A GREAT COUNCIL.

Methodists from All Lands in Session at Washington.

A REMARKABLE GATHERING.

Questions of Theology and Science Ably Discussed by Learned Men of America and Great Britain. Women as Pulpit Orators—Close the World's Fair on Sundays.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The main discussion at yesterday's sessions of the Methodist council was in the afternoon. Rev. D. J. Waller, of London, presided, and Rev. Benjamin St. James, D. D., of St. Louis, editor of The Christian Advocate, spoke on "Woman's Work in the Church." He spoke mainly of the work there was for women to do in the church, and especially in foreign fields. He concluded by bidding God speed to all women who work for Christianity.

Rev. William Gorman, of the Belfast, Ireland, Irish Methodist church, followed with an address in which he said woman's fitness to be man's co-worker in the church needed no vindication, for although she had been handicapped she had found and filled high places. Women were kept out of certain councils of the church where her gifts are most needed and where her work should be welcomed. He concluded by saying that if women in the pulpit was obnoxious it could be easily remedied by taking away the pulpit and leaving the woman.

In the five minute discussion which followed a half dozen delegates addressed the conference on the topic under consideration, most of them favoring the admission of women to the pulpit.

Against Opening the Fair Sundays.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Rev. J. D. Murray, of the Methodist Episcopal church, Baltimore, presided over the Ecumenical Methodist council at the beginning of the seventh day's session. The important business of the session was the unanimous adoption of an address protesting against the opening of the Columbian exposition on Sunday. The address will be presented to the World's fair commissioners.

The afternoon session of the conference was called to order by Rev. Joseph Ferguson, of Leeds, England.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Rev. F. W. Bourne, president of the Bible Methodist Church of England, occupied the chair at the beginning of the ninth day's session of the ecumenical Methodist council. The subject of Methodist federation, which was adjourned from Thursday, was taken up after the reception of salutations from the Presbyterian synod of Virginia, and a resolution of sympathy with Bishop Gaines, African Methodist Episcopal church.

Britons Favor a Republic.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—That President Harrison's speech at the tenth day's session of the ecumenical Methodist council made a telling impression upon the foreign delegates, and that they are still more favorably impressed with the majesty of this republic, is evidenced by the remarks of distinguished British preachers.

"We shall have to do away with monarchies after this," exclaimed Rev. W. F. Dawson, of Glasgow. He was talking to Bishop Hurst, and the remark was made so loudly that every one in the lecture room could hear it.

Rev. E. Lloyd Jones, the eminent and eloquent Welsh, said: "My visit to America has realized the consummation of my highest ideals in the presence and the magnificent speech of your president. I should say that every rational Englishman will return to England feeling that a republic is the only true form of government. Never have I heard a man so expressing the heart of Christianity, and, if his position was simply the result of the accident of birth, I would never have expected such a deliverance. I venture to say that more Methodists in one day have seen and been welcomed by the president of the United States than in fifty years have been recognized and introduced to members of the royal family."

Concerning Amusements.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The eleventh session of the Methodist conference opened with Mr. William Marder, of England, in the chair. The session was devoted to social problems, and the speakers strongly urged legal restraint on gambling and other vices. The conference adopted a committee report recommending that the week beginning Nov. 15 next be set apart as a week of prayer by Methodists everywhere. By the report of the committee on Methodist statistics a total membership of 6,494,399 is shown, who are guided by 42,466 ministers. The number of adherents is given as 25,378,104.

The afternoon session of the conference was presided over by Bishop E. R. Hendrix, of Kansas City.

The invited address on this subject was delivered by Bishop C. D. Fos, of Philadelphia. He said, on this subject, the following must be considered: The candid need of amusements, the cordial approbation of all amusements that are harmless, and not attended with evil associations; the Christian standard, based on the New Testament, ethics and lofty notions; and such amusements as could only be used in the name of the Lord Jesus. A Christian pastor, he said, in his proper place should be as a shepherd, and should go after the wandering sheep to bring back the torn and bleeding.

J. E. Balmer, of Manchester, England, the youngest delegate to the conference, startled the delegates from their quiet repose and brought forth cries of "No, No," from them by saying that the church should not estrange itself from amusements, and that they should attempt to purify the theaters. He said he had attended the Lyceum theatre in London and had greatly enjoyed what he had seen there, and upon entering the theater he had seen so many preachers in the audience that he thought he was in an Ecumenical conference. The theater, he said, was becoming purified because so many Christians attended it.

Rev. Dr. Waller, of England, thought it was not in the province of the church to provide amusements.

Rev. J. M. Buckley, of New York, said that the preachers whom Mr. Balmer saw in the London theater were probably not Methodists, and therefore were not an example to copy from. If they were Methodists their presence there would be a good.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 20.—The last ray of hope for John McManus, who murdered Eugene McGinnis in Philadelphia over a year ago, has disappeared. READING, Pa., Oct. 20.—The governor having approved the site for the new hospital for the chronic insane selected by the commission, the matter of its location near Wernersville, this county, is now definitely settled. Senator Henry D. Green, of this county, who was very active in this matter, says that work on erecting the buildings will probably not be begun until next spring.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 17.—Senator Thomas M. Mehard died at his home in Lawrence county. He was elected to the senate in 1888. He was critically ill for several weeks. His death leaves a second vacancy in the senate, the other being caused by the resignation of Senator Harlow, of Chester. The dead senator was a physician in active practice, and had many friends in the legislature.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 17.—After an all day conference between General Manager Schwab, of the Edgar Thompson Steel works, Braddock, and the converting mill employees a new scale was settled upon. Formerly the steel blowers made about $200 a month, but they will now make $120; repairs $104, instead of $145, and vesselmen $165 instead of $230. The other employees will be presented with the same scale.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 20.—Heister Kleckner, aged 19, living at New Ringgold, twelve miles from this place, accidentally shot himself while gunning with a companion. POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 19.—Jeddo colliery, No. 1, operated by G. B. Markle, has begun to crush, and fears are entertained for its safety. The main gangway, leading from No. 1 to No. 2, has already closed up so much that it is impossible to get through. Should it close more both slopes will shut down, and it is thought by many of the old miners that it cannot be opened for at least six months. Already many men have been suspended.

ASHLAND, Pa., Oct. 20.—John Curry, a highly respected young man, and a member of St. John's Episcopal church choir, met with a sad death in the mine at East colliery yesterday. His comrades while endeavoring to extricate him conversed with him, but when they reached him he was dead.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 17.—The adjourned hearing of Banker Dill, of Clearfield, which was to have taken place in this city yesterday before United States Commissioner Ambrose, failed to take place for the reason that Dill went before Judge Krebs, of Clearfield, waived a hearing upon the charges preferred against him and entered bail in the sum of $40,000 for his appearance at the next term of United States court to meet in Pittsburg, on the second Monday in November. The gentlemen qualifying as his bondsmen are: A. E. Patton, A. R. Lee, D. R. Fullerton and W. W. Betz.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 19.—It has just leaked out that a free for all fight occurred among the female prisoners at the Clearmont workhouse last Thursday night. Two young women in the knitting department had a quarrel which resulted in an incident riot, friends of both women interfering and taking opposite sides. For about half an hour the twenty-five infuriated prisoners fought each other fiercely, scratching one another's eyes, tearing each other's clothes nearly off and pounding an adversary whenever an opening occurred. Half a dozen male officers of the prison were summoned by a matron who succeeded in escaping from the room, and the belligerents were placed in dungeons.

During the night two of the worst prisoners, Maude Hutchinson and Maudie White, escaped from their cell, the door being carelessly left unlocked. They scaled a twenty foot wall to liberty and have not yet been apprehended.

Irving A. Evans, well known as "Nervy" Evans, on the Boston and New York Stock exchanges, committed suicide by shooting at the residence of Bruce L. Evans in Allentown, N. H., yesterday.

A tenement house caught fire yesterday in the dock district of London known as Millwall. When the fire was subdued sufficiently to enable the firemen to mount to the top of the charred tenement they found the bodies of an old woman of 70, a young woman and three children, all huddled together, as they tried to escape from the smoke which had suffocated them.

A dreadful scene was enacted at the execution of William Rose, who was hanged at Redwood Falls, Minn. When the trap was sprung there was a dull crash, and the rope parted three feet from the neck. The limp body was picked up, carried on the platform, laid down, face upward, upon the readjusted trap. The second noose dangling from above was pulled down, adjusted quickly and the trap again sprung without any attempt to raise him to his feet. Then ensued a slow process of strangulation. Rose shot and killed Moses Lufkin, the father of the girl he loved, because of the parent's opposition to the match.
