

THE RACKET

LATEST RETURNS!

A

LARGE MAJORITY

of the Ladies come to us for their Fall and Winter Coats.

Just received our second stock of them, for this season, this week. Many handsome patterns. Pleasing and pretty designs—The very latest styles—We have them. You should see them.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

For general election returns turn to inside page of this issue.

The Undine Fire Company's Thanksgiving ball next Wednesday evening, Nov. 23.

After the election, on Tuesday, Judge Orvis shouldered his rifle and left for a week's deer hunt.

Harry M. Markham plays at Garman's opera house for one week beginning Monday evening, Nov. 21. Popular prices.

A good play, at the opera house, every night of next week by Harry M. Markham's repertoire company. Popular prices.

Frank Naginey is rapidly closing out his stock of furniture. Everything goes; a grand opportunity to secure fine furniture at rare bargains.

Have you seen those elegant crayons being turned out by Finkbinder? Agent will tell you all about them when he calls on you in a few days.

The Lock Haven democrats will hold a ratification meeting this Thursday evening. A big parade with fire works and speeches will be the program.

One week of fun, laughter and comedy furnished by Harry M. Markham's company, at Garman's opera house, beginning next Monday night, Nov. 21st. Popular prices.

The only way to secure a good crayon portrait is to have them taken directly from the negative instead of the photo. It costs no more and is by far superior. Call at Finkbinder's gallery and see the work.

On Monday Col. D. S. Kellar and wife, of this place, left for South Carolina where they will remain during the winter months. Mr. Kellar has been ill for some time from bronchial troubles and makes the trip for the benefit of his health. We hope he will find relief in the change of climate.

Hale's new flouring mill is being erected rapidly. Four stories of brick work are now completed and next will be the slate roof. The large storage house will be covered with corrugated iron and every precaution will be taken to make the building fire proof from the outside. It is their intention to have the interior, with the machinery finished during the coming winter.

On Friday evening the Y. M. C. A. will hold a public meeting in the court house. Hon. H. M. Hinkley, of Danville, will address the meeting. Prof. Meyer's orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. A large quartette of 40 voices will render a number of selections. All are invited to attend; admission free.

Cal. Horner, night watchman at the Brockerhoff house, is recovering from a dangerous sick spell. About two weeks ago he had a tooth drawn but the wound in the gums continued to bleed until he became so weak that he was confined to his bed. Drs. Harris and Hayes attended the patient and succeeded in checking the blood. The young man became so weak that he scarcely had enough vitality to digest his food. By careful nursing he is slowly recuperating.

"OH, WHAT A NIGHT."

THE DEMOCRACY OF CENTRE COUNTY CELEBRATES.

Bellefonte the Scene of a Grand Demonstration on Monday Night—Magnificent Parade—Elaborate Decorations and Fireworks—Great Enthusiasm.

There was an outpouring of democratic enthusiasm on the streets of Bellefonte last Monday evening. Every section of old Centre was represented. Old veterans in the party ranks were so filled with joy over the signal victory that they turned out in large numbers. The boys and young men, the future rulers, the pride and hope of the nation, came in large delegations.

Every incoming evening train was crowded. After supper wagon loads of people from adjoining districts began to pour through the streets. Benner twp., about one hundred strong, mounted on fiery steeds, were on the scene early. At 7 p. m. the diamond and Allegheny street was crowded with several thousand people.

Chief Marshall, Hammond Sechler, started the parade at 7.15. It was headed by a dozen men burning colored lights and firing hundreds of roman candles. Then came the State College band at the head of the State College delegation, composed of uniformed students and others with John W. Krumrine at the front bearing the Democratic Banner, awarded to their district last year for having made the largest democratic gain at the election one year ago.

The parade was composed of several hundred horsemen, carrying Chinese lanterns, many of them in fantastic and grotesque costumes. Then there were divisions of footmen, with colored Chinese lanterns on long sticks. Here and there a richly decorated wagon would appear in the parade from which there was a constant stream of fireworks playing that would send streaks of fire into the sky in all directions. Transparencies, bearing unique inscriptions, relative to national and local politics, created much merriment along the line. Some of them referred quite pointedly to postmaster Feidler being in hard political luck of late, culminating in being fired out of office in 1893. Then Ed. Chambers had to suffer a bit of a pun on his name. John (famously termed Jack) Love and Will (Billy) Gray, who "monkeyed with the democratic buzz-saw" and lost their boodle, received due notoriety on the transparencies and the crowd enjoyed it.

Four bands were in line of parade: State College, Zion, Pleasant Gap and Aaronsburg. The parade was concluded by a large steam road engine decorated with tunting and flags and packed full of boys blowing horns and the engine whistle too, and shooting fireworks.

The parade over at 8.15, a portion of the crowd was able to get into the court house. D. F. Fortney called the meeting to order and then nominated C. M. Bower, Esq., for President of the meeting; also a host of Vice-Presidents and Secretaries who were unanimously appointed. Mr. Bower took the chair and beside him were seated James Lucas, Esq., the veteran democrat of Boggs, and Capt. John Hunter, of Halfmoon.

The chairman then addressed the meeting. He made a short review of the campaign of 1888 and the similarity it bore to the one just closed, drawing many strong conclusions, showing why the people demanded a change in affairs of government. Mr. Bower was in his element. He spoke with an earnestness that carried conviction. It was an appropriate address for the occasion and was appreciated by all of the vast assemblage.

T. C. Hipple, Esq., one of Lock Haven's leading democratic attorneys, made the principle address of the evening. He spoke in a calm, deliberate and conservative manner to all, admonishing them to have confidence in the expression of the will of the people. He is an able and forcible speaker. Other addresses were delivered by J. C. Meyer, Esq., Aaron Williams, Esq., and D. F. Fortney, Esq.

The trains left at 11 p. m. over the various roads and the celebration was over. It was indeed a great night for Bellefonte. The best of order prevailed. There were no accidents. Everybody was in good humor, of every political faith—democrats and republicans alike.

With the celebration over, the campaign, for this section, has formally closed and everybody will be looking after his business, the same as ever, although the present officials of this great nation have been condemned to political exile by the verdict of the people, and on the 4th of next March, 1893, will be driven from power.

Killed a Four Pronged Buck.

The hunting party from Boalsburg, numbering eleven, which included Cyrus Goss and D. L. Bartsge, hunted last week at Stone Creek, Huntingdon co., succeeded in bringing down a four pronged buck. The deer was a big one and when dressed weighed over two hundred pounds and was killed by a ball from the rifle of Cyrus Goss. The party saw several, but Cyrus was the only one who succeeded in bringing down any venison.—Reporter.

Fire at Zion.

The town of Zion had a bit of excitement on last Saturday evening. About 9 o'clock Harvey Royer saw a light in the barn yard at John Cole's property, which is located in the heart of that town. At first it was quite small and he thought it was only a lantern being carried about the premises, but when it gathered into a bright flame he realized that the straw stack at the barn was afire. He gave the alarm at once. There were about thirty men and boys about the stores at the time, and all rushed for buckets and began to carry water while the fire was increasing and liable to destroy the farm buildings, and that would have taken many other buildings of the place. With forks the men began tearing away the burning straw stack. By use of several small force pumps the roof and side of the building was kept wet so that the flying embers could not get a start. The bucket brigade worked hard and by soaking the one side of the stack with water and throwing the wet straw on the fire it was kept from gaining much headway and was finally smothered. It was a close call and required heroic work.

The cause of the fire is unknown, and as no one was known to have been about the premises late that evening it must have been the work of an incendiary.

State College Defeats Bucknell.

Last Saturday was a big day at State College. A game of foot ball was billed for that afternoon between the home team and the Bucknell college boys, of Lewisburg. A special train of three cars carried the visitors there. A special train from Bellefonte brought a large crowd from adjoining towns. As State College suffered defeat at Lewisburg, one year ago, they were determined to recover lost laurels. Bucknell was evenly confident of maintaining their former record.

The game was called at 2 p. m. Bucknell's team were large powerful men, giant like, aside of the State College boys.

The first half of the game was won by State College by 6 to 0. It was evident that they were well trained and in many respects were superior to their visitors.

The second half was hard fought and State College added 12 more points which closed the game by a victory of 18 to 0.

Joe Wolf, oldest son of Hon. Chas. S. Wolf, dec'd., of Lewisburg, left-tackle on the Bucknell team, was seriously injured near the close of the game. It was thought that several ribs were fractured.

Home Industries.

The home industries are the strength and stability of the nation. Since the election is over great confidence has been restored in our home industries. We cite but one illustration. Last week when the result of the election was in doubt there were but four marriage licenses granted. Since last Wednesday Register John Rupp was busy writing out marriage license certificates and seven were granted as against four the previous week. This is an indication that confidence has been restored by Cleveland's election and the little home industries will flourish abundantly.

New Front.

The Philad. Branch is bound to keep up with the procession. On Monday carpenters began tearing away the front of their store for the purpose of putting in large plate glass which will enable them to display goods to better advantage. Mr. Lewin has been in Bellefonte for a long term of years and has established large and lucrative trade by fair dealing and honest goods. May prosperity continue with them.

Gen. Hastings' Wager.

Gen. Hastings and Hon. James Kerr marched at the head of the procession, at Clearfield, on Tuesday night, in accordance with the terms of an agreement made before the election. If Harrison had been elected Mr. Kerr would have marched with Gen. Hastings at the head of a republican parade in Bellefonte.

Death of Ex-Sheriff Candor.

John Candor, ex-sheriff of Clinton county, died on Monday, at his residence at Lock Haven, aged 64 years. Mr. Candor had been a sufferer for a long time from cancer and from that his death resulted. The deceased served one term as sheriff of Clinton county, having been elected to that office in 1875.

Wedding at the Old Fort.

Last Wednesday, November 16th, Miss Annie M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Odenkirk, Old Fort, and F. Bradford, both of the same place were married at the home of the bride's parents, at the Old Fort hotel, near Centre Hall. A large number of guests from this place attended the happy event.

Fell Through a Trestle.

Last Saturday, Lawrence Garis, son of Wm. Garis of the Bellefonte police force, while walking along the railroad track near Lock Haven, fell through a trestle about thirty feet high and was seriously injured about the head and limbs. He was found soon after and taken to the hotel where he is being cared for.

CENTRE COUNTY'S VOTE.

TOTALS FOR THE DIFFERENT CANDIDATES.

Copied From the Official Count, Completed On Saturday—Errors on Presidential Electors.

The official count for the vote in Centre county, Nov. 8th, 1892, was completed on Saturday and is now on file in the Prothonotary's office. The total number of votes cast in the county, taking the presidential electors for our estimate, amounts to 8,656.

In voting for presidential electors mistakes were made by many in putting the cross mark after the first electors name, instead of after the party name. In this way their vote counted for but one elector, the first, instead of the thirty-two. Exactly 120 ballots were marked in this manner: 59 by republicans, 40 by democrats, 19 by prohibitionists and 2 by the Peoples party voters.

In making out the totals for presidential electors we give the totals for the first elector on each ticket, and opposite the same, the vote for the remaining electors on the same ticket.

Harry M. Markham coming.

Harry M. Markham, who was Kittie Rhoades' leading man in her repertoire company that filled two engagements of one week stands at the Bellefonte opera house during the past two seasons, now has his own company. His new company will make their first appearance in our place next Monday evening, November 21st, to remain for one week. He is a favorite here among our theatre goers and will receive a hearty welcome. They charge popular prices which will be within the reach of all.

A New Physician.

Centre Hall is having a new physician in the person of Dr. McGehean, from the western part of the state, he having purchased the property of John F. Alexander, who intends removing to California.

How to Ship Eggs.

A Kansas farmer who had much trouble in shipping eggs at last succeeded in getting a consignment delivered in a good order by marking the box "dynamicite."
