POPULISTS BARRED.

Not Invited to the Democratic Senators' Conference.

SENATORS NAMED BY GOVERNORS.

Many Assert That They Are Not Legally Entitled to Admission to the Upper House of Congress-The Question of Reorganization.

WASHINGTON, March 8.-The Democratic caucus which met in the senate chamber yesterday was well attended. Just what course the Democrats intended to pursue towards the Populists has been a matter of interesting conjecture since it was known the Democrats had a clean majority of their own. The action taken indicates that these Populist senators are to be ignored. Senators Kyle, of North Dakota, and Peffer, of Kansas, the old Populists, and Mr. Allen, the new Populist elected by Nebaska, were not invited to attend the caucus, and to this extent, at least, it would seem that they had been purposely neglected. The case of Mr. Martin, of Kansas, was different. Mr. Martin, although elected by fusion votes, is considered a Democrat, and as such was invited by Mr. Gorman to attend the caucus, and participated in its proceedings. Mr. Allen, it is understood, will vote with the Democrats when it comes to the organization.

The caucus organized by re-electing Mr. Gorman chairman and Mr. Faulkner, secretary. The session lasted four hours, the only actual business transacted being to authorize the chairman to appoint a committee to devise a plan for reorganization, and report to the caucus upon the call of the chairman.

Much of the time was consumed in a discussion bearing upon the standing of the senators who have been appointed by governors, the cases in point being Senator Beckwith, appointed by the governor of Wyoming, and Senator Mantle, appointed by the governor of Montana. Speeches were made by Senators Voorhees, Vilas, Daniel and others. A spirit of opposition against seating these men was manifested. and in support of this view a number of old decisions in senate contested elections were quoted. The claim was made that inasmuch as the legislatures of these states had not exercised the prerogative belonging to them the governor had no authority to fill the places, and the states should remain unrepresented. A precedent for such action was cited from an early California case. It was finally decided, however, that these matters, together with the case of Mr. Martin, should be referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

It is understood that there was quite a contest for leading chairmanships and a disposition to set aside the traditions which give the ranking members of the minority these places when they come into the majority. It is unlikely, though, that the usual custom will be departed from. Heretofore the party coming into power has not reorganized the elective offices at the extra session called for the purpose of confirming presidential appointments, although the Republicans have attempted it, and whether this rule should be departed from was a question that came up for discussion. A number of conservatives favored postponing action in this matter until December, but there was not lacking such an expression of sentiment as indicate a purpose to make a complete change as speedily as possible. This was also left to the committee appointed by Mr. Gorman.

After the close of the caucus the Democratic steering committee, consisting of Senators Gorman, Brice, Cockrell, Ransom and Harris, repaired to the committee room of Mr. Ransom and remained in conference for more than three hours. At the conclusion of the conference Mr. Gorman announced the following committee: Messrs. Blackburn, Ransom, Cockrell, Harris, Brice, White (La.), and Mr. Gor-

Terrible Scenes of Suffering In the Devastated Sections.

A PITIFUL APPEAL FOR AID

In Piedmont There Was Not Enough Dry Cloth to Be Found to Bind Up the Wounds of the Injured. The List of Killed.

ATLANTA, March 7 .- The reports from the center of the tornado disturbances show that many persons are in a destitute condition. After the destruction of their homes and all their belongings they were exposed to the extreme cold that followed the tornado. Starvation stared some of them in the face. A meeting held in Greenville appeals for assistance, giving out the statement that "the facts are brief, but terrible. The town is now a scene of desolation. Many of her elegant homes as well as her humble cottages are destroyed, and numbers of families are destitute, penniless and homeless. Four of her churches and her beautiful college have been leveled to the ground.

"This is a calamity which cannot be relieved by the sufferers falling back upon insurance companies, but relief must come, if it comes at all, from the promptings of a Christian beneficence and human piety and generosity. It is to such sentiments in the bosoms of our fellow citizens of every kind that we appeal."

Terrible Suffering.

In Troy county the tornado swept away nearly all the farmhouses, scattering all their supplies. A man who returned today from the storm swept regions says: "We followed the track of the storm eight miles and saw everywhere complete devastation. The loss falls heavily upon the farmers and the poor negroes, and a subscription will be made up here to help those who lost everything. It was terrible to witness the sufferings as we went along.

"People here and there, white and black, were gathering up their bedding and cooking utensils and what provisions could be found scattered over the hills. So complete was the destruction that it is stated that there was not enough dry cloth in Piedmont to bind the wounds of the suffering. Many were left with only the clothes they went to bed in. Everything was blown away and drenched in the pouring rain."

Drs. Thurmond and Perdu came into Barrysville last evening from the scene of the storm. Each had been in a different direction working since daylight yesterday morning. They reported that they had dressed the wounds of 23 persons. Many reports of persons dying come in, but as they are residents in distant places it is impossible to get their names.

The List of Killed.

The list of the persons killed by the tornado, as far as received in this city, is as follows:

At Piedmont-Miss Daisy Hawkins and a negro man. At Odessa-Six persons, names unknown. At Molena-Mrs. Felt and four negroes.

At Woodbury-A white child and two negroes

At Greenville-A negro woman.

Near Barnesville-Mr. Andrew Revire. The number of injured is great, and the probabilities are that news from places distant from the railroads will add to the list of the dead and the tales of destruction. At Greenville the greatest damage was done. Of the 200 houses of the town not over 5 remain intact. Great suffering is reported from there. The center of the town is completely demolished. Half of the houses of the town have been razed to the ground. That there was no greater loss of life is remarkable.

Five coasting vessels anchored within the harbor foundered almost simultaneously, and but ten men of their crews were saved. Four other coasters were sunk before the storm passed. In Tantav the streets were swept clean of people and vehicles in a minute. Twenty-two of the best buildings in the place and a large number of huts were wrecked.
