Give them Rope Enough.

The Parent of Insomnia,

The parent of insomnia or wakefulness is in nine cases out ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathizes. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of the great nerve entrepot, the brain. Invigorate the stomach, and you restore equilibrium to the great centre. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is far preferable to mineral sedatives and powerful narcotics which, though they may for a time exert a soparific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach. The Bitters, on the contrary, restore activity to the operations of that all important organ, and their benificent influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state to the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the action of the liver and bowels by its use. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. It is peculiar in that it strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. Give it a trial.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

*From A. R. Sporpord, Librarian of Congress:

"The novelty of the plan, exhibiting by graphic diagrams a complete synchronology of American political history, is carried out with admirable ingenuity, and the work may fairly be termed a Breviery of American Politics."

From Hon. S.S. Cox: "Only one work is com-arable with it—the 'Statistical Atlas' by the lovernment—and to say this is high eulogy." From BENSON J. LOSSING, LL. D., Historian:
Like a concave mirror it reflects to a single focus an epitome of the essential elements of our national history, showing clearly at a glance the progress of the nation, from its infancy to its present period of maturity. WHAT AGENTS ARE DOING.
