THE GOLD IS ALL RIGHT The Caravels and Warships at Anchor in

Uncle Sam not To be Allowed to Suffer Badly.

THE TREASURY NOT IN BAD SHAPE.

Secretary Carlisle Says the Supply is Increasing-The Treasury to Continue the Policy Now Being Pursued-What President Cleveland Says.

WASHINGTON, April 24 .- The gold re-serve, depleted Friday, is intact do-day, offers aggregating nearly $4,000,000 having been received and accepted by the secretary during Saturday. Secretary Carlisle says he did not think, in justice to those who were disposed to supply the government with gold, that their names should be published, and for that reason alone he did not think it wise to state names and places from which the offers came. It is believed, however, that the west again came to the relief. .

He said that the treasury would continue the policy now being pursued of paying out gold for the treasury coin notes, and that at an early hour Saturday, when it seemed that the reserve would beencroached upon, he directed the sub-treasurer at New York to continue paying these notes as hereto He was therefore at a loss to underfore. stand how any uncertainty prevailed in the public mind as to the action of the treasury department in the premises.

The exaggerated stories which gained circulation to the effect that President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle had had a serious misunderstanding which might lead to the resignation of Mr. Carlisle are officially denied by members of the cabinet and officials of the treasury department. The relations which exist to-day between Secretary Carlisle and the president are as cordial as they have ever been.

A Word from the President.

WASHINGTON, April 24 .- To a news paper representative the president said last night: "The inclinations on the part of the public to accept newspaper re-ports concerning the intentions of those charged with the management of our national finances seems to justify my emphatic contradiction of the statement that the redemption of any kind of treasury notes, except in gold, has at any time been determined upon or contemplated by the secretary of the treasury, or any other members of the present administration. The president and cabinet are absolutely harmonius in the determination to exercise every power conferred upon them to maintain the public credit, to keep the public faith and to preserve parity between gold and silver and between all financial obligations of the government.

"While the law of 1890, forcing the purchase of a fixed amount of silver every month, provides that the secretary of the treasury in his discretion may redeem in either gold or silver the treasury notes given in payment of silver purchases, yet the declaration of the policy of the government to maintain the parity between the two metals seems so clearly to regulate this discretion as to indicate their redemption in gold.

"Of course perplexities and difficulties have grown out of an unfortunate financial policy which we found in vogue and embarrassments have arisen from ill-advised financial legislation confronting us at every turn; but with cheerful confidence among the people and a patriotic disposi-tion to co-operate, threatened dangers will be averted pending a legislative return to a better and sounder financial policy. The strong credit of the country still unimpaired GAVE THEM A NOISY WELCOME.

the Lower Bay.

NEW YORK, April 26 .- The old Spanish caravels, counterparts of the little craft which composed the fleet of Columbus, were objects of wonder as they swung at anchor in the lower bay yesterday to all persons who saw them. They are certainly a queer looking trio of vessels for any one to have crossed the Atlantic in, and those who saw them yesterday can now better appreciate the great courage of the discoverer of America.

The caravels have iron cannon modelled after the guns of Columbus' original fleet. One of the guns of the latter fleet is still "alive" and may be seen on the Santa Maria. In addition, there are broadside guns called bomboridas and falconetas, mounted on the rails.

Loud-mouthed cannon boomed a noisy welcome to the crack fighting ships of the world as they steamed slowly up the lower bay and swung into the anchorage just below the Narrows near Fort Hamilton, Fort Lafayette and Fort Wadsworth.

Over the city came the dull echo of the cannonading, giving a warning that the long expected naval review was now on in earnest; that the ships of our own nation and of our guests had safely made the trip ionary box is grateful for a penny; the from Hampton Roads, and were now here, ready for their part in the greatest naval pageant of modern times.

The cannonading began when the caravels from Spain were towed up the Hudson, the guns of Fort Wadsworth, Fort Hamilton and Old Castle William booming out their warlike salutes while the throngs who lined the shores of the harbor, eagerly scanning the waters to study the odd-looking, ancient seacraft, answered with a cheer.

Scarcely had these salutes died away before the first of the long line of warships thundered out her announcement of her coming and again the cannon of the forts gave back gun for gun in enthusiastic and the English language: demonstrative welcome All day the shores were lined with people gazing with wonderment upon the grandest spectacle ever witnessed in New York harbor.

PRESIDENT J. S. HARRIS RESIGNS

As Chief Executive of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company.

PHILADELPHIA, April 25 .-- Joseph S. Harris, the prospective president of the Reading Railroad Company, yesterday resigned the presidency of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company at a special meeting of the board of directors called for that purpose

Mr. Harris' resignation will take effect May 1, upon which date he will take charge of the Reading company's affairs. He will be succeeded as the chief executive of the Lehigh Navigation Company by Edward B. Leisenring, who is one of the board of directors. There will be no change in the personnel of the board, as Mr. Harris will retain his seat.

Mr. Leisenring is a man of experience and ability, and is thoroughly conversant with the affairs of the navigation company which is practically controlled by the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

The Situation in New York.

NEW YORK, April 25. - The explicit statement of President Cleveland that the government would continue to pay out gold for treasury notes as well as for greenbacks, and that it had never had any other intention, had the effect of partially clearing the financial atmosphere yesterday.

That the balance of trade, however, is still against this country was shown by the fact that $850,000 more gold was taken from the sub-treasury yesterday for export. Half of it was paid for in treasury notes. This sum, with what was taken last week, but not sent, will, it is believed, be shipped to-day or to-morrow, the total amount to be forwarded being in the neighborhood of $4,000,000. "It is expected," said one bank president.

"that we shall continue to ship $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 of gold a week until the demand is over-that is, until the balance of trade is reversed, or until some of our unmarketed products are sent forward and can be drawn against."

Conrad N. Jordan took charge of the sub-treasury yesterday as assistant treasurer. J. Edward Simmons, president of the Fourth National bank; Henry W. Cannon, president of the Chase National bank; Brayton Ives, president Western National bank; and Charles J. Canda, exassistant treasurer, were in Mr. Jordan's private room. They were in consultation with Mr. Jordan for some hours.

During that time George S. Coe, president of the American Exchange National bank, called and saw Mr. Jordan twice. Mr. Coe declined to be quoted in relation to Mr. Cleveland's statement on the situation.

Preventing Future Misery.

Preventing Future Misery. If there is, in this vale of of tears, a more pro-life source of misery than the rheumatic twinge, we have yet to hear of it. People are born with a tendency to rheumatism, just as they are with one to consumption or to scrofn-h. Slight causes may develop this. As soon as the agonizing complaint manifests itself, recourse should be had to Hostter's Stomach Bitters, which checks its further inroads and banishes the rheumatic poison from the sys-tem. This statement tailies exactly with the testimony of physicians who have employed this fine blood depurent in their private prac-tice. There is also the amplest professional and general testimony as to the efficacy of the Bitters for malaria, liver complaint, constipa-tion, kidney trouble, nervousness and loss of appetite and flesh. After a wetting, whether followed by a cold or not, the Bitters is useful as a preventative of the initial attack of rheu-matism. matism
