

The Centre Democrat.

Vol. 14

BELLEVILLE, PA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 1892.

NO. 3

The Centre Democrat.

CHAS. R. KURTZ, - - - EDITOR

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Regular Price - - - $1.50 per year.
When Paid in Advance - - - $1.00 " "
When subscriptions are not paid inside of three years $2.00 will be charged.

Editorial.

EX-JUDGE Bucher, of Lewisburg, has taken up the practice of law again and argued an important case at Lock Haven recently. His eminence as a jurist will give him a practice that will be worth many times the salary received as a law judge.

HARRISON got a terrible black eye from Philadelphia last week. The republicans elected their delegates to the national convention and blaine captured the entire lot. Quay engineered the fight and won a victory over the administration at Washington which must be quite humiliating.

It is frequently rumored that D. F. Fortney, Esq., of Bellefonte, will allow his name to be used as a candidate for Legislature this year. Mr. Fortney is one of Bellefonte's able attorneys, always was an active and enthusiastic democrat and no doubt could represent this county in the legislative halls at Harrisburg with dignity and grace.

The war talk and present difficulty with Chili is looked upon as political buncombe on the part of President Harrison and his political advisors. They want a small war with Chili in the hope that it will insure them a reelection of Harrison and the continuance of the present officials. It looks as though there was more politics in it than fight.

The Somerset County Commissioners have taken a new departure and have taxed all the property belonging to the South Penn Road which lies in the county. This will oblige the company to pay a tax of over $3,000 each year, and it is thought it will either compel the road to be built or abandoned, as it is expected the same action will be taken by other counties through which the road passes.

There are many people in this county who advocate the scheme of the county purchasing and operating a farm for the purpose of maintaining the poor of the different townships and boroughs. This plan is in operation in many counties throughout the state and the poor farm in many instances is self supporting and a great saving to the taxpayers generally. It is further averred that the inmates, as a rule, are better provided for than under other systems. It might be a good investment for our people.

THE Penna. Editorial Association held their 24th annual meeting at the Lochiel hotel on Wednesday Jan. 20. This association has a gang at its head who ought to be removed. It is our opinion that the association is being farmed by a select (?) clique. If the association would select a new lot of officers for the ensuing year the wish of three-fourths of the editors of the state would be gratified. There are several leeches there who ought to have been removed long ago.

SENATOR Quay's libel suit against the Beaver, Pa., Star for printing certain cuts of a check during the last campaign, came up for trial on Monday, at that place. The same matter was printed in nearly every democratic paper in the state and our readers, no doubt, remember it. The case excited considerable interest but the result can be predicted with a certainty. The jury has been packed to begin with, as there is but one known democrat among the lot, the other eleven are all active republicans. Would they go back on Quay? Well, not very likely.

THE Lottery Sheet (alias the Gazette), since it has lost its grip on the influential element of the republican party in this county, it is trying to insinuate itself upon the other side—the democratic party, and attempts to suggest whom it would be advisable to nominate. In the first place, there is enough brains and common sense in the democratic party of this county to make up its own ticket. In the second place, the mutterings of Fiedler and the Lottery Sheet (Gazette), stand in bad repute and his suggestions will do more to injure the prospects of any man than to advance him in the party. The endorsement of the Lottery Sheet is a death knell to the aspirations of any democrat in this county.

THE REPUBLICAN NAVY.

HOW THE NATIONS MONEY WAS SPENT.

Many Millions Annually Squandered and There is little to show for it—A defense less Coast—A Bad Showing.

It is a crying shame that after twenty years of lavish expenditure in the war department we have few coast defenses. More than $900,000,000 have been spent since 1870, and from and including 1867, $1,205,000,000 in that department, and still the Republican party has left the United States without proper means of defending a single city or harbor from an invader. After spending an average of $41,000,000 during the twenty-two years succeeding the war period and its effects, we are calmly told by Republican journals that we have not even the beginning of adequate defenses. In that time more than $400,000,000 have been spent for the navy. In short the Republican party has in twenty-two years of profound peace squandered sixteen hundred millions of dollars, or nearly enough to pay the national debt existing in 1867, and has given nothing in return for it, none of the defenses nor the fleet of ships it should have, and despite our weakness in this respect the crippling waste of the last congress that party's journals will hear of nothing but war with Chili. It is humiliating for an American citizen that such a condition of affairs should exist, but that is the record of the patriotic g. o. p.

New Candidates.

On Monday the following dispatch appeared in the Philadelphia Times having been sent from Bellefonte:

A new candidate has appeared in the democratic field for Prothonotary in the person of L. T. Munson, the manager of the nail works and glass works here. He is very popular and a determined effort on the part of his friends will probably give him the nomination. A candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention from this district has also appeared in the person of Postmaster J. A. Feidler, of Bellefonte. General Hastings is also spoken of again as a candidate and he will probably be the man if he wants it. On the democratic side it is said Senator P. Gray Meek would like to go as delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

There will be lots of fun in store for the people during the next few months as most every other man you meet has a political bee buzzing in his hat and is feeling his way. This year Centre county will elect one Associate Judge, as Judge Rhoads, term expires, a Prothonotary, two members to the Legislature, a District Attorney and vote delegate instructions for a congressman. 1892 being a Presidential year it will be quite interesting in political matters.

Borough Elections.

The time for electing new borough officials is approaching and it is in place for the citizens of Bellefonte to be looking around for suitable men to officiate in the town council. There is a general complaint that council should be made up only of real estate owners of the town; that our boro debt is growing each year and the taxers are unnecessarily increasing. This is a matter of grave importance and if the men who do the grumbling, set to work they may be able to have their ideas carried out. It is exceedingly tiresome to hear this constant grumbling and especially from parties who never turn a hand when the time comes for the selection of officials. Let the reformers get to work; elect men who will reduce our immense debt and all will endorse their course.

Second Louisiana Lottery.

Bellefonte has an institution in its midst that, on a small scale, is becoming a veritable lottery institution. It recently put up a watch worth probably $25 and scooped in about $400 from the public. The profits in this case were about fifteen times the expenditure, which by a great proportion surpasses the stealing of the Louisiana lottery. For some time a fancy quilt was on exhibition in their windows to encourage passers by to take a chance to win the same. It was chanced off last week and a prominent citizen of our town is anxious to know what will be the next. This game of chance is becoming quite common in the Gazette office which is familiarly known on the streets as Fiedler's "Lottery Shop."

FRANCIS BRADY, of Millerstown, a cooper, 72 years old, was born in the house where he now lives, has not been out of sight of the homestead more than fifteen days in three score and twelve years, never tasted tobacco, beer or whiskey and never rode on a railroad train. He must be one of those real nice old gentlemen you read of in the Sunday school books.

QUAY LIBEL CASE.

The Defendants Found Guilty Monday Afternoon.

The jury in the libel case of Senator Quay against the Beaver Star, after being out twenty minutes, returned a verdict of guilty as indicted. The penalty is a fine not to exceed $1,000 or imprisonment or both. A dispatch from Beaver, Pa., says it is believed that Senator Quay will intercede in behalf of the defendants. After the verdict had been rendered, the defendants were permitted to depart, their bail being continued. Sentence will probably be not passed for some days. Senator Quay and the eastern witnesses took the first train for Pittsburg, where the libel suit against the Post will be tried. The civil suit for $100,000 damages will come up later. The case is exciting much interest in journalistic, legal and political circles.

A Methodist Vote.

Rev. D. S. Monroe, D. D., of Altoona, secretary of the Methodist Episcopal church, has made a report of the vote of the ministry and laity of the church on the question of making women eligible to election as delegates to the general conference.

Ministerial vote for admission.....	5,692
Ministerial vote against admission.....	5,151
Majority for Admission.....	451
Total ministerial vote.....	10,753
Of which three-fourths are.....	8,067
For admission.....	5,692
Failed to carry by.....	2,465
Vote of the laity for admission.....	285,569
Vote of the laity against admission.....	150,843
Majority for admission.....	71,740

It may be said in explanation of the above that the laity vote was merely advisory, while the proposition needed three-fourths of the ministerial vote to carry. The next general conference, however, will contain a decided majority in favor of the admission of women and the question may take an unexpected turn.

Found at Last.

William Hancock, suffering with an impaired mind the result of a paralytic stroke, and in consequence wandered from his home at the foot of Brush mountain, about four miles east of Altoona, on January 2, 1892. Diligent search was made for him but not until last Saturday was the mystery surrounding his disappearance cleared away. His frozen remains were discovered near one of the fills made by the railroad company on the south side of the road opposite Blair Furnace. They were found by a boy named Scott Musselman, who had gone to the place for the purpose of skating. The coroner held an inquest and the jury's verdict was that death was due to exposure.

Beech Creek to Enter Altoona.

It is not definitely settled that the Beech Creek and New York Central Railroad are to gain an entrance to Altoona, only 120 miles east of Pittsburg, by the absorption of the stock of the Altoona and Wopsononock Railroad Company. This road now runs to Daugherty's mines and was to have been extended to Frugality, but instead it is now to go to Coalport, where connection will be made with the Cresson and Coalport and Pennsylvania and Northwestern roads, and then to Gazam, connecting with the Beech Creek Road. The work is being rapidly pushed forward and by next summer the Pennsylvania Company will have a strong rival for its coal-carrying trade.

When You Get the Grip.

Leading doctor say there is no way to avoid the grip. Once taken with it, the first thing necessary is to go to bed, take plenty of rest, well covered, until the fever leaves. Food must be taken at intervals. Alcoholic stimulants are good, such as punch. Then don't be in a hurry to get out to force your energies. Take no drug unless under the advice of a physician.

THERE seems to be a battle among the democratic leaders of this state to secure the control of the state in the national democratic convention. The fight is between the Hill men and the Cleveland forces. From our point of view either Hill or Cleveland would make strong candidates and the party would be united. As a matter of preference, at least three-fourths of the party in this section are anxious to see Cleveland nominated and the campaign fought upon his views of tariff reform.

Three Brothers Die in Ten Days.

Abraham Meyers, a wealthy retired farmer, near Lancaster, died at the age of eighty years, and his death makes the third of the brothers within ten days, the others being seventy-six and seventy-eight years old. The only surviving brother is also very ill, and his death is looked for.

A QUEER CASE THIS.

A Jersey Shore Young Lady Marries the Other Fellow.

During the last week of December Edward Ruffhead, a prosperous young man from Kansas, arrived in Jersey Shore, expecting to be married to Miss Ida Quigley. On Thursday January 7th, Mr. Ruffhead and Miss Quigley went to Williamsport on the 9 a. m. Beech Creek train for the marriage license. On their arrival in the city Miss Quigley went into a millinery store to make some purchases, agreeing to meet him later, but that was the last he saw of her until Saturday evening. In the meantime Harry Eisman, a barber for Harry Betts, of Jersey Shore went down on the Philadelphia and Erie train, and by appointment met Miss Quigley. They at once took the train for Elmira and were married. Eisman came to this town last fall, and is an entire stranger, Miss Quigley only having met him about the holidays. Eisman is reported to have received and accepted a money gift on Christmas from a young lady of Lancaster to whom he is said to have been engaged. Miss Quigley is about twenty years old, good looking and has always born a good reputation, but this escapade is the disgust of the town.

Should be Investigated.

The disappearance of Mr. R. K. Nelson, of Phillipsburg, who has been missing since Christmas eve, has been treated by the public with entirely too much indifference. In all probability he is dead and is also probable that his body is in this locality. If the authorities are so unmindful of their duty as to take no steps to unravel this mystery, the citizens should assemble and organize a search for the body. For humanity's sake let something be done. If the missing man was a poor, dissolute wretch whose death does not affect the public weal or woe, at the same time he was a human being and deserves decent burial instead of being left to lie in the bottom of the creek, or in some swamp or forest like a dog. Shame!—Ledger.

A Sober County.

Only two applications for license to sell liquor will be presented in Indiana county this year, and they are both from the town of Glen Campbell, on the Clearfield line and are no doubt due to the bad influence of that rum-ridden county. The W. C. T. U. are after the Glen Campbell applicants and will doubtless route them. We are not well acquainted with Indiana county, but we do know they raise a great number of young giants up there, who evidently are not the offsprings of drunken dissipated fathers, and this alone should recommend it to all lovers of humanity.

P. O. S. of A. Installation.

On Monday evening the newly elected officers of Washington Camp, No. 447, P. O. S. of A. of Bellefonte, were installed by A. E. Graham, of Blanchard, Pa., D. P. of Centre District and L. T. Commander of Putnam Commander, Lock Haven, Pa.: P. P.—Edward Whitaker; P.—Alfred Tate; V. P.—Harry Houser; M. of F.—David Miller; Com.—Jacob F. Shirk; F. S.—James Irvin; R. S.—Geo. Harman; A. R. S.—Lewis Miller; T.—Geo. Hockenbury; Inspector—Chas. Miller; O. G.—Z. W. Barthurst; Chaplain—Wm. Hall; R. S.—Reuben Miller; L. S.—Edward Young; Trustees—Wm. Hall, David Miller, Reuben Miller. Delegate Anniversary Association—Alfred Tate.

Application has been made by a strong list of young men of Linden Hall to have a camp instituted at that place. The 3rd anniversary of the order will be held in Bellefonte, July 3rd and 4th, 1892. A meeting of the committee on anniversary will be called in Bellefonte in the near future.

THERE seems to be considerable uneasiness among our soldier boys since the recent unpleasantness with Chili has arisen. From some of the dispatches in the daily papers the National Guards of Pennsylvania would be among the first called into service. Boys who don't like the idea of going to war should take a warning and not play soldier—it is much like monkeying with a buzz saw.

Carriage Shops.

Mr. J. W. Bariges' carriage shops, in the building formerly occupied by the Logan machine works near the station, are building up a good trade. They are prepared to do all kinds of work from a handsome carriage or bus, down to the ordinary repair work. Mr. Bariges, the proprietor, is an energetic young man, and deserves a share of the public patronage. Give him a trial.

—Centre Democrat and Philad Times one year for $1 45

ROYAL MOURNERS.

London Suspends Its Pleasures as a Tribute of Respect.

THE GRIEF OF PRINCESS MARY.

The Dead Prince's Affliated Dazed by the Taking Off of Her Betrothed Husband—Prince George of Wales, the Popular Heir Presumptive to the Throne.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—His royal highness the Duke of Clarence, eldest son of the Prince of Wales, died at 9:15 o'clock this morning. Reporters were not admitted to Sandringham, and only the scantiest information was communicated. Queen Victoria was immediately notified at Osborne of the death of her grandson. She at once telegraphed to the Prince and Princess of Wales her deep grief and her heartfelt share in their loss.

Prince Albert Victor was and always had been the queen's favorite grandson, and his untimely death was a most severe blow to her. She immediately telegraphed a long message of sympathy to the Prince and Princess of Wales.

The Prince and Princess of Wales are too much prostrated by grief to suggest as yet any details of the funeral of their son. The prince, it is said, has spent his time in almost entire seclusion with the princess, hardly speaking with any one, and at intervals visiting the chamber of death. The Princess of Wales bears her first bereavement with greater fortitude than the Prince of Wales, whose quiet and haggard appearance, when he appeared at a window and looked upon the familiar grounds in which he had seen his family grow up about him, was a more eloquent of his bereavement than tears would have been. The Princess Mary is said to be on the verge of mental collapse. The worst sign is her restlessness. She wanders about in an aimless way through the house as if she expected to meet her royal lover somewhere and be greeted by him in the old way. Her grief at the death had so overwhelmed that it attracted the attention of the Prince and Princess of Wales from their own. It is said that the dying prince gave her a last look of recognition as she kissed his forehead.

Telegrams of regret from all parts of the world are pouring in. The condolences of President Harrison were forwarded by Minister Lincoln. The leading theaters closed their doors, and even the skating and other sporting events have been postponed as a token of respect to the dead prince.

By the death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale Prince George of Wales becomes the heir of the Prince of Wales, and, therefore, heir presumptive to the throne. It may here be stated that Prince George is far more popular among all classes of British society than was his elder brother.

Prince George Frederick Ernest Albert of Wales was born June 3, 1865. He soon displayed a predilection for naval affairs, and after serving in minor capacities was appointed in March, 1890, to the command of the new gunboat Thrush, and while on this vessel he was attached to the British North American squadron. In August, 1891, he was promoted to the rank of commander.

The gossip concerning the succession, which was freely indulged in during the illness of the duke, has been greatly increased by his death. It is generally agreed that haste will now be made in bringing about the marriage of Prince George to remove the possibility of the Five succession. It is hinted very broadly that a marriage between Prince George and Princess Victoria Mary of Teck will be arranged. The newspaper, Modern Society, however, asserts that a marriage has already been arranged between Prince George and a daughter of Prince and Princess Christian.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Owing to various causes the projected military funeral of the late Duke of Clarence and Avondale will not take place. The health of Prince George of Wales is such that he will not be permitted to attend the obsequies. The health of the queen, which has been severely tried by the death of her grandson, still remains so shaken as to forbid her presence at the funeral. This being the case, the ladies of the court will abstain from participation in the last ceremonies.

In the opinion of the commanders of the National Guard of Pennsylvania war with Chili with a consequent call for assistance from the president to the militia is now assured and the prevalent opinion is that the guards will be among the first and finest on the field. Major General Snowden and other officers declare the guard is ready.

—Bellefonte has its full share of grip patients as we hear of much sickness in the town.

—Get your sale bills printed at this office. We do satisfactory work at very reasonable prices.

—Big cut in ready made clothing, overcoats, etc., at the Philad. Branch to dispose of the balance of winter stock. You can buy overcoats at and below cost.

—In many parts of the county the thermometer registered five degrees below zero on Wednesday morning. It was the coldest weather of the season. Ice men are preparing to fill their houses.

—Unclaimed letters: A. H. Browner 2, George Bryant, Martin Held 2, Mattie Hagons, Mrs. W. C. Miller, Lizzie Miller, George Reber, Edwin Stehly, John W. Yeisley. When called for say advertised.

—The revival at the M. E. church is attracting much interest. Large congregations assemble there every evening and the list of penitents has become quite large. Miss Sharp is a zealous christian woman and her labors here are not in vain.

—Don't forget to call at CENTRE DEMOCRAT office if you want to have sale bills printed. We carry a complete line of type and can fill orders on short notice. Our prices are reasonable and will suit you.

—Mr. John Emerick, of Centre Hall, was stricken with paralysis on last Sunday while sitting at the table. He remained unconscious until Tuesday morning when he died. He was aged about 76 years. A widow and a number of grown children survive.

—Rev. Frank Leidy, of Pleasant Gap will preach a sermon to the P. O. S. of A. in the Coleville chapel on Sunday morning, January 24th, 1892. The same evening he will preach at the Forge church. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and hear him.

A Sad Home.

For the Democrat. Again God has laid a heavy hand of affliction on a home in our village of Snow Shoe and all the children have been taken within a few days.

The family thus bereft is that of Mr. George Uzzle. On Tuesday, the 5th inst., the disease which has been so prevalent in our midst for some months past, namely diphtheria, entered their home. Every precaution had been taken to prevent it, but precautions were useless, as was also medical aid, and on Sunday, the 10th, the youngest child, Anna May, aged twenty months and twenty-eight days, succumbed to the disease. Her sister, one of the prettiest little girls in all the community, was suffering somewhat with the same ailment at the time of the little ones death. This, however, seemed to so affect her delicate constitution that the malady made hasty and fatal inroads on her system, and on January 15th, at half past nine in the morning, aged six years, one month and four days, Bernice Louisa, suffered the separation of the spirit from her beautiful little body, which on Saturday last was laid beside her little sister in Askey's cemetery.

Unique Marriage Ceremony.

The Clearfield Republican says that a justice of the peace in Chest township, Clearfield county, has adopted the following unique form of marriage ceremony: "By the authority vested in me as a Justice in the township of Chest and county of Clearfield; by the millions of logs that have floated down the creek by the thousands of Italians who are making a railroad checkerboard of our soil; by the fifty Democratic kickers, who swear that they will never again vote the ticket; by the monotonous squall of the cats on the backyard fence; by the tramp, tramp at midnight of the numerous citizens who have chickens twice a week and who never owned one; by our friendly neighbors who never quarrel; by the waters of Chest creek, the Susquehanna river, the earth and the sea and all that in them is, I pronounce you man and wife, and may the Lord have mercy on your souls."

If you have an old, blind horse to dispose of, take it to Jim Fiedler's "Lettery Shop" to be chanced off. He makes a specialty of that line of business. Terms given upon application at the post office. t.f.

PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR—PRINCESS MARY.

and his untimely death was a most severe blow to her. She immediately telegraphed a long message of sympathy to the Prince and Princess of Wales.

The Prince and Princess of Wales are too much prostrated by grief to suggest as yet any details of the funeral of their son. The prince, it is said, has spent his time in almost entire seclusion with the princess, hardly speaking with any one, and at intervals visiting the chamber of death. The Princess of Wales bears her first bereavement with greater fortitude than the Prince of Wales, whose quiet and haggard appearance, when he appeared at a window and looked upon the familiar grounds in which he had seen his family grow up about him, was a more eloquent of his bereavement than tears would have been. The Princess Mary is said to be on the verge of mental collapse. The worst sign is her restlessness. She wanders about in an aimless way through the house as if she expected to meet her royal lover somewhere and be greeted by him in the old way. Her grief at the death had so overwhelmed that it attracted the attention of the Prince and Princess of Wales from their own. It is said that the dying prince gave her a last look of recognition as she kissed his forehead.

Telegrams of regret from all parts of the world are pouring in. The condolences of President Harrison were forwarded by Minister Lincoln. The leading theaters closed their doors, and even the skating and other sporting events have been postponed as a token of respect to the dead prince.

By the death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale Prince George of Wales becomes the heir of the Prince of Wales, and, therefore, heir presumptive to the throne. It may here be stated that Prince George is far more popular among all classes of British society than was his elder brother.

Prince George Frederick Ernest Albert of Wales was born June 3, 1865. He soon displayed a predilection for naval affairs, and after serving in minor capacities was appointed in March, 1890, to the command of the new gunboat Thrush, and while on this vessel he was attached to the British North American squadron. In August, 1891, he was promoted to the rank of commander.

The gossip concerning the succession, which was freely indulged in during the illness of the duke, has been greatly increased by his death. It is generally agreed that haste will now be made in bringing about the marriage of Prince George to remove the possibility of the Five succession. It is hinted very broadly that a marriage between Prince George and Princess Victoria Mary of Teck will be arranged. The newspaper, Modern Society, however, asserts that a marriage has already been arranged between Prince George and a daughter of Prince and Princess Christian.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Owing to various causes the projected military funeral of the late Duke of Clarence and Avondale will not take place. The health of Prince George of Wales is such that he will not be permitted to attend the obsequies. The health of the queen, which has been severely tried by the death of her grandson, still remains so shaken as to forbid her presence at the funeral. This being the case, the ladies of the court will abstain from participation in the last ceremonies.

In the opinion of the commanders of the National Guard of Pennsylvania war with Chili with a consequent call for assistance from the president to the militia is now assured and the prevalent opinion is that the guards will be among the first and finest on the field. Major General Snowden and other officers declare the guard is ready.

—Bellefonte has its full share of grip patients as we hear of much sickness in the town.

—Get your sale bills printed at this office. We do satisfactory work at very reasonable prices.

—Big cut in ready made clothing, overcoats, etc., at the Philad. Branch to dispose of the balance of winter stock. You can buy overcoats at and below cost.

—In many parts of the county the thermometer registered five degrees below zero on Wednesday morning. It was the coldest weather of the season. Ice men are preparing to fill their houses.

—Unclaimed letters: A. H. Browner 2, George Bryant, Martin Held 2, Mattie Hagons, Mrs. W. C. Miller, Lizzie Miller, George Reber, Edwin Stehly, John W. Yeisley. When called for say advertised.

—The revival at the M. E. church is attracting much interest. Large congregations assemble there every evening and the list of penitents has become quite large. Miss Sharp is a zealous christian woman and her labors here are not in vain.

—Don't forget to call at CENTRE DEMOCRAT office if you want to have sale bills printed. We carry a complete line of type and can fill orders on short notice. Our prices are reasonable and will suit you.

—Mr. John Emerick, of Centre Hall, was stricken with paralysis on last Sunday while sitting at the table. He remained unconscious until Tuesday morning when he died. He was aged about 76 years. A widow and a number of grown children survive.

—Rev. Frank Leidy, of Pleasant Gap will preach a sermon to the P. O. S. of A. in the Coleville chapel on Sunday morning, January 24th, 1892. The same evening he will preach at the Forge church. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and hear him.