—Election day comes one week from next Tuesday.

—Andy J. Cruse, Jr., is home again after spending the summer at Chicago.

—The Reformed church, which is being handsomely frescoed, will be finished next week.

—The puddling mills at the Valentine Furnace resumed operations on Monday of this week.

—Supt. Gramley, is engaged at present in making a tour of the public schools of the county.

—Last Saturday was a good day for our merchants. There were many purchasers in Bellefonte.

—Hon. Michael J. Fauning, a temperance orator, will hold forth in the court house on Saturday evening.

—The curbstone market is beginning to dwindle. The attendance on Tuesday morning was quite small.

—Shaeffer, the photographer, has some excellent photos in his revolving cabinet. They are much admired by the public.

—The time for holding the regular monthly drills of Company B, has been changed from Saturday to Friday nights.

—The price of excursion tickets from Bellefonte to Chicago is $15.75 and $21.50. These rates will only last to the end of this week.

—Kellar, the famous magician, will be at the opera house on Saturday evening. Special train will be run from State College for this attraction.

—Mr. Geo. Valentine and family are moving from Bellefonte to Baltimore, this week, which latter place they expect to make their future residence.

—C. M. Bower, Esq., and John Hoy, Jr., returned on Tuesday from a trip to Lebanon, Pa., where they attended sessions of synod of the Reformed church.

—Judge Furst is home and it is said that he is not at all pleased with the action of the associates who reversed him in the verdict on the Armor will case.

—James, son of Rev. Laurie, is not enjoying the best of health at present and keeps closely to the house. His general condition is not as well as might be hoped.

—The North Ward election will be held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Allegheny street. The voters of the West ward will vote at McQuiston's carriage shop.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walkey, of Atlantic City, spent the past three weeks visiting relatives in this vicinity and Hubbersburg. Mrs. Walkey's former home was at Bellefonte.

—A faith cure advocate, of the female persuasion, is one of the recent additions to Bellefonte. A number of remarkable cures, it is claimed, have been effected by this system.

—Mr. J. W. Bair, of the Phillipsburg Journal, made a business trip to Bellefonte on Saturday. He thinks Bellefonte is a fine place as he gave the town a very complimentary notice in that paper.

—Wm. I. Swoope, Esq., of Clearfield county, formerly of Bellefonte, has concluded to turn his attention to the lecture platform. He has two well prepared lectures, "Men and Women in Fiction" and "The Passions in Shakespeare."

—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Grove, of Marion township, left on Tuesday for the World's Fair. They expect to visit relatives in Illinois before returning where Mrs. Grove has a brother she has not seen for forty years.

—A force of about sixty men, with horses and carts, are at work grading in the vicinity of the electric light station to prepare the ground for the Central railroad station. About thirty feet of the large limestone hill will be torn away and the creek filled in to make the necessary room. It looks like business.

—Mr. Perry Gentzel, Henry Garbrick and Morris Furey, of Spring township, and N. J. Bauer, of Bellefonte, were among those who left for the World's Fair on Saturday. Before returning Mr. Gentzel will visit his mother who lives in Illinois, and Mr. Garbrick also has a son living in the same state whom he will likely visit.

—The new distillery at Pleasant Gap, which has been in the course of erection during the past summer, was put in operation last Friday. It is equipped throughout with new appliances and will turn out a first class product. It is operated by Mr. John Mulfinger, who understands how to make a choice article.

BROKE JAIL.

TWO PRISONERS ESCAPED ON SUNDAY.

They Dug Through the Cell Wall With a Piece of Iron—Insecure Jail—Should be Repaired at Once.

On Sunday morning there was a surprise in store for Sheriff Ishler. One of the hired help about the house awakened him quite early with the news that two prisoners had escaped from the jail during the night. When the sheriff made an examination he found that John Freeman and Charley Johnson, who had been located in a cell on the second floor of the north wing, had dug through the prison wall and, by use of a long rope, scaled the outer wall and made good their escape.

An iron bar had been broken off the edge of the sheating on the inside of the jail. It was about two feet long and an inch thick. With that and a piece of a broomstick, that was pointed, they dug through the plastering and by removing the mortar between the small stone in the wall they made rapid progress. On the inner part of their cell they tore the stone out over a space about two yards square. The outside stone were larger and more difficult to remove, but they managed to get one loose large enough for them to crawl through and they dropped a distance of about twelve feet to the jail yard. They got on the top of a shed roof and, likely by the use of a rope, reached the top of the wall. Then by fastening the rope to a stick, driven in a crevice, they let themselves down on the outside into the garden and were free. It is said that they escaped before two o'clock.

Freeman was put in jail two weeks ago for robbing a jewelry store at Philipsburg, and confessed his guilt. Charley Johnson lived in this vicinity and was put in jail for stealing blankets, pillows and other articles from Mr. Curry. He is a glass worker by trade. Thus far nothing has been learned of the whereabouts of either of the prisoners.

AN INSECURE JAIL.

The escape of these two prisoners again points out the fact that the Centre county jail is insecure. For years prisoners have managed to escape by digging through the walls or picking the old locks with hand-made keys. It is only a matter of a few hours work, with an edged tool, for any prisoner to work his way through the wall of his cell. This wall is about two feet thick, composed of small stone laid in thick mortar.

The sheriff went through each cell on Saturday evening when he locked the prisoners up and found nothing wrong or any evidence of work having been done. He performed his duty and exercised due vigilance. Under the circumstances he can not be credited with carelessness.

The next expenditure for Centre county to make ought to be a complete repairing of the jail. The inside wall, in order to be secure, should be lined with iron or steel plate from top to bottom. Probably the entire interior should be torn out and all the cells massed in the centre of the building and erected in the best and most secure manner. Something in this line must be done soon if prisoners are to be safely kept.

Recent Deaths.

Eva Watson, aged 4 years and seven months, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Watson, at Central City, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 18, of membranous croup.

On Monday of this week, Mr. Samuel Gettig, a well known and respected farmer living in Spring township, about two miles east of Pleasant Gap, died from hemorrhages of the stomach. The interment occurred on Thursday morning. He took ill on last Friday. The deceased was 66 years and 10 months old, and had never lost a day's work on account of sickness. A wife and six children survive him.

On Wednesday of last week, Mr. Michael Friel died at his home near Roland, Pa.; his age was 65 years. The deceased was a veteran, and Potter Post, of Milesburg, attended the funeral.

Howard's Water Works.

On Tuesday about thirty men went to work digging the trenches for the water mains at Howard. A bond was filed to cover any damages that might arise from taking water in the gap, east of the town. The Logan Works of Bellefonte, have the contract for furnishing the material and completing the plant.

Died at Linden Hall.

On Tuesday morning Mr. William Kellar died at his home, Linden Hall, after a protracted illness of several months, with bright's disease. He was a young man about 37 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children. The interment occurred at Boalsburg this, Thursday, morning. Mr. Kellar was engaged in the mercantile trade and was recently appointed postmaster at that place.

Steam Thresher Burned.

On Thursday evening Oct. 12, a large grain separator was destroyed by fire at Clark Gramley at his farm near Hebersburg. It was left near the barn in the evening. The next morning it was in ashes.

DEATH OF J. CALVIN STOVER.

At his Home in Penn Township on Saturday Night.

The news of the death of J. Calvin Stover, of Penn township, was a surprise to all who knew him. He lived on the old Stover homestead, about two miles west of Coburn, Pa., and was well known in that part of the county. He was a young man of about 38 years old and leaves a wife and three children. The interment occurred on Wednesday afternoon.

The nature of Mr. Stover's death is somewhat peculiar, and we give the same as related to us. On Saturday Mr. Stover drove to Coburn and then to Millheim, where he remained until late in the evening. He had indulged some but not to an extent to cause any alarm or suspicion. In company with several companions, he then drove to Coburn and was there about an hour during which time he made a remark that he would be a corpse by morning, but no one thought seriously of the matter at the time. About eleven o'clock they drove to his home. The owner of the conveyance put his horse in the stable and Mr. Stover took the other two men, there being four in all in the party, to the house. Mr. Stover went to bed at once while the others eat a lunch and retired later.

The three men left the house early. In the morning the hired man called Mr. Stover to get up but received no reply. The hired man then attended to the work at the barn and when he came back to the house, Mrs. Stover had just returned. She was told that Mr. Stover had been called but did not get up. When she went to the room she was unable to arouse her husband, and then discovered that he was either dead or in a very heavy stupor. The hired man went in haste to Millheim for a physician, but it was of no avail, he was dead.

An inquest was held over the body and their verdict was that death was caused by paralysis of the heart, superinduced by some drug. Later an empty bottle was found in his pocket that had contained laudanum from which he, very likely, drank the contents, causing his death. The druggist, at Millheim, says he sold Mr. Stover a two ounce vial of laudanum on Saturday and that he had purchased the same article on former occasions.

It is said that at times Mr. Stover became despondent and acted in a peculiar manner. He had no financial difficulties to cause him trouble and his domestic surroundings were those of a happy fireside and home.

The cause for this sad act can not be understood.

Railroad Notes.

All the track, but three miles, for the new Central railroad to Mill Hall has been laid, the most of which is at this end of the line. Two bridges only remain to be put in place and they will be completed before another week elapses. The site for the new station at Bellefonte, near the electric light plant, is being cleared up. About sixty men are at work at that point where three tracks will be laid.

The new passenger train will soon be here. It was purchased at Wilmington, Delaware, and consists of four fine passenger coaches, one combination smoker and mail car and an express car. These cars were originally built for a California road which failed. It is said to be a very fine train. The passenger service over this road, we are informed, will consist of three trips by this train from Bellefonte to Mill Hall and return daily. This will afford excellent accommodations.

Several new engines were purchased at Schenectady, New York, for passenger and freight trains. Two freight trains will be put on, one at Bellefonte and another at Mill Hall, each to make a round trip over the road daily. A work train will also be put on until the road bed is in first class order. The round house will be located near Bellefonte. The telegraph poles are being put up this week and work is progressing on the new stations along the line.

Prospecting for Coal.

Expert geologists and prospectors from the anthracite regions are prospecting for coal in this county. There has been found good indications of anthracite coal in Sugar valley at different times, says the Journal, and the men who are now prospecting are able to determine whether or not it really exists in the section.

Since railroad news is scarce and no boom on hand, coal excitement is the latest hobby of the Journal.

Italian Rioters.

On Saturday night some boys stoned an Italian shanty at Mill Hall. The men became angry and came out well armed. They fired a number of shots in the darkness and several bullets came near striking people sitting in their homes. The Italians will be arrested for their reckless shooting.

The Smallest Man on Earth.

One of the attractions at Eden Musee, Harrisburg, this week is Prince Mignon. He is a midget in every respect, 24 inches high and weighs but 24 pounds, and he is 26 years of age. He is also a singer and comedian of great ability.

DON'T MEDDLER.

DEMOCRATS LOOK AFTER YOUR OWN TICKET.

Don't Trade Votes With the Republicans for Commissioner—Let them Settle their Own Difficulties Between Strohm and Riddle.

Don't meddle with other people's business is good advice, and it is especially fitting at this time to the democrats about Centre county. Under existing circumstances, it is a conceded fact that the democratic nominees for re-election to the commissioners office will receive a safe and handsome majority, if we manage to poll our average vote this year. Knowing that this will be, in all reasonable probability, the result, there is a feeling among some democrats to jump the fence and help the republicans to select the winner between Jas. B. Strohm and Matt. Riddle, as but one will go in. Some democrats have, we are told, gone so far as to dicker with the opposition and promise democratic support to help select the republican commissioner. If that is the case those democrats can hardly realize that they are making a mistake. It is the duty of every democrat, who pretends to be a consistent democrat, to vote the straight democratic ticket and see that his democratic neighbors do likewise. You have no time to concern yourself about the republican party as to the success of any of its nominees as long as your own party needs you support.

Let the republicans determine for themselves as to who would make the best county commissioner, between Strohm and Riddle. That is a little difficulty for that party to settle among themselves. With a few democrats in every election district of the county bothering themselves about the election of one of these candidates for commissioner, there would be sufficient loss to endanger the election of Messrs. Goodhart and Adams, and that would be a severe blow to the party. If there is one office in Centre county that democrats should guard with a jealous eye it is the commissioners office.

Democrats, have you forgotten the illustrious (?) official career of Com. John Henderson? Do you want to see another republican board of county commissioners?

Let the republican party settle that question. They can easily decide among themselves as to which one they want. Every democrat should make it his business to see that Messrs. Goodhart and Adams do not lose a single vote.

Special Train.

On Saturday evening a special train will be run from State College to Bellefonte for the accommodation of all who wish to attend Kellar's entertainment in the opera house. Train will leave State College at 5.45, p. m., and will return at the close of the entertainment. Fare, including admission, from State College $1.00; from Waddles Station 90 cents.

Apple Shipments.

Apples are being shipped from our county to the west at a rate that leaves us to fear apple dumplings will be a failure among us and apple pies mighty thin under the top cover. Runners have been in the county the past three weeks buying up the apples, paying 40 to 50 cents for choice picked fruit delivered at the railroad.

After a Week's Delay.

Captain Mapes, of Beech Creek, who started a week ago with a boat, intending to sail to North Carolina, has been delayed by low water, and only succeeded in reaching the mouth of Bald Eagle creek on Saturday.

—Prof. Spangenberg's new orchestra, of ten pieces, will play in the opera house on Saturday evening.

—Unclaimed letters: Mrs. Cryder, L. S. Franklin, Andro Jaker, H. Read, Geo. Stevens, Geo. Shear, Lizzie Tyss, W. C. Walker, Mrs. Martha Watkins. When called for say advertised.

—The vitrified brick crossing, recently put down on the west side of the diamond, is entirely too low and will be covered continually with mud and dirt. For that reason it is a bad job. It should be taken up and raised several inches.

—Hon. John H. Orris, and Associate Judge Riley, of Boalsburg, left early on Monday morning for a deer hunt in the vicinity of Spruce Run. They will be gone for about one week. If they don't come home with several fine specimens, they will have to explain the reason why.

—The democratic county committee met in Bellefonte on Monday, in their rooms in Crider's Exchange. There was a large turnout and the indications are that they will look after the interests of the party in their various districts between this and the day of election.

—The funeral of Mrs. Louisa Leyden, who died at her home, in Beech Creek, on Wednesday 18th, of consumption, occurred in the Union cemetery, at this place, on Thursday evening. A husband and four children survive. They are: James A., of Idaho; Harry and Mrs. Elliot, in Chicago; and Edward at home.

Shot Three Bears.

There was quite a bear slaughtering at Pleasant Gap, on Saturday evening. For some time bear tracks were noticed in a corn field near the edge of the mountain at that place. It seems that the bears would make regular trips to this field every night to make a meal on corn. On Saturday night Mr. Wm. Rossman went to the field and watched for developments. He had a double barreled shot gun and four shells loaded with pea-shot. He had not been at the place very long until an old bear with two cubs made their appearance in the field. Mr. Rossman got within range and at the first shot killed one of the cubs. The next load he put into the old bear but did not kill her and she turned, in the excitement he dropped one shell and got the other in the barrel and fired, killing the second one. The remaining cub ran away and took up a tree. Rossman hastened home and got more ammunition and soon killed the other cub.

It was pretty quick work and quite successfully done. The large bear dressed about 250 pounds and the cubs 75 pounds each. All of them had fine fur which will be of some value. Philip Beizer and Al. Garman bought the meat of two of them on Monday.

Mr. Rossman takes the belt, as this is the best hunting record heard of this season.

We are told that on Saturday a Bruce Peters was out hunting small game in the vicinity of the switches along the Snow Shoe railroad, and came across four good sized bears on a tree. He had nothing but fine shot with him, and not being loaded for bear, he concluded to let them severely alone. According to these reports bear must be quite plenty this season.

Kellar is Coming.

Preparatory to a five years' tour of the world, Kellar, the greatest of modern magicians, will be seen at the Garman opera house, on Saturday evening, Oct. 28, in the unequalled series of marvels which he has just performed during a long and triumphant summer season in Daly's New York theatre. His entire programme will be "Astarte, the Maide of the Moon," who dances upon air; "Out of Sight of the phantom bride;" "Flyto;" "Cagliostro, or the Cassadaga Propaganda;" "Karmos," in which Mrs. Kellar aids him in an absolutely unequalled exhibition of mind reading and thought transmission; his own unapproachable Davenport séance and the preliminary slight-of-hand tricks which have rarely if ever been equalled and have never been surpassed.

—Next Sunday the Presbyterian church, at Snow Shoe, will be re-opened after having been closed for repairs.

—Fred Dunham is canvassing Bellefonte for the purpose of securing enough subscribers to start a daily paper in town. He is anxious to undertake the experiment, if given the proper encouragement.

—Headquarters for ready made clothing for men, boys and children. Clothing made to order. Dunlap, Youman and Sherman's latest styles of derby hats. Full line of Men's Furnishing goods. A new salesroom has been added under the first floor.
