. FEDERATION OF LABOR.

at Philadelphia.

OPENED IN INDEPENDENCE HALL.

The Representatives of Nearly a Million Wage Workers Assemble to Consider Matters of Grave Import to Labor.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12,-The twelfth annual convention of the American Fedration of Labor was opened in Independence hall at 10 o'clock this forenoon. The American Federation of Labor now numbers nearly a million mem-bers. Great national and international unions are included in its roll call, such as the Typographical union, Brother-hood of Carpenters and Joiners, Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, Beer Brewers' National union, Bakers' National union, American Flint Glass Workers' union, National Federation of Miners and Mine Laborers, Granite Cutters' National union, Iron Moulders' National union, Cigarmakers' International union and numerous others.

Mr. George Chance, president of Philadelphia Typographical union, welcomed the delegates to the city. He said in part:

"In this commonwealth, with its boundless natural resources, placed by the great artificer of the universe within easy reach of the toilers' hand; with its inexhaustible deposits of coal, iron, oil and gas, that will supply the nation for centuries; teeming fields that yield gladly to the tiller's touch, well stocked streams, fertile valleys and wood clad hills; rapid communication between supply and dis-tribution; skilled labor that is the equal of any in the world, the whole people of the state should be prosperous and happy. Measured by the wealth that has been gathered from the sources I have mentioned, the state is great, prosperous and powerful. Contrasted with the condition of the producers of that wealth then the state is poor indeed."

Mr. Chance then quotes some figures to show the low rate of wages paid in different sections of the state, charges class legislation, and proceeds:

"I have said that the legislation of the nation and state is partly responsible for this condition of things. Trusts have been legalized and fostered, while soulless corporations and gigantic plants are the especial wards of the state; laws passed for the benefit of the masses are declared unconstitutional or decisions given that render their provisions nugatory. To counterfeit a workman's label in this state is a commendable act, to copy a manufacturer's trade mark is a punishable offense. A judge becomes numan family. War has practically been declared against the labor organizations and war measures resorted to in the effort to crush them.

"The eight hour movement still claims A Great Congress of Workingmen a large share of our attention. It is idle to say that because we were not entirely successful in its enforcement for all workers in the past, for that reason it is nseless for us to again make the effort to establish that limitation of the hours of labor, and that I am strongly convinced that further aggressive action by this convention would be productive of as good, if not better, results than those heretofore obtained.

'Unrestricted immigration is a great injury to the working people of our country, and this convention should formulate and demand such legislation as will best protect our interests. We do not wish to join in the general cry of completely shutting out all, but that some regulation and restriction is necessary is toc plain a duty to be shirked. "We declare that the trade unions are the natural organizations of the wage workers: that, despite all antagonism. whether from capitalist foe or pseudo friend, they will continue to grow in strength and influence and secure im-provements in the toiler's condition.

The secretary's and treasurer's report were then read and referred to the appropriate committees. A series of resolutions were presented by the delegates of the Chicago Trades councils and the International Typographical union protesting against the letting of the contract for printing the catalogue for the Columbian exposition to W. B. Conkey & Co., of that city, and asking that the work be given to a recognized union office. A proposition was made to substitute the word "fair" for "union," but it was rejected and the resolution : adopted.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14 .- The second days's session of the twelfth annual con-vention of the American Federation of Labor was called to order by President Gompers at 9 a. m. in select council chamber, Independence Hall, with a number of new delegates in attendance. A number of resolutions were referred to appropriate committees, the most sensational of which was the following, of fered by Delegate Morgan, of Chicago.

"Resolved, That this convention join in the plea to the governor of the state of Illinois for the pardon of Oscar Neebe, Samuel Fielding and Michael Schwab." George E. McNeil, cf Boston, then read a paper on the labor problem, in which, after declaring the American Federation of Labor to be the highest development of organized effort, he re ferred to the Knights of Labor in this strain:

"The departure of the Knights of Labor when they had reached the climax of their powers necessarily led to a demoralization from which the laborers under the banners of the trades unions are now rallying. Free as I am from any antagonism to the rank and file of that organization, in fact in deep sympathy with them, I must protest that the spirit of centralization which has gov-erned them will surely, and ought surely, secure their overthrow."

Congressman Amos J. Cummings, of New York, was unable to attend the convention, because of not receiving the invitation in time, it having been sent to his home. In a letter from Washington to President Gompers, which the latter read to the convention, Mr. Cummings said: "The struggle of labor for social equity in the English speaking race came prominently into view in the 'peasant revolt' more than five centuries ago. The situation today is wonderfully changed. Labor has political rights and speaks and acts in affairs of government. It is courted as potential. The darker aspects of the which law has struggle. and which equity as yet has been incompetent to meet is seen in the Homestead incident. That plant had been conducted like a republic, in which every interest was represented and considered. Suddenly it was changed to a monarchy. The autocrat presented a 'scale' and de-manded submission under the penalty of exile. His own violent resources failed to establish his despotism, and the state had to come to his aid. Whoever insti-gated the violence, it had to be crushed but at the claims of public order." The first business taken up at the afternoon session was the question of mak-ing an appropriation to the Homestead sufferers, it being Homestead Day. Delegate Skeffington, of Boston, pre-sented the report of the committee on president's report, recommending that the convention donate $1,000 to aid in the defense of the arrested strikers. This was adopted, after an amendment that a collection in addition be taken and a substitute resolution deferring the pay-ment of the appropriation had both been killed Delegate Morgan, of Chicago, moved that $500 additional be contributed for the relief of the non-union men who left their positions out of sympathy for the Homestead strikers. First Vice President McGuire's amendment that the amount be given to the Homestead re lief fund was accepted by Mr. Morgan. Then President Weihe, of the Amalgamated Association, made a detailed statement of the trouble and said 225 men are now under indictment, of whom five are charged with murder, over thirty with treason and the remainder with conspiracy and riot. Four hundred thousand dollars have been given in bail bonds for the release of a number of the accused. Although many of the old employes are now at work, 2,200 have not gotten back. The total amount contributed during the strike was $41,000. In conclusion he said that the cases against the arrested strikers have already cost the association $10,000 for lawyers and witness' fees. Second Vice President Carney, of Pittsburg, who is also connected with the Amalgamated Association, made an address on the Homestead situation, and said that because of the laws of the organization no strike benefits are paid its members during July and August. This was adhered to this year, but during those months $35,000 was given the nonunion men who struck in support of the union workmen.

GLASSWORKERS ON STRIKE.

A Belief That Other South Jersey Workers Will Join the Strikers.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Dec. 14 .- President Louis Arrington and Vice President Joseph Troth, of the Eastern division of the Green Glass Bottle Blowers' association, came to this city for the purpose of holding the final meeting with the employes of the Cumberland Glass works. Much had been conjectured as to the final crisis, and it has come as most people anticipated, and resulted in a strike at these works.

The committee appointed to hold a conference with the firm met them, and the firm refused to receive them as a union committee, but did receive them as individuals. After a brief conference with them the firm adhered to what they have said all along, that they would not be governed by union rules. An-other secret meeting was held in the third story of the DuBois House and the committee reported to Local Branch No. 8 of the Eastern division.

They reported that their demand on the firm was the union rule that there should be but one apprentice to every fifteen journeymen. This they refused to accede to. The report was received and considered, when it was unanimously agreed to go on a strike, and accordingly 123 employes who have joined the union were called out.

The association claims to be in a condition, financially, to be able to give them all the assistance they need. The Cumberland firm, while having large orders to fill, say they will stand as firm as the rock of Gibraltar before they will be governed by the Union. This strike is only the beginning of a general strike in South Jersey

It is alleged that on Nov, 2 the teacher assaulted the child at the school by pushing him down stairs, also striking him on the head and injuring him so severely that he had to be carried home. She gave $300 for a trial at court, and the grand jury found a true bill against her. Yesterday the case was called for trial, but the defendant did not appear As is usual in such cases a process was issued for her arrest, and she will be brought in by a deputy sheriff.

For Cleveland's Inauguration.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.-The differences existing between the Democratic central committee and James L. Norris, national committeeman for the District of Columbia, over the appointment by the latter of a committee to take charge of the inauguration ceremonies on the 4th of March next, have been settled by National Chairman Harrity. He ignores the committee appointed by Mr. Norris and appoints a new committee of fifty, with Hon. James G. Barrett as chair-man, to take entire charge of the inaug uration ceremonies. This committee will elect its officers other than chairman, select an executive committee, appoint the other necessary committees and increase its membership as its may deem necessary. Mr. Barrett occupied a similar post of honor on Mr. Cleveland's first inauguration.

"It is said that 'the blood of the martyrs was the seed of the church.' It is possible that through the blood of the men who died on the banks of the Monongahela last July may come a realization of the true condition of affairs, and that the legislation of the future will be in favor of the masses rather than for the aggrandizement of of the few.

"To you is delegated the duty to point out the way in which we can do our share to elegate the condition of the people of this country. Judging by the fruits of the legislation of the American Federation of Labor since its formation, I look foward to your deliberations with a convition that they will de guided with prophetic inspiration, not as to the needs of the masses you represent, but the means best calculated to better their condition. "Within the sound of my voice is the spot from which in July, 1776, was read the Declaration of Independence to the assemblage below. That document meant freedom for a nation and an asylum for the oppressed of the world. You are within historic and sacred walls. Let your legislation be such that the oppressed of today may be brought to a realization of the immortal words read on that memorable day: "That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." President Gompers responded elo-quently to the address of welcome, after which a committee on credentials was appointed. The convention then took a ess till 2 o'clock.

The afternoon's session began promptly at 2 o'clock. The committee on creat 2 o'clock. The committee on cre-dentials not being ready to report, President Gompers introduced Mr. John Swinton, of New York, who read a paper reviewing the labor situation. After speaking of Homestead he said : "Away with Frickism. Shame upon Carnagieism, who builds poor houses with the bones of his victims. Blasted be Pinkertonism, the enemy of freedom. be Pinkertonism, the enemy of freedom. the cut-throats of American liberty. These enemies of labor have cut their names on a gibbet that will cast its shadows over their tombstones." The following is a synopsis of President Gompers report: "Events have transpired on the field of labor within the past six months which have aroused public attention, because the incidents connected with them have been more or less of an un-usual character. In each of these labor struggles the employer, the corporations have simply made a request and the armed forces of the states and the United States were at their bidding. In the coal mines of Tennessee, at Homestead, Buffalo and Cœur d'Alene united labor has defended itself from the crushing tyranny of monoplistic power. "The efforts of the toiling masses of our country to carry on the struggles for improved conditions have been met in the spirit of the bitterest antagonism. Our methods to gradually improve the condition of the masses have been re-garded and treated as if we were the enemies rather than the friends of the WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.-The senate committee on immigration held a brief session this afternoon at which all the members were present.
