

WE HAVE THEM.

An immense line of Ladies and Misses Coats and Wraps. Just received a new stock of the latest designs and patterns. You are invited to come and see them.

At the same time we keep a complete line of all kinds of dress goods. Our low prices are the greatest inducements.

LYON & CO.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

-Wm J. Singer, Esq., is attending the closing of the World's Fair this week.

-The residence of Hon. J. H. Orvis, is being improved by the addition of a handsome porch.

-On Sunday afternoon we had the first snow squall of the season. The weather has been quite cold and chilly since then.

-A political meeting was held in the court house on Sunday afternoon. A number of prohibitionists were disgusted with the affair.

-Henry Kreider of Wolfs Store, a student at Franklin & Marshall college is lying dangerously ill at Lancaster, Pa., of typhoid fever.

-C. M. Dale, Esq., has purchased the John Cooke residence on Allegheny street and will occupy it as soon as a few repairs can be made.

-Ovide Musin, the famous violinist, will be at the opera house on Thursday evening. This company is composed of artists and will be worth seeing.

-Mr. A. W. Goodwin, assistant organist of St. Clements church, Philadelphia, will preside over the new organ in the Episcopal church in Bellefonte.

-Our presses have been on a continual run during the past week printing the official and sample ballots to be used in Centre county at the coming election.

-That brick crossing on the diamond causes a great deal of comment. The curbing in a number of places has sunk and so have the brick on account of heavy hauling.

-A span of the bridge across Spring Creek, at the electric light station, was torn away this week to make way for the new railroad. Work is progressing rapidly at that point.

-Mrs. West, mother of Mrs. W. T. Achenbach, of this place, died at her home in Philadelphia on Saturday Oct. 21st. The deceased frequently visited her daughter at this place.

-On Wednesday W. F. Wise & Co., of Tyrone, completed frescoing the interior of the Reformed church, at this place. It is a fine piece of work and produces a very pleasing effect.

-A game of football will be played at State College, on Saturday afternoon between the Western University of Pennsylvania team and the State College boys. It will be an interesting contest.

-We hear some complaint on account of the heavy blasting being done on the hillside in the vicinity of the electric light station, where the ground is being cleared away for the new railroad station.

-Judge Riley came in from Spruce Run, to attend court on Monday. They failed during last week to shoot a deer. He left on Monday afternoon for the hunting ground where the party expect to remain until the end of this week.

-On Wednesday of last week, Mr. Walter Lemby, and Miss Grace Hurd, were married at the home of the bride's parents in Altoona. Walter was formerly a Bellefonte boy, but now is a practicing attorney at Washington D. C.

-The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Christian church, at Howard, will give an oyster supper, festival and fair on the 23d and 25th of December, in the former post office building. Will have fancy work of all kinds; all are invited.

-After being internally remodeled, the Reformed church will again be open on Sunday next Nov. 5th. Service in the morning at 10:30, in the afternoon at 2:30 Sunday School; service also in the evening at 7 o'clock. The public are cordially invited to attend any or all of those services. Let there be a full attendance at the Sunday school.

-Kellar, the magician, drew a very large crowd to the opera house on Saturday evening. Every seat in the building was occupied and standing room was in demand. About two hundred came by special train from State College. The entertainment had a number of new and interesting features.

-The Punxsutawney Spirit says: A pretty good story is being told on Jake Dick, the genial passenger conductor of the Pennsylvania and north western railroad. He and John Swiers, another conductor on the same road, were at the World's Fair. They became separated in some manner, and Mr. Dick was very anxious to find Mr. Swiers so he went up to a policeman and said: "Do you know John Swiers?" "No, sir; I do not," answered the policeman, curtly. "What, don't know Swiers, why he has been here all week."

INSULT TO DEMOCRATS.

WHAT CANDIDATE HARTER THINKS OF DEMOCRATS.

His Challenge Accepted and the Proof Furnished—What other Men have heard Him Say—Democrats, Resent the Insult.

In our last issue Dr. John F. Harter, the republican nominee for sheriff, was charged with saying:

"The intelligence of this country is in the republican party."

As Mr. Harter is making a special effort to induce democrats to give him a complimentary vote, and pretends to be a sort-of-a-democrat-himself-you-know when after an office, it is well that the public should know that he is, at heart, a most bitter partisan and bigoted republican. Mr. Harter was given an opportunity to deny the above statement, but he did not dare to refute it. He simply authorized the Gazette to make the following challenge:

"Dr. J. F. Harter, the republican nominee for sheriff, authorizes the Gazette to request the CENTRE DEMOCRAT to produce the man or men to whom he remarked that 'all the intelligence of the country is in the republican party.' Now is the time to bring forth the proof."

The CENTRE DEMOCRAT has always made it a point, and especially in political discussions, never to make an assertion but that it could fully substantiate. Mr. Harter's inviting challenge therefore gives us an opportunity to uphold our charge, and for that reason we most cheerfully submit the following:

Millheim, Pa., Oct. 30, 1893. C. R. KURTZ.

Dear Sir:—I notice in last week's DEMOCRAT a statement that J. F. Harter should have said that "the intelligent people of this country as a general thing are republicans," and that the same is denied. The above was said in my hearing, also in the presence of a number of others, about five or six years ago, while Mr. Harter and the late Mr. Musser were arguing politics. The assertion was made adjoining my place of business, at that time.

Resp. Yours, J. C. SMITH.

Mr. J. C. Smith is a reputable hardware merchant at Millheim, and it is not necessary for him to make an affidavit to the same. Mr. Harter did not deny that he made such a statement—he knew better.

We think that should be enough to convince any one of what kind of material this man is made. He may be a good, law-abiding citizen, of genial disposition and may possess other commendable traits, but in politics when he intimates that his neighbor is ignorant because he differs with him in an honest opinion, votes the democratic ticket and believes in the democratic principles of government, it is an insult that every true democrat should resent. Because some people don't think as Mr. Harter thinks, and don't see things in the same light as he does, he has the audacity and self-confidence to sit in judgment upon them and brand them as "ignorant". He evidently is not manly enough to concede to his democratic neighbors the honesty of their convictions or the intelligence even to think for themselves. In short—he means democrats are democrats because they are too ignorant to know any better.

The statement, published in the last issue of the CENTRE DEMOCRAT, caused considerable comment. Another prominent citizen from Millheim, who does not wish to have his name brought into print, informed the writer that Mr. Harter was in the habit of making such insulting remarks about the democratic party. During previous political campaigns it would be a common thing to see Mr. Harter standing on the streets of Millheim and calling the democrats ignorant. It would be a common thing for him to assert that "nearly all the preachers and educated people of the country belonged to the republican party."

People in Bellefonte inform us that when Mr. Harter was recorder, it was customary for him to break out in a tirade and abuse of the democratic party. A prominent attorney of this place, states that Mr. Harter in his presence once said:

"All the low Dutch, ignorant Irish and off-scouring of the foreign countries belong to the democratic party," also that "most all of the preachers and educated people are republicans."

Now what does all this amount to? It simply shows that Mr. Harter is not the broad, liberal-minded man he ought to be; instead is prejudiced, vindictive—even abusive of those who differ with him.

The democratic party is not brought into question by these charges of ignorance. If Mr. Harter sincerely believes what he has said, he is deserving of sympathy for his narrowness and prejudices. If he knows better, and we hope he does, he can only pose before the public as a political black-guard.

Is such a man deserving a complimentary vote?

—It is reliably reported that James A. Feidler, post master, has tendered his resignation. The department can name his successor at any time. Mr. Feidler's term, of four years, would have expired February, 1894. Democratic applicants are hustling.

TWO PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Another jail delivery occurred on Saturday evening by which two prisoners took leave from the county jail, without permission of Sheriff Ishler.

A little more than a week ago two men, John Freeman and Charlie Johnson gained their liberty by digging through a cell wall on the second floor. The opening was repaired on last Thursday by James McCafferty, mason, who replaced the stone as well as he could. On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Ishler directed one of the prisoners to clean out the cell and wash up the floor and it was done. During the day the prisoners are allowed the freedom of the interior of the prison and are locked in their cells at about 8 p. m. This cell was cleaned at about four o'clock in the afternoon, and like other cells in the building was not locked.

At about 7 p. m., while Mrs. Ishler and ex-sheriff Woodring were in the sitting room, they heard the kitchen door open and someone walked through. The dog in the yard barked and made a great deal of fuss.

A few moments later it was discovered that another hole had been dug in the jail wall at the same place where it had been repaired, and two more prisoners Sam Meese and Robt. Watkins had escaped. A blanket was torn and tied to a bedstead by which they let themselves down into the yard and from there they passed out through the kitchen and were free.

It took them but a short time to dig through the wall, as the mortar was not solid and the stones were easily removed.

It looks now as though the only way that prisoners could be kept with any certainty in our jail would be by the use of hobbles and chains.

In the Grocery Business.

County Treasurer, James J. Gramley, realizes that he will soon be out of a job in the court house, as his official term of three years expires Jan. 1, 1894. Last week Mr. Gramley purchased L. W. Wian's grocery store, on Allegheny street, formerly conducted by Rush Larimer. Mr. Gramley took charge of the business on Tuesday morning and to which he will turn his entire attention after the end of the year. Mr. John Geiser, for some time with Joseph Bros., will be his principal assistant in the business.

Mr. Gramley is a hustler and will try to supply the people of this vicinity with the best to be had in his line, at the lowest prices.

Mill Burned.

On last Friday morning at about one o'clock the large planing mill of Duck, Frank & Hockman, at Millheim, Pa., was destroyed by fire. It was a large and well equipped plant, operated by steam power. It stood near Musser's flouring mill along the street leading to Coburn. The flouring mill caught fire several times but it was saved by heroic work. The planing mill was filled with a lot of finished work, such as window sashes, doors, etc. There was no insurance on the property and the loss will amount to several thousand dollars.

She Wants a Divorce.

A suit for absolute divorce has been begun against John M. Ward, captain of the New York base ball team, and well known in Bellefonte, by his wife, Actress Helen Dauvray in New York. So far as known, Ward will not give an answer. Miss Dauvray declines to file the name of the co-respondent. The pair have lived apart since 1890, when on April 30, they signed articles of separation.

Death near Beech Creek.

Mrs. Delinda Mason, widow of Ira Mason, of Beech Creek, died at her home in Liberty township, Centre county, on Friday, October 27, at the advanced age of 82 years, and was buried from the residence of Ira N. McCloskey Sunday. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Harvey Lamkin, of the M. E. church. Interment made in the cemetery at Beech Creek.

Well Stocked.

George Getty, of Selingsgrove, aged 67 years, became the father of a son recently. He is now the father of 25 children. This beats Centre county's record, which has a father of 24 children on the other side the mountain, and one with 16 children on this side the mountain.

Horse Found.

On Monday evening, of last week, a young horse belonging to Titus Gramley, at Spring Mills, was stolen from the stable. On Wednesday morning the animal was found loose in a field on Joseph McClellan's farm near Tusseyville, where he evidently had been turned in by the thief.

Captured at Snow Shoe.

Joseph Lesko, the Hungarian who committed a fenidish assault upon a 5-year-old child at Punxsutawney on the 8th inst., and then fled, was captured at Snow Shoe, Centre county, Saturday 21st. He is now in jail at Brookville.

Mark an (X) in the circle, at the top of the second column, on the official ballot, and it will be a straight vote for the entire democratic ticket.

HARTER boasts that he never supported Cooke.

Married Last Week.

On Wednesday Oct. 25th a very pretty wedding ceremony occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Hoy, near Bellefonte. The contracting parties were their daughter, Miss Katherine I Hoy, and Rev. Wm. J. Wagner, who for some time past has been the supply pastor for the Centre Hall Lutheran charge.

Death of an Old Lady.

Mrs. Sallie Long, widow of Solomon Long, deceased, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Royer, at Centre Hill, Tuesday night, the 24th, at the age of 85 years. The remains were taken to Millheim for interment.

Died at Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. Wm. Harrison died at her home Pleasant Gap, Pa., on Saturday night from childbirth. The infant died also. The interment occurred at that place on Tuesday. She was 26 years of age and leaves a husband and one child. Her maiden name was Jennie Eckenroth.

Political Meetings.

The following dates and places have been determined upon by the county chairman, for holding democratic meetings this campaign:

Friday evening November 4th, at Rebersburg and Coburn.

Thursday, November 2, at Brumgart's school house in Miles township.

A Beet or a Beat.

There seems to be a great variety of beets. Some persons get beat, others are beat. There is also a soldiers beat, a sluggers beat. Corbett beat Sullivan and Sullivan beat a number of others. There is a cow beet, a sugar beet, a red beet, yellow beet, and various other beets. But of all the beets that ever did beat, we challenge anybody to beat the beet that was raised in the garden of Robert Tate, in Nittany Hall. The said beet was a regular red beet, measuring 32 1/2 in. in length 6 1/2 in. in circumference, the long way. I'll be beat if anybody can beat that beet, except a dead beat.

AN EYE WITNESS.

Horse Stolen.

On Monday morning a roan mare was stole from the stable of Geo. S. Gray, 1 1/2 miles east of Stormstown, this county. The animal was 14 years, old weight about 1050 pounds had a bluff or spavin mark on the left hind leg, and was light with foal. This horse is an excellent pacer and at one time was on the track.

The horse was recovered near Tyrone, on Monday evening, but nothing was learned of the thief or who it might have been.

If you want your vote to count right, put an (X) in the circle at the top of the second column. That will count for the entire democratic ticket.

"The intelligence of this country is in the republican party."—John F. Harter, republican candidate for sheriff.
