ANARCHISTS IN BELGIUM.

They Wreck the Home of the Civic Guard Commander.

Liege, May 3.—The house of the commander of the civic gnards was wrecked with a dynamite bomb last night. The bomb was placed between the inside and outside doors of the ves-tibule, and the bell was rung. The fuse must have been very short, for the maid servant was only half way down the hallway from the rear of the house when the explosion came. Doors, casings, half of the first story wall, and the steps were smashed and strewn along the pavement. The large paving stones in front of the house were split, and by the side of the steps a gap six feet deep torn. The ceilings fell throughout the house, two chandeliers fell, and every bit of glass, including the wine bottles in the cellar, was broken. The shock shook the houses for a radius of 300 yards, and many houses within a radius of 200 yards were seriously damaged.

commander of the civic guard had left the city with his family. He had been warned repeatedly, since the calling out of the civic guard for May day, that any attempt of the guard to discipline the socialists would mean his death. He therefore left Sunday night.

and added that the prisoner was not in-He was sentenced to death. As the judge pronounced the words, "To be hanged by the neck until dead," Deeming gasped and tottered, but recovered himself enough to nod with indifference. He then sank back in his seat. The audience in the court room applauded the verdict and sentence. Deeming was then taken back to prison, was searched carefully and locked in his He called back to the keeper as the latter started down the prison corridor, and, with an effort at bravado said: "I suppose you think I'm in a tight fix. Well, I suppose I am, but I may cheat the gallows yet."

MELBOURNE, May 4. - Murderer Deeming has been placed in the condemned cell, and heavy irons are locked upon his wrists to prevent him from commit-ting suicide. There is hardly a doubt that he would kill himself if the opportunity offered.

On Strike for Air.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 4 .-Fifty men and boys went on strike in the lawn tennis shoe room of the United States Rubber company's factory be-cause of alleged bad ventilation. The windows were nailed down at the bottom, allowing only the upper sash to be lowered to admit fresh air. Because of oppressive heat the hands asked to be allowed to open the windows from the bottom, but this privilege was refused. They thereupon donned their coats and stopped work. The superintendent said that the order was necessary to protect the goods in course of manufacture from draught, since the air served to impair the quality of the material.

The Ninth Victim.

PHILADELPHIA, May 4.—Everett M. Holmes, aged 24 years, of Camden, one of the victims of the cruel flames that on Wednesday night of last week devastated the Central theater, died at the Pennsylvania hospital. DISASTROUS FOREST FIRES. Conflagrations That Caused Much Damage in New Jersey. MAY'S LANDING, M. J., May 4.—Monday was a great day for forest fires in Atlantic county. Four large fires raged in different parts of the county all day, creating great destruction. The worst fire was at Estelleville, four miles from here, and at one time it was feared that the little village would be burned out. A careless farmer burning brush started

Large forces of men from this place and other surrounding places fought the flames all day with but little succes, as the heat was so intense as to be unbearable. The residents had no thoughts of going to their beds. At 8 o'clock a heavy thunder storm came up, and at 10 the flames were extinguished. The storm was a Godsend to the poor peo-ple, who had labored hard all day to save their homes. Their loss will reach several thousand dollars.

Another fire that did considerable damage, burning much young standing lumber and cord wood, raged all day at Gloucester Lane, below Egg Harbor City. Much fine cedar timber was destroyed by this fire. Two other small fires raged between this place and New-field. The destruction by forest fires so far this season is more than in many previous years.

Fourteen residences outside of the city were destroyed, and F. A. Bidwell, of York, Neb., and his son were killed.

Simon Bates, a farmer, while riding, was overtaken by the tornado. He dismounted and held his horse by the lariat rope. The horse became frantic and wound Bates up in the rope. Before he could extricate himself, the horse was lifted from the earth and carried a hundred feet. Bates' left leg was fractured and he received internal injuries. George Rickert and his family of ten entered a dugout, and the house was torn to atoms. A portion of the roof was hurled against the roof of the cave, crushing it in. All escaped with bruises. CRESTON, Ia., May 4.—The latest rain storm was the most disastrous one that has ever been known in this locality. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, south from Creston, suffered a severe loss, twenty miles of roadbed being entirely submerged. Heavy washouts have occurred between Lennox and Bedford. There is not a country bridge
