SIX CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Two Houses Crushed Like Eggshells 'Neath Falling Walls.

A LITTLE GIRL'S SINGULAR ESCAPE.

For Over Eight Hours She Was Buried Under the Smoking Ruins, and Was Rescued None the Worse for Her Perilous Experience.

CHICAGO, March 1.—By the falling of the walls of John York's burned dry goods store, at Halstead and Nineteenth streets, six and perhaps seven people were instantly killed and four others seriously injured.

The killed are: John Smith, aged 45; Lizzie Smith, aged 13; Hattie Smith, aged 4; Paulina Mortin, aged 10; William Kunze. aged 48; Mrs. Mary Kunze, aged 45; George Mesterle.

Injured: F. Kuntz, Jr., Patrol Sergeant Loughlan, Mrs. Amelia Smith, probably fatal; Police Officer William Smith.

The catastrophe was caused by the collapsing before the high wind of the walls of the burned York building. These had been standing since the fire which last winter destroyed the store and contents. The warmth and rain melted the ice, and the wind shook the tottering walls until they fell with a crash, burying two houses with their sleeping inmates. The ruins afterward caught fire. The two houses destroyed were the saloon of John Smith, at No. 761 Halsted street, and the jewelry store of A. Kuntz, at No. 763 Halsted street. Both were frame structures, and both were occupied on the stories by the families of the owners of the places of business below. That all in the buildings were not killed seems almost a miracle, but while two were taken out alive one of them, Mrs. Amelia Smith, wife of the saloon keeper, can scarcely survive. The other one to escape was Fred Kuntz, son of the jeweler, aged 21 years.

The fate of Smith's bartender, whose full name is unknown, is a mystery. He occupied a room on the second story of the Smith house, but as his bed when found in the ruins showed no trace of having been occupied, it is thought he may not have been at home at the time of the catastrophe. The work of rescue was quickly begun, and Mrs. Smith and young Kunze were soon rescued from the debris alive. The rescue alive of little Annie Smith, 9 years old, was little short of miraculous. It was after 10 o'clock when the laborers ex tricated her from a great heap of rubbish near the front wall. She had been under the ruins, exposed to the smoke and heat and the water thrown by the fire engines, for over eight hours and had been given up for lost. She is not badly hurt and

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS. Condensed Report of Proceedings in Senate and House.

Washington, Feb. 23.—In the senate yesterday the sundry appropriation bill and the conference report on the army appropriation bill were agreed to. In executive session Senator Morgan spoke in favor of Hawaiian annexation. In the house, after an all night session, Mr. Hatch opposed every motion to proceed with appropriation bills in the endeavor to bring the anti-option bill to a vote. He was defeated in every instance, however, and the discussion of appropriations proand the discussion on appropriations proeeded languidly.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—In the senate yesterday the diplomatic and consular and the military academy appropriation bills were rushed through, and the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill (carrying $22,000,000) taken up. The house gave an ovation to Hillary A. Herbert, secretary-elect of the navy, and then discussed the Indian appropriation bill. priation bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.-In the senate ye terday the house proposition to abolish the Utah commission was defeated, the senator deciding that the body should be continued. In the house Mr. Hatch failed to get his anti-option bill considered, it being shelved for the Indian appropriation bill, which was discussed without final action.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.-In the senate yesterday the pension appropriation bill was passed without amendment. It carries $165,000,000 for pensions and $1,500,000 for expenses. In the house the Sherman bond amendment was non-concurred in and the bill sent to con-

WASHINGTON, March L-In the senate yesterday two motions to go into executive session were defeated. The naval and agricultural appropriation bills and the bill regulating the sale of liquor in the District of Columbia were passed. The house decided the contested election case of Turpin vs. McDuffle, from the Fourth Alabama district, in favor of Turpin (Dem.), the sitting member.

The Northwestern Blizzard. St. PAUL, March 1.-The big blockade occasioned in Minnesota and Wisconsin by the tremendous snow and wind storms is being gradually raised, although it will be forty-eight hours before traffic resumes its normal course. Of the many trains due here from Chicago only two arrived yesterday. In the southern and southwestern part of the state both the wagon roads and railways are practically abandoned, the drifts in some places being sixteen feet high. The snow is packed so hard in the railway cuts that the rotary plows will not cut it out and it must be taken out with ordinary shovels.

A Terrible Suicide.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Feb. 28.-A horrible suicide was committed by a man named Lee Taylor, five miles southwest of this place. Taylor had become financially embarrased and had been brooding over his troubles. For the past week he had been working at a saw mill. While the fireman and engineer were engaged at the boiler Taylor deliberately lay down on the log carriage, grasped the framework with one hand and the shaft with the other and pulled himself up the rapidly revolving saw. His head was instantly severed from the body and rolled down into the dust pit.

VICTIMS OF THE RAIL Four Killed at a Grade Crossing in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—Philadelphia was the scene yesterday of one of the most appalling railroad calamities in its history. The first section of the train carrying President Harrison and his party to New York crashed into a local train, bound from West Chester to the temporary station of the Baltimore Central railroad at Thirtyfirst and Chestnut streets. President Harrison was on the second section, and was therefore not in the accident. His section was, however, delayed by the disaster.

The local train consisted of four coaches, one mail car, a smoker and two passenger cars in the order named from the locomotive. This train is due at Thirty-first and Chestnut streets at 10:32. The train had just left South street on the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore track, and is said to have been proceeding slowly. The mail and smoking car had crossed the intersection known as the South street crossing, where the Baltimore Central tracks cut across towards the main track into Broad street, and the third car was on the crossing. It was there that the collision occurred. The locomotive of the special crashed at a sharp angle against the third car, and ground it almost to splinters. The car was almost entirely filled with passengers, a large proportion being wo-men. The scene was horrible and indescribable. The car was lifted into the air and dashed some yards from the track a broken mass of woodwork and iron. From this mass the groans and cries of the wounded arose in fearful chorus. The unfortunate passengers were pinned beneath the splintered car so firmly that it was found very difficult to extricate them afterward.

The killed were: Rev. James Walker, of Rockdale, Delaware county; E. L. Mintzer, Media; Mrs. E. L. Mintzer, Media; Mrs. Maria R. Reeves, Media. The injured were taken to the University and Presbyterian hospitals.

The responsibility for the accident seems to rest upon Engineer Thomas Jones, of

PENNSYLVANIA'S G. A. R. Officers Elected at the Annual Encampment at Lebanon.

LEBANON, Pa., March 1 .- The department encampment of Pennsylvania, G. A. R., assembled in the Opera House yesterday, Commander Taylor presiding. Mayor Harbeson delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by Charles F. Chidsey, of Easton. The department commander delivered his annual address, and in closing commended the members of his staff for their faithful and painstaking labors during the year just closed. Samuel P. Tom, assistant adjutant general, made the following statistical report: Lumber of posts, 616; number of members in good standing, Dec. 31, 1892, 43,645; net gain, 134; gain in posts. 9; comrades relieved, 1,457; others relieved, 593; amount expended for relief, $24,003.25; loss by

These officers were elected: Commander, Thomas G. Sample; senior vice com-mander, Charles F. Chidsey, Easton; junior vice commander, J. C. Calvin, Hollidaysburg; chaplain, Rev. John W. Sayre, Philadelphia; medical director, Dr. Samuel Starr, Philadelphia. The council of administration and delegates to the national encampment will be elected tomorrow.

The ladies of the G. A. R. elected Mrs. Sallie E. Linhart, of Pittsburg, president, and Mrs. William D. Shade, M. D., of Philadelphia, senior vice president.

The Reading's Finances.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.-While the Reading receivers are examining into the affairs of the Reading companies, they have not yet reached the point which they can clearly outline their future financial policy. The more they delve the more complex appears the mass of figures representing the Reading accounts. Enough has become known to show that several millions of dollars are due in the form of floating debt, and sums of various amounts owing on open accounts and deferred payments to leased and other companies,

Killed Her Two Sisters.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 27 .- On Saturday Miss Julia Force, 38 years old, a member of a family of the highest social standing, shot and killed her two sisters, Florence, 30 years old, and Minnie, 25 years old, at the home of their brother, A. W. Force. Julia had quarreled with her sisters over family matters and the differences doubtless unhinged her mind, which had not been quite right for several months, and prompted the fearful deed. The murderess surrendered.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 25. - The 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Grubb. who reside at Sharpsburg, near the city limits, was boiled to death by falling into a kettle of scalding hot milk that had been set out to cool preparatory to feeding some hogs. When Mr. Grubb discovered what had happened the flesh was boiled almost off the head and shoulders of the little one, and life had fled. The mother is demented, while Mr. Grubb is on the verge of insanity. BELLEFONTE, Pa., Feb. 27.-Major William F. Reynolds died yesterday afternoon of heart disease, at the advanced age of 80 years. Mr. Reynolds came to Bellefonte from Columbia county in 1841, and in 1859 established the banking house of W. F. Reynolds & Co., which he continued until two years ago, when he disposed of the business. He was the largest landowner in Centre county, being possessed of about thirty large farms. He leaves a fortune estimated at $1,000,000.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 27.- Recovering consciousness for a few minutes, Mrs. Lena Bender, who was so brutally hacked with a hatchet on Friday, gave a brief account of the attack. She said Henry Hildebrand, who is in jail for the crime, was the only person in the house when she started for the cellar. She went down and was kneeling before a sink to get a bottle of catsup for Hildebrand. She saw him approach her, but didn't know what he struck her with. She only felt the first
