

SICKENING SIGHTS.

A Series of Accidents on a New French Cruiser.

MANY MEN FATAALLY SCALDED.

The vessel was making a trial of her machinery when a terrible explosion occurred, leaving the engineers and stokers writhing in agony.

BREST, June 22.—A terrible accident occurred on board the new French cruiser Dupuy de Lome, 6,300 tons. Orders had been given for the vessel to make a trial of her machinery, and while the trial was in progress, and of one of the boilers was blown out.

The fire room immediately became filled with scalding steam and a sulphurous smoke, caused by the water reaching and extinguishing the fire under the boiler. To make the situation worse the electric lights went out and the fire room was left in darkness, all the furnace doors being closed.

The engineers who were in the fire room at the time, and the stokers were unable to escape until the chief engineer and an outsider rushed down the fire room ladder and broke open the door of the compartment.

Then a most horrible and sickening sight presented itself. Men were lying on the deck delirious from the agony caused by the terrible injuries they had sustained. Some were writhing in convulsions, their blackened and distorted faces and fearfully blistered bodies, arms and legs presenting a sight at once sickening and heartrending. Several of the men in their torture had bitten themselves on their arms and hands and had attacked their equally unfortunate companions and bitten them. In some cases men were heaped together in struggling, writhing masses, and it required considerable effort to separate them.

The deck of the fire room was covered with scalding water from the exploded boiler to the depth of two or three inches and in this the injured men lay, every second adding to the terrible scalding they had received.

Efforts were at once made to get the men out of the fire room, but this task was rendered difficult through the fact that they were absolutely crazy with pain and attacked their would be rescuers with their hands, feet and teeth, in some cases inflicting quite severe injuries. The hot water also added to the difficulty of removing the men and finally it was found necessary to grasp them in any way and drag them out.

Fifteen of them were dying when they were taken to the ship's hospital, and a number of others will undoubtedly die in a very short time. It is believed that besides their external injuries nearly all of them inhaled steam, and this alone would be sufficient to cause death.

At the very time the end of the boiler blew out an explosion occurred in the coal bunkers and set the cruiser on fire. The crew were at once summoned to fire quarters and hoses were laid to the bunkers. The donkey engines were started, and soon the fire was got under control.

The two accidents caused some breach in the usual man-of-war discipline, and some of the officers appeared to have lost their heads.

While nearly everybody on board the cruiser was attempting to rescue the injured in the fire room or fighting the fire in the bunkers the quartermasters reported that they could not handle the ship.

An investigation was made, when it was found that the steering apparatus had been broken down. The cruiser was perfectly helpless and signals were hoisted asking for assistance. She was finally brought back to her moorings. The naval authorities will make a most searching investigation into the accidents.

PITTSBURG, June 20.—The obsequies over the remains of ex-Senator James S. Rutan took place at his late residence in Allegheny at 11 o'clock this morning. After the services the remains were taken to the family burying ground at Beaver. Mr. Rutan had not been well for several weeks, and it is no secret that many of his warmest friends charge his broken constitution to the course of bi-chronic of gold treatment he took at the Keely institute at Dwight, Ill., last January. At that time, it is claimed, he was in fairly good condition, but that since taking the gold treatment his nervous system has been shattered.

CHESTER, Pa., June 20.—John Anderson, a Swedish leper confined in the county almshouse at Lima, escaped from that institution Saturday night and came to Chester, where he visited the City hotel and drank several rounds with the habitués of the house and then created a furore by disclosing his identity. When J. P. McCarty undertook to take hold of him Anderson bit him severely on the hand. An officer was afraid to arrest the loathsome Swede and advised the citizens to take the other side of the street and give the leper all the room he wanted. Anderson was arrested yesterday by Officer Sill as he was about to undress on Market street. The officer did not know him at the time. Dr. C. W. Perkins, president of the board of health, had the man returned to Lima, but the authorities there do not know what to do with him.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 21.—John Fisher, of Ashley, shot John Washington in the back, and the bullet penetrated his heart. Washington, who was ascending the steps of his house, dropped to the pavement and died instantly. Fisher was crazed with drink and had nearly killed his wife with an ax just before shooting Washington. The latter lived in the other part of the double house. He could not sleep for the noise, and, hastily dressing, remonstrated with Fisher.

Fisher took the axe, smashed through the thin partition that separated the rooms, and chased Washington outside, afterwards shooting him, as he stated. Fisher says that on coming home he had found his wife and Washington together, but other witnesses testified that Washington had not left his own house during the night.

After a hearing the murderer was sent to jail without bail. He has two pretty children, and the parting with them was most affecting. Fisher has done but little except weep and moan since the murder, and refuses to believe that his victim is dead. Fisher has always been a peaceable man, and drink was his only fault.

Mr. Blaine's Affliction.

CHICAGO, June 20.—Emmons Blaine, son of ex-Secretary Blaine, died on Saturday. Blood poisoning, the result of inflammation of the bowels, was the cause. Mr. Blaine was a notable figure in the exciting scenes at Minneapolis. He took the result greatly to heart, and was confined to his room shortly after his return from the north. It is thought possible by many that the strain and excitement at Minneapolis, followed by the keen disappointment at the outcome, had not a little to do with the physical prostration ensuing.

KEYSTONE STATE NEWS.

YORK, Pa., June 20.—Two little daughters of Jacob Glatfelter, who resides at Brillhart's station, three miles south of here, were struck by lightning as they were playing in the yard and killed.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 18.—James Boughton, colored, was found murdered in his home on Ninth street yesterday with a knife thrust through his heart. His wife and Jasper Loomis, also colored, of whom Boughton was jealous, were arrested and locked up. The couple were married less than two years ago.

READING, Pa., June 22.—Howard J. Printz, aged 23, died in the Homeopathic hospital from the effects of injuries sustained by being whirled around a shaft a number of times in the machine shop of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company. His right arm was torn off below the elbow, his leg broken, and he received numerous gashes on his body.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 18.—Dennis Mahoney laid down upon the railroad track at Maplewood upon his return from the Scranton celebration, and went to sleep. A passenger train ran over him, cutting off both legs, causing his death yesterday. Near Dunmore yesterday an unknown man walking upon the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks was struck and killed by a coal train.

READING, Pa., June 22.—The farmers of Berks county are at work in earnest, mowing their grass fields and harvesting the crop. There are many good fields, but also many poor ones, and in some sections the hay crop will be a light one. Large quantities of old hay have been sent to market. Recently hay was selling at $20 per ton, but the price has been reduced to $17 and $18 per ton.

READING, Pa., June 22.—W. Seeley Humbert, a professional baseball player, who is serving a two and a half years term in the Berks county prison for forgery, is slowly starving to death. Some years ago he was struck on the jaw by a baseball. An operation was performed and an artificial plate jaw supplied. He is now unable to open his mouth and can take no solid food. Another operation will shortly be performed.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., June 21.—A cloudburst in German Valley, this county, caused great damage to crops and swept away fences, bridges and outbuildings on farms. On Plum run Robert Kalenbach and family were fleeing from their home, which was inundated. He had his 6-month-old child in his arms and fell. The child was carried away by the current and drowned. The body was recovered half a mile away.

CHESTER, Pa., June 20.—Charles Martin shot and instantly killed John Riley yesterday afternoon in the house of the former on Front street, South Chester. Both are colored and were quarreling over a game of crap. Martin was also accused because of Riley's attentions to his (Martin's) wife. The murderer escaped. Riley was aged 27 years and unmarried. The colored population is greatly excited over the affair.

EASTON, Pa., June 20.—Harry Horshelmer, a 16-year-old boy, employed as a special delivery carrier at the East postoffice, was arrested for stealing packages from the mails. His thefts have been going on for some time and included valuable merchandise. His last booty was a lady's valuable gold watch. The arrest was made by United States Inspector Moore. The prisoner confessed his guilt. His parents are respectable people and are greatly shocked at the downfall of their son.

PITTSBURG, June 18.—Five children were drowned at Neville Island, on the Ohio river, six miles from Pittsburgh, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Their names are: Paul Pittcock, 3 years old; Rufo Pittcock, 9 years old; Maggie Pittcock, 13 years old; Ada Pittcock, 14 years old; and Edna Richardson, 13 years old. The children were playing in the barn. The buggy was muddy and they took it to the edge of the river to clean it. In some unknown manner the buggy tipped over the bank into the deep water, pulling the five children with it and all were drowned.

FRENCH SPOILATION CLAIMS.

Rejected by the Court of Claims on the Ground of Forgery.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The French spoliation cases of the ships Monad and Una, involving the sum of $300,000, have been rejected by the court of claims. The contention of the United States attorney was that the evidence introduced in support of the claims "was forged and perjured from beginning to end." The claims are based on the fight of Feb. 3, 1800, between the United States ship Constellation, Captain Truxton commanding, and the French frigate Vengeance, in which the latter lost over sixty men, killed or wounded. The Monad and Una, it was claimed, are imaginary ships, the crews of which are alleged to have been on the Vengeance as captives during the above mentioned engagement, which lasted over five hours. The ships are said to have been burned in the presence of Captain Truxton. Included in the evidence is a letter purporting to have been written by him, giving an account of their destruction. The government counsel contended that this document was a complete forgery. The claimant in these cases is George L. Moody, of Philadelphia.

Five Killed a Wreck.

PORTLAND, Me., June 22.—There was a serious railroad accident on the Grand Trunk line near this city. The result of a bad washout caused by heavy rains, train No. 5, local from Island Pond, Vt., to Montreal, plunged forty feet into a cut at a point about half way between Hillurst and Gosticook, Canada. Two cars were piled on top of the engine. The following were killed: Mark Dale, of Island Pond, Vt., engineer; Freeman Reed, Island Pond; Edward Small, express messenger, of North Yarmouth, Me., and who has been in the service of the Canadian Express company about twenty years; Baggage-master Curran; a passenger, named unknown. Several passengers were severely and perhaps fatally injured.

Scudder Cheats the Gallows.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Dr. Henry Martin Scudder, the physician who stood charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Danton, died at the county jail from the effects of a dose of morphine, apparently self-administered yesterday. According to the testimony of George Painter, a condemned murderer, who occupied a cell next to that of the doctor, the latter was given small doses of morphine, and the supposition is that he had saved these portions till he had accumulated a sufficient quantity to end his life. The object of the murder, it was claimed by the prosecution, was a determination to put Mrs. Danton out of the way after having forged her will so that his wife would become her principal heir.

Congressman Mutchler's Successor.

EASTON, Pa., June 22.—The Democratic congressional conference of the Eighth district, comprising the counties of Northampton, Carbon, Monroe and Pike, will meet in Mauch Chunk early in September to name a candidate to succeed Hon. William Mutchler, of Easton. The counties of Carbon, Monroe and Pike intend to take a hand and, if possible, name a candidate outside of Northampton. Monroe will support Congressman Storm, Carbon will try to nominate Allen Craig and Pike will bring forward the name of George Rowland. It is not known whether Mr. Mutchler will be a candidate or not. At last accounts he had not made up his mind.

A Desperate Fugitive.

LONDON, June 21.—A desperate attempt to escape arrest was made by a German named Wenzel, an employe of a butcher, wanted on a charge of larceny. A detective went to the shop to arrest Wenzel, but he resisted and fled down Charing Cross road, pursued by the detective and a large crowd. The detective was gaining, when the man drew a revolver and fired twice, one shot taking effect in the abdomen and the other in the head. It is believed he will die. Some followed the fugitive, who again fired, and wounded a man in the shoulder. The pursuers finally caught Wenzel, who struggled desperately, but was overpowered.

A Thieving Buffalo Banker.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 22.—E. S. Dann, secretary and cashier of the National Saving bank of Buffalo since its organization in 1861, is in the custody of officers at the residence of his mother in this city. His accounts were recently examined in the usual way by a state bank examiner and found to be short at least $2,000, and how much more remains for further developments to determine. It is said that Dann's confession is in the hands of the bank officials. Dann is a prominent church member and has always enjoyed an enviable reputation.

Pleasure Seekers Drowned.

DETROIT, Mich., June 21.—The yacht Caprice, with twenty-seven persons on board, was captured near Peche island, several miles above this city near the Canadian shore. All of the party were thrown into the water and Carrie Beiber, aged 19, and Minnie Block, aged 17, were drowned. The yacht Duke, when coming to their assistance, attempted to turn, and Henry Pathow, Jr., was knocked overboard and also drowned. All of the bodies have been recovered.

Depew Denies a Rumor.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Mr. Chauncey M. Depew was shown the dispatch from Paris saying that Minister Lincoln would be appointed secretary of state in the United States to succeed Mr. Blaine, and that Mr. Depew would take Mr. Lincoln's place. "You can say," said Mr. Depew, "that there isn't any truth in either report." He also stated that the name of Mr. Harrison's secretary of state would not be known until it was sent to congress.

Montana Wins the Suburban.

BROOKLYN, June 20.—The ninth Suburban, run on the Sheephead Bay course on Saturday, was won by Marcus Daly's bay colt Montana, ridden by Garrison; W. J. Spier's Major Domino, ridden by Lambley; second, and Brown & Rogers' Lamplighter, ridden by Bergen; third. The time was 2:07 2-5. There were 20,000 people present. The race was worth $18,000 to the winner, $5,000 to the second horse, and $2,000 to the third.

A Determined Suicide.

GARDNER, Mass., June 24.—Mrs. Mary Clark and her child, 21 years old, were found in a stream of water back of her house in Hubbardston. She had tied the child to her with a piece of apron and they jumped into the water, lying face down.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

And Men of War Times.

By the Veteran Journalist, Col. A. K. McClure.

L. L. D., Editor-in-chief of The Philadelphia Times.

Col. McClure needs no introduction to the public. He is well and widely known as a forceful and perspicacious writer, as a close and sagacious student of men and events, as a writer of experiences, extraordinary alike in scope and interest.

Of the many books that have been published relating to Abraham Lincoln and his administration, this is among the most interesting and valuable. It is not a biography of Lincoln, nor a history of the Civil War, but it presents a series of pictures of Lincoln in his relation to the great events of his time and to the distinguished men who surrounded him, from the point of view of an experienced observer who was closely associated with the political movement of the day, and was frequently called into the confidential councils of the President.

Mr. McClure records in this book only those things of which he had personal knowledge, or which came to his knowledge directly, and his personal recollections of Lincoln present a truthful and vivid portrait of that great man in many of the critical periods of his life, such as has not been presented before. The revelations of Lincoln's judgment and skill as a politician are particularly interesting, because they show the character of the man as known comparatively few now living, although it formed an essential element in the public history of war times.

The successive chapters describe the relations of Lincoln with the members of his cabinet, the leaders in Congress, the commanders of the armies and the officers of the prominent men about him, whose various and often conflicting efforts and ambitions he so wisely combined to the service of his country. The book is written with entire independence and freedom from partisanship or prejudice, in a spirit of just appreciation, and each chapter is a clear, concise and judicious historical judgment of the subject to which it relates.
