FEARFUL HOLOCAUST

The Hotel Royal, New York City, in Ruins.

MANY LIVES ARE REPORTED LOST.

Harrowing Scenes Witnessed by Those Who Assembled in Sight of the Burning Building-Guests Leap from Windows to Escape from the sea of Flames.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 .- A disaster paralleling in horror and probably exceed-ing in loss of life the terrible occurrence Park Place, the remembrance of in which is fresh in the public minds, occurred here early yesterday morning. The Hotel Royal, at Fortieth street and Sixth avenue, was burned to the ground and a large number of people were burned to death, many suffocated by smoke and others crushed to death in the ruins.

It was a few minutes after 3 o'clock yesterday morning when the flames were first discovered. They never had better |fuel. The building was com-posed of several old structures, all amalgamated into the Hotel Royal years ago. So far as can be learned the flames kindled in the shaft of the elevator in the basement at about the middle depth of the building.

Terrible Scenes Enacted.

Harrowing scenes were witnessed by those who were assembled in sight of the burning house. One unknown man sprang from a window on the third floor and was dashed to death on the sidewalk below before the horrified eyes of the spectators. This terrible scene was enacted on the Sixth avenue side of the A moment later another man house. leaped from a window on the Fortieth street side and was mangled to death. Shortly afterward two women jumped from windows on the Sixth avenue side.

Firemen and spectators helped to rescue the imprisoned guests and employes. Many were taken from windows where they had sought refuge from the flames and the firemen dared smoke and flames to save life. Sergeant Ward and Patrolman Phillips went into a room on the fourth floor and took Walter H. Phelps and his wife safely down a ladder. Officer Phillips succeeded in saving Mrs. Samuel Knapp, of Chicago, who was un-able to save herself and was about to leap from a window on the third floor.

Mr. Uhlman's Great Loss.

Mr. Frederick Uhlman, a well known dealer in hops, lost everything in his room, including $12,000 in cash, several checks and notes and other valuable business documents. Among the nar-row escapes related is that of William C. Thompkins, of this city, who was a transient guest. He was aroused by the cry of fire and finding escape by the stairs impossible coolly packed his things and lowered himself to the ground by means of the rope fire escape which he found in the room. When on the ground he gathered up his effects, which he had previously thrown out of the window, and went elsewhere to finish his sleep. A tall, handsome young man, climbed down the Sixth avenue front from the topmost window. He slowly climbed from sill to sill until he reached the ground. He was seriously burned and bruised,' but alive, and the crowd cheered him wildly while he disappeared, unidentified, in the crowd. Mrs. Keuper and her daughter, Julia, who occupied a room on the third floor at the corner of Fortieth street and Sixth avenue, and who registered from Flemington, N. J., on Saturday, were rescued by a policeman and a fireman, who carried them down a ladder. They lost all their clothing save their night dresses, which they had on. Mrs. Keuper suffered greatly from the shock and Miss Kueper's long black hair was badly singed by the flames, which burst out of the window as she stepped on the ladder to salety

GARZA WRITES TO HARRISON

He Publishes a copy of His Letter in a Spanish Newspaper.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 9.—A sensation was created among the Mexican popula-tion and in military circles here by the publication of a letter addressed to the Hon. Benjamin Harrison, president of the United States, from Catarini Garza, the revolutionary leader, in El Chinaco, the leading Spanish newspaper of this city. The letter is dated La Sierrieta, state of Tamaulapas, Mexico, Jan. 31.

1892.In his preliminary remarks to the ed-itor Garza states that he has forwarded President Harrison the letter, but that he fears that the latter will not make it public and as he desires to have his position and action towards the United States clearly understood, he decided to send a copy of the letter to El Chinaco for publication.

The letter is for the most part an attack on the Mexican government and particularly President Diaz. He offers strong objection to being charged with violating the neutrality of the United States.

Charged With Vitrol Throwing.

CARLISLE, Pa., Feb. 9 .- The trial of Mrs. Cora Frey, of Newville, charged with throwing vitrol in the face of her husband, George Frey, was begun here. Both parties are about 25 years of age and the wife is of propossessing appearance. A scene was created when she was brought into court. As she passed near the husband, seated at the counsel table, she rushed to him and showered endearments upon him in a most affect-ing manner. The husband maintained most stolid indifference. It is not the denied, it is said, that she threw the vitrol, but as he had said that evening he would not live with her longer and had gone to his father's home, the defense is that she was frenzied by his con-

Mr. Noonan's Thrilling Escape.

A young man named Noonan, who occupied a room on the fourth floor, made a thrilling escape. With the confidence of an athlete he swung himself from the window sill to the window below, and from one window to another he descended until he reached the ground. New YORK, Feb. 9. — How many charred and mangled bodies are yet bur-ied beneath the ruins of the Hotel Royal is a question of horrible uncertainty. Thus far twelve bodies have been recov ered, only two of which has been identified. From a very careful exami-nation of the hotel register and the journal which was furnished by Night Clerk Underwood the number of persons in the building when the fire broke out was 152. Of these twelve are known to be dead, eighty-one were rescued by the firemen, assisted by citizens, before the walls collapsed, and fifty-nine are still missing

Twelve Bodies from the Ruins. At 8 o'clock last night number twelve was found. It was the trunk of a woman, and was found near the Fortieth street entrance to the hotel. The legs and arms were gone, and nothing was found near the body by which it might be recognized. Twenty minutes later the laborers found the foot of a human being wedged in under a piano. At this point work was stopped temporarily.

Work was resumed in a few minutes, the stop having been made to remove a portion of wall which appeared dangerous. A lady's memorandum book, on the back of which was the name Mrs. H. A. Cate, was found. Last evening the identification of the body in box No. 9 was made complete. It is that of Mrs. Mary Begley, the housekeeper of the Hotel Royal.

Among those who were rescued from the flaming building are twenty-four who are more or less seriously burned and bruised. Three of these are at Bellevne hospital, and there is one each at the New York and Presbyterian hospitals. The others have been cared for by their friends at neighboring hotels or at their home

At the Morgue.

The body of Henry S. Levy, the only one of those at the morgue which has been identified, was removed to the home of the dead man's cousin. It was taken to 243 East Forty-ninth street, and will be buried in Salem Fields, Brooklyn. The other bodies have been viewed by hundreds of persons, none of whom were, however, able to identify them. There was a big crowd about the morgue, but admittance was denied to all but friends of the persons reported to be missing. The bodies are arranged in a row in pine coffins.
