EVIDENCE OF BRUTALITY

The Result of the Inquest Upon the Body of the Weaver Infant,

Last Thursday J. S. Houseman Justice of the Peace, at Tusseyville. summoned a jury consisting of Levi Stump, George Reeber, Henry Shadow, R. W. Colyer, Peter Jordon and David Fye, with the assistance of Dr. J. F. Alexander, of Centre Hall, to investigate the cause of the death of Geo. Weaver's child, of which we spoke in our last issue. The jury assembled at Hall railroad station, on the Lewisburg Zion Cemetery, near Tusseyville, and the body was exhumed. A large cut was found on the back of the head; one B. Cooper, of Sunbury, conductor of the eye was also black and discolored.

The jury then listened to the testimony of Emanuel and Hattie Newell, the next day. Rebecca Bettleyone and Ella Mersinger. Leap Year Party.

Last Friday evening some of Bellefonte's young ladies decided to take advantage of the privileges accorded them by leap year and had a sleighing. party to Centre Hall. Not a single young lady got left in this instance, as the young gents were only too anxious to get an invitation to an affair of this kind where no bills were to be paid and their only duty was to be agreeable-The party stopped at Bartges' Hote where they found and elegant chicken and waffle supper awaiting their consideration. It was an elaborate supper and a credit to landlord Bartges, who knows how to get up a first class meal. The party spent a pleasant time there and returned home later, all having enjoyed themselves. The boys declare leap year parties a great success and are satisfied that Bellefonte young ladies can be gallant if they only get a chance.

A large crowd followed the officers to the scene of disturbances and the house was surrounded. Sheriff Ishler deputized a number of bystanders and ordered that the whole posse be arrested and taken to jail. The Hungarians in the house were in a beastly state of intoxication and many were lying about the floor cut, bruised and bleeding from wounds received in the engagement in which knives, chairs, clubs and everything available was used. One by one those that were able to walk were hustled off for a tramp to Sheriff Ishler's commodious bastile on the hill. The drunken ones were taken in by a team from Baum's livery stable. By 6 p. m.. nineteen Hungarians who were engaged in the riot were placed in jail and it was a pretty good haul for a Sunday job.
