WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS DO AND SAY

A Chapter of Accidents, Crimes and Local Happenings Picked Up Here and There in the State and Flashed Over the Busy Wires.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18 .- John W. Morrison, state treasurer-elect, has been appointed by Treasurer Boyer cashier of the state treasury, to succeed Mr. Livsey. He has accepted.

SUNBURY, Pa., Nov. 24.—Engineer C. C. Ray, who was injured in the passenger wreck at Barns Station, is dead. He was one of the crew who stuck to his post when death stared him in the face.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 21.-Rev. Dr. C. Kinlach Nelson, who was last week elected bishop of the Episcopal church of Georgia, has informed the diocese of his acceptance of the high office. The consecration will take place Jan. 25 in St. Luke's cathedral, Atlanta.

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 24.—Jonathan H. Gerhart, of Sassamansville, this county, has been committed to jail on the charge of forgery on various persons which will aggregate between $700 and $800. Gerhart, who is a cattle dealer, has been hard pressed for money lately.

PHCENIXVILLE, Pa., Nov. 23,-While walking along the marshes with two companions, Neal Donohue, 17 years old, was accidentally shot in both legs by a gunner, who made his escape. His companions escaped unhurt. He was sent to the Pennsylvania hospital, Phil-

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 24 .- One hundred and five cigarmakers, employed by Oblinger Bros. & Co., of this city, struck yesterday under orders of the Cigar-makers' International union. The cause of the strike is a change in the system of work, which, the employes claim, means a reduction of wages.

LANCASTER, Nov. 24.—The dead body of William Bowman, son of Andrew Bowman, of East Earl township, was found lying along the track of the Lancaster and Downingtown railroad, near Churchtown. There was a deep cut in the head and the skull was fractured. It is supposed that the young man fell from a passenger train.

READING, Pa., Nov. 23.—Daniel P. Hart, who worked for the Reading Railroad company for upwards of twentyfive years, was arrested here, charged with stealing various articles from the company amounting to a considerable sum. Hart is the owner of three fine farms and why he should indulge in stealing from the company is a mystery.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 21.—George Sullivan met a shocking death at the Birmingham Traction company's power house. Sullivan and Thomas McGanley were engaged in nailing a "hanger." The hammer held by Sullivan struck a trolley wire and in an instant both men were enveloped in flames. Sullivan was killed, but McGanley will recover.

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 23.—Captain Linden, of the Pinkerton detectives, brought Joe Killorain to this city and lodged him in the jail. Killorain is charged with having robbed the Lewisburg National bank in May. The amount is given as $16,000, but many think it will reach $30,000. Killorain is a professional in the bank robbing business and has escaped from every place of PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23 .- Olivet Presbyterian church, at Twenty-second and Mount Vernon streets, was badly damaged by fire early yesterday morning. The entire frescoing of the walls and ceilings, which was newly done recently, at a cost of $2,000 is ruined. The new carpets were only laid last week, and these are also ruined. The handsome marble pulpit is a wreck and the organ above is badly damaged.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.-A bride of two weeks, an almost ruined business partner and a host of creditors are anxious to learn the whereabouts of Joseph Vollath, of the late firm of Vollath & Wadlinger, art and machine embroiderers, of 3023 and 3025 Orkney street. On Thursday last Vollath left town under the pretense of making a business trip to New York, since which time he has been among the missing.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 23.—Alderman Sepp on Saturday began the hearing of William Keck for the murder of Mrs. William Nipch, near Ironton. Keck was taken to Ironton and confronted by the woman's aged husband, whom he also assaulted, and who is ly-ing on his death bed. Nipch identified the murderer and gave a clear, succinct account of Wednesday's occurrence.
The hearing was continued to tomorrow. Mrs. Nipch will be buried this afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—Jesse R. B. Haines yesterday pleaded guilty before Judge Butler, in the United States district court, to making a false affidavit, so that Mrs. William H. Everly, an aged woman, was enabled to draw a $36 per quarter pension from the govern-ment, as Mrs. Ann Troll, the widow of Jacob Troll, a soldier who was killed in the war of 1812. The trial of Mr. Haines' wife, Elizabeth Haines, and their son, Joseph B. Haines, charged with making affidavits with a guilty knowledge to as-sist in perpetrating the fraud, is under

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Little 4-year-old Francis Cantwell, a son of John Cantwell, of 615 North Twenty-fifth street, met with a horrible death at the Reading railroad crossing at Twenty-fifth and Pennsylvania avenue. A pas-senger train was approaching the cross-ing when the child started to run across the track. The flagman called to him, but the warning only tended to confuse the boy, who, failing to realize the approaching danger, paused for a few seconds. The pause was fatal, for in a moment the engine struck the child and ed over him, severing his head from CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 24.—Henry C. Fritz, of Nether Providence, found his farm pre-empted by a big band of gypsies. He ordered them off, but they refused to budge. Fritz came to Chester and swore out a warrant before Alderman Deal for their arrest by wholesale. The alderman and Constable Sample deputized a dozen farmers, who armed themselves with pitchforks. The gypsies, when they sighted the armed force, fled to the woods, but the women showed fight, gathering in a group and refusing to surrender. The law finally prevailed and the gypsies promised to vacate the premises, which they did after paying the costs.

TWO FATAL MISTAKES.

A Student Poisons His Friend---A Drug Clerk's Fatal Error. CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 23.—Edmund W. Greaner, of Baltimore, for a year past a student at the Crozer Theological seminary, had a severe attack of neuralgia. A young medical student from Phila-delphia, who was an intimate friend of young Greaner, made up a dose of medicine in which he put part of a grain of alkaloid of aconite. The first dose did not have any effect, and three other doses were administered. The four doses combined, however, proved fatal, and Greaner died within two hours. When the medical student saw the effects of his doctoring he was nearly crazed with grief.

Coroner Jefferies was notified, and, on investigating the case, he decided that an inquest was unnecessary, as he considered that the poisoning was purely accidental.

The remains of the dead student were taken down to Baltimore for interment. Deceased was a graduate of the Johns Hopkins university, and was a great favorite with his fellow students. He

Columbia, Pa., Nov. 23.—The mis-COLUMBIA, Pa., Nov. 23.—The mistake of a drug clerk caused the death of little Maud Lindsay, the 5-year-old daughter of Rev. Dr. W. C. Lindsay, pastor of the First Baptist church, of this city, and one of the most eminent district in his depending tion in the south divines in his denomination in the south. The child had a slight fever and her parents determined to give her some quinine. The father went to W. C. Fisher's drug store to purchase the qui-nine. The clerk, W. L. Bratton, put up three doses of three grains each of what he supposed was the right medicine. At the child's usual bedtime Mrs. Lindsay gave her one of the powders. The parents left the little girl in bed and went to church. When they re-turned they found the child cold in death. An examination of the remaining powders showed that they were morphine.

W. H. SHEPHERD RETURNS. The Wealthy Wilkesbarre Contractor

Now Under $10,000 Bail. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 23.—W. H. Shepherd, a wealthy contractor of this city, whose mysterious disappearance from home last January created a sensation throughout the whole country, arrived here late Saturday night, after eleven months absence. His coming was awaited, but in some manner he eluded those who were watching for him and went quietly to his home.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning he was aroused from his slumbers by three detectives. He was at once placed under arrest and taken to the office of Justice Davidson, where he was charged with alienating the affections of Mayor Sutton's wife. The prisoner refused to make any statement, and was held in $10,000 bail for trial.

The arrest has caused a decided sensation. For five months after Shepherd's disappearance it was thought he was dead, and had been the victim of foul play. One day in May last he startled the whole community by sending a telegram to a friend here, stating that he was alive and living in Indianapolis, A friend went to that city and found Shep-herd lying ill at one of the hotels. Then it was found that there was a woman in the case, which fact, as well as the cause of his long absence, was made apparent yesterday.

Stabbed Twenty-two Times. PITTSBURG, Nov. 23 .- The body of Daniel Van Yenling, a former Pennsylvania, passed through Pittsburg en route to Clarion, Pa., in charge of his brother. Yenling was superintendent of the Gugenheim Mining Company at Monterer City, Mexico, and was mur-Mexican employes. The assassins entered the sleeping apartments of Yenling, and after securely binding and gagging William Davis, his room-mate, stabbed Yengling twenty-two times. Yengling fought desperately, but was finally overpowered. When found in the morning Davis was still bound and Yengling was alive, but he died soon after. Fourteen Mexicans are now in jail awaiting identication. Mr. Yengling will return to Mexico after the funeral to push the cases.

Siberian Methods Near Home. PITTSBURG, Nov. 21.—A man who spent two days in Snowden mines confirms the report that over one hundred colored men were brought from Virginia under false representations and are now compelled to work. The ignor-ance of one cost him his life, and his terrified companions were driven back to their work with pick handles. They owe the company money, and guards are there to keep them from running away. They are handcuffed, and re-volvers are fired over their heads to in-

Depositors Lament. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21. — Another Italian banker skipped yesterday with a big chunk of the funds of his confiding countrymen. He was Glacinto Epifanio, and he conducted his banking business in connection with a steamship agency and a jewelry stord at 842 Carpenter street. Many hundreds of depositors and a number of business men who loaned him considerable sums of money lament his disappearance, and NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 23 .- The name of Charles Hunsicker, a member of the Norristown bar, is prominently men-tioned as the probable successor of the late Judge Silas Moorhead Clark, of the supreme court of Pennsylvania.

Murder Catlin Convicted. Washington, Pa., Nov. 28.—Al Cat-lin, the murderer of his mistress, Emma Gross, at McDonald last September, was convicted of murder in the second de-gree at this place and sentenced to eleven years, eleven months and twenty days' imprisonment in the Western penitentiary. A first degree verdict was expected.

Sewerage System Condemned.
Pottstown, Pa., Nov. 23.—Dr. W. B.
Atkinson, of Philadelphia, inspector of the state board of health, was here and condemned the system of sewerage, saying that it would some time cause a plague.

Lumberman Holt Acquitted.
PHILLIPSBURG, Pa., Nov. 28.—After a most sensational trial D. W. Holt, of this place, was acquitted on the charge of burning his lumber yards in order to secure $125,000 of insurance.

FIERCE WIND STORM

Washington, Baltimore and Other Cities in Its Path.

SEVERAL KILLED AND INJURED.

Three Killed and Many Injured at the National Capital-Workmen's Miraculous Escape at Baltimore. School Buildings Blown Down and a Number of Pupils Injured.

Washington, Nov. 24. - Suddenly, without a moment's warning, the most terrific and devastating storm ever experienced in Washington broke over the city yesterday afternoon, carrying death and destruction in its path. The cyclonic storm came up the coast from the south and was accompanied by sheets of hail and fierce gusts of wind. Inside of a minute after it made its appearance it had attained its full force. Telegraph poles were snapped off and blown down. The telegraph wires are all down, while the local telephone wires are in a muddled condition. Numbers of houses were unroofed.

In its devastating path it struck Met-zerott's music hall, at 1011 Twelfth street, knocking in the wall, and carry-ing with it the rear wall of Strasbur-ger's clothing store, which adjoined it. Three men were killed by the falling walls, and two more are buried in the George White, a babit maker, is among the killed, while his wife was so seriously injured as to be beyond recovery. In addition there were several passers by injured by the falling walls, making a total, so far as can be learned, of three deaths and eight or ten persons more or less seriously injured.

A section of the stone balustrade around the roof of the White House was blown down during the storm and crashed through the roof of the portico at the eastern entrance of the basement. Washington gas reservoir was struck by lightning and burned. Loss $50,000. Total loss in this vicinity more than

The Storm at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Nov. 24.—A disastrons storm passed over Baltimore yesterday afternoon. It came up suddenly and was over in a few minutes. But it left ruin and wreck in its wake. There have been no deaths reported, but several persons were injured, some of whom may

In the central portion of the city the rain poured down in torrents and the rain poured down in torrents and the wind blew a gale. The roof of the Maltby building, at the foot of West Falls avenue, was torn off and dropped thirty feet away. The upper floor of the structure was occupied as a sail loft by Thomas Gibbons, who had thirteen men at work at the time the roof was carried away. All of them escaped unhurt, except Fred Lattbert, the foreman, S. E. Mitchell and Howard Yeardley. They were badly cut up.

Yeardly's experience was a startling one. He was lifted bodily and thrown into the river forty feet below. He was rescued by a passing tug.

At Pittsburg and Vicinity. PITTSBURG. Nov. 24.—Heavy rains and cyclone in this city yesterday. Sev-eral houses were demolished, and one at Temperanceville burying a woman be-

In the east end of the city great damage is reported. Finley's run, which flows into the Allegheny river at Bril-liant Station, an insignificant stream, was transformed into a raging torrent, and several houses near its mouth were either carried away bodily or shifted dered last Friday by three discharged | from their foundations. At Shadyside, in the Twentieth ward, the water came down the hill covering the streets several feet deep with mud and water, and bursting the sewers in several instances. The water also rushed down Second avenue in such volumes as to stop the electric cars, and in the lower part of the city business was entirely suspended. Over in Allegheny City great alarm was felt and persons living in the vicin-ity of Butchers' run—the scene of the disaster of 1874, when twenty or more persons were drowned-began moving their household effects. However, no great damage has been caused in that vicinity, although in the district along the river cellars were flooded and communication was only possible along River street in boats. The neighborhood of Woods' run was also partly under water and dwellers on the south side were deluged by torrents of water. Many Pupils Injured.

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 24.—A terrific rain, wind and thunder storm passed over this section of the Cumberland Valley yesterday afternoon, doing con-siderable damage to property and prob-able loss of life. In the surrounding country the storm was much more se Many roofs were blown off, buildings blown down and trees uprooted.

The roof of the Graham school house was blown off while the school was in session, the walls falling in. As far as can be ascertained at present the following were injured: Miss Bertha Rudy, teacher, right leg broken in two places by a falling shutter; Sallie Fisher, pupil, left side of face cut by falling glass; Lewis Wilson, pupil, nose broken by falling timber; James Gills, pupil, face cut, and another pupil, name unknown, arm injured. About eight others were slightly injured.

The Sunnyside school house was partially blown down, and a number of the pupils are reported more or less injured.

The Storm in the Lehigh Valley. BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 24.-The most severe wind and rain storm of the season struck this place yesterday after-noon. The rain which came from the south southeast was terrific in its force and took fences, signs, telegraph and telephone poles and wires to the ground. Many houses were unroofed in country districts along the Lehigh and Lacka-wanna railroad.

heavy. All the trains are late and news is hard to get. Along the Reading road the storm was very severe. Telegraph communication is almost entirely cut off

The Damage at Cape May.

CAPE MAY, Nov. 24.—The heaviest blow of the fall occurred yesterday. The lower deck of the Ocean Pier was washed away by the breakers. The surf has beat heavily against the beach at Cape May Point, and is cutting down the bluff.

Damage to Craft.

Nyack, N. Y., Nov. 24.—A terrific rain storm and gale prevailed along the lower Hudson river yesterday afternoon which caused much damage to property.

J. O. Davidson's steam yacht Princess and many smaller craft were sunk.
