FROM LIFE TO DEATH

Volcanic Eruption Extraordinary in the Philippine Islands.

TWELVE THOUSAND MEET DEATH.

Indications That the Entire Population of the Island of Sangir Have Been Swept Out of Existence and Their Homes Destroyed by the Fiery Monster.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 18.—Rumors have reached here from Timor that there has been a volcanic eruption on the island of Sangir, one of the Philippine group, and that many of the inhabitants have been killed. A native from the Talant islands who landed at Selangen several days ago brought a remarkable story to the effect that several other natives had just returned from a voyage near Sangir. They had intended to land on the island, but were prevented by the sight of mountains belching forth smoke and fire. They reported that "the whole island was on fire." The water along the coast, they said, was full of half-burned wreckage, pieces of houses and charred bodies. The whole population, estimated at about 12,000, seemed to have been swept into the sea or burned, as not a living soul was to be seen. Streams of lava were still flowing toward the shore, showing that the activity of the volcano had not abated.

The steamingship Catterthun, from Cebu to Sydney, brought a similar story into port with her islander crew. Near Sangir, her captain said, she passed through miles of debris, dissimilar from anything he had before seen at sea. Poles and sides of huts, most of them charred and broken, were mingled with such utensils as the natives of the Philippines use in cooking. Many unrecognizable objects, resembling charred human trunks, were also seen. Articles of head dress in the wreckage were identified by a sailor who had lived in the Philippines as peculiar to the natives of Sangir and the near-by islands of the Philippine group. The ship was passing through the wreckage from 10 a. m. to 1.30 p. m.

No Fair Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—If the people favor a World's fair to the extent of giving the exposition $5,000,000 they have not expressed their views through their representatives in congress. The advocates of this appropriation had hard sledding in the house, and the result of the day's work may be summed up as follows: The appropriation item was voted down 110 to 122, and the Sunday closing paragraph inserted by the senate was sustained by a vote of 147 to 61. The appropriations as made by the senate for the geological survey were not included. An amendment was inserted forbidding the letting of any contract by any government officer to any one employing the Pinkerton detective agency or other organization employing armed forces, and prohibiting their employment by the government or the District of Columbia.

Death of Tourist Cook.

LONDON, July 20.—Thomas Cook, founder of Cook's excursions, died yesterday from paralysis. Thomas Cook was born at Melbourne, a small village in Derbyshire, England, on Nov. 22, 1808. In 1841, while walking from Market Harboro to Leicester to be present at a large meeting of the Sons of Temperance, he conceived the idea of running a special train for the benefit of those who were to attend. Everything was duly planned, and the train, which carried 970 passengers, ran from Leicester to Loughboro and back, the fare being one shilling a head. This was the foundation of the business.

Twelve Killed by Gardemes.

BUDAPEST, July 20.—A desperate encounter between farm laborers and gardemes occurred on an estate near Grosswardin, 137 miles southeast of this city. A squad of gardemes had been summoned to quell a disturbance between a party of workmen, when the latter turned upon the representatives of the law, and as they were armed with their most formidable tools a fierce battle followed, during which a laborer killed a gardeme with a scythe. The gardemes then began shooting, the result of which was that twelve laborers were killed and a number injured.

A Physician's Suicide.

NORTHPORT, L. I., July 20.—Dr. Charles Scudder, son of the Hon. Henry J. Scudder and son-in-law of ex-Senator William M. Everts, committed suicide at this place yesterday by plunging a dagger into his breast. Dr. Scudder, who had been in ill health for some time, came here Monday with an attendant from his New York residence, to stop for a few weeks at the Scudder homestead for the benefit of his health. The family did not deny that Dr. Scudder was suffering from temporary aberration of the mind caused by overstudy.

The Chilean Indemnity.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The secretary of state announces that an entirely cordial and mutually satisfactory settlement has been reached between the government of the United States and Chile respecting the indemnity to be paid by the latter on account of the assault upon the crew of the Baltimore. Seventy-five thousand dollars in gold is to be distributed among the families of the two men who lost their lives and to the surviving members of the crew who were wounded.

Lord Stanley to Resign.

TORONTO, July 20.—A special dispatch from Ottawa to The Globe says: "It is probable that Lord Stanley will place his resignation in Lord Salisbury's hands before the British premier leaves office. This is not mere conjecture, but the belief of those attached to the governor general's office. Lord Stanley is known to enjoy his present office very little, and to have accepted it with reluctance."

A Free Silver Setback.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The 13th of July will be regarded hereafter by the free silver men as an unlucky date, and there are many Democrats who will long remember the fate of the silver bill yesterday. When the Stewart bill came before the house it was defeated by a vote of 136 to 154, and the silver question was shelved for this session at least.

Wales Will be with Us.

QUEBEC, July 20.—It is stated that the Prince of Wales will visit Canada next year and that he will make a trip to the Pacific coast over the Canadian Pacific railroad, visiting the Chicago fair on the way.

PENNSYLVANIA POINTERS.

HARRISBURG, July 16.—The executive committee of the Pennsylvania Agricultural society met in this city yesterday and signed the contracts for holding the State fair at Scranton Sept. 5th to 10th, inclusive.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 16.—Eliza Henry, aged 31 years, daughter of Daniel Henry, of Siegersville, committed suicide by drowning herself in an abandoned ore pit. She had been mentally unbalanced and had been a cripple since childhood.

HARRISBURG, July 16.—The twenty men employed by the Empire Granite works in this city struck last evening for a change of working hours from ten hours a day to nine, and eight hours on Saturday. The employers flatly refuse to grant them the change.

EASTON, Pa., July 20.—Eugene Kline, aged 10, was drowned in the Martins creek last night. He and another boy were learning to swim when he was carried off his feet by the swift water and sank in sight of his companion. The body was recovered before it reached the Delaware river.

READING, Pa., July 19.—The Reading iron company, owing to dullness in the iron trade, will blow out two of its furnaces this week. The general manager says the company has a large quantity of pig iron on hand. One hundred and fifty men will be affected by the blowing out of these stacks.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 18.—Jesse Knox, a county justice of the peace, was held up by three highwaymen on top of the mountains, six miles from here, and robbed of $41, which he had placed in the bottom of his shoes for safety. They also beat him badly. The famous Cooley gang is charged with the deed.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., July 19.—Dr. J. K. Livingstone, a prominent physician residing at Entrimen, committed suicide by shooting himself through the right temple. Despondency, the result of continued illness, prompted him to commit the deed. He leaves a wife and several children. The wife is almost crazed with grief. He was 45 years old.

YORK, Pa., July 19.—Mrs. Elizabeth G. Landis, aged 66 years, died suddenly at her home yesterday. Dr. Harry Landis, her son, of Memphis, Tenn., arrived here unexpectedly, intending to surprise his mother. The sudden emotion caused by seeing him so unexpectedly was too much for her to stand, and she fell to the floor and expired in a few minutes.

READING, Pa., July 16.—Willie McDowell, an 8-year-old son of Alexander McDowell, last evening climbed up the big elm in front of the cotton factory on South Ninth street, for the purpose of procuring a bird's nest, as he reached for the nest his hold slipped and he fell twenty-five feet to the ground, landing on the brick sidewalk, and died shortly afterwards.

PITTSBURG, July 16.—The Summer hotel, restaurant and garden, together with the power house and hoisting machinery at the head of the Pennsylvania incline plane, which extends from Sixteenth street over the Pennsylvania railroad tracks 1,000 feet at an incline of thirty-five degrees to the top of the high bluff near Union station, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Loss about $125,000; partly insured.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., July 19.—Richard Curtis, traveling under the assumed name of George Connors, an ex-reformatory convict, committed suicide by hanging in the jail here last night. He was lodged in prison yesterday on the charge of horse stealing in Williamsport. The young man was sent to the reformatory from Philadelphia for forgery. He is said to be a nephew of George William Curtis, of Harper's Weekly.

YORK, Pa., July 16.—Mrs. Michael Clemens, aged 32 years, was found dead in Small's woods, near Pleasureville, this county, last evening at 7 o'clock. When found her dress over her breast was burning and the body had two bullet holes in the neck and cuts on her hands and arms. A man's hat and suspenders were found near by, where there were indications of a struggle. It is generally supposed that the woman was outraged and then murdered. Details are meagre.

PITTSBURG, July 19.—Captain Frank C. Calhoun, foreman of Devore's undertaking establishment and an old soldier, was fatally stabbed in the abdomen with a bayonet by David Lester, a private in the Fourteenth regiment. Lester was intoxicated and tried to force his way into Devore's place, when Calhoun interfered. A wrangle ensued, and Lester ran his bayonet into Calhoun's abdomen. Lester and Hook are in jail. Calhoun is still living, but cannot recover.

CARLEISLE, Pa., July 20.—The ninth annual session of the Cumberland Valley Sabbath School assembly began at Williams Grove last night with a large attendance. The address of welcome was delivered by the president, W. D. Means, of Middleburg. The evening programme consisted of addresses by the members, a praise service and welcome greetings. Prominent representatives are present from New York, Philadelphia and elsewhere. During the week Governor Pattison will make an address.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 16.—Anton Shelinski, a miner in the Nottingham mines, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. The coroner will hold an inquest, as the man was in excellent health, and there are suspicions of foul play. Deceased lived in a house with two families. The downstairs party refused to allow the coffin to be taken through their rooms, reiterating the familiar phrase, "Dead Hungarian no good." The poor house directors, of a rope and tackle and took it through an open window. There will probably be a sensation when the body is thus removed from the house. The authorities suspect that Shelinski was poisoned.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., July 18.—A sensation was created here yesterday by the arrest of District Attorney Brundage of Clinton county, and Mrs. William Mosher, wife of a prominent citizen of Lock Haven. The couple were surprised in the same apartment at a hotel here by the enraged husband, backed by a couple of officers and warrants for the arrest of the man and woman. Mrs. Mosher left Lock Haven Saturday evening after showing her husband a telegram summoning her to this city to attend the funeral of an acquaintance. The suspicions of the husband were aroused, and he notified the police to be on the lookout. The district attorney came with her on the same train, but in another car, and then repaired to a leading hotel, shadowed by an officer. Mr. Mosher came down on a later train and swore out the warrants.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has at last captured a chairman in Carter from Montana. The boys whom he tried to pursue to take that position all respectfully declined with regrets, and do not care to risk their reputation in an unseaworthy craft.

I Am So Tired.
 Is a common exclamation at this season. There is a certain bracing effect in cold air which is lost when the weather grows warmer; and when Nature is renewing her youth, her mirrors feel dull, sluggish and tired. This condition is owing mainly to the impure condition of the blood, and its failure to supply healthy tissue to the various organs of the body. It is remarkable how susceptible the system is to the help to be derived from a good medicine at this season. Possessing just those purifying, building up qualities which the body craves, Hood's Sarsaparilla soon overcomes that tired feeling, restores the appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, imparts vigorous health. Its thousands of friends with a single voice declare "It Makes the Weak Strong."
