PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Lena Maria De Russy, alias Hoepfner, pleaded guilty before Judge Reed, of attempting to perform criminal operations upon several young girls. She was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the Eastern penitentiary.

TAMAQUA, Pa., Sept. 19.—Two young men, while walking along the Schuylkill river near New Ringold, found the skeleton of a man. The remains have been identified as those of David Naf, of this borough, who has been missing since November last.

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 18.—Daniel Keller, an inmate of the county insane asylum, lost his life in a peculiar manner. He was assisting in placing a coverlet on the bed, when he was seized with an epileptic fit and fell. His head was caught between two rods on the bed, and he was thus suffocated.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 18.—N. C. Couch, aged 20, and W. E. Williams, aged 15, of Morristown, N. J., were arrested here yesterday for robbing the Hackettstown, N. J., postoffice of $250 worth of coupon bonds belonging to the Hackettstown National bank and $4,000 in unnegotiable paper.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 18.—With the guests waiting to participate in the wedding feast, the minister awaiting the arrival of the bride party, John Formosa, of Silver Brook, stole a march on Charles Winters, and created consternation among his assembled friends by running away with the bride, Miss Maud Halskey.

READING, Pa., Sept. 20.—Detectives Wartman and Wagner, of this city, served three warrants for burglary on Frank Smith, alias Frank Geiger, who is in jail in Lebanon. Smith is the supposed leader of the gang who committed so many burglaries in the Lebanon valley during the summer. Other charges will be brought against Smith.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 18.—William Evans, of Girardville, has been convicted of a fenshish crime. He put dynamite under his house, and, while his wife and children were asleep, he set it off, intending to blow up his family and destroy the residence. The explosion was a failure and only the cellar steps were blown up. Evans fled and later returned and locked himself in a room.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—The congregation of the Centennial Baptist church, Twenty-third and Oxford streets, last night, by a vote of 100 to 78, requested Rev. Dr. Duncan MacGregor to resign from the pastorate and later than Sept. 20. The minister is accused of having written an improper letter to Miss Sallie George, a member of the church. The deposed clergyman's friends will start an independent church.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 19.—Rev. S. B. Spalding, of the Catholic church in this place, has announced to his congregation that, while there is no penalty attached to a refusal to do so, Catholics are bound in conscience to send their children to Catholic schools. Recently Father Spalding was ordered by Mgr. Sattoli to restore to W. S. Bowen, one of his parishioners, a pew which the priest took from him seven years ago for refusing to send his children to the parish school.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 19.—J. G. Sleser, tax collector in Decatur, having shot a dog which had bit him, was set upon by twenty-five Hungarians, who attacked him with stones and clubs. Sleser was roughly handled by the mob, and believing his life was in danger, fired into the crowd, inflicting a fatal wound on John Vanlia. Sleser then started to Uniontown to give himself up. John Spok said Sleser deliberately shot Vanlia. Sleser bears a good reputation. Vanlia leaves a large family.

ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 19.—A riot occurred in a boarding house conducted by Selvine Salvini, in the town of Bellwood, this county, where seventy-five Italians had congregated to drink beer. Three Italians were shot, one of them fatally, during the general fight which ensued. A woman, concerning whom a couple of the Italians had quarreled, was the cause of the fight. Several of the fighters, who were put out of the house, bombarded the place. They broke the doors and windows and badly injured a number of the occupants. The authorities will bring the rioters to justice.

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 20.—Charles Grether, of Easton, an ex-convict, pleaded guilty before Judge Reed to robbing the house of Samuel Greder, at Wind Gap, breaking out and escaping from Bethlehem lock-up, breaking into and robbing the house of John Hordendorf, of Plainfield township, snatching and robbing W. E. Crane, a Philadelphia lumber agent at Bethlehem; burglarizing the residence of George Schug, of Belfast; carrying concealed deadly weapons, and several other minor charges, and was sentenced by Judge Reeder to seven years in the Eastern penitentiary.

MAUCH CHUCK, Pa., Sept. 19.—The Republicans of Carbon county at their convention placed themselves on record as favoring a nomination for president Judge, to succeed the late Judge Dreher, and Horace Heydt was named as the convention's choice. The other nominees were: For county treasurer, Levi Horn, of Franklin; associate judge, Dr. J. B. Tweedie, of Waverly; register and recorder, Nathan Tanner, of Lansford; county commissioners, H. H. McBride, of Beaver Meadow, and W. H. Anthony, of Parryville; auditors, Thomas Mueselzinn, of Mahoning, and Paul Kefer, of Mauch Chunk.

OSBURN AND THOMPSON.

The Chosen Standard Bearer of Pennsylvania's Democracy.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 20.—The Democratic state convention was called to order by State Chairman J. Marshall Wright, who introduced James J. Lanahan, of Luzerne county, as temporary chairman. After the appointment of the usual committees a recess was taken, and on reassembling Congressman E. P. Gillespie was introduced as permanent chairman of the convention. Mr. Gillespie's speech of acceptance was brief and to the point. As the resolutions committee had not completed its report another recess was taken after Mr. Gillespie's speech.

When the convention was again called to order State Senator Grant Herrin, of the committee on resolutions, read the platform, which was unanimously adopted. In the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman law is called "vicious," and its repeal is demanded, and the clause in the Republican platform favoring a large expansion of the currency is denounced as "unwise and improvident," and it carried out calculated to result in disastrous consequences to the country.

Taxation only for the purposes of the government economically administered is favored. The last legislature is denounced for failure to enact such necessary legislation affecting apportionment, taxation, discrimination in freights, honest voting and the deposits of state moneys.

One declaration is in favor of a non-partisan judiciary and another indorses Harry's chairmanship of the national campaign. The present serious depression is ascribed to vicious Republican legislation. A prompt revision of the tariff is declared to be absolutely necessary. Honest pensions to soldiers are indorsed, but the purging of the roll of unworthy names is recommended.

After the adoption of the platform the nominations were quickly rushed through. The nominees are: For state treasurer, Frank C. Osburn, of Sewickley, Allegheny county; for associate justice of the supreme court, Samuel Gustine Thompson, of Philadelphia.

Says He Was Robbed by Footpads. MILVILLE, N. J., Sept. 20.—At an early hour in the morning Policeman Bullock heard a man groaning in a lumber yard near the West Jersey railroad. Going to the spot he found James Hilliard, a cigarmaker, lying on the ground. Hilliard was carried to the city hall and medical aid summoned. He said that he came down from Philadelphia on a late train with considerable money in his possession, part of the proceeds of an estate in which he is interested. After leaving the train he was followed by a white man and a negro, who knocked him down, beat and robbed him, and attempted to stab him. The police do not credit his story.

A Drunkard's Insane Freak. MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 20.—Martin Kelly, of West Philadelphia, was brought to Media by Officer Otty, charged with severing one of the air pipes of a train running from Broad street to Media last evening. Kelly was drunk and was stealing a ride on one of the car platforms. When the engineer attempted to stop the train at Morton he found the air brakes would not work, and the train ran almost half a mile before it could be stopped. Kelly was given a hearing before Justice Walker, who committed him for trial on the charge of malicious mischief.

The Engineer Forgot His Orders. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 20.—Because Engineer Elmer Hufford, of White Haven, forgot his orders a serious wreck occurred on the Lehigh Valley road, near Fair View, last night. The engineer neglected to side track to allow for the passage of the New York express train, and as a result the engines met on the same track, causing much damage to property and serious injuries to nine passengers. Strange to say, neither the firemen nor engineers of either train were hurt, though all stuck to their posts.

A Brute His Own Executioner. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—Henry Farrell, 35 years old, was found under the Glenwood avenue bridge with his throat cut from ear to ear. He died soon after. It is believed by the police that Farrell is the same man who on Monday abducted the 6-year-old child of Mrs. Eliza Lazalos from the Reading terminal station. The child was afterward found in Laurel Hill cemetery suffering from criminal assault. It is believed that Farrell was his assailant.

Dixon a Strong Favorite. NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—There seems to be an impression prevailing among the sporting men of this city that Solly Smith will be another soft mark for Champion George Dixon when they meet in the arena of the Coney Island Athletic club next Monday night. There is any amount of Dixon money in sight, and the odds are about 7 to 10 in the colored boy's favor.

Ex-Mayor Gleason Must Stand Trial. NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Justice Cullen, in the supreme court, Brooklyn, decided that ex-Mayor Patrick J. Gleason, of Long Island city, should stand trial in Queens county for sending false bills and conspires to defraud the city. Mr. Gleason was recently indicted for selling to the city a fire engine for $21,000 which he purchased for $50.

To Work on Full Time. COLUMBIA, Pa., Sept. 20.—Division Superintendent Gucker, of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, has issued an order to the fact that the employes in the repair shops here shall hereafter work six days per week and nine hours per day. The increased hours, of course, will add greatly to their wages.

Charged with Poisoning Five Persons. BERLIN, Sept. 20.—An Austrian named Humm and his wife, residents of Goettingen, have been arrested there for having poisoned their four children and Mrs. Humm's father. Humm and his wife were locked up, but as yet have said nothing to throw light on the motive of the murders.

A Check for National Bank Officials. WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The house committee on banking and currency directed Mr. Cox to prepare a favorable report upon his bill to prohibit any officer or any employe of a national bank from borrowing from its funds.

Death of a Political Economist. ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 20.—John G. Drew, lately associate editor of the Irish World, and a noted writer on political economy and ethics, died here of heart disease, aged 72.

Four Years for a Horse Thief. MEDIA, Pa., Sept. 20.—James Adamson, a young man from Chester, with a mania for stealing horses, was sentenced by Judge Clayton to four years in the Eastern penitentiary.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

Business of a Week in the National Legislature.

SENATORS STILL TALKING SILVER.

Senators Agree to Longer Sessions and the Democrats in the House Will Try to Force the Repeal of the Federal Elections Law.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—An effort was made in the senate yesterday after the recess to have a day fixed for closing general debate, but the result of that effort was not very encouraging to the hopes of those who look forward to a not distant final disposition of the bill. The proposition came naturally, and with due modesty, from the chairman of the finance committee, who suggested that general debate should close Sept. 30; that discussion on the substitute and various amendments should continue till the following Saturday, and that then voting should begin. He desired to elicit the views on that point of senators on the other side of the question. Those views were expressed through Mr. Dubois, of Idaho, and held out no hope of an agreement to having any time fixed. Thereupon Mr. Voorhees recognized the situation and withdrew his suggestion.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The first skirmish over the federal elections repeal bill took place in the house yesterday, and although the casualties were few, it was manifested that both sides were in earnest and that the regular battle will be a severe one.

The Republicans opened their batteries by declining to allow the "caus belli" to be even reported to the house. The great event of yesterday's session of the senate was the delivery of a speech by Mr. Daniel (Va.) against the passage of the repeal bill.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—For two hours in the house yesterday the skirmish fight over the federal elections bill continued. Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, marshaling the Democratic majority and Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, taking charge of the Republican forces.

The debate in the senate on the repeal bill was altogether on the affirmative side of the question. Two speeches were made in favor of the bill, the first by a Democratic senator, Mr. Lindsay (Ky.), and the second by a Republican, Mr. Higgins (Del.). Both were uncompromising and unconditionally for the repeal of the silver act.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The seventh week of the present session of congress gives promise of great interest. The situation is extraordinary in legislative history, in that both houses are just now in a condition where it is impossible to make headway in the dispatch of public business. But if the present program is carried out this week will witness determined efforts on the part of the leaders in the senate and in the house to break the spell which has bound congress for so many days.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The senate held a short session yesterday. Its attention was devoted to Senator Peffer's resolution directing the committee on interstate commerce to inquire into the recent train robberies. The resolution was not disposed of when the senate, according to agreement, took a recess in order to attend the centennial ceremonies, and at their conclusion, adjourned until noon today.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—For the third time since the repeal bill has been before the senate the senator in charge of it (Mr. Voorhees) made an effort yesterday to have the opposition fix some time when debate might be closed and the vote taken, and for the third time the proposition met with an unfavorable response. As on the first occasion, Mr. Dubois acted as spokesman for the opposition, but he was seconded and sustained by Mr. Teller, who stated that he knew of fifteen senators who still desired to address the senate, of whom thirteen had not yet opened their mouths on the subject, and he added that until all senators who desired to speak had an opportunity of doing so no vote could be taken. Mr. Voorhees then gave notice that he would from and after today ask the senate to have lengthened sessions, and he was informed that his program would not be resisted. After a speech by Mr. Mills in favor of the bill and by Mr. Stewart against it the senate adjourned.

Although Colonel Hill, the Democratic whip, reported 195 Democratic representatives in the city yesterday, seventeen more than a quorum of the house, there were but 173 of them present on the floor at any one time yesterday, and the majority again found themselves powerless to make any progress with the bill to repeal the federal elections law, and the house adjourned without action.

The Capitol's Centennial. WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—A hundred years ago Washington, clothed in the symbolic garments of the venerable order of Free Masons, wearing the apron and sash made by the wife of Lafayette, impressively laid his hands upon the cornerstone of the great Capitol of the nation. Yesterday the 100th anniversary of the laying of that historic cornerstone was appropriately celebrated. The great leaders of the people now, as then, gathered to do honor to the wise man who laid the foundation of the nation's greatness. There was a monster parade, followed by impressive exercises at the east end of the Capitol. The president presided and made an address, an oration was delivered by William Wirt Henry, of Virginia, and Vice President Stevenson, Speaker Crisp and Associate Justice Brown also spoke.

Geary Wants to Exclude All. WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Representative Geary, of California, introduced a bill in the house yesterday suspending the immigration of all aliens from whatever country into the United States for five years after the passage of the act. The bill makes a provision protecting those aliens now in the United States who shall declare their purpose to become citizens.

Mrs. Halliday May Go to an Asylum. MONTICELLO, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The grand jury, which is deliberating on the Halliday case, will probably not finish their business and make known their findings until tomorrow evening. The impression seems to prevail that the woman will be adjudged insane and sentenced to an asylum for life.

Forty-two Thousand Miners on Strike. PARIS, Sept. 19.—The miners' strike in the department of Pas de Calais has begun to spread already to several other districts. Yesterday afternoon 42,000 miners in the north of France had quit work.

Swinging Around the Circle.

Of the diseases to which it is adapted with the best results, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a family medicine, comprehensive in its scope, has never been upon public attention in the United States. This claim, daily reiterated in the columns of the daily press by the proprietors of medicines far inferior to it as specifics, has in a thousand instances disgusted the public in advance by its absurdity, and the prospects of other remedies of superior qualities have been handicapped by the pretensions of their worthless producers. But the American people know, because they have verified the fact by the most trying tests, that the Bitters possesses the virtues of a real specific in cases of malarial and liver disorder, constipation, nervous, rheumatic, stomach and kidney trouble. What it does it thoroughly, and mainly for this reason it is indorsed and recommended by hosts of respectable medical men.

A NEAT GIRL.

Neatness is a good thing for a girl, and if she does not learn it when she is young she never will. It takes a great deal more neatness to make a boy look passable. Not because a boy, to start with, is better looking than a girl, but his clothes are of a different sort, not so many colors in them, and people don't expect a boy to look as pretty as a girl. A girl that is not neatly dressed is called a sloven, and no one likes to look at her. Her face may be pretty, but if she is not neat, her good looks are spoiled and will go for nothing.
