SUDDENNESS OF THE CYCLONE.

It Accomplished Its Work of Death and Destruction in Two Minutes' Time-A Bride of Three Months Among the Dead, and Her Husband Insane from Grief.

WELLINGTON, Kan., May 28 .- Wellington was struck by a terrible cyclone last evening and the entire northern part of the city was destroyed. About 50 people were killed and 125 injured.

Wellington, Kan., May 30.—It is now known to a certainty that twenty lives were lost in Friday night's cyclone in this city and the fatally injured list is adding hourly to the list of dead. There are half a dozen persons known to be missing, but no trace of their bodies can be found until the wreckage of the Phillips House and the stores on Washington avenue has been removed.

The list of injured is not so large as at first reported, but thirty-five are known to have received wounds which in many cases will result fatally. Several members of the Salvation Army are in the list. James Lawrence, Republican candate for attorney general, had a leg and arm broken. The husband of Mrs. J. K. Sacher, a youthful bride who was killed, is insane from grief, and has been placed under restraint.

The cyclone was not exceeding two minutes in accomplishing its terrible work of destruction and death.

The resident portion of the city that was in the line of the storm, which was about two and a half blocks wide, is laid low. In its path were located many of the best residences in the city, as well as hundreds of small, comfortable, though unpretentious homes. All are laid on a common level, and their late occupants form a wandering army of homeless, clothesless citizens.

There are many incidents of the storm that are remarkable. The ball that was in progress at the Phillips House had just begun. The music had scarcely struck up when the storm came. Ladies in evening dress fled terror stricken into the streets, where the rain of water and bricks was falling. Strange to say none who thus escaped from the hotel were killed outright, although nearly all were injured to some extent.

Another strange freak of the cyclone was its methods of handling the infant child of Henry Bowers. The Bowers home was unroofed and the baby taken from its cradle, carried four blocks, and laid on the grass in the mayor's yard, where it was found crying in the heavy rain storm unhurt. It had not even a cold, and was not at all hurt from its Twenty freight cars were standing in the Rock Island yards. Ten of them were taken in one direction and ten in another, the two bunches being found a mile apart smashed to smithereens. It was in one of the cars that Henry James, the boy tramp, whose home is not known, was found. The Rock Island lumber yard was one of the biggest yards in Kansas. The stock is scattered all over Summer county.

The telephone system, except one line wire, which is all right from end to end, is completely ruined, and the switch board at the Central office was taken a mile and dropped in a pond. The electric light dynamo and a ponderous Westinghouse engine were picked up like shingles and carried over the town and deposited not far from the Phillips manner in which the plate glass was taken from the elegant Spicknall block and carried several yards, set up against a frame house, and, aside from losing a few chips around the edge, was not broken.

Trees were torn from their roots and houses were turned right about face. Stoves were lifted until they finally landed in the upper floors of the ruine. How this was done is beyond explanation, but it is a fact.

In one instance a horse was actually taken from his stable and dumped on top of a two story building.

The Lutheran church, a massive frame building, one of the most substantial kind in the city, was taken up, turned completely over and now stands with the floor upward, as solid, apparently, as if it had been built in that way. It is not a small building, either, for it has seating capacity for 700 people.

HARPER, Kan., May 30.—The cyclone that devastated the city of Wellington Friday night reached this town about three hours later. The depot was blown away and all electric communication with the outer world cut off. At (present twelve people are dead, Many more are not accounted for.

TRENTON, June 1 .- The first important step in the war of the authorities of New Jersey against the Reading coal deal was taken yesterday afternoon, when Attorney General Stockton filed an information in the court of chauncery denying the New Jersey Central's power to lease itself to the Port Reading Rail road company, or to become a dealer in coal. The information prays for an injunction to restrain the roads from do ing any act whatever by virtue of lease.

The chancellor granted a rule to show cause why the relief asked for should not be granted, and also granted a prehimnary injunction.

PITTSBURG, June 1.—Andrew Ludwig and Peter Whalen, laborers at the Edgar Thomson Steel works, were badly burned yesterday by gas and metal from the blow pipe of the furnace. They were working near the blow pipe, and an explosion took place. Both men were badly burned about the arms and body. They were brought to this city and taken to the Mercy hospital. Ludwig may die.

Philadelphia, June 1.—Eight weeks ago, while playing with the Newfoundland dog of a neighbor, Elmer Pickering, the 4-year-old son of George Pickering, a dyer, was bitten in the face by the animal. The child's wounds were cauterized and the dog was shot. On Friday last the little boy began to complain of pains of his face. Within a few hours he was raving in all the agonies of hydrophobia, and yesterday he died from the disease.

ASHLAND, Pa., June 1.—A serious stabbing affray occurred at Centralia at 2 o'clock in the morning, and in consequence Richard Lane, a young man aged 22, is lying at his home in a critcal condition. Eight knife wounds appear in his body, three of which require several stitches. Patrick Gallagher, who did the stabbing, has been arrested and is now in jail awaiting the result of his victim's injuries. The affray grew out of a dispute.

Johnstown, Pa., June 1 .- Yesterday was the third anniversary of the Johns town flood. The principal feature of the day's ceremonies was the unveiling of the monument to the unknown victims of the disaster at Grand View cemetery. After a parade to the cemetery addresses were delivered by Governor Pattison, ex-Governor Beaver and Flood Commissioner Ogden. The monument weighs thirty-five tons, is of westerly granite, and is surrounded by three fig-ures, representing Faith, Hope and ke shingles and carried over the town and deposited not far from the Phillips louse ruins.

Another freak of the storm was the local and deposited not far from the Phillips raged fiercely for seven hours. The fire-local and leaves no unpleasant effects.

The building was completely gutted and not a pound of tobacco was saved from the fire and water. It was the largest tobacco fire known here in years, and the origin is unknown. The loss is $156,000.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 30 .- A bloody battle took place at Shenandoah yesterday between four toughs of the town and twelve Italians employed at the Shenandoah City Colliery strippings. The latter were having a regular spree in the vicinity of the strippings, when the toughs attempted to steal a keg of beer from them. The Italians opened fire on them, fatally wounding Thomas McAlister and seriously wounding William Ringheiser and Joe Seduskey. Eight were arrested and the remainder are being pursued by officers of the law.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 30.-Lightning which struck a column pipe ran down the slope at Otto colliery and shocked Charles McGovern, who was standing by the mine stable door, rendering him senseless. He now lies in a precarious condition. Three other miners who were near by were likewise affected, but not so seriously. The slope is 1,500 feet deep. No bolt has ever reached such a depth before. In its passage into the bowels of the earth the electric fluid burned, tore and twisted the pipe in such a way as to necessitate the temporary suspension of the collery. PHILADELPHIA, May 29 .- World's Fair Executive Commissioner Farquhar left the city late yesterday afternoon. Before taking the train he was interviewed upon the success of his trip, and said: "I had a very satisfactory interview with the councils. They withdrew their resolution to put up a separate building, and unanimously approved the plan proposed for having the state house bell and other historic exhibits shown in the Pennsylvania state building at Chicago. They propose furnishing the large status of William Penn intended for the city hall, the models of the centennial buildings and treasures of every description, and also to furnish some picked policemen to take care of the exhibits. HARRISBURG, May 30,-The Baltimore One Price Clothing store was robbed of $2,000 worth of ctothing early yester-day morning. It is supposed the burg-lars entered the cellar Saturday night, and waited until both the store and the Western Union telegraph office, which adjoins the place in the rear, were closed, the latter at 2:30 a. m. Show cases were placed against the front door to obstruct the view from the outside, and then the robbers began assorting the goods. Only the most costly were taken. The burglars departed by a rear door and climbed over two fences, each seven feet in height, with their booty, and were gone hours before the robbery was discovered. No locks were broken, and the affair gives evidence of having been carefully planned. Several hundred dollars' worth of articles of various kinds were also piled up, but were not taken.
