BOARD OF TRADE.

AN ORGANIZATION AFFECTED LAST FRIDAY.

A Move to Encourage Additional Industries To Bellefonte—Officers of the Organization—Prominent Business Men Active.

Since the two large furnaces about Bellefonte are in blast and a competing line of railroad is being built into the town business has been picking up wonderfully. There seems to be plenty of work and no excuse for any one being idle. With these very encouraging signs has come a sort of revival in business circles and with it renewed activity. Among the latest moves to advance the interests of Bellefonte was that made last week for the purpose of organizing a board of trade. A preliminary meeting was held on last Thursday evening at which a committee on organization was appointed to report the following Friday evening and at their suggestion the following officers were selected: President, James Harris; vice president, J. W. Gephart; secretary, John Meese; treasurer, John P. Harris; executive committee, Geo. L. Potter, W. Fred Reynolds, T. A. Shoemaker, F. W. Crider, Hammond Sechler.

The meeting was attended by a large number of business men, among them being E. C. Humes, J. W. Gephart, Gen. Hastings and others who made interesting talks in regard to the advantages of Bellefonte and the special inducements that would attract many enterprises to locate here if the matter were only presented in the proper light. Since the supply of natural gas is failing at Findley, Ohio, many large glass plants located there are seeking new locations. As Bellefonte has plenty of cheap material right at its door for the manufacture of glass and a well equipped plant lying idle because it was not properly managed, an effort will be made at once to have the Findley glass manufacturers come here and fire up our idle plant.

Other moves will be made to acquaint the industrial world of the advantages possessed by Bellefonte as an industrial centre. To give the Board of Trade the proper encouragement, every business man in Bellefonte should become a member and also contribute his fee and regular presence. Other towns throughout the state have accomplished wonders through the medium of an active board of trade. Williamsport has attracted a great number of enterprises to their city by these means. While Bellefonte has many advantages on account of its great mineral resources, elegant water power and healthful location there is no reason why an active board of trade cannot accomplish even more for this town.

Now let every business man in Bellefonte do his duty; become a member of the organization; contribute a portion of your time and money to place it upon a working basis. It will be a good investment. While Bellefonte is booming, she ought to boom right.

Centre County Patients.

Last week three of Centre county's patients at the University of Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, underwent operations.

Ex-treasurer Charles Smith's ailment was pronounced an abscess about the neck. It was lanced and a large pus formation was found. Since that was removed the patient found speedy relief and is slowly recovering. Mr. Smith is still at the hospital.

Col. D. S. Keller had an operation performed on the right forearm where an abscess had formed. The same was removed and the bone scraped. Mr. Keller arrived home this week and thinks the arm will soon be restored.

The operation upon the daughter of Andrew Cook, consisting in the removal of the short intestine, appendicitis, proved satisfactory and the patient is slowly recovering.

"The Centre Magnet."

On Wednesday morning the new prohibition paper under the name of The Centre Magnet made its appearance. It will be a weekly publication, one-half the size of this paper; will advocate the prohibition cause and will take high moral grounds on all public questions; it also promises to do many other things that will be "beneficial to the race" for which we have not space to enumerate. Last but not least it is "controlled by no clique and knowing no faction;" and the man to be responsible for all this signs himself "Newton S. Bailey, Editor and Proprietor."

The first issue is gotten up in a very creditable form and contains a fair amount of news, along with prohibition editorials and selections.

Only One Drink a Day.

A Columbia, S. C., despatch says; Governor Tillman's rules for the State bar rooms, which will open July 1st, prohibits the same person from being served more than once a day. No loafing will be allowed around the dispensaries. Clubs will not be allowed to serve liquor. The dispensaries are to be open at 7 o'clock in the morning and close at 6 o'clock in the evening. A special constabulary force is to be employed to enforce the law.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

—A person killing a robin in this state is liable to a fine of from $2 to $20 for each offence, or imprisonment for 20 days, or both. In fact the law prohibits the killing of any or nearly all birds on the list of those that are inhabitants here.

—Last Friday a fall of loose earth at Morris' lime stone quarries, near town, severely injured Wm. Johnson and his son who were employed there. They were taken to their home at Milesburg. Mr. Johnson was injured about the hip and ankle.

—Mrs. Frank Foreman, daughter of Mr. Thomas Purdue, of Coleville, died at her home near Centre Hall on Monday, after a prolonged illness with typhoid fever. She was 32 years of age, and leaves a husband and five children. The interment occurs at Centre Hall this Thursday.

—Work on the new railroad to Mill Hill is progressing at a rapid rate. Several hundred men are employed along the line and several miles are graded already. If work continues at the same rate the road can easily be completed before the close of summer.

—Prof. Dorsey Hunter, principal of the Gettysburg, Pa., public schools, arrived home last week on his summer vacation. He contemplated an extended trip to Chicago and other points in the west during the summer. He has been very successful in his position at Gettysburg.

—On Tuesday evening Messrs. John Lane and Hard Harris left for Lock Haven to attend a meeting of base ball men at that place. The object is to form a league including Renovo, Williamsport, Milton, Sunbury, Lock Haven, Bellefonte, Tyrone and other towns in Central Pennsylvania.

—The new pipe organ purchased by W. Fred Reynolds, in memory of Wm. F. Reynolds, is being put in place at the Episcopal church this week. It would have been ready for the Hale-Andrews wedding on Wednesday, but a piece was overlooked in the shipment and it can not be used until it arrives.

—Since Mr. Elliot Harvey, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at this place, resigned his position and left to accept a position with the Standard Oil Company, at Oil City, the association is looking about to engage a suitable man to take his place. The rooms will be kept open and regular meetings will be conducted same as heretofore.

—The old Milliken property, on Linc street, has been completely wiped out of existence and not a trace is left of what once was the habitation of the famous James Milliken. There is nothing left to even intimate that his handsome form once delighted our thoroughfares with its presence, accompanied by his best dog. Yes, Milliken is gone.

—The Centre Hall people are thinking about having a big 4th of July this year. Get up a good subscription to furnish free beer and pretzels, the crowd will come, everybody will celebrate and the dear town will be painted a beautiful carmine before nightfall. If you Centre Hallers want a real old fashioned time take our advice.

—It is reported that editor Joe. W. Furey, now living at Lock Haven, is slowly declining in health. His trip to Clifton Springs, at the time, seemed to greatly improve his condition, but it only proved temporary. Mr. Furey has many warm friends in Centre county who will be pained to hear of his declining health.

—McKeesport has a horse which chews tobacco with as great a relish as the most inveterate users of the weed. The animal seems to have no clearly defined and particular taste, as he eats candy, orange peel, paper and a variety of miscellaneous articles with apparently as much relish as corn or oats. He seems to thrive, as he is fat and hearty and very gentle.

—On Saturday afternoon the Milesburg and Academy base ball clubs will play the deciding game for the best out of a series of five, at Hunter's park. This will be the first game of the season played at the park. The fare will be 25 cents for round trip and 10 cents for admission to the ball ground. Both teams are well matched and an interesting contest can be expected.

—On Monday morning Mr. Theo. McNichols, an employee at McCalmont's stone quarry, was badly injured. He was standing on a ledge of rock that had been loosened by a blast, when it gave away and dropped about a hundred feet to the bottom of the quarry, and he was carried along with it and partly buried up. He was soon extricated and sent home for treatment as he was badly bruised.

—On Saturday evening L. Mor's "circian museum" opened at the skating rink, and large crowds were present every night since. The "circian museum" is the name applied to what is commonly known as a merry-go-round, which Mr. Mor constructed himself and is quite an elaborate affair. It will carry about fifty people for which seats on all kinds of gaily painted, wooden animals are provided. Mr. Wm. H. Runkle, of Centre Hall, is assisting Mr. Mor in the business.

Lane's Medicine moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary.

DISPUTED PROPERTY.

BOWMANITES INSTITUTE LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

An Effort to Obtain Possession of the Evangelical Church Property in This Section—Dubs Followers in Possession—An Episode at Woodward.

A bill of equity has been filed in the courts of Clinton county, in behalf of Rev. Samuel P. Kindt, John Morris and others, against Rev. J. R. Jarret, Levi Couser and others, for the purpose of obtaining possession of Salem church of the Evangelical Association, in the borough of Loganton, Clinton county, which the plaintiffs allege the defendants have unlawfully taken possession of. The plaintiffs are identified with what is known in the Evangelical Association as the Bowmanites, and the defendants are identified with the Dubs faction. The bill as filed raises the same questions practically which have been in litigation in this as well as in several other states and the controversy is as to which party the Bowmanites or the Dubsites, represents the Evangelical Association of North America and is entitled to the possession, custody and control of the church property belonging to the association. There have been numerous decisions by lower courts and but one by the court of last resort.—Sugar Valley Journal.

In Centre county the same difficulties are brewing. The Rev. Samuel P. Kindt, formerly of Schuylkill county, a follower of the Bowman and Escher factions of the Evangelical church, recently moved to Millheim with his family and his territory for ministerial labors extends over the greater portion of Penns valley, Brush valley and part of Clinton county. In this county nearly all the members of the Evangelical congregation are in sympathy with the Dubs faction. At Millheim, we are told, there are only two members who are with Rev. Kindt and the Bowmanites.

Rev. Finkbinder, pastor of several Evangelical congregations in the eastern portion of Pennsvalley, recently was filling one of his regular appointments near Woodward. Rev. Kindt also made an appointment to preach to the same congregation, at the same hour and place. Rev. Finkbinder arrived first and began with the services. Not long after Rev. Kindt arrived and marched through the aisle direct to the pulpit where the other minister very cordially greeted him at the steps of the pulpit by a hand shake. Rev. Kindt informed Rev. Finkbinder that it was his (Kindt's) appointment to preach. Rev. Finkbinder said that he was filling his regular appointment and further that he was going to do the preaching. He did not invite Rev. Kindt either to assist in the services, but pointing to the "amen corner" requested him to take a seat, which Rev. Kindt did, and the Rev. Finkbinder held the fort.

For some time Rev. Kindt has been looking over the deeds in the Recorder's office for the purpose of obtaining information in regard to the various titles to the property of the Evangelical church in Centre county. This, no doubt, indicates that ere long legal proceedings will be instituted in this county, by the Bowmanite faction, for possession of the same.

This church fight, as generally understood, arose through the jealousy between bishops of the church, Bishop Dubs being head of one faction or conference; and Bishop Bowman and his son-in-law, Bishop Escher, the leaders of the other side. There is no difference in regard to church doctrine or discipline—rival bishops in the church became jealous over each other much like in politics, their respective friends gradually took up the warfare all along the lines, until to-day it seems that the only remedy will be in the final and complete division of the church and its property and the establishment of two distinct and independent bodies of the same faith.

The Evangelical church is very strong throughout Centre county. The members are thoroughly disgusted with these disgraceful proceedings, emanating too from men who profess to preach and as far as possible by their conduct imitate, the teachings of their Divine Master.

Timely Warning.

Last Saturday morning a train passing over the high trestle near Cherry Run, below Coburn, dropped some live cinders on the ties which soon caught a blaze and burned part of the ties and timber. A young boy came along and saw the fire and just in time for him to run back and flag conductor Allison's freight train, No. 164. Had he had not done this a terrible wreck would have occurred. The train crew consisted of W. E. Allison, conductor; I. T. Cherry, engineer; Asher Adams, fireman; Z. Underwood, flagman; with John Fisher, Frank Kaup and W. M. Hershey as brakeman.

Bucknell Commencement.

The annual commencement exercises of Bucknell College will take place this year from June 17 to 22. They have a very large graduating class which is an indication that the institution is growing.

Dart and Schreyer's Racket.

Harry Schreyer, the carpet man, and Dr. R. L. Dartt will have a lively tussle in the next term of quarter sessions. Both use the same stable and for some reason the Dr. built a board partition in the stable. Schreyer's stable boy, Jas. Barry, tore it down so that he could get to the hydrant. Later the Dr. caught Barry tearing down the same partition and the lad got a trouncing from the irate doctor. Mr. Schreyer took the matter in charge and had Dartt arrested for assault and battery and the case will appear at next session of court. Dr. Dartt since brought an action of trespass against Schreyer and that also will have to be finally settled in court. Schreyer rents from Dartt on Allegheny street and are next door neighbors, but not very neighborly at present. District Attorney Singer thinks the good work should go on—the more the merrier, as legal business is always a little slow during the summer months.

That Gold Mine.

On Saturday Mr. J. C. Stover, of Penn township, called at our office and informed us that gold and silver, in small quantities, had been found in Penn township. To substantiate his statement he showed a certificate of an analysis made by an assayer in Colorado, to whom a sample of the rock had been sent for that purpose. The analysis is $1.164 of silver and .32 of gold to the ton. That is proof that such minerals can be found there, but not of sufficient quantity to pay. The operation where this ore was found is in Penn township, about a quarter of a mile east of Zerby station, on E. C. Finkle's farm. Machinery was to be shipped there this week by a Shamokin party who intend to sink a shaft to more fully investigate.

Philipsburg's Electric Railroad.

Last Thursday Hon. Chris Magee and Senator William Flynn, of Pittsburg, in company with Mr. Thomas Collins, of Bellefonte, visited Philipsburg and were shown the proposed route to Morrisdale, Hawk Run, Ashcroft and Kylesport. Messrs. Magee and Flynn have been selected by Collins to take stock in the road; Collins will go ahead and build the road. Mr. Collins telegraphed his engineer to begin on construction at once, and a gang of workmen arrived, which is evidence that work on the road will be commenced very shortly.

Forty Per Cent Paid.

The defunct Tyrone bank has paid a dividend of 15 per cent. more, making in all 40 per cent. paid on the dollar, and Assignee Stevens thinks that another dividend can be declared before very long.
