DISCUSSING THE MONEY QUESTION.

Floods of Elequence for and Against the Repeal of the Sherman Law-Making Corner Stone Day a Holiday in the District.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 .- Mr. Sherman held the close attention of the senate and of a large audience in the galleries for over wo hours yesterday, as he set forth in A WEEK'S NEWS CONDENSED erms and vigorous language-very rapidly tellvered-the reasons why he supported the bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the act of July, 1890, and why it should be passed with as little delay as possible. Incidentally he recommended giving au-Incidentally he recommended giving au-thority to the president or the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds bearing not over 4 per cent. interest in order to procure gold with which to maintain a sufficient reserve; and he commented upon the clared Pensacola, Fla., to be infected with fact that while he had proposed such a yellow fever, and has ordered the deten-measure at the last session, the opposition ticn in quarantine of all vessels arriving to it came from the Democratic senators, | from that port. although it was to their own administra-tion that the power was to be confided. He also alluded to the remarkable attitude of Washington yesterday morning. Democratic senators in opposing the re-peal of the act of July, 1800, although they and voted against it and still denounced t, whilst the Republicans, by whose votes exclasively that law was passed, were now unxious to vote for its repeal. WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.-The speech of Mr. Wolcott, of Colorado, against the bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman set was delivered yesterday in the presence of almost all the senators and of a large audience in the galleries. The nost telling parts of it, and those that imused and interested "its hearers most, were some humorous and sarcastic grove. The next speech was on the opposite side of the question, and was made by Mr. Caffery, the successor of Mr. Etta Ivey, a colored woman, was Gibson, of Louisiana. It was his first appearance in the senate as a speechmaker. The "threshing over old straw" was amusement which the house indulged in yesterday. The rules of the Fifty-third congress were relegated to the background and the rules of the Fifty-first congress came in for the chief part of the discus-sion. No new charges were made and no new answers were interjected, but Mr. Reed was kept on his feet continuously, justifying the propriety of his course when he occupied the chair. The banking and edrrency and the coinage, weights and measures committees were granted leave to report at any time; and these were the only noteworthy changes made in the new order. But there is an amendment still that, if adopted, may be found to be far reaching in its effects. It was offered by Mr. Boatner, of Louisiana, and provides for a practical cloture whenever a mem-ber in charge of a measure on the floor sees fit to day for it.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The house bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman act got fairly under way yesterday in the senate. It was taken up early in the morning hour to give an apportunity to Mr. Vance, of North Carolina, to make a speech against it. Mr. Vance is one of the Democratic minority members of the finance committee, and for an hour and forty minutes he kept his batteries of wit, humor and sarcasm playing upon the measure and upon the members of his own party for supporting and advocating it. When he got through his entertaining speech an effort was made to simplify the further parliamentary line of proceeding in the consideration of the bill by having the committee's substitute adopted pro forma, so that all amendments to be offered might be amendments in the first degree instead of in the second degree, which would tend to smooth and simplify mat-ters. That proposition did not, however suit the ideas or plans of Mr. Cockrell, of Missouri, who objected to it, and as it required unanimous consent, it failed, of course, to be adopted. From that point on to the point of going into executive session, a confused rambling colloquy was carried on between Mr. Cockrell and some Republican senators involving the question of adhesion to or repudiation of the Chicago Democratic platform. The discussion was not ended when adjournment took place. WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 .- The senate had a long and wearisome session yesterday, with little of interest to enliven the proceedings. The house bill for the repeal of portion of the Sherman act was kept steadily to the front after it was taken up, and it was still before the senate at the time of ad-The Fifty eighth year will begin Sep-tember 7th, 1893. WASHINGTON, Sept 6 .- If any particle of interest existed in the mind of any senator in connection with the legislation of 1873 by which the silver dollar was dropped out of the spinage (remaining out until the passage of the Bland Allison act) he id an opportunity verterday of learning m Mr. Stewart every incident bearing apon it before, since, and at the time of the enactment. Mr. Stewart's version of hat old history differed from the versio given by Mr. Sherman last week. Lits attention was paid to Mr. Stewart's speed and at one point of it he complained the senators were in the cloak rooms, and n A call of the roll, however, quickly cured a quorum. At other points he d clined to permit Mr. Hour to interpo some remarks, designating them as "a l of Grash," and Mr. Aldrich (Rep., R. met similar treatment, his interference b met similar treatment, his interference b ing called "aggravating." a family medicine, comprehensive in its scope, has never been upon public attention in the guise of a universal panacea for bodily fills. This claim, daily arrogated in the columns of the daily press by the preprietors of medicines far inferior to it as speciace, has in a thousand instances disgusted the public in advance by its absurdity, and the prospects of other remeo, es of superior qualities have been handicapped by the pretentions of their worthless predeces-sors.
