IS SORRY HE DIDN'T SUCCEED.

He Fired Two Shots at the Great Manufacturer and Stabbed Him Twice-A Soldier's Harsh Punishment for Applauding the Act-An Anarchist Plot Suspected-O'Donnell Out on Bail.

PITTSBURG, July 25. — Henry Clay Frick, chairman of the Carnegie Steel company, limited, was shot twice and stabbed in his private office Saturday afternoon by Alexander Bergmann, a Russian anarchist from New York. Mr. Frick's chances for recovery are good, unless inflammation should set in, and this is about the only thing the physicians seem to fear. The would be slayer of Mr. Frick had visited the office several times before his desperate attempt, but had been unable to see the manufacturer. Finally, at 1:55 o'clock, Bergmann reappeared in the ante-room. Mr. Frick was then in his private office overlooking Fifth avenue and directly off the ante-room. He was sitting at a table in the middle of the room and on the opposite side of the table was Vice Chairman Leishman. The two were in earnest conversation over the Homestead matter. Both were sitting with their sides to the swinging open work door leading into the ante-room.

As Bergmann entered the ante-room he pulled a pistol from his pocket and walked toward the door leading into the private office, where Frick and Leishman were in conference. The office boy,

H. C. FRICK. who was the only person in the anteroom, ran toward Bergmann to prevent him from going into Mr. Frick's office. Bergemann swung back the light door, stepped quickly on the threshold, and, raising his arm, fired at Mr. Frick before the latter knew what was coming. The first bullet entered the left side of passed down along under the skin, and out between the shoulders. At the sound of the pistol Mr. Frick and Mr. Leisaman started up, and the former wheeled around to face their murderous visitor. At that instant Bergmann fired again, the second shot entering Mr. Frick's neck on the right the neck, near the base of the skull, side near the base of the skull and passing out on the opposite side of the neck.

Although dazed and bleeding profusely from the wounds in his neck and on his back, Mr. Frick arose, and he and Vice Chairman Leishman both started for the Id he agenesin At the same time Bergmann fired again, but the cartridge missed fire. Leishman reached him first, and engaged in a hand to hand struggle with him, during which the crank tried to shoot him, but failed. Mr. Frick tried to separate the two, and in the desperate struggle that ensued all three were forced past the desk and over near the bay window of the room overlooking Smithfield street. At this point Bergmann wrenched one arm free, drew from the inner pocket of his coat a long knife or dirk made out of an old file and stabbed Mr. Frick twice, both times on the right side, one wound being at the border of the lower ribs and the other just below the hip

The noise of the shots brought a number of clerks of the Carnegie company on a run from the rooms leading back from the ante-room, and several of them jumped on the crank as he turned to flee and bore him to the floor. In one of the offices was Deputy Sheriff May, who was waiting to receive a pass to the Homestead mill. He rushed in and, seeing that the crank was struggling to get free, put a pistol to his head and was about to shoot, when Mr. Frick, who had walked to the door of the ante-room in order to get a good look at his assailant, raised his hand and said: "Don't shoo; him; let the law take its course. Bergmann was at once arrested and taken to a cell in the Central station. A dispatch from New York describes him as an anarchist of the most violent type. He came to New York from Russia less than six years ago. He is said to belong to an eminently respectable family in Russia, studied in one of the higher colleges, from which he was expelled for seditious utterances, and is quite well educated. He is 26 years old. Bergmann says he came from New York with the intention of killing Frick decause the latter is an enemy of labor. He asserts that no one knew of his inention but himself.

PITTSBURG, July 26.—Hugh O'Donnell was admitted to bail yesterday in the sum of $10,000. From the fact that it was a foregone conclusion no demon-Martin Fay and Peter Allen, three other defendants in the Homestead murder cases, were also released on bail with O'Donnell.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 26 .- An indirect result of the shooting of Mr. Frick ave Homestead its one existing topic today. It was the case of W. L. Iams, private of Company K, Tenth regiment, who was strung up by his thumbs, had one side of his head and half his mussohe shaved and was drummed out of camp because he applauded the act of Bergmann. The lams case threatens to become national. Homestead people talk of nothing else. Letters and telerams dehouncing the treatment of the cung man have been received in Homestead, in Pittsburg and by the governor of Pennsylvania. One of the protests Governor Pattison was from the Washington correspondents for the removal of Lieutenant Colonel Streator, who ordered the punishment of Iams.

Young Iams threatens to bring suit against Colonel Streator and Major General Snowden. It has caused much feeling in the national guard, particularly among the rank and file.

lams said he did not like Frick, but that he would have retracted what he s ad had he been asked to do so in a gen-tlemanly manner. "I am an American cirizen," said he, "and propose to take civil action to have this outrage righted. Nearly all the men and many of the of ficers sympathize with me. was in the guard house some of the officers sent me beer and lunch. The boys of my own company sent some beer and an offer of financial assistance in prosecuting Streator." The most interesting question in the case is whether corporal punishment may be inflicted on a soldier in a military camp under any circumstances, even when martial law is in force, and whether a sentence such as that passed on lams could be legally executed without the formalities of a court trial, for it is certain that if a court martial was held it was not regular, for lams was not brought before it and had no chance to make a defense. PITTSBURG, July 27.—Carl Knold, who is under arrest charged with complicity in the Frick assault, reiterates his statement that he knew nothing of Bergmann's intentions. He acknowledge that he is an anarchist, and says it was quite natural that Bergmann should come to board with him. Yesterday five police officers arrested in Allegheny Henry Baner, the head center of the anarchists in this region. Chief of Public Safety Murphy, of Allegheny, says a warrant is out for the arrest of Herr

The attempt to murder Mr. Frick was it is now generally believed, the result of a well planned, deliberately executed scheme of anarchists to settle a wage war by the realization of their scheme to punish capitalists by death for their differences with labor.

Whether Johann Most will be landed in prison for complicity in the ferocious onslaught on Mr. Frick remains to be seen. At this moment there is much to indicate that he must have known such a crime was being planned.

Anarchy has not made such a desperate attempt to popularize itself since the Haymarket riots in Chicago. Since that time the anarchists have become convinced that they can't fight the American government face to face, army to army. In this last effort to make themselves a power there is every reason to believe that they deliberately deemed one of their pumber to almost certain destruction in order that he might kill that capitalist now most prominent in the eyes of the American Officials of the Carnegie company claim that between five and six hundred men, many of them skilled men, are now at work in Homestead mills, and that the plates being rolled are of the finest character. They have, they say, over 1,000 applications on file and new men will be sent up from day to day until the mill is fully manned.

The report from Mr. Frick's residence is very encouraging. Although suffer-ing some pain he has rested comparatively easy, and the progress of the wounds towards healing is eminently satisfactory to the surgeons in attendance. The sick chamber has been fitted up with elaborate electrical mechanism and can be kept at a cool and even tem-

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 27 .- Chief of Police Layton, of this place, arrested F. Mollick, who is alleged to be an anarchist, for complicity in the attempt to assassinate Manager Frick, of the Carnegie company, at Pittsburg. Before making the arrest Chief Layton made an investigation which convinced him that Mollick was the man wanted at Pittsburg. The chief learned that Mollick was an intimate friend of Berg-mann, and that he recently sent $6 by express from Long Branch to Alexander

New York, July 27.—The police of this city, at the request of the Pittsburg police department, are trying to locate Miss Emma Goldman, a member of Group No. 1 of the Anarchist society, who is supposed to know all about the American career of Bergmann, the would be slayer of Chairman Frick. It is believed that Miss Goldman furnished the money which neatly clothed Bergmann on the day of the shooting, paid the way to Pittsburg and furnished the cash to buy the pistol and knife used in the nearly fatal affray. Miss Goldman has suddenly disappeared. No trace can be had of her at any of her accustomed haunts. She first met Bergmann in Russia, it is said, about twelve years They traveled about Russia and suddenly separated from each other, only to meet later by accident in a remote part of Russia, and soon afterward they came to this country together. Five years ago Miss Goldman was in New Haven with Bergmann, where she gave several lectures. At the last May day celebration of the Central Labor union she made herself conspicuous by addressing the meeting from a truck, as though the gathering were one of anarchists.

The police had to interfere.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 27.—Interest in the progress of affairs at the Carnegie works, and in fact in every other matter connected with the Homestead troubles, has been subordinated by the Iams case Little notice is taken by the strikers of the smoke and steam issuing from the big stacks of the mill which they found so interesting a few days ago. Scouts of the Amalgamated Association have not relaxed their vigilance, how-ever, and yesterday one of them brought before the advisory committee a non-union man who had just left the mills.

He said his name was Henry Stocker, of Philadelphia, and he had been engaged as a blacksmith at an employment agency in his own city. He was agency in his own city. He was not told where he was to be sent, and on Friday morning he was landed in the Homestead works. Stocker says that about 400 men are inside the works, but no active work is being done. claims that many men in the works would like to leave, but that the com-pany refuses them passes to go outside the fence, and makes them believe that an infuriated mob is waiting to assault them if they enter Homestead. Many of the men, he says, are Russian Hebrews. Stocker says he obtained his release on sick leave. He reports that the men are treated well, but are not allowed to read newspapers.

Homestead, July 27.—The departure of the Eighth and Fourteenth regiments yesterday seem to indicate that it is the policy to slowly withdraw the troops from Homestead, leaving a sufficient number on hand to cope with any diffi-cuity that may arise.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 25.—As a result of a frightful explosion of gas at York colliery afteen of the victims are lying dead and one is lying at the point of death at his home. Of the dead two are still in the mine covered with debris. Prominent foreign and local mine officers are superintending the removal of the debris in order to recover the bodies of all the unfortunate men and at the same time instituted a thorough investigation as to the cause of the explosion. Concisely stated this is given out as having been caused by gas liberated by blast in the second lift rushing through the air way to the first lift, where it was ignited. There is no crim-inal carelessness on the part of any of the employes or officials. The men were all working with safety lamps, and how the gas caught fire it will never be told. The colliery has been visited by thou-sands of people, and the scenes about the colliery and the homes of the victims are beyond description. The work of recovering the bodies of the two still covered by the debris is being vigorously prosecuted. While there is a great fall of material, no especial damage has been done to the interior workings of the mine. The colliery will be in full operation by the middle of the week The killed are:

EXPLOSION IN A SEWER. It Wrecks Railroad Cars and a Distillery and Buries Six Persons.

St. Louis, July 27.—An explosion of coal oil gas occurred in the Mill Creek sewer last evening, tearing up Chouteau avenue from the levee to Broadway. The explosion was caused by the sewer filling with the coal oil which escaped during the buring of the Waters-Pierce plant last Friday. The generating gas caught fire on account of the intense heat, and the explosion followed. The sewer caps, weighing 900 pounds, were blown off at the street intersections as far west as Fourteenth street. The gas ignited the alcoholic gases in Furch's Whiskey Distilling Company.

On Chouteau avenue the tracks of the Iron Mountain road, several freight trains and passenger coaches were blown to pieces. Eurch's distillery was the buildfirst and second floors fell, carrying the orkmen to the cellars.

Three persons were killed, three seriously injured and three men are missing as the result of the explosion. The list

Dead-Carl Furchs, wholesale liquor saler: Charles Miller, bartender; Mrs. Tempe Injured—Two children of Mrs. Tempe seriously; R. J. Trunstall, fa-tally Missing—Three unknown men who were in Furchs' place.

Hundreds of Homes Destroyed. BAY CITY, Mich., July 26.-Yesterday afternoon fire broke out in the lumber manufacturing establishment of Miller & Turner, on the west side of Water street, at the foot of Twenty-ninth street, and burned for ten hours. Before the fire was controlled a thousand houses had been leveled. Most of the buildings destroyed were the dwellings of poor people. Many rumors are affoat as to the number of persons who have perished, but so far as known only one fatality is positively known. A woman was sick in one of the houses and per-ished before help could reach her. The loss will be upwards of a million.

W. H. Vanderbilt's Yacht Sunk. Boston, July 25.—The steamer H. F. Dimock, of the Metropolitan Steamship company, arrived her from New York last night having on board the occu-pants of W. K. Vanderbilt's yacht Alya, which the steamer run down yesterday morning. The yacht sunk almost immediately after the collision occurred. So hurriedly were the occupants of the ill fated craft obliged to leave that they were all, with the exception of the watch on deck, clad in nothing but their night clothes, and lost everything in the way of valuables. None of the passengers had a shoe or stocking on when landed on the Dimock.

Our Growing Navy. PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—The launching of the cruiser Columbia at Cramps yard yesterday was a success in every respect. The Washington party arrived shortly before the time fixed for the launch, and was immediately taken in charge by President Charles H. Cramp and others of the company. In the special train there were Secretary of the Navy Tracy, Vice President Morton, Mrs. Morton, the Misses Morton, Senator Hiscock, Assistant Secretary of State Grinnell and nearly all chiefs of bureaus. Miss Morton, daughter of the vice president, christened the vessel. Her guaranteed speed is twenty-two miles an hour.

BALTIMORE, July 27.—Eleven deaths attributable to the heat and twenty-six cases of prostration have so far been reported. The greater portion of the street laborers suspended operations, being unable to endure the intense fays of the sun. Starting in at 87 at 8 o'clock yesterday imcrining, the thermotheter gently promoted the thermometer to 100 until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. At that hour 120 was registered in the sun. The figure at 9 o'clock last night was 13.
