

BOLD TRAIN ROBBERY.

A Lake Shore Train Held Up by Twenty Masked Men.

SHATTERED A CAR WITH DYNAMITE

The Engineer Made a Desperate Resistance, but Was Shot Down and Seriously Wounded—The Robbers Secure Over Nineteen Thousand Dollars and Escape.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Twenty masked men held up a Lake Shore train 140 miles from Chicago early in the morning, and after wounding the engineer blew open the safe in the express car and stole its contents.

The robbery occurred at Kessler, Ind., a few miles beyond Kendallville. A few rods west of Kessler the engineer, J. Knapp, discovered a switch open and put on the brakes to save the train from destruction. The train nearly came to a standstill when the twenty robbers, armed and masked, made a rush for the express car. The engineer seized a coal pick and made a desperate resistance. One of the robbers was struck down and fell off the engine. Another came over the tender and leveling his revolver by the dim light shot the engineer in the chest, seriously wounding him. The fireman saw a chance to make his escape, and, jumping through the cab window, ran.

As the train came to a stop there was a terrible explosion. The robbers had put dynamite under the train. The explosion tore open one side of the express car. The conductor and brakeman hurried to the platforms only to be covered by rifles in the hands of several men, who said they would shoot to kill if a move were made. The railroad men made no resistance. A guard was put at the end of each car and the express car was attacked.

The messenger behind a barricaded door refused to obey the command of the robbers to open the express car entrance. Shot after shot was fired at the car, but the robbers soon saw they could not secure an entrance by intimidation.

The messenger fired many shots at the robbers through the opening that the explosion had made, but the robbers, finally getting into the car through this break, soon disarmed him, and with a blow on the head knocked him senseless.

Half a dozen of the twenty men then looted the express car. Dynamite was again used in opening the safe, and the thieves took everything they thought worth carrying away.

The dynamite having wrecked only one express car, the robbers contented themselves with looting this alone, and made no effort to force an entrance to the second.

After the robbery had been effected the guards at the doors of the passenger coaches were called off, a few parting shots were fired, and the band of robbers disappeared in the wooded stretch of land that skirts the railroad.

As soon as the robbers had disappeared, messengers ran to Kendallville to spread the alarm. The sheriff of the county, aroused from bed, called on all near him for help, and soon a posse of residents of Kendallville were hastening along the highway to the scene of the robbery. They scoured the vicinity, beat through the bush and traveled miles through the woods, but they found no clues.

The express company's officers are perfectly well satisfied that the robbery was committed by expert safe blowers, who knew the use of dynamite and just how to get at the vulnerable parts of the safe. This, in their opinion, ought to make the chase more certain to end in the capture of the robbers and the recovery of the money than would otherwise be the case.

It is officially announced by officers of the express company that the amount stolen is $19,400. Two gold bars valued at $16,000 were not taken by the robbers.

Three men, one of them a negro, were arrested three miles from Kendallville on suspicion of being concerned in the Lake Shore robbery, but nothing of an incriminating nature was found on their persons. Three residents of Kendallville are under surveillance.

found Mr. Fish sitting in a chair at the foot of the bed. Mrs. Benjamin, a daughter of the deceased, and the only other occupant of the house, was summoned, but her father was unable to utter a word after she entered the room and he expired soon after. A MURDEROUS MANIAC.

The Many Crimes Charged Against Lizzie Halliday.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Paul Halliday was buried beside his first wife in the little cemetery in Walker valley with the ritual of the G. A. R. yesterday, and the excitement over the triple murder is subsiding somewhat. Yesterday Mrs. Halliday was committed to the county jail at Monticello to await the action of the grand jury.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The solution of the mystery surrounding Lizzie Halliday's awful crimes will be found in the history of her previous life and her relations with her husband.

Young Paul and Robert Halliday have told their stories, and when all this new and old information is put together there is produced a story of very unusual, but not of unprecedented criminality.

Lizzie Halliday, herself a type of low humanity, was merely an ignorant, mean, cunning and revengeful woman, with the belief that she possessed the power to do evil to everybody she chose.

This appears to have been her character under ordinary circumstances, but at certain periods she appears to have become possessed of a mania. On each occasion when she was in this wild mental condition she was expecting to become a mother.

She never did, however, so far as is known, give birth to a living child. This mania, which is not without numerous precedents, assumed in Lizzie Halliday's case a phase almost unbelievably shocking.

Lizzie Halliday has killed two men in her life, both of them husbands, and she outlined both. In addition to this it is clearly established that she caused two incendiary fires, in one of which the idiot son of her late husband was cremated.

At the meeting of the America's committee, held on board the flagship May, at Bay Ridge, after the race, it was formally decided that the Vigilant should defend the America's cup against the Valkyrie.

Wood is 45 years old and below the average in intelligence. The girl is 18 years old, and well developed. The desire of the Arabs to rob the caravan is reported to have been the main reason for killing Emin.

Swinging Around the Circle.

Of the diseases to which it is adapted with the best results, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a family medicine, comprehensive in its scope, has never been upon public attention in the guise of a universal panacea for bodily ailments. This claim, daily attested in the columns of the daily press by the proprietors of medicines far inferior to its specifics, has in a thousand instances disgusted the public in advance by its absurdity, and the prospects of other remedies of superior qualities have been handicapped by the pretensions of this worthless product. But the American people know, because they have verified the fact by the most trying tests, that the Bitters possesses the virtues of a real specific in cases of malarial and liver disorder, constipation nervous, rheumatic, stomach and kidney trouble. What it does it thoroughly, and mainly for this reason it is endorsed and recommended by hosts of respectable medical men.

—On Monday all jurors not drawn on the objection case were discharged.
