CHOLERA'S RAVAGES.

Great Alarm Felt in Cities of Southern Russia.

INTRODUCED BY PILGRIMS.

The Disease Has Got Beyond Control of the Military Physician at Dushak, Germany and Austria Trying to Keep It Out—May Be Checked.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—Consternation prevails in some parts of the empire, owing to the rapid spread of cholera. At Baku, capital of the government of Baku, on the west coast of the Caspian sea, thirty-five new cases of the disease were reported yesterday. Baku is a great petroleum shipping port. The streets are narrow and crooked and the town is generally ill built. Sanitary rules are not observed. The city contains Parsee temples, to which pilgrimages are made by that sect, and it is probable that the disease was introduced by the pilgrims.

Workmen Frightened. Thousands of the workmen employed in the city and at the petroleum springs on the peninsula of Apeheron, on which the town is situated, have become so frightened that they are leaving in droves. The quarantine commission has telegraphed to the ministry of the interior that, though there is a little betterment in the sanitary condition of the city, the regulations for preventing the spread of the disease are not sufficiently stringent to effect the end sought. The commission asks for further power in the premises.

The military physician at Dushak has telegraphed that the disease there has got beyond his control and asking that medical assistance and nurses be sent to him. A feature of the epidemic is the rapidity with which the persons stricken with it collapse. One of the guards on the Transcaspian railway was seized with cholera and died on his train before any medical assistance could be obtained for him.

Precautionary Measures. VIENNA, June 29.—The governments of Germany and Austria are acting in concert in the adoption of measures to prevent cholera from entering their respective countries.

Professor Drasche, of the Vienna sanitary board, who has been studying cholera for thirty years, thinks it improbable that the disease will spread beyond Russia even if it gets a foothold there. He says that in other countries bad sanitation, like that which obtains in Russia, has become a thing of the past.

LONDON, June 29.—The Paris correspondent of The Times urges, in the face of the alarm about cholera, the necessity of improving the water supply of that city. He says that an analysis shows that water from the Seine, after filtration, contains 37,000 bacteria to the cubic centimetre. He adds, however, that no specific cholera or typhoid bacilli were found in the water.

The correspondent also says that the notable decrease in the number of deaths supposed to be due to cholera has led the municipal authorities to suspend the sittings of the secret committee of inquiry into cholera cases.

Treasurer Dann's Case. BUFFALO, June 29.—Charles J. Armstrong, teller of the National Savings bank and brother-in-law of Treasurer Dann, was arrested, charged with misappropriating funds. McCredie, the ex-teller, has not yet returned from his "pleasure trip" and is probably in Canada. A postponement of ten days has been granted in the hearing of Dann's case.

From Treasury to War Department. WASHINGTON, June 29.—Mr. Geisenhainer, of New Jersey, in his report from the committee on naval affairs, recommending the passage of the bill to transfer the revenue cutter service from the treasury department to the navy department, says that the committee thinks that the transfer will be conducive to increased efficiency in the service itself.

Bad for Cattle Thieves. VINITA, I. T., June 29.—The stockmen of the northeastern portion of this territory have organized the Cattlemen's Protective Association of the Indian Territory, with headquarters at this place. The purpose is to protect themselves from loss by theft and otherwise of cattle which are shipped to market.

Gomper's Sunday Opening. CHICAGO, June 29.—President of the American Federation of Labor Samuel Gomper has written to Secretary Ballinger, of the National Liberty association, favoring the opening of the World's fair on Sundays.

Parliament Dissolved. LONDON, June 29.—The Royal Gazette today publishes the queen's proclamation dissolving parliament and summoning the new parliament to meet on Thursday, Aug. 4. The writs are being issued accordingly.

People Burned in Paris Tenements. PARIS, June 29.—Three tenement houses in Bercy, a Parisian suburb, were destroyed by fire. A number of the occupants were burned to death. The damage amounts to 1,500,000 francs.

BRIEF MENTION. George Dixon, champion featherweight, beat Fred Johnson, of England, in fourteen rounds at the Coney Island Athletic club. The national Republican committee organized for the presidential campaign of 1892 by electing W. J. Campbell, of Chicago, as its chairman; Cornelius N. Bliss, the New York banker, as treasurer, and Land Commissioner Carter, of Montana, as secretary.

Senator Teller, of Colorado, says the two great parties are so nearly alike on the silver question that it is difficult to choose between them. "In both cases," he says, "the candidates are worse than the platforms."

The legal battle which the Republicans of New York state purpose to wage against the apportionment bill passed by the Democratic legislature is taking definite shape. The proposal to defer the Berlin exposition until 1900 has given a new impetus to the plan for a Paris exhibition in that year. The second deposit of $500 a side was made for the fight between Jim Hall and Ted Pritchard. In the Marblehead regatta the Marguerite won in the schooner class, leading the Mayflower in 45 seconds and the Merlin 1m. 10s. Mr. Oates, of Alabama, from the committee on judiciary, reported to the house, recommending its passage, a bill providing a uniform system of bankruptcy.

PENNSYLVANIA POINTERS.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 29.—The Allentown Rolling mill reduced puddlers' wages from $3.80 to $3.30 per ton, and the pay of other employees, except laborers, proportionately. Three hundred men are affected.

EASTON, Pa., June 27.—Harry G. Cole, a young man, committed suicide on Saturday afternoon by taking poison in a shed at the Easton cemetery. He was discouraged because he was out of work and because he had had family troubles.

POTTSTOWN, June 27.—Aaron Hartenstein, aged 77, was instantly killed on the Schuylkill Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad at this place. He was struck by an express passenger train while on his way to the Schuylkill river, to spend the day fishing.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 29.—The storm was very severe at Eagle's Mere, several buildings there having been badly damaged, among others the hotel of J. S. Kirk. A report that a man was killed cannot be verified. The Narrow Gauge road is badly obstructed by fallen trees.

POTTSVILLE, June 27.—Harry R. Shaw, who was tried and convicted of murder in the second degree at the January term of criminal court, was sentenced by Judge Pershing on Saturday to eight years in the Eastern penitentiary, solitary and separate confinement. Shaw murdered David E. Quinn last December.

CARLEISLE, Pa., June 24.—The supreme court issued a special allocatur in the case of James A. Coyle, Michael Seavers and John H. Rhoads, directors of the poor of Cumberland county, who were recently convicted of malfeasance in office. The appeal was granted by Justice Mitchell, returnable at the April term of 1893. The necessary papers were filed in the clerk's office.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., June 29.—The National Rolling mills of the National Tube Works company at this point and all of its employees have made an arrangement of mutual satisfaction to govern the operations at this point for the ensuing year. The National Rolling mills and forge will be shut down for stock taking and repairs during the entire week commencing July 4. Over two thousand men are interested.

EASTON, Pa., June 27.—The annual commencement of the Lafayette State college began yesterday with the baccalaureate services, presided by Rev. Dr. S. F. Lourie, of Philadelphia. In the afternoon there was a farewell service for the seniors who belong to the Y. M. C. A., and in the evening Dr. John Fox, of Allegheny, Pa., who represents the synod of Pennsylvania, preached the annual sermon before the Brainard Missionary society.

MINEVILLE, Pa., June 29.—Much excitement prevails in the vicinity of Taylorville, a mining village four miles west of this place. A broad crack in the earth has taken place, extending for three-fourths of a mile, and residents are moving their household effects to a place of safety, expecting each minute to see the earth fall in, carrying their homes with it. The crack follows a large vein of coal which has been worked out by the Taylorville colliery, operated by the Philadelphia and Reading company.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Senator Quay met Collector Cooper in front of the custom house and stopped for a chat. The topic of conversation naturally turned to the action of the Democratic convention and the nomination of Cleveland. Senator Quay expressed himself as satisfied and confident that Cleveland would be easily beaten. As he turned to enter his cab Quay remarked to ex-Sheriff Kern: "I will bet $10,000 that Harrison is elected. If you know any one that wants to bet send him around."

READING, Pa., June 28.—Requiem mass was celebrated at St. Joseph's hospital over the remains of Sister Mary Hillaberta, the murdered Sister of St. Francis, by Rev. Father Bornemann, assisted by Rev. Father Hasson. The body was then conveyed to the Pennsylvania railroad depot for interment at Glen Riddle, Delaware county. Pietro Buccieri, the Italian who stabbed Sister Mary Hillaberta, is under close surveillance in the county prison for fear he may commit suicide. He has awakened to the awfulness of his crime, and has sent for counsel.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., June 27.—Miss Adna Mary Tyson and her sister, two young women of Downingtown, who had been visiting the family of Charles Wilson, four miles south of here, had a desperate struggle with a colored man who attacked them in the road at 10 o'clock on Saturday night. They were passing a clump of bushes when he sprang out and grasped the younger sister, aged 19, by the throat, throwing her down. The elder sister came to her assistance, and the two fought him like tigers until two men came to their rescue. One of the young women was badly hurt about the neck and face and is now under the care of a physician. The other is unharmed.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., June 28.—The severe storm since 1889 flood swept over this locality yesterday. The water fell as large as hickory nuts and greatly damaged the fruit crop. The water rushed down the mountains above Pleasant Gap into the ax factory dam at Axe Mann. The dam gave way and the water rushed down the valley in one huge billow to Bellefonte, carrying away hundreds of tons of hay and completely ruining large fields of grain. Farmer Gentzel's barn in Nittany valley was struck by lightning and destroyed, with several horses and cattle and other contents. His loss is $3,000. The telephone system is not working outside of Bellefonte and the full extent of the storm's damage is not known. The loss to property, however, is heavy.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 28.—This city was struck by a furious cyclonic storm at 6 o'clock last evening, which caused damage aggregating $50,000. The track of the whirlwind was narrow, but it reached almost the entire length of the city. Roofs were peeled off, chimneys toppled over and the trees twisted like pipe stems. On Bennett street the large hall of the Turnverein was reduced to a pile of kindling wood, the destruction being made complete. At this point whole sections of sidewalk were picked up and buried through the air. Portions of the debris of Turn hall was carried a great distance. Thousands of panes of window glass were blown in by the fury of the wind. The Williamsport woolen mills, in the eastern section of the city, were almost entirely demolished. Light buildings were crushed like egg shells and bricks from chimneys were sent through the air, in several instances smashing into houses on the opposite side of the street.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

A Western Idea.

The Michigan road law, providing that the users of wide wagon wheel tires shall have a rebate of one-half of their road tax, is an ingenious inducement which works great advantage of the taxpayer, to the roads, and, by consequence to the general public according to a writer in good roads, it is estimated that with broad tires on wagons, carriages and buggies all public highways can be kept in very much better condition than is now possible, at one-fourth the cost of the present system. In the matter of road reform the first essential seems to be the widening of the tires of the vehicles. The general adoption of this would be a long step of itself in the direction of perfect roads. Without it perfect roads are impossible.

Only Eight per cent.

The funds in the hands of the assignees for the benefit of the creditors of Delamater & Co., late bankers of Meadville, will be distributed on July 23d at the office of F. P. Ray auditor, and the creditors will be given at that time a final hearing. Haskins and McClintock are the assignees. The funds amount to only eight per cent. of the total indebtedness.

A Dog Cares for a Chick.

Mr. Joseph Louser, residing in Lebanon, is the owner of a black and tan terrier. The other day a stray young "peep," or chicken, came into the yard, and since then it has been cared for and carefully guarded by the dog, which will not allow anyone to come near it. At night the dog lies down with extended paws, and the chick huddles up under its chin, as warm and as comfortable as though gathered under the wings of a hen.

I Am So Tired. Is a common exclamation at this season. There is a certain bracing effect in cold air which is lost when the weather grows warmer; and when Nature is renewing her youth, her activities feel dull, sluggish and tired. This condition is owing mainly to the impure condition of the blood, and its failure to supply healthy tissue to the various organs of the body. It is remarkable how susceptible the system is in the help to be derived from a good medicine at this season. Possessing just those purifying, invigorating qualities which the body craves, Hood's Sarsaparilla soon overcomes that tired feeling, restores the appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, imparts vigorous health. Its thousands of friends, with one voice declare "It Makes the Weak Strong."
