican on the organization of that party, and in 1865 was elected governor of the state, serving two years in that office.

The Case of Editor Hennessy.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Charles O'Conner Hennessy, who, as city editor of The Daily News, was indicted last week for publishing an account of the electrocutions at Sing Sing, was called to the bar of general sessions yesterday. His counsel, Assemblyman Stein, filed a demurrer, setting forth that the law under which Mr. Hennessy was indicted was unconstitutional. Some days will probably elapse before the recorder is heard from. William Bourke Cockran has been retained by the proprietor of The News to argue the case.

Murder Ends a Drunken Brawl.

LONG ISLAND CITY, July 28.—A murder resulted from a quarrel in Weeks' hotel, New Hyde Park, L. I., yesterday. The victim was Frank Ovee, and his slayer was William Covert, both well known local characters. The men quarreled in their cups, and Covert drew a knife with which he stabbed Ovee several times. The latter died in a few moments. Covert escaped, but was arrested soon afterward. A man named Baker, who said the knife with which Ovee was stabbed belonged to him, has also been arrested.

Wanted to Fight William.

BERLIN, July 28.—A man named Gurtler recently arrived in this city from New York with the announced intention of challenging the emperor of Germany to fight a duel. Gurtler's relatives, who are people in an influential position, caused him to be closely watched by detectives in order to prevent the man from getting into trouble. Finally the visitor's relatives were compelled to have him confined in an asylum for the insane.

Torn by a Tornado.

WICHITA FALLS, July 28.—A small sized tornado passed along the southeast side of town about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A house occupied by J. T. Lee was torn to pieces. Lee, his wife and mother-in-law, J. W. Rodgers and two children were seriously injured. Several other houses were moved from their foundations, but no one else was hurt.

Not a Store Left Standing.

MILWAUKEE, July 28. — The entire business portion of the little village of Blair, Teamperleau county, was burned, not a store being left standing. Fourteen families are left homeless. The loss is $150,000; insurance very small.

The Earl of Wicklow Dead.

LONDON, July 25.—Cecil Ralph Howard, sixth Earl of Wicklow, died yesterday. His eldest son, Lord Clonmore, succeeds to the title.

EXCESSIVE CHARGES.

County Officials Found Guilty by a Committee of Lawyers.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., July 28.—The Chester county bar held the most exciting meeting of its history here yesterday. Nearly every member of the bar was present to hear the reading of the report of a committee appointed to look into charges made against county officials. This committee consisted of J. F. E. Hause, T. W. Pierce, A. M. Holding, H. H. Gilkyson and A. P. Reid, and their report clearly shows that nearly all the court house officers have for many years been taking advantage of their position by charging amounts largely in excess of those allowed by law. This is particularly so in the case of the clerk of the court's office and the sheriff's.

In his remarks on the matter T. W. Pierce said that there have been clients who complained of the large amounts charged them in the county offices and have pushed the matter, and the excess money was returned to them, a manifest pleading of guilty on the part of the officials. Register Frank A. Thomas, Sheriff James G. Parker and Clerk of the Courts Morgan Ruth are the ones who came under the fire. They have been doing just what their predecessors have, but the matter is now to be probed to the bottom and mended. After a long discussion the report was accepted.

CHILDREN, YET MURDERERS

A Boy of 14 and a Girl of 16 Charged With Killing Their Infant.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Harris J. Edwards, of 1710 Lambert street, discovered blood in his celler, and upon investigating, found the dead body of an infant buried in a basket in the cellar.

He reported the case to the police and Ida Reed, a 16-year-old girl employed by Edwards as a servant, was charged with having given birth to the child and having killed it. She refused at first to divulge the name of its father, but after being threatened with all the penalties of the law she named Frank Cornwall, of 2204 Ridge avenue, a youth of 14. When the boy was arrested he refused to make any statement.

A medical examination revealed the fact that the child was born alive and healthy. A severe bruise on the back of the head indicated the probable cause of death.

Ida Reed is an orphan who came to Philadelphia from Maryland. She first entered the family of the Cornwalls, where she became intimate with the boy charged with her child's murder.

An Iron Mill to Resume.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 27.—After five months idleness the Columbia Iron and Steel mill is at last ready to resume. The company made an assignment in March, and afterward a receiver was appointed. Since then the company has been reorganized, and an extension secured from the creditors, whose claims aggregate over $500,000. In this is not included $18,000 in wages due the men when the mill suspended. Suit was brought by the workmen some weeks ago and judgment secured. The new management satisfied the docket in all the cases, and if an agreement on the scale can be reached the big mill will b put in full operation this week. It gives employment to 500 men.

Money for the Teachers.

HARRISBURG, July 27.—At a conference between the governor, Attorney-General Hensel and Dr. Z. Snyder, the governor's appointee as superintendent of public instruction, an arrangement was reached by means of which the school warrants can be paid. John Q. Stewart, who is Dr. Waller's deputy, was also appointed deputy on Saturday by Mr. Snyder, and consequently is legally empowered to issue the school warrants. This is eminently satisfactory to Dr. Waller, who has all along been anxious to have some conclusion arrived at regarding money matters.

Quay Makes a Denial.

PITTSBURG, July 27.—Senator Quay, at his home in Beaver, was shown a dispatch from Philadelphia, which stated that intimate political friends of the senator's throughout the state said he was determined to resign his seat in the United States senate upon the meeting of congress in December next. When asked if the statement was true Senator Quay replied: "It's a fake, pure and simple. I have not so much as thought of it, and really I don't see why the story was started, for there is no foundation for it whatever."

Fatal Fall of a Signalman.

CHESTER, Pa., July 27.—James M. Johnson, the night telegraph operator at Sharon Hill station, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad, died at his home in Upland from injuries received by some cause unknown. The unfortunate man was found lying unconscious just south of his station at the foot of the semaphore signal post. It is supposed he climbed the post on the ladder to take the signal lamp out, and fell from vertigo or some other reason.

At Work with Non-Unionists.

READING, Pa., July 28.—The West Hamburg Rolling mill, operated by the the Pottsville Iron and Steel company, which has been idle for several weeks, has resumed work. Three furnaces are in blast with non-union men, and special officers are on duty, although there has been no attempt at interference. The trouble arose through the refusal of the employers and lessees to sign the amalgamated scale.

A Youthful Hero's Death.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 28.—George Brophy, aged 6 years, and William Peacock, aged 8, were drowned in the Lehigh canal at Catasauqua. The boys were plying on the bank of the canal when Brophy fell in. Peacock jumped in to save him, and both were drowned. Another boy ran away and gave the alarm. Both bodies were recovered.

An Aged Man's Suicide.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., July 25.—James R. Read, an old citizen of Millheim, Centre county, drowned himself in Elk creek at that place, the cause of the suicide being mental trouble resulting from a surgical operation, which refused to heal and left the old man very weak both physically and mentally. Mr. Read was 72 years old.

Nine Hundred Workers Shut Out.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 28.—The Catasauqua Rolling mill, which has been shut down since July 1 owing so the refusal of the managers to sign the amalgamated scale, started up this morning with non-union hands, shutting out the 900 former employes. The town authorities have guaranteed the new hands ample protection.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS DO AND SAY

A Chapter of Accidents, Crimes and Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There in the State and Flashed Over the Busy Wires.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—The strike at the plush mills of the Dobsons, Falls of Schuylkill, has been declared off. The strike began ten weeks ago.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 28. — Two miners named John Church and William Meiers were killed at Berwood mines, near Summerhill, yesterday by a fall of coal. Their bodies were crushed into a shapeless mass. Both leave families.

DELANO, Pa., July 28. — William Sheckler, a brakeman on the Lehigh Valley railroad, was run over by a freight train at Quakake Junction. His body was frightfully mangled. He was about turning a switch when he was struck by a train on the opposite track.

READING, Pa., July 25. — Quite a number of the employes of the Reading Iron company's tube works are ill. The water is obtained from a spring and several wells on the premises. Many of the men have also been severely affected by the sultry weather of the past few days.

MYERSTOWN, Pa., July 28.—A camp meeting of the Harrisburg district of the Evangelical association opened yesterday in Corsler's grove, near this place, to continue until Saturday night. Eighty tents have been erected and are being occupied by families. The formal exercises took place last night.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 28.—George Kraft, an aged German citizen of this city, who had lived here nearly forty years, was struck by a train and instantly killed on the Lehigh Valley railroad by a fast express train. The old man was slightly deaf and did not hear the warning whistle. The body was thrown forty feet.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., July 25.—James G. Parker, sheriff of Chester county, has received from Lieutenant Governor Louis A. Watres an order to hold a special election in Chester county to choose a member of the senate from the Nineteen senatorial district (Chester county), to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Hon. A. D. Harlan. The time for the election is Nov. 3.

READING, Pa., July 25.—John A. Kissinger, aged 51 years, committed suicide about 9 o'clock in the kitchen at his home, No. 439 Minor street. He borrowed the revolver with which the deed was committed from a friend, whom he told he wanted to kill rats in the back yard. The deceased had been melancholy for some time from brooding over imaginary troubles. The bullet pierced his heart.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 25.—Frank Angelo, a burly Italian, was arrested in the woods near Hazleton by Coal and Iron Policemen Cook and Hampton, charged with criminal assault on Catharine Gargand at Lattimer and with subsequently murdering her. He was seen near the house the day of the murder. Two large stilettos bloodstained were found on him. There is great excitement over the arrest.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 27.—A pleasure party which was returning from Laurel Hill park on an electric car yesterday included Nettie Morgans, a 12-year-old girl. While descending a steep hill on Madison avenue the moter man lost control of the car, and the Morgans girl and Nellie Evans sprang from the car to save themselves, Nettie Morgans dislocating her neck, and died in fifteen minutes.

GREENVILLE, Pa., July 27.—During a heavy thunder storm here the tall steeple of the United Presbyterian church was demolished by lightning. Rev. Scouller was just finishing his sermon and about 200 people were in the building. The greatest excitement prevailed for a while, and a panic was only averted by the most strenuous exertions. No one was injured, and the congregation dispersed after offering a prayer of thanksgiving.

DANVILLE, Pa., July 27.—The Montour Iron and Steel company on Saturday closed down the only remaining furnace it had in blast. The rolling mills are idle yet, and it now looks as though there would be no work done by this company for some time. The men insist on the signing of the scale, and the company are firm in their refusal. The Mahoning rolling mill is again running, and the company signed the scale and the men returned to work.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 27.—A murder occurred at Wanamie, a few miles from here. John Rice, a Polander employed in the mines, was stabbed in his own house by another Pole, also a miner, name unknown. The murderer came to Wanamie only a few days ago and, it is alleged, began paying attention to Rice's wife, whom he had known before. The stabbing followed a quarrel. Rice died in a few minutes.

READING, Pa., July 27.—Miss Sarah Haverling, a young woman who has been missing from her home near Meckville, this county, for the past week, has been found on the north slope of the Blue mountains, about thirty-five miles from her home. When found she was wandering aimlessly about the woods and was terribly emaciated, as she has been sleeping most of that time in the open air and subsisted entirely on berries.

YORK, Pa., July 27.—During the progress of the storm which pervaded this county the home of Henry Brenneman, who lives near East Berlin, was struck by the current and his daughter Annie, aged 22 years, was instantly killed. She went to the window to lower it when the current rushed in and killed her. The current also rendered her mother unconscious and she now remains in a very serious condition. The house was somewhat damaged.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—City Treasurer W. Redwood Wright has forwarded a letter to ex-Treasurers Bell, Irvine, Martin and Widener, urging the production of certain books and papers belonging to the office. Mr. Wright said that he had been conducting a search for some time for the missing documents, and last Saturday learned that they were missing. "Not a scratch of a pen remains prior to the term of Mr. Bardsley," said Mr. Wright. "I have written this letter in the hopes that the gentlemen may be able to explain. If they cannot do so other means will have to be adopted."

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

When the Master Comes.

From Philad. Record, June 28.

Slowly the dusky curtains of night
Are silently lifted—softly the light
Is glimmering over the eastern sky,
Brightening dark places where shadows lie;
While the dawn is creeping over the hills,
And the new-born day with rapture thrills
The waking earth, to life and joy serene,
Comes with noiseless footfall, a guest unseen,
Whispering to man, who fain would flee:
"The Master is come and calleth for thee."

The reapers sing with a glad refrain,
As they bind the sheaves of ripened grain;
In the rumble and stir of the city's din
The toilers are striving fresh laurels to win;
Each weaving a woof in the noontide hours
Of fancies bright, where no storm-cloud lowers,
Ere the brilliant pictures have faded and flown,
Comes into each circle a guest unknown,
And to one of its numbers sayeth he:
"The Master is come and calleth for thee."

Twilight is trailing her mantle of gray,
O'er land and sea at the close of day,
For the day is spent, and its burdens of care,
With all by-gone things, oblivion share.
There's a hush in the air that betokens rest;
The tired bird seeks his downy nest;
And man craves repose, for his labor is done
In the tranquil eve comes unbidden, one
Who tenderly says: "Weary child, list to me—
'The Master is come and calleth for thee.'"

Not with trumpet's blast, nor with roll of drum,
But unheralded doth the Master come.
From the lowly vale and the mountain tall,
From the humble cot and the stately hall,
From the busy loom and the workshop's glare,
From the giddy dance and the house of prayer,
From the battle's smoke and the ocean's foam,
From the haunts of vice and the happy home,
From the ice-bound poles and the torrid line,
From the broad plain's sheen and the gloomy mine,
From the Bedouin's tent and the purpled throne,
From the jungle wild and the desert lone,
From the infant's cradle, the couch of age,
From the peasant's plow and the desk of sage—
Each answers the summons, and then, alone,
He crosses over to realms unknown,
And that voice floats on through eternity:
"The Master is come and calleth for thee."

Changes of Climate

Kill more people than is generally known. Particularly is this the case in instances where the constitution is delicate, and among our immigrant population seeking new homes in those portions of the West, and where malarial and typhoid fevers prevail at certain seasons of the year. The best preparative for a change of climate, or of diet and water which that change necessitates, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only fortifies the system against malaria, a variable temperature, damp, and the debilitating effects of tropical heat, but is also the leading remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, liver compaint, bodily troubles specially apt to attack emigrants and visitors to regions near the equator, mariners and tourists. Whether used as a safeguard by sea voyagers, traveling by land, miners, or of agriculturists in newly populated districts, this fine specific has elicited the most favorable testimony.

Take no Chances.

During the present heated term, surrounded by impure water and subject at any moment to epidemics, why risk your health, your happiness and probably your life, when a simple, pleasant and most effective preventative to human affliction, is at your command. Physicians everywhere, and nurses will promptly assure you of the advantage of good pure liquor, such as Klein's "Silver Age" or "Duquesne" pure ryes. Goods that are without a compeer in the market, and the boast and admiration of everyone tasting them. Ask your druggist or dealer for them. The "Silver Age" sells for $1.50 per full quart, and "Duquesne" for $1.25. If they do not keep it, send to the reliable wholesale liquor house of Max Klein, 82 Federal street, Allegheny. You will find pure Guckenheimer, Finch, Overholt and Gibson Ryes, either at $1 per quart or six bottles for $5.

A complete catalogue and price list will be mailed on application.

LEGAL NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that on the 3rd day of July 1891, Wilson Dillen and Sarah, his wife, presented their petition to the Court of Common Pleas of Centre county setting fourth that they are the owners of a tract of land situate in Huston township, containing 69 acres, which is subject to the lien of an unsatisfied mortgage given by Wilson Dillen and Sarah, his wife, to James Dillon, Administrator of Wm. Dillon, deceased, dated April 27, 1802, recorded in Centre county, in the penal sum of $575 conditioned for the payment of $287.50. That petitioners believe said mortgage had been paid in full, and that mortgage does not live in Centre county. Whereupon, the Court granted an order directing me, the Sheriff of Centre county, to give notice of the facts set fourth in the petition, by publication for four successive weeks, in one newspaper published in Centre county, requiring the Mortgagee, or his heirs, administrators, or executors to appear on the fourth Monday of August next, to show cause, if any, why said mortgage should not be satisfied of record.

Witness my hand this 21st day of July A. D. 1891. W. A. ISHLER, Sheriff.
